| 1 | Wednesday, 7 December 2016 | 1 | your Lordships to go through. It is called Gopal. And |
|--|--|--|--|
| 2 | (10.30 am) | 2 | it is paragraphs 3 and 7 which I say support my |
| 3 | THE PRESIDENT: Lord Pannick. | 3 | contention. It is nothing to do with human rights. |
| 4 | Submissions by LORD PANNICK (continued) | 4 | However, I should also draw to the attention of the |
| 5 | LORD PANNICK: Good morning, my Lady and my Lords, I was | 5 | court the judgments of the appellate committee in the |
| 6 | completing my fourth submission which is that the | 6 | Spath Holme case volume 8, tab 75, please don't turn it |
| 7 | 1972 Act, contents and purpose, contains no clear | 7 | up, but it is volume 8, tab 75, MS 2991. It is [2001] 2 |
| 8 | statement that the executive does have a prerogative | 8 | Appeal Cases, and I do accept there the majority of the |
| 9 | power to nullify the statutory scheme and indeed if | 9 | appellate committee said Hansard could not be used to |
| 10 | I need to go this far, I say, having regard to the | 10 | identify the purpose of an act. So I draw attention to |
| 11 | statutory presumptions, that is the Henry VIII clauses, | 11 | that. |
| 12 | legality and implied repeal, the Act clearly indicates | 12 | What I would say, however, is that if in this case |
| 13 | in my submission that the executive does have no such | 13 | this court is going to look, if it is going to look, at |
| 14 | power. $(1 - 2/2) = (1 - 1072) + (1 - 1072)$ | 14 | what ministers said about the 2015 bill, it would be |
| 15 | I had reached section 2(2) of the 1972 Act. We deal | 15 | wrong, in my submission, to exclude what Mr Lidington |
| 16 | with that in our written submissions; it is | 16 | said in the House of Commons; it would be an artificial |
| 17 | paragraphs 56 to 57, MS 12419. I am not going to take | 17 | exercise to look at some of the statements but not what |
| 18 | time on repeating that. | 18 | was said on the floor of the House of Commons. That is |
| 19 | The next provision is section 2(4) which I do rely | 19 | my submission and that is the first point. |
| 20 | on. I say that since Parliament expressly stated that | 20 | LORD MANCE: I think there is further authority. I remember |
| 21 | this Act takes priority, even over a later statutory | 21 | Lord Steyn dealing with this point and there is |
| 22 | provision therefore there is no doctrine of implied | 22 | certainly another case |
| 23 | repeal Parliament is most unlikely to have intended | 23 | LORD PANNICK: Yes, Lord Steyn is 2002, I think, it is the |
| 24 | that the scheme it was creating could be set aside by | 24 | local government case your Lordship may have in mind. |
| 25 | a minister. That is the submission. | 25 | LORD MANCE: Saying you could look at is there |
| | Page 1 | | Page 3 |
| 1 | Then we have section $3(1)$. We deal with that in | 1 | inconsistency between that and Spath Holme? On the face |
| 2 | paragraph 58 of our written case, MS 12420, and I don't | 2 | of it, it seems to be. |
| 3 | want to add to that, save to refer to the divisional | 3 | LORD PANNICK: If it matters, I would say the law has moved |
| 4 | court's judgment, paragraph 93.7. I don't ask the court | 4 | on, with great respect, since 2001. Your Lordships and |
| 5 | to turn it up. It is in the judgment, MS 11800, | 5 | your Ladyship, of course, have many important |
| 6 | paragraph 93.7, where the divisional court says that if | 6 | constitutional issues to decide in this case; I am not |
| 7 | all the treaty rights can be removed by the executive | 7 | |
| 8 | | . / | suggesting that the court adds to the list the rather |
| | using prerogative powers, section 3(1) would make no | 8 | suggesting that the court adds to the list the rather important question, the extent to which Hansard can be |
| 9 | using prerogative powers, section 3(1) would make no sense. | | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be |
| 9 10 | sense. | 8 | |
| | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, | 8 9 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of |
| 10 | sense. | 8 9 10 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. |
| 10 11 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these | 8 9 10 11 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical |
| 10 11 12 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, | 8 9 10 11 12 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation.THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being |
| 10 11 12 13 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown | 8 9 10 11 12 13 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation.THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. |
| 10 11 12 13 14 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. My Lady, my Lords, before I move on to my fifth | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, to ignore what was said about that. |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. My Lady, my Lords, before I move on to my fifth point, can I briefly return to three matters which were | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, to ignore what was said about that. LORD PANNICK: I respectfully agree. The point I make is |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. My Lady, my Lords, before I move on to my fifth point, can I briefly return to three matters which were raised yesterday afternoon which I promised to deal | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, to ignore what was said about that. LORD PANNICK: I respectfully agree. The point I make is the point I was making to my Lord, the President, that |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. My Lady, my Lords, before I move on to my fifth point, can I briefly return to three matters which were raised yesterday afternoon which I promised to deal with. The first is my Lord, Lord Reed's question about | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, to ignore what was said about that. LORD PANNICK: I respectfully agree. The point I make is the point I was making to my Lord, the President, that my case is: look at what the Act actually said; but if |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. My Lady, my Lords, before I move on to my fifth point, can I briefly return to three matters which were raised yesterday afternoon which I promised to deal with. The first is my Lord, Lord Reed's question about authority that Hansard can be relevant to identifying | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, to ignore what was said about that. LORD PANNICK: I respectfully agree. The point I make is the point I was making to my Lord, the President, that my case is: look at what the Act actually said; but if the court is to be persuaded by my friends for the |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. My Lady, my Lords, before I move on to my fifth point, can I briefly return to three matters which were raised yesterday afternoon which I promised to deal with. The first is my Lord, Lord Reed's question about authority that Hansard can be relevant to identifying statutory purpose, and not simply a Pepper v Hart type | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, to ignore what was said about that. LORD PANNICK: I respectfully agree. The point I make is the point I was making to my Lord, the President, that my case is: look at what the Act actually said; but if the court is to be persuaded by my friends for the appellant that one should look at other material, it is |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. My Lady, my Lords, before I move on to my fifth point, can I briefly return to three matters which were raised yesterday afternoon which I promised to deal with. The first is my Lord, Lord Reed's question about authority that Hansard can be relevant to identifying statutory purpose, and not simply a Pepper v Hart type exercise. | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, to ignore what was said about that. LORD PANNICK: I respectfully agree. The point I make is the point I was making to my Lord, the President, that my case is: look at what the Act actually said; but if the court is to be persuaded by my friends for the appellant that one should look at other material. |
| 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | sense. I say that the divisional court rightly concluded, rightly concluded, it is paragraph 94 of its judgment, MS 11801, that the clear implication from all these provisions is that Parliament intended that the Crown did not have prerogative power to take action on the international plane to destroy that which Parliament was creating. My Lady, my Lords, before I move on to my fifth point, can I briefly return to three matters which were raised yesterday afternoon which I promised to deal with. The first is my Lord, Lord Reed's question about authority that Hansard can be relevant to identifying statutory purpose, and not simply a Pepper v Hart type exercise. | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | important question, the extent to which Hansard can be used in order to determine the scope or mischief of legislation. THE PRESIDENT: It may have considerable practical importance in more cases than the points we are being asked to decide. LORD KERR: I think we might say that there is a certain air of unreality, if we are considering what effect the 1972 Act had and what purpose the 2015 legislation had, to ignore what was said about that. LORD PANNICK: I respectfully agree. The point I make is the point I was making to my Lord, the President, that my case is: look at what the Act actually said; but if the court is to be persuaded by my friends for the appellant that one should look at other material, it is quite artificial to look at some of the other material but not at what Mr Lidington expressly said on the floor |

1 (Pages 1 to 4)

| 1 | THE PRESIDENT: Yes, I mean, the only trouble with looking | 1 | is MS 302, Lord Denning at page 305 H adverts to what |
|--|---|--|---|
| 2 | at what was said on the floor of the House, and as you | 2 | was then a contemporary debate: could Parliament itself |
| 3 | say, we don't want to go too much into this, is what | 3 | go back on what it had enacted? |
| 4 | a minister or somebody else says does not necessarily | 4 | All I was saying to the court is, it is not my |
| 5 | represent the reason why people vote, or what they | 5 | understanding that that is nowadays a point that causes |
| 6 | believe when they vote. | 6 | concern, nor could it in the light of section 18 of the |
| 7 | It is like going into what people say about their | 7 | 2011 Act, if it was otherwise a point of concern. |
| 8 | contracts when construing their contracts, and that way | 8 | The third point I promised to I need to come back |
| 9 | madness can be said to lie, because you then start | 9 | to is my Lady, the Deputy President, asked about the |
| 10 | looking at everything said in Parliament and balancing | 10 | acts of Parliament which have amended section 1(2) of |
| 11 | up it can be a very treacherous course. | 11 | the 1972 Act to add the new treaties. The court will |
| 12 | LORD PANNICK: It can. Of course the point being made by | 12 | find what I hope is a helpful annex to our written case. |
| 13 | the appellant is what the Government's intention was, | 13 | It is MS 12438, and there we set out the relevant acts |
| 14 | what the Government was putting forward because Mr Eadie | 14 | which have amended section 1, subsection 2 to take |
| 15 | draws attention, footnote 4, to what ministers said from | 15 | account of the new treaties, Maastricht, Amsterdam, |
| 16 | time to time: this was our intention. | 16 | Nice, Lisbon and all the others. |
| 17 | THE PRESIDENT: That is what Government said but in the end | 17 | What the annex shows is that all of these acts |
| 18 | that is highlights the problem. We are here | 18 | amending section 1(2) were in fact enacted before |
| 19 | concerned with two separate entities, the Government and | 19 | Parliament ratified the relevant treaty and that is |
| 20 | the legislature. | 20 | because as the court already heard |
| 21 | LORD PANNICK: I entirely accept that, and that is why I put | 21 | LADY HALE: Before the Government ratified. |
| 22 | the point, I hope very modestly, it is not my | 22 | LORD PANNICK: Your Ladyship is absolutely right, before the |
| 23 | submission, if the court is being told by the appellant: | 23 | Government ratified, I apologise, and that is because |
| 24 | look at what the Government's intention was; it is a bit | 24 | Parliament needed to amend domestic law before the new |
| 25 | more blurred than that. But my submission is what the | 25 | EU law treaty came into force which would alter domestic |
| | Page 5 | | Page 7 |
| | | | |
| 1 | court should focus on, is what the Act actually said, | 1 | rights. |
| 2 | which is not ambiguous in any way; it is a limited act | 2 | THE PRESIDENT: Just like the 1972 Act, the Government |
| 3 | for a very specific, very important purpose. I don't in | 3 | signs, Parliament, as it were, enacts and then the |
| 4 | any way seek to denigrate the purpose; to hold | 4 | Government ratifies. |
| 5 | a referendum is a very important matter. My submission | 5 | |
| 6 | | 5 | LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. |
| 7 | is, however, it has nothing whatsoever to do with the | 6 | LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. |
| 7 | is, however, it has nothing whatsoever to do with the issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to | | 5 |
| 8 | | 6 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. |
| | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to | 6 7 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, |
| 8 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum | 6 7 8 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the |
| 8 9 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court | 6 7 8 9 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you.LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. |
| 8 9 10 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be | 6 7 8 9 10 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you.LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others.THE PRESIDENT: Yes. |
| 8 9 10 11 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation | 6 7 8 9 10 11 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval |
| 8 9 10 11 12 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would be exceptionally difficult to sustain. That is the first additional point. The second | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008. |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would be exceptionally difficult to sustain. That is the first additional point. The second point is I promised to answer my Lord, Lord Mance's | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008. This is the one that addressed the treaty of Lisbon and if the court goes sorry, it is MS 117, MS 117, |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would be exceptionally difficult to sustain. That is the first additional point. The second point is I promised to answer my Lord, Lord Mance's question about the debate in the 1970s. My Lord said, | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008. This is the one that addressed the treaty of Lisbon and if the court goes – sorry, it is MS 117, MS 117, core authorities 1, tab 3. If the court, please, would |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would be exceptionally difficult to sustain. That is the first additional point. The second point is I promised to answer my Lord, Lord Mance's question about the debate in the 1970s. My Lord said, what was I talking about, this debate in the 1970s on | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008. This is the one that addressed the treaty of Lisbon and if the court goes sorry, it is MS 117, MS 117, core authorities 1, tab 3. If the court, please, would turn to MS 118, at the top of the page, section 2, it is |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would be exceptionally difficult to sustain. That is the first additional point. The second point is I promised to answer my Lord, Lord Mance's question about the debate in the 1970s. My Lord said, what was I talking about, this debate in the 1972 Act. What | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008. This is the one that addressed the treaty of Lisbon and if the court goes sorry, it is MS 117, MS 117, core authorities 1, tab 3. If the court, please, would turn to MS 118, at the top of the page, section 2, it is not set out in detail, but the court can see what it |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would be exceptionally difficult to sustain. That is the first additional point. The second point is I promised to answer my Lord, Lord Mance's question about the debate in the 1970s. My Lord said, what was I talking about, this debate in the 1972 Act. What I had in mind is the Blackburn case, and if your | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008. This is the one that addressed the treaty of Lisbon and if the court goes sorry, it is MS 117, MS 117, core authorities 1, tab 3. If the court, please, would turn to MS 118, at the top of the page, section 2, it is not set out in detail, but the court can see what it does, is it amends the 1972 Act by adding a new |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would be exceptionally difficult to sustain. That is the first additional point. The second point is I promised to answer my Lord, Lord Mance's question about the debate in the 1970s. My Lord said, what was I talking about, this debate in the 1972 Act. What | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008. This is the one that addressed the treaty of Lisbon and if the court goes sorry, it is MS 117, MS 117, core authorities 1, tab 3. If the court, please, would turn to MS 118, at the top of the page, section 2, it is not set out in detail, but the court can see what it |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | issue before the court, which is who enjoys the power to notify; is there a prerogative power once the referendum has taken place; and that is what I invite the court LORD CARNWATH: I suppose what ministers say might be relevant as creating some sort of legitimate expectation as to what they are going to do, but that tells you nothing about the machinery with which they are going to do it. LORD PANNICK: Absolutely, and this case is nothing to do with legitimate expectation, and any such argument would be exceptionally difficult to sustain. That is the first additional point. The second point is I promised to answer my Lord, Lord Mance's question about the debate in the 1970s. My Lord said, what was I talking about, this debate in the 1970s on whether Parliament could reverse the 1972 Act. What I had in mind is the Blackburn case, and if your Lordships and your Ladyship look I don't ask the | 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. LORD PANNICK: Precisely so. If one looks at these acts, some (Inaudible) parliamentary approval because of the post 1972 legislation, the 1978 Act and the others. THE PRESIDENT: Yes. LORD PANNICK: Some of them need parliamentary approval because they are being added to section 1(2), because they affect domestic law rights. Some of them need parliamentary approval for both reasons, so if one looks, for example, at core authorities volume 1, tab 3, the court will see the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008. This is the one that addressed the treaty of Lisbon and if the court goes sorry, it is MS 117, MS 117, core authorities 1, tab 3. If the court, please, would turn to MS 118, at the top of the page, section 2, it is not set out in detail, but the court can see what it does, is it amends the 1972 Act by adding a new section 1 (Inaudible) and if the court then looks on the |

2 (Pages 5 to 8)

| 1 | job. What it does is it approves the treaty of Lisbon | 1 | LORD PANNICK: No, section 4. It is on MS page 4481. |
|--------|--|----|--|
| 2 | for the purposes of the 2002 Act, that is parliamentary | 2 | LORD CLARKE: Sorry, I beg your pardon. My fault. |
| 3 | approval, as it says, of treaties increasing the | 3 | LORD PANNICK: "Duties for the purpose of fulfilling EU |
| 4 | European Parliament's powers. | 4 | obligations", section 4(1): |
| 5 | So each of the two different functions is addressed | 5 | "This section applies to the following functions of |
| 6 | separately by Parliament, and there are some treaties | 6 | Ofcom" |
| 7 | for which parliamentary approval was not required under | 7 | First of all, their functions under chapter 1 of |
| 8 | the post 1972 legislation, but it was still necessary to | 8 | part 2 which concerns electronic communications, |
| 9 | add the treaty to section $1(2)$ of the 1972 Act. If the | 9 | networks and services, their licensing function, and |
| 10 | court would please look at volume 19 of the materials | 10 | there is a lot more detail, none of which matters. My |
| 11 | and look, please, at tab 221, which is MS page 6463. | 11 | point is under section 4(2): |
| 12 | The court will see that that treaty, which was the | 12 | "It shall be the duty of Ofcom in carrying out any |
| 13 | treaty for accession of Spain and Portugal, that was | 13 | of those functions to act in accordance with the six |
| 14 | added to section 1(2) of the 1972 Act, but there was no | 14 | Community requirements which give effect among other |
| 15 | need for approval under the post 1972 legislation as it | 15 | things to the requirements of the framework directive. |
| 16 | then existed, so Parliament is very careful to treat | 16 | Then subsection 4, the second Community requirement is: |
| 17 | separately the two distinct areas that we are here | 17 | " a requirement to secure that Ofcom's activities |
| 18 | concerned with. | 18 | contribute to the development of the European internal |
| 19 | So that is the 1972 Act. There are, of course, many | 19 | market." |
| 20 | other relevant statutes in many areas of life, | 20 | The third Community requirement is: |
| 21 | competition law, communications law, equality law, | 21 | " a requirement to promote the interests of all |
| 22 | environmental law, and many others, at least some of the | 22 | persons who are citizens of the European Union, within |
| 23 | terms of which would be frustrated if the appellant | 23 | the meaning of Article 20." |
| 24 | terminates the UK's membership of the EU, notifies of | 24 | My Lords, this simply does not make sense, it |
| 25 | the termination that is to take effect in two years' | 25 | doesn't make any sense if the Secretary of State has |
| | | | |
| | Page 9 | | Page 11 |
| 1 | time unlose there is an extension. We have given the | 1 | a prerogative power to notify and to terminate all |
| 2 | time unless there is an extension. We have given the | 2 | our all the UK's obligations under the EU treaties. |
| 3 | example in our written case of the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002, and we have given | 3 | All of that is simply frustrated or nullified and |
| 4 | | 4 | I could make the same point I am not going to but |
| 4 5 | extensive analysis of this in the written argument. It is in our written case, in particular, paragraph 17.3 | 5 | I could make the same point on dozens, perhaps hundreds |
| | a), which is MS 12394. But it is only an example. | 6 | of statutes covering vast areas of national life. |
| 6 | It is no answer for the appellant to say, as he | 7 | Parliament has adopted sections in primary legislation |
| 7 | | 8 | that proceed on the basis that the United Kingdom is |
| 8 9 | does, that of course these rights lapse when we leave | 9 | |
| - | the club that is their answer but that begs the | - | a member of the EU, and these provisions make no sense |
| 10 | question, and the question is whether the appellant can | 10 | if we are not a member of the EU. |
| 11 | lawfully use prerogative powers in such a way as to | 11 | LORD HUGHES: Are you saying what would be needed to undo |
| 12 | nullify these statutory provisions. | 12 | these for example the Communications Act, supposing |
| 13 | But there are many other examples. Can I give the | 13 | you are right and the service of the notice requires |
| 14 | court one other example of our concern. It is volume 13 | 14 | legislation, what kind of legislation? Are you |
| 15 | at tab 130, which is MS 4481, volume 13, tab 130, the | 15 | addressing us on that or not? |
| 16 | Communications Act 2003, MS 4481. I am inviting the | 16 | LORD PANNICK: No, I am not because my submission is a very |
| 17 | court's attention to section 4 of the Communications Act | 17 | simple one. My submission is that the Secretary of |
| 18 | 2003 13130 section 4 of the Communications Act is | 18 | State cannot proceed along the path of notification |
| 19 | headed "Duties for the purpose of fulfilling EU | 19 | without Parliament addressing the problem that will |
| 20 | obligations": | 20 | inevitably arise, and I am concerned only with the |
| 21 | "This section applies to the following functions of | 21 | notification stage. I am coming on to deal with the |
| 22 | Ofcom (a) their functions under chapter 1 of part | 22 | argument that is going to be there is going to be |
| 23 | 2" | 23 | a Great Repeal Bill and we don't need to worry about it, |
| 24 | That is electronic communications | 24 | I will deal with that. |
| 25 | LORD CLARKE: This is section 4A, is it? | 25 | My submission to your Lordships is that the statute |
| | Page 10 | | Page 12 |
| | 1 age 10 | | 1 age 12 |

3 (Pages 9 to 12)

| 1 | book has so many provisions, and this is an example, | 1 | statement that was made by the appellant, |
|--|--|--|---|
| 2 | that proceed on the assumption that this country is | 2 | Mr David Davis, to Parliament on 10 October 2016. Does |
| 3 | a member of the EU, that the Secretary of State cannot | 3 | the court still have copies of that? It is the |
| 4 | by prerogative powers take the step of notifying, | 4 | three-page document I can't remember, I think |
| 5 | leading to us withdrawing, without Parliament itself | 5 | Mr Eadie asked the court to put it in the black folder. |
| 6 | addressing this issue. | 6 | THE PRESIDENT: He did. |
| 7 | LORD HUGHES: That is very clear. I understand that | 7 | LADY HALE: The "next steps" document you are referring to. |
| 8 | perfectly. But supposing you are right and Parliament | 8 | LORD PANNICK: Yes. |
| 9 | does address the service of the notice, what is the | 9 | LADY HALE: Yes. |
| 10 | effect of such an address by act of Parliament on the | 10 | LORD PANNICK: "Next steps in leaving the European Union". |
| 11 | Communications Act 2003, or do you have the same problem | 11 | If the court has that |
| 12 | with a legislative authorisation of the notice as you do | 12 | THE PRESIDENT: Yes. |
| 13 | with a prerogative authorisation? | 13 | LORD PANNICK: I am grateful. On the second page, it is the |
| 14 | LORD PANNICK: No, because I would accept that if Parliament | 14 | third paragraph of Mr Davis' comment. He says: |
| 15 | were to say next week that section 1 of the | 15 | "In all, there is more than 40 years of European |
| 16 | authorisation Act, the Secretary of State is authorised | 16 | Union law in UK law to consider and some of it simply |
| 17 | to notify pursuant to Article 50 of the TEU, then it | 17 | will not work on exit." |
| 18 | would be exceptionally difficult to run an argument that | 18 | We respectfully agree and we therefore submit that |
| 19 | there is any legal impediment in him doing so. He would | 19 | it is impossible to understand as a matter of law how |
| 20 | have express statutory authorisation and Parliament no | 20 | the Secretary of State can claim a prerogative power to |
| 21 | doubt would proceed on the basis, because it would be | 21 | notify. He must, in my submission, obtain |
| 22 | told to this effect in the parliamentary debates: all of | 22 | a parliamentary authorisation to take steps which will |
| 23 | these problems, Communications Act problems and others | 23 | leave large elements of the statute book to be rendered |
| 24 | will be addressed before we actually leave the EU. | 24 | insensible. |
| 25 | LORD SUMPTION: This is not an ambulatory statute, so | 25 | THE PRESIDENT: I understand your argument, Lord Pannick; |
| | | | |
| | Page 13 | | Page 15 |
| | | | |
| 1 | technically the position is that if we were to if | 1 | parliamentary authorisation would not extend even to |
| 1 | technically the position is that if we were to, if notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this | 1 | parliamentary authorisation would not extend even to a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully |
| 2 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this | 2 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully |
| 23 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in | 2 3 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. |
| 2 3 4 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which | 2 3 4 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am |
| 2 3 4 5 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different | 2 3 4 5 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; | 2 3 4 5 6 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange | 2 3 4 5 6 7 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets | 2 3 4 5 6 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated.LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to.THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay.LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State really has a prerogative power to notify, it is | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. LADY HALE: I may be wrong, I am often wrong. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State really has a prerogative power to notify, it is an important dimension of the argument that that which | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State really has a prerogative power to notify, it is an important dimension of the argument that that which he seeks to do will frustrate, will render insensible, | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. LADY HALE: I may be wrong, I am often wrong. LORD PANNICK: You say De Keyser, I say De Keyser. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State really has a prerogative power to notify, it is an important dimension of the argument that that which he seeks to do will frustrate, will render insensible, a large number of statutory provisions. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. LADY HALE: I may be wrong, I am often wrong. LORD PANNICK: You say De Keyser, I say De Keyser. THE PRESIDENT: We can each stick to our own because the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State really has a prerogative power to notify, it is an important dimension of the argument that that which he seeks to do will frustrate, will render insensible, a large number of statutory provisions. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. LADY HALE: I may be wrong, I am often wrong. LORD CLARKE: Down here we think it is De Keyser. THE PRESIDENT: We can each stick to our own because the transcript will not give away what we have called it. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State really has a prerogative power to notify, it is an important dimension of the argument that that which he seeks to do will frustrate, will render insensible, a large number of statutory provisions. That is the submission, and that is not just my view, it is the view it is not just my submission, it | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. LADY HALE: I may be wrong, I am often wrong. LORD PANNICK: You say De Keyser, I say De Keyser. IORD CLARKE: Down here we think it is De Keyser. THE PRESIDENT: We can each stick to our own because the transcript will not give away what we have called it. LORD PANNICK: I is my fifth topic, whatever it is called, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State really has a prerogative power to notify, it is an important dimension of the argument that that which he seeks to do will frustrate, will render insensible, a large number of statutory provisions. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. LADY HALE: I may be wrong, I am often wrong. LORD CLARKE: Down here we think it is De Keyser. THE PRESIDENT: We can each stick to our own because the transcript will not give away what we have called it. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | notice is served and we consequently leave the EU this would remain in force, absurd as it is; no doubt in practice it would be changed, but the problem to which statutes like this give rise is a completely different problem to the one arising from the 1972 Act, isn't it; this is simply something which will look very strange but will continue to have effect until Parliament gets round to repealing it. LORD PANNICK: Yes. LORD MANCE: I suppose it might be impliedly repealed or frustrated if there was a statute authorising an Article 50 exit. LORD PANNICK: Frustration is the point. I entirely accept the point my Lord, Lord Sumption puts to me that it would look a bit strange. My point is that when the court is asking itself whether the Secretary of State really has a prerogative power to notify, it is an important dimension of the argument that that which he seeks to do will frustrate, will render insensible, a large number of statutory provisions. That is the submission, and that is not just my view, it is the view it is not just my submission, it is the view of the Secretary of State himself, because | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | a motion of both Houses after the issue had been fully debated. LORD PANNICK: Yes, that is the seventh point, which I am coming on to. THE PRESIDENT: Fine, okay. LORD PANNICK: I am going to deal with that expressly, my Lord. THE PRESIDENT: Okay. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to the fifth topic which is De Keyser and the other case law. LADY HALE: Have I been mispronouncing that case all my adult life? LORD PANNICK: Would your Ladyship like to tell me the correct LADY HALE: De Keyser. LORD PANNICK: I will call it De Keyser. LADY HALE: I may be wrong, I am often wrong. LORD PANNICK: You say De Keyser, I say De Keyser. LORD CLARKE: Down here we think it is De Keyser. THE PRESIDENT: We can each stick to our own because the transcript will not give away what we have called it. LORD PANNICK: It is my fifth topic, whatever it is called, and whatever it is called, MS 228 CA 2, tab 10, what it |

4 (Pages 13 to 16)

| 1 | a prerogative power. My submission is that that is not | 1 | So what was being complained about in Rees-Mogg had |
|--|--|--|---|
| 2 | the only type of case where the courts will impose | 2 | no effect on domestic law rights. |
| 3 | limits on the exercise of prerogative power. Here, we | 3 | LORD WILSON: I think Mr Eadie says that that paragraph is |
| 4 | submit there simply is no prerogative power to act under | 4 | a second free-standing reason for the disposal of the |
| 5 | a treaty so as to defeat, nullify, frustrate statutory | 5 | application. Do you agree? |
| 6 | rights. That is one additional principle. | 6 | LORD PANNICK: The case has to be understood in its context; |
| 7 | Another principle is where the exercise of | 7 | I am not avoiding giving an answer to your Lordship's |
| 8 | prerogative powers would frustrate the provision made by | 8 | question, but can I come back to that after I have just |
| 9 | Parliament; that is ex parte Fire Brigades Union, core | 9 | shown your Lordship one other matter. |
| 10 | authorities 2, tab 15, MS 444. | 10 | LORD WILSON: Do. |
| 11 | My Lord, Lord Mance made the point in argument, | 11 | LORD PANNICK: Because the other matter is that at the time |
| 12 | I think it was yesterday, that in ex parte | 12 | when the case was brought, Parliament had already |
| 13 | Fire Brigades Union, the majority recognised that it was | 13 | approved that which was to be done at the international |
| 14 | not a De Keyser type case; see Lord Browne-Wilkinson, | 14 | level. So if your Lordship looks at page 562, which is |
| 15 | and I don't ask the court to go back to it, see Lord | 15 | MS page number 434, the court will find set out just |
| 16 | Browne-Wilkinson, page 553 F to G; see Lord Lloyd at 573 | 16 | under letter C the text of section 1 of the 1993 Act, |
| 17 | C to D; and Lord Nicholls, 578 F, his analysis also does | 17 | section 1 of the European Communities (Amendment) Act |
| 18 | not proceed on a De Keyser basis. | 18 | 1993, which received royal assent, so it had already |
| 19 | So De Keyser in my submission is not, cannot be, | 19 | received royal assent on 20 July, and the case was |
| 20 | an exclusive code as to the limits of prerogative | 20 | brought on 26 July. It provides: |
| 21 | powers. | 21 | "In section 1(2) of the 1972 Act, in the definition |
| 22 | I also need to address Rees-Mogg, ex parte | 22 | of the treaties and the Community treaties, after |
| 23 | Rees-Mogg. Here I would ask the court to turn it up; it | 23 | paragraph F, there shall be inserted the words and |
| 24 | is in core authorities volume 2 at tab 14 and it is MS | 24 | titles 2, 3 and 4 of the treaty on European Union, |
| 25 | 424. The court will recall that the applicant there was | 25 | signed at Maastricht on 7 February 1992, together with |
| | D 47 | | D 40 |
| | Page 17 | | Page 19 |
| | | | |
| 1 | seeking to challenge the ratification of the Maastricht | 1 | the other provisions of the treaty so far as they relate |
| 1 2 | seeking to challenge the ratification of the Maastricht agreement: in particular his concern was the protocol on | 1 2 | the other provisions of the treaty so far as they relate to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht |
| 2 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on | 1 2 3 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht |
| | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. | 2 | |
| 2 3 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, | 2 3 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the |
| 2 3 4 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. | 2 3 4 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on |
| 2 3 4 5 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol | 2 3 4 5 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not | 2 3 4 5 6 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that | 2 3 4 5 6 7 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the 1972 Act. It is specifically excluded by the 1993 Act. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. LORD PANNICK: Very ambitious counsel in 1993. The |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the 1972 Act. It is specifically excluded by the 1993 Act. It follows that the protocol is not one of the treaties | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. LORD PANNICK: Very ambitious counsel in 1993. The divisional court rejected what it regarded as |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the 1972 Act. It is specifically excluded by the 1993 Act. It follows that the protocol is not one of the treaties covered under section 2(1) of the 1972 Act by which | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. LORD PANNICK: Very ambitious counsel in 1993. The divisional court rejected what it regarded as an unsustainable argument, that despite the fact that |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the 1972 Act. It is specifically excluded by the 1993 Act. It follows that the protocol is not one of the treaties covered under section 2(1) of the 1972 Act by which alone Community treaties have force in domestic law. It | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. LORD PANNICK: Very ambitious counsel in 1993. The divisional court rejected what it regarded as an unsustainable argument, that despite the fact that Parliament had given its approval, despite the fact it |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the 1972 Act. It is specifically excluded by the 1993 Act. It follows that the protocol is not one of the treaties covered under section 2(1) of the 1972 Act by which alone Community treaties have force in domestic law. It does not become one of the treaties covered by section | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. LORD PANNICK: Very ambitious counsel in 1993. The divisional court rejected what it regarded as an unsustainable argument, that despite the fact that Parliament had given its approval, despite the fact it had no effect, the protocol, on domestic law rights, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the 1972 Act. It is specifically excluded by the 1993 Act. It follows that the protocol is not one of the treaties covered under section 2(1) of the 1972 Act by which alone Community treaties have force in domestic law. It does not become one of the treaties covered by section 2(1), merely because by the Union treaty, it is annexed | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. LORD PANNICK: Very ambitious counsel in 1993. The divisional court rejected what it regarded as an unsustainable argument, that despite the fact that Parliament had given its approval, despite the fact it had no effect, the protocol, on domestic law rights, nevertheless, the 1972 Act curtailed generally what |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the 1972 Act. It is specifically excluded by the 1993 Act. It follows that the protocol is not one of the treaties covered under section 2(1) of the 1972 Act by which alone Community treaties have force in domestic law. It does not become one of the treaties covered by section | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. LORD PANNICK: Very ambitious counsel in 1993. The divisional court rejected what it regarded as an unsustainable argument, that despite the fact that Parliament had given its approval, despite the fact it had no effect, the protocol, on domestic law rights, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | agreement; in particular his concern was the protocol on social policy. Now, it is essential to, in my submission, understanding the case, to recognise that this protocol had no effect in domestic law and therefore did not remove, or indeed extend, domestic law rights, and that is stated by the divisional court at 568. It is MS 440. 568 of the report. Can I take the court to that, please. 568 A, MS 440: "Would the ratification of the protocol on social policy alter the content of domestic law. "The protocol itself makes clear that it was not intended to apply to the UK, nor is the UK party to the agreement which is annexed to the protocol. The protocol is not one of the treaties, which for this purpose includes protocols, included within the definition of the treaties in section 1(2) of the 1972 Act. It is specifically excluded by the 1993 Act. It follows that the protocol is not one of the treaties covered under section 2(1) of the 1972 Act by which alone Community treaties have force in domestic law. It does not become one of the treaties covered by section 2(1), merely because by the Union treaty, it is annexed | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | to those titles and the protocols adopted at Maastricht on that date and annexed to the treaty establishing the European Community with the exception of the protocol on social policy" So there are two points by way of background, essential background, to understanding what it was the divisional court was deciding in the paragraph on which Mr Eadie relies. The first is that there is no effect on domestic law rights and duties by reason of the protocol on social policy, but secondly, Parliament had approved the treaty, including the protocols. Now, in that context, one goes to the passage to which Mr Eadie invites attention and what the divisional court are rejecting at 567 G to H is an argument, an ambitious argument, as the divisional court concluded LADY HALE: There being ambitious counsel. LORD PANNICK: Very ambitious counsel in 1993. The divisional court rejected what it regarded as an unsustainable argument, that despite the fact that Parliament had given its approval, despite the fact it had no effect, the protocol, on domestic law rights, nevertheless, the 1972 Act curtailed generally what |

5 (Pages 17 to 20)

| 1 | to the EEC treaty. That is what Lord Justice Lloyd is | 1 | The court has heard that Mr Eadie relies on the |
|----------|---|---------------------------------------|--|
| 2 | rejecting and the argument is set out at 567 E to G, in | 2 | statutory provisions post 1972 and they have imposed |
| 3 | particular just above F: | 3 | various limits on the power of the Crown to act on the |
| 4 | "By enacting section 2(1), Parliament must therefore | 4 | international plane. Mr Eadie first referred to part 2 |
| 5 | have intended to curtail the prerogative power to amend | 5 | of the 2010 Act, CRAG, and your Lordships and your |
| 6 | or add to the EEC treaty." | 6 | Ladyship have that at core authorities 1, tab 5, MS |
| 7 | That is what he is rejecting, his Lordship, and just | 7 | page 131. My Lord, Lord Mance I think it was, asked |
| 8 | above H: | 8 | about the green papers and the white paper that preceded |
| 9 | "We find ourselves unable to accept this | 9 | the 2010 CRAG legislation. I do invite the court, |
| 10 | far-reaching argument when Parliament wishes to | 10 | please, to look at the green paper; the green paper can |
| 11 | fetter the Crown's treaty-making power in relation to | 11 | be found in volume 15 at tab 166. 15, 166. And for the |
| 12 | Community law, it does so in express terms such as one | 12 | court's note, the white paper appears |
| 13 | finds in section 6" | 13 | LORD CARNWATH: Do you have the MS number? |
| 13 | Et cetera, et cetera. That is the point and my | 14 | LORD PANNICK: Sorry, MS 5189. |
| 14 | point is this has absolutely nothing whatsoever to do | 15 | LORD CARNWATH: Thank you. |
| 15 | with the issue before this court on this occasion, which | 16 | LORD PANNICK: That is the green paper. The white paper is |
| | is whether or not the Secretary of State has | 17 | the next tab, tab 167 and that is MS page 5213 but could |
| 17 | - | 18 | |
| 18 | a prerogative power to act on the international plane in | 1 | I ask the court, please, to focus on the green paper, |
| 19 | a way which will frustrate, nullify domestic law rights | 19 20 | 5189, volume 15, tab 166 and the particular passage to |
| 20 | and duties and the statutory scheme. That is not what | 1 | which I invite the court's attention is at MS page 5207. |
| 21 | was there being considered. That is my answer and that | 21 | It is under the heading, "Ratifying treaties". MS 5207. |
| 22 | is why, although I accept in answer to my Lord, Lord | 22 | |
| 23 | Wilson's question, although I accept that 567 G to H is | 23 | "Ratifying treaties", paragraph 31: |
| 24 | a separate answer given by the divisional court to the | 24 | "Every year the UK becomes party to many |
| 25 | answer given at 568 B, it is only by understanding what | 25 | international treaties. These result in binding |
| | Page 21 | | Page 23 |
| 1 | is said at 568 A to B and what is said at 562 C to E, | 1 | obligations for the UK under international law across |
| 2 | that one can understand what it was that the divisional | 2 | a wide range of domestic and foreign policy issues. It |
| 3 | court was rejecting at 567 H. That is my submission. | $\begin{vmatrix} 2\\ 3 \end{vmatrix}$ | is right that Parliament should be able to scrutinise |
| 4 | LORD MANCE: Can you just help me understand your argument | 4 | the treaty-making process. |
| 5 | in 1994 or whenever. The amendment, which you pointed | 5 | "32. The Government's ability to ratify treaties is |
| 6 | to on page 562, excluded the protocol from the | 6 | currently constrained in two ways. Treaties that |
| 7 | definition of the treaties and yet your argument was, on | 7 | require changes to UK law need the enactment of prior |
| 8 | 567, accordingly the protocol will have effect not only | 8 | legislation which, of course [of course] requires the |
| 9 | on the international plane but also by virtue of section | 9 | full assent of Parliament [and they give examples] |
| 10 | 2(1) on the 1972 Act on the domestic plane. How so? | 10 | many other treaties [many other treaties] are covered by |
| 11 | LORD PANNICK: That was the divisional court's reaction. | 11 | a convention known as the Ponsonby rule which is |
| 12 | That I don't want to complain but it may perhaps be | 12 | , |
| 12 | an unfair question to ask me to defend an argument that | 1 | explained in box 3" |
| 13 | | 13 | Box 3 is over the page, and the court is very |
| 14 | the divisional court said simply didn't get off the ground. | 14 | familiar with the Ponsonby rule, that the instrument is |
| 15 | c | 15 | laid before both Houses of Parliament as a command paper |
| 16 | LORD MANCE: I see, it is as simple as that. LORD PANNICK: I plead guilty, my Lord. | 16 | for 21 days. Back to page 5207, 33: |
| | | 17 | "The Government believes that the procedure for allowing Parliament to constinue tracting should be |
| 18 | LORD KERR: Not least because you now support the divisional | 18 | allowing Parliament to scrutinise treaties should be |
| 19 20 | court on this particular point. | 19 | formalised. The Government is of the view that |
| 20 | LORD PANNICK: Of course I am not inviting this court to say | 20 | Parliament may wish to hold a debate and vote on some |
| 21 | that anything said by the divisional court in the | 21 | treaties, and with a view to its doing so, will |
| 22 | context of what it was deciding was wrong. So that is | 22 | therefore consult on an appropriate means to put the |
| 23 | Rees-Mogg and that is my fifth topic. | 23 | Ponsonby rule on a statutory footing." |
| 24 25 | My sixth topic is the post 1972 legislation and the limitations placed on the use of prerogative powers. | 24 25 | That is what ends up as CRAG, part 2. It is a statutory enactment of what was the Ponsonby rule, |
| 23 | minations placed on the use of prefogative powers. | 23 | a statutory chaetinent of what was the rollsoliby fulle, |
| | Page 22 | | Page 24 |
| | ÿ | | U C |

Article 50 - Brexit Hearing

| 1 | obviously with variations, but that is the purpose and | 1 | LORD PANNICK: But of course Mr Eadie does not put his case |
|--|---|--|---|
| 2 | effect of CRAG part 2. It is nothing whatsoever to do | 2 | like that. He doesn't suggest that there is any |
| 3 | with the other constitutional principle, which is | 3 | statutory power to notify, he is very clear about this; |
| 4 | recognised in paragraph 32 of that document, that if | 4 | he is not saying: look at the 2011 Act or any of the |
| 5 | a treaty is going to require a change to UK law, of | 5 | other post 1972 statutes, they confer a statutory power. |
| 6 | course it in any event requires the enactment of prior | 6 | His case is and has to be that the later legislation is, |
| 7 | legislation which requires the full assent of | 7 | as he puts it, confirmatory of a prerogative power that |
| 8 | Parliament. | 8 | previously existed. |
| 9 | In my submission, therefore, CRAG part 2 is nothing | 9 | LORD MANCE: Could it not be a revival of a prerogative |
| 10 | to the point. It doesn't assist in answering the | 10 | power? I mean, you have assumed that the 1972 Act |
| 11 | question in this case, which is a question concerned | 11 | properly construed has the effect of abolishing the |
| 12 | with whether there can be a prerogative power in order | 12 | prerogative power, eliminating it, but that may require |
| 13 | to amend the in order to frustrate legislation which | 13 | close study of what was actually being decided in the |
| 14 | has been enacted. | 14 | De Keyser and the Fire Brigades cases; on one view, |
| 15 | So that is the 1972 Act that is, sorry, the | 15 | perhaps they might simply be suppressing the prerogative |
| 16 | 2010 Act. | 16 | power, and therefore it might be capable of being |
| 17 | Mr Eadie also refers to the other post 1972 | 17 | revived; or they might simply be saying that it was |
| 18 | statutes. The court has been taken through them, the | 18 | inappropriate to exercise it; do we have to look |
| 19 | statutes that specifically relate to the EU from the | 19 | a little more closely at what they were in fact saying? |
| 20 | first one in 1978, which addressed increases in the | 20 | LORD PANNICK: My submission at its height is that there is |
| 21 | powers of the then European assembly, through to the | 21 | simply, and never has been, a prerogative power in the |
| 22 | 2011 Act, which is the culmination of this process, | 22 | executive to use treaty-making functions in order to |
| 23 | requiring not merely an Act of Parliament but in any | 23 | nullify that which Parliament has enacted, and that is |
| 24 | context a referendum on changes. | 24 | the strong submission. If that is right, it is not |
| 25 | Now, my Lords, my Lady, leaving aside the post 1972 | 25 | a question of reviving a prerogative power; it has never |
| | Page 25 | | Page 27 |
| | | | |
| | | | |
| 1 | statutes, if we get to this point in the argument, then | 1 | existed. It would need to be created for the first |
| 1 2 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative | 1 2 | time. |
| | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to | 2 3 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but |
| 2 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, | 2 3 4 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of |
| 2 3 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which | 2 3 4 5 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have | 2 3 4 5 6 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant | 2 3 4 5 6 7 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removalLORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removalLORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that a prerogative power that did not otherwise exist now | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked a superior or at least a different principle, namely |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that a prerogative power that did not otherwise exist now exists. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked a superior or at least a different principle, namely that those rights cannot be taken away. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that a prerogative power that did not otherwise exist now exists. What Mr Eadie relies on is | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked a superior or at least a different principle, namely that those rights cannot be taken away. LORD PANNICK: They cannot be taken away because Parliament |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that a prerogative power that did not otherwise exist now exists. What Mr Eadie relies on is LADY HALE: It would not be a prerogative power, would it, | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked a superior or at least a different principle, namely that those rights cannot be taken away. LORD PANNICK: They cannot be taken away because Parliament has enacted them, Parliament has provided them, it is |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that a prerogative power that did not otherwise exist now exists. What Mr Eadie relies on is LADY HALE: It would not be a prerogative power, would it, if it was created by statute? | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked a superior or at least a different principle, namely that those rights cannot be taken away LORD PANNICK: They cannot be taken away because Parliament has enacted them, Parliament has provided them, it is basic to parliamentary sovereignty. However, I do |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that a prerogative power that did not otherwise exist now exists. What Mr Eadie relies on is LADY HALE: It would not be a prerogative power, would it, if it was created by statute? LORD PANNICK: It would be a statutory power. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked a superior or at least a different principle, namely that those rights cannot be taken away. LORD PANNICK: They cannot be taken away because Parliament has enacted them, Parliament has provided them, it is basic to parliamentary sovereignty. However, I do accept that a consequence of parliamentary sovereignty |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that a prerogative power that did not otherwise exist now exists. What Mr Eadie relies on is LADY HALE: It would not be a prerogative power, would it, if it was created by statute? | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked a superior or at least a different principle, namely that those rights cannot be taken away LORD PANNICK: They cannot be taken away because Parliament has enacted them, Parliament has provided them, it is basic to parliamentary sovereignty. However, I do |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | I have submitted that there was and is no prerogative power to take action on the international plane to nullify the statutory scheme created by the 1972 Act, particularly in relation to a statutory scheme which introduced a new source of domestic law. I have submitted that the 1972 Act, having regard to relevant principles of interpretation, that is the Public Law Project case, on Henry VIII clauses, legality, no implied repeal, that the Act is simply inconsistent with any prerogative power to set it aside. Now, if either of those submissions is correct, I say it would require the clearest of statements by Parliament in any later legislation, that it was intending, Parliament was intending, to create a prerogative power which did not otherwise exist. And I say that nothing in the later legislation comes close to establishing a clear parliamentary statement that a prerogative power that did not otherwise exist now exists. What Mr Eadie relies on is LADY HALE: It would not be a prerogative power, would it, if it was created by statute? LORD PANNICK: It would be a statutory power. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | time. LORD KERR: One should beware of metaphors, of course, but one of the things that has emerged in the course of submissions has been that the 1972 Act constituted a clamp on the power, and the 2015 Act was the means by which this clamp was dismantled. What do you say about that argument? LORD PANNICK: That the 2015 Act constituted a removal LORD KERR: Of the clamp. LORD PANNICK: I have made my submissions on the 2015 Act. I don't accept that it has any effect, any legal effect on the contents of the 1972 Act or the constitutional principles that apply. LORD KERR: I think you take an anterior point, don't you, and that is it is not a question of a clamp. Once the 1972 Act invested the rights of the United Kingdom citizens with these rights, then that invoked a superior or at least a different principle, namely that those rights cannot be taken away. LORD PANNICK: They cannot be taken away because Parliament has enacted them, Parliament has provided them, it is basic to parliamentary sovereignty. However, I do accept that a consequence of parliamentary sovereignty |

7 (Pages 25 to 28)

8th Floor, 165 Fleet Street London EC4A 2DY

| 1LORD KERR: Yes.1in the concept of a flexible constitution, that could2LORD PANNICK: And it is a question of interpretation. All2said to be a little surprising.3I am saying is that given the significance of that which3LORD PANNICK: In my submission, it is not surprising.4Parliament did in 1972, and given the other principles4that that was the intention of Parliament; Parliament5of interpretation to which I have referred, it does5intended, in my submission, to establish a reference6require the clearest of parliamentary statements post6which would advise those71972 to vary that position.7THE PRESIDENT: Advise who, precisely?8THE PRESIDENT: You say they are the clearest possible8LORD PANNICK: Advise both the Government an9words, but we have had to spend a lot of time looking at9THE PRESIDENT: Maybe just advise the Government an10the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded10Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is11that the 1972 Act did remove, or put into abevance, or11in the statute. We find it in one statement, in | rising, given ent dum d Parliament. nent. |
|--|---|
| 3I am saying is that given the significance of that which3LORD PANNICK: In my submission, it is not surprised4Parliament did in 1972, and given the other principles4that that was the intention of Parliament; Parliament5of interpretation to which I have referred, it does5intended, in my submission, to establish a reference6require the clearest of parliamentary statements post6which would advise those71972 to vary that position.7THE PRESIDENT: Advise who, precisely?8THE PRESIDENT: You say they are the clearest possible8LORD PANNICK: Advise both the Government an9words, but we have had to spend a lot of time looking at9THE PRESIDENT: Maybe just advise the Government10the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded10Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is | ent dum d Parliament. nent. |
| 4Parliament did in 1972, and given the other principles4that that was the intention of Parliament; Parliament5of interpretation to which I have referred, it does5intended, in my submission, to establish a reference6require the clearest of parliamentary statements post6which would advise those71972 to vary that position.7THE PRESIDENT: Advise who, precisely?8THE PRESIDENT: You say they are the clearest possible8LORD PANNICK: Advise both the Government an9words, but we have had to spend a lot of time looking at9THE PRESIDENT: Maybe just advise the Government an10the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded10Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is | ent dum d Parliament. nent. |
| 5of interpretation to which I have referred, it does5intended, in my submission, to establish a reference6require the clearest of parliamentary statements post6which would advise those71972 to vary that position.7THE PRESIDENT: Advise who, precisely?8THE PRESIDENT: You say they are the clearest possible8LORD PANNICK: Advise both the Government an9words, but we have had to spend a lot of time looking at9THE PRESIDENT: Maybe just advise the Government an10the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded10Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is | dum d Parliament. nent. |
| 6require the clearest of parliamentary statements post6which would advise those71972 to vary that position.7THE PRESIDENT: Advise who, precisely?8THE PRESIDENT: You say they are the clearest possible8LORD PANNICK: Advise both the Government an9words, but we have had to spend a lot of time looking at9THE PRESIDENT: Maybe just advise the Government an10the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded10Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is | d Parliament. nent. |
| 71972 to vary that position.7THE PRESIDENT: Advise who, precisely?8THE PRESIDENT: You say they are the clearest possible8LORD PANNICK: Advise both the Government an9words, but we have had to spend a lot of time looking at9THE PRESIDENT: Maybe just advise the Government10the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded10Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is | nent. |
| 8THE PRESIDENT: You say they are the clearest possible8LORD PANNICK: Advise both the Government an9words, but we have had to spend a lot of time looking at9THE PRESIDENT: Maybe just advise the Government10the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded10Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is | nent. |
| 9words, but we have had to spend a lot of time looking at the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded9THE PRESIDENT: Maybe just advise the Governm Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is10the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded10Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is | nent. |
| 10 the statute to persuade ourselves or to be persuaded 10 Parliament was saying: over to you. "Advisory" is | |
| | s not |
| 11 that the 1072 A at did remays or put into shareness or 11 in the state W. find it is sure to the | |
| 11 that the 1972 Act did remove, or put into abeyance, or 11 in the statute. We find it in one statement, in | |
| 12 abolish, or whatever, or did not give rise to, however 12 a ministerial statement; there are lots of other | |
| 13 one chooses to put it, a prerogative; but it seems to me 13 statements one could look at. It is quite dangerou | s to |
| 14 that it could well be said that the statute had the 14 look at advisory, but if we are into advisory, I am | not |
| 15 effect of putting a clamp on the prerogative, 15 sure where it takes us. | |
| 16particularly bearing in mind what Lord Bingham said16LORD PANNICK: But one has an Act of Parliamen | nt that simply |
| 17 about the importance of our constitution being seen as 17 says: there shall be a referendum; it says nothing r | nore, |
| 18flexible in the Robinson case. And in those18nothing more. What your Lordship is putting to n | ne is |
| 19 circumstances, you are not relying on an express term in 19 that that is sufficient to overturn, if I am otherwise | ð |
| 20 the 1972 Act, in itself to clamp the prerogative. So we 20 right, what is a fundamental constitutional princip | le |
| 21 shouldn't be too surprised if we can conclude that the 21 that the Government, the executive, lacks power of | on the |
| 22 2015 Act impliedly removes or relaxes the clamp. 22 international plane, to set aside an act of Parliame | nt, |
| 23 LORD PANNICK: Yes, but there is nothing in the language of 23 the 1972 Act, which is nowhere mentioned in the | 2015 |
| 24 the 2015 Act which can be focused upon, there is simply 24 legislation. That is the first point: an absolutely | |
| 25nothing there.25fundamental constitutional principle is to be remo | ved, |
| D 20 | |
| Page 29 Page 31 | |
| 1 THE PRESIDENT: If one sees it in the sort of sense the 1 as it were, as an implication; and I would respect | ully |
| 2 way Lord Wilson puts it, of some sort of partnership 2 submit that that would be a very surprising propos | • |
| 3 between Parliament and the executive, between Parliament 3 THE PRESIDENT: You say as an implication, but the president of t | |
| 4 and the Government, then it seems to me there may be 4 how one looks at it; if one looks at the 1972 Act a | uS - |
| 5 some force in the argument that says, when Parliament 5 imposing a fetter by implication on the prerogativ | e, |
| 6 comes to face up to this issue, they say: well, let the 6 because there is nothing expressly imposing any f | etter, |
| 7 British people vote; it is not decisive, of course, 7 then it is not particularly surprising that the fetter | |
| 8 because the Government has to decide; but one could say 8 is removed by implication. | |
| 9 it is Parliament ceding the ground so far as its role is 9 LORD PANNICK: But the fetter is a fundamental | |
| 10 concerned to the people, to a referendum; it has done 10 constitutional principle. What your Lordship is pr | utting |
| 11 that; and then it is over to the Government. 11 to me is that such a fundamental constitutional | - |
| 12 LORD PANNICK: The former is, with respect, self-evident, 12 principle, that the executive cannot frustrate or | |
| 13 that Parliament is saying that the people are entitled, 13 nullify a statutory scheme, can be removed without | it the |
| 14 should be given a voice. Where I would respectfully 14 clearest of statements, and here we don't have any | |
| 15 take issue is the second part of your Lordship's 15 statement at all. It is not that my friends focus on | |
| 16 question to me. It doesn't follow in my submission that 16 particular word, and they say, well, in the | |
| 17 the people having spoken, they are advising the 17 constitutional context, the language of the legislat | ion |
| 18Government as opposed to Parliament.18ought to be interpreted in a certain way. | |
| 19 THE PRESIDENT: One of the problems if you are right is 19 THE PRESIDENT: But as Lord Bingham said, one | doesn't look |
| 20 that, in terms of the law, the referendum has no 20 at the language so much as the purpose. | |
| 21 consequences at all and the whole Referendum Act has no 21 LORD PANNICK: With respect, that is not what Lo | ord Bingham |
| 22 consequences. 22 says; he says: within the scope of the language. T | |
| 23 LORD PANNICK: It has a very important consequence. Its 23 is what he says. | |
| 24 consequence is a political consequence. 24 THE PRESIDENT: But the problem with your argu | ment, and |
| 25 THE PRESIDENT: I know but I am saying as a matter of law 25 I see the force of what you say, is that in law, and | |
| | |
| Page 30 Page 32 | |

8 (Pages 29 to 32)

Article 50 - Brexit Hearing

1 I repeat this, as a matter of law, the referendum has no 1 there is nothing to stop Parliament, before the 2 2 effect. I understand your point that it has a political Article 50 notice is served, calling the matter in and reconsidering it; that is a different point. 3 one, but it could be said to be a bit surprising that in 3 4 a flexible constitution, an act such as the Referendum 4 LORD PANNICK: I am coming on, if I may, to the question of 5 Act and an event such as the referendum, has no effect 5 parliamentary involvement. 6 as a matter of law. 6 LORD KERR: You could say this illustrates the dangers of 7 7 LORD PANNICK: But that, with respect, begs the question: metaphors, because if you regard the 1972 Act as 8 what is it that the referendum was designed to achieve. 8 suppressing or placing a fetter on or a clamp on the 9 9 It is open to Parliament to institute a referendum which prerogative, then that begs the question how is that 10 does have a binding legal effect, and there are many, 10 fetter or clamp removed. As I have understood your 11 many examples of where Parliament has done so. 11 argument, you submit it is not a question of a fetter, 12 Parliament has deliberately chosen a model which does 12 it is a question of the 1972 Act creating a new context; 13 13 not involve any binding legal effect, and it is and the new context is that, given that powers, rights, 14 a perfectly coherent statutory scheme for Parliament to 14 have been given to the British citizens by this means, 15 say that: it is very important that the people be given 15 a new constitutional principle is in play, by reason of 16 a voice; this is a highly contentious political issue, 16 the different contexts. 17 and before any steps are taken as to the future of the 17 And therefore when one comes to examine the 2015 Act 18 UK's membership of the EU, the voice of the people 18 for its efficacy in putting at nought that 19 should be heard. That is not an event of no 19 constitutional principle, you are not addressing the 20 significance, but it begs the question: what is to be 20 question: are you removing a clamp or dismantling 21 the consequence? 21 a fetter; you are asking yourself the question: is it 22 THE PRESIDENT: I quite accept, just as much as you can say, sufficient to displace the fundamental constitutional 22 23 quite rightly, that it doesn't tell us that the effect 23 principle which you say obtains? 24 is intended to be binding; so anyone arguing against you 24 LORD PANNICK: I respectfully agree. I am relying -- the 25 can say it does not say it is not intended to be 25 1972 Act arises in the context of a fundamental Page 33 Page 35 1 binding; and one comes back to Lord Mance's point, that 1 constitutional principle which applies generally. It is 2 one has to look at the act, your point in terms of its 2 a fundamental constitutional principle that that which 3 language; but one also has to look at its consequence. 3 Parliament has created, ministers cannot set aside. 4 And it may not be binding on the Government, nobody 4 Then one has the 1972 Act which adds greater force to 5 suggests that the Government is obliged to serve 5 the submission for all the reasons that I have sought to 6 an Article 50 notice, and therefore it is not binding. 6 give, that it is not just an ordinary Act of Parliament, 7 In the other acts you refer to, it is not merely 7 it is an act of constitutional importance, which 8 binding, it is binding on the Government. This Act may 8 contains section 2(4), which makes it even less likely 9 be enough for the Government to say: Parliament has 9 that ministers would have a power to exercise the 10 ceded the issue, as far as Parliament is concerned, to 10 prerogative. 11 the people; we can now go ahead. 11 But I respectfully agree, there is no clamp, it is 12 LORD PANNICK: So the argument being put to me is that the 12 the application of fundamental constitutional principles 13 2015 Act does not have any binding force as against the 13 of the United Kingdom. I do submit that if those 14 Government. It doesn't commit the Government. And 14 fundamental principles are to be removed by Parliament 15 no one could, I think, seriously suggest it does commit 15 itself, it is necessary for there to be clarity. 16 the Government to notify -- the Government could say, we 16 Whatever else one might say about the 2015 Act, 17 have decided, actually, we don't ... 17 I respectfully submit that it cannot be said that the 18 18 But nevertheless your Lordship is putting to me it 2015 Act clearly removes the inability of the executive 19 is intended to have a different legal effect, which is 19 to act so as to frustrate the statutory rights. There 20 to remove what is otherwise the absence of prerogative 20 is no clarity at all. What one has is an act of 21 21 Parliament in very simple terms, there shall be power on the Government, should it decide to notify, it 22 is now perfectly entitled to do so, even though it would 22 a referendum, and that is all it says. 23 23 otherwise have no prerogative power to do so. LORD WILSON: So in 2015 Parliament says we must have 24 THE PRESIDENT: Yes, it basically revives the prerogative 24 a referendum. Now there has been a referendum, and the 25 25 power, the point that was being put to you, of course significance of the outcome is enormous, but can one Page 34 Page 36

9 (Pages 33 to 36)

| 1 | discern in the Referendum Act, Parliament going on to | 1 | a way as it will nullify statutory rights. For all the |
|--|---|--|--|
| 2 | say: and by the way the political significance will be | 2 | points that your Lordship makes, the essence remains, |
| 3 | for you, the executive, to weigh; or rather, as you say, | 3 | and what remains is that, before the 2015 Act, there is |
| 4 | isn't Parliament more likely to have said, having called | 4 | a body of statutory rights and statutory principles, the |
| 5 | for it, and when it has been done, we will assess the | 5 | 1972 Act, and after the 2015 Act, all of those |
| 6 | significance of it. | 6 | provisions remain. They are simply untouched by the |
| 7 | LORD PANNICK: That is precisely my submission, and I do say | 7 | 2015 Act. |
| 8 | that, if the case against me is that the 2015 Act has | 8 | Also untouched by the 2015 Act is the legal division |
| 9 | altered the position, has altered what the position | 9 | of responsibility between the executive and Parliament. |
| 10 | otherwise would be, then it is incumbent on those who | 10 | The Act says nothing about that, and nobody has produced |
| 11 | make that submission to show that Parliament has clearly | 11 | any material whatsoever to suggest that the 2015 Act was |
| 12 | altered what is otherwise the basic constitutional | 12 | intended to touch upon that issue. There is no material |
| 13 | position, and there is no clarity whatsoever in support | 13 | before the court in which ministers have said: and the |
| 14 | of the appellant's position. | 14 | division of responsibility between ministers and |
| 15 | One has an act in the most general terms that simply | 15 | Parliament is going to be affected by all of this; none |
| 16 | does not address the division of power between executive | 16 | whatsoever. |
| 17 | and Parliament. That is not the subject of the act, | 17 | Therefore I do not accept that the political |
| 18 | that has nothing whatsoever to do with that topic, and | 18 | significance of the 2015 Act, which I do not dispute, in |
| 19 | I therefore respectfully submit that one cannot discern | 19 | any way touches upon the issue before the court, or |
| 20 | from this Act of Parliament any alteration of | 20 | touches upon the constitutional question. It was open |
| 21 | constitutional fundamentals, far less in the context of | 20 | to Parliament, open to Parliament, if it wished to do |
| 22 | the 1972 Act. | 22 | so, to say whatever it liked on this topic, and it said |
| 23 | LORD REED: It might be argued that it is a different type | 23 | absolutely nothing. |
| 23 | of act from most acts that Parliament passes. Its whole | 24 | For the court to infer matters that are simply not |
| 25 | point is to have political effects. It is not altering | 25 | addressed in the Act, when they touch upon |
| 23 | point is to have pointed effects. It is not altering | 25 | addressed in the Act, when they toden upon |
| | Page 37 | | Page 39 |
| | | | |
| | | | |
| 1 | anybody's rights, for example, it is not the sort of | 1 | constitutional fundamentals, in my submission, would be |
| 2 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It | 2 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to |
| 2 3 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which | 2 3 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, |
| 2 3 4 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. | 2 3 4 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the |
| 2 3 4 5 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response | 2 3 4 5 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by | 2 3 4 5 6 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into | 2 3 4 5 6 7 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject.LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject.LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject.LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal issue really that arises here, other than our ensuring | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into Parliament, which is constitutionally a novelty, to say |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal issue really that arises here, other than our ensuring | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into Parliament, which is constitutionally a novelty, to say |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal issue really that arises here, other than our ensuring that the political actors are operating their roles in a lawful manner. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into Parliament, which is constitutionally a novelty, to say the least, and if, for example, Parliament were to pass a resolution in both Houses approving of notification under Article 50, the court would say to Parliament: |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal issue really that arises here, other than our ensuring that the political actors are operating their roles in a lawful manner. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into Parliament, which is constitutionally a novelty, to say the least, and if, for example, Parliament were to pass a resolution in both Houses approving of notification |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal issue really that arises here, other than our ensuring that the political actors are operating their roles in a lawful manner. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into Parliament, which is constitutionally a novelty, to say the least, and if, for example, Parliament were to pass a resolution in both Houses approving of notification under Article 50, the court would say to Parliament: |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political measure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal issue really that arises here, other than our ensuring that the political actors are operating their roles in a lawful manner. LORD PANNICK: My answer to your Lordship is that there is a role for the court to play. The role for the court is | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into Parliament, which is constitutionally a novelty, to say the least, and if, for example, Parliament were to pass a resolution in both Houses approving of notification under Article 50, the court would say to Parliament: that is not good enough, we, the court, are telling you |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political neasure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal issue really that arises here, other than our ensuring that the political actors are operating their roles in a lawful manner. LORD PANNICK: My answer to your Lordship is that there is a role for the court to play. The role for the court is to identify whether or not the Secretary of State enjoys | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into Parliament, which is constitutionally a novelty, to say the least, and if, for example, Parliament were to pass a resolution in both Houses approving of notification under Article 50, the court would say to Parliament: that is not good enough, we, the court, are telling you that will not do. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | legislation that Parliament passes day in, day out. It is an act which is designed to result in an event which will have enormous political significance. The steps that then require to be taken in response to that are inevitably going to be steps taken by Government. It might decide to introduce a bill into Parliament, it might decide not to. Parliament can then respond. If there is a bill introduced, it can decide whether it is going to pass it or not; if there is no bill introduced, Parliament has the means of making the Government accountable to it for that failure. So looking at it that way, it is an essentially political neasure designed to have consequences at the political level between the political actors. If you look at it in that way, really, why is the court what role does the court have to play? There is not a legal issue really that arises here, other than our ensuring that the political actors are operating their roles in a lawful manner. LORD PANNICK: My answer to your Lordship is that there is a role for the court to play. The role for the court is to identify whether or not the Secretary of State enjoys a power to act on the international plane, using his | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | fundamentally wrong; it would be wrong for the court to infer, on a matter of this importance and sensitivity, that is the relationship between Parliament and the executive, a radical change of position by reason of an act which says nothing on the subject. LORD REED: The way I have put it to you, obviously the court's role is to interpret the 2015 Act, but if it interprets it the way that I have put to you for your comments, the result is to allow for a flexible response by Government, depending on the outcome of the referendum, obviously, which is subject to parliamentary control in the normal way. If we construe it in the way that you are arguing, inviting us to, the consequence is that the court then, as I understand it, has to effectively compel a Government minister to introduce a bill into Parliament, which is constitutionally a novelty, to say the least, and if, for example, Parliament were to pass a resolution in both Houses approving of notification under Article 50, the court would say to Parliament: that is not good enough, we, the court, are telling you that will not do. LORD PANNICK: Can I come on to that, my Lord, that is the |

10 (Pages 37 to 40)

| 1 | the point your Lordship has made. | 1 | that has an exhortatory intention. It doesn't |
|----|--|----|--|
| 2 | The court is not being asked in my submission to | 2 | necessarily have a concrete legal consequence, and |
| 3 | interpret the 2015 Act. There is no language in the | 3 | I repeat, it is not difficult to understand why |
| 4 | 2015 Act which comes close to supporting the contention | 4 | Parliament was enacting the 2015 Act. The court is not |
| 5 | that is being made by the appellant. There is nothing. | 5 | ignorant, of course, of the political realities. The |
| 6 | The appellant does not focus on any language in the | 6 | political reality is a highly controversial political |
| 7 | 2015 Act, and in my submission, with great respect, it | 7 | issue; it is considered appropriate, and understandably |
| 8 | is a constitutional solecism to say that the court can | 8 | so, that there should be a vote, so that all those |
| 9 | somehow divine an intention from the 2015 Act, without | 9 | political actors understand what are the views of the |
| 10 | focusing on the language that the legislation uses. | 10 | electorate; but that tells you in my submission |
| 11 | There are many statements to that effect, that it is | 11 | absolutely nothing as to what is to follow as |
| 12 | simply not the court's role, even in a constitutional | 12 | a consequence of the vote. |
| 13 | context; it is Lord Hoffmann's famous statement, | 13 | LADY HALE: But the Act did have an effect. The Act had |
| 14 | approving the judgment of Associate Justice Kentridge(?) | 14 | an effect. It provided for the referendum. The |
| 15 | in the Zuma(?) case, I can't remember the case where | 15 | franchise in the referendum, which is different from the |
| 16 | Lord Hoffmann said it but I will track it down, the | 16 | parliamentary franchise, made it lawful for the whole of |
| 17 | court has to look at the language of the governing | 17 | the referendum to do everything. The Act undoubtedly |
| 18 | instrument; and this is the 2015 Act; there is nothing | 18 | had an effect. |
| 19 | in it that the appellant has drawn attention to which | 19 | LORD PANNICK: Absolutely. |
| 20 | begins to support a contention that it touches upon the | 20 | LADY HALE: The question is whether the result has a |
| 21 | issues with which the court is concerned. | 21 | legal effect. |
| 22 | Indeed, I repeat, it is not the appellant's argument | 22 | LORD PANNICK: Yes, my Lord, Lord Sumption. |
| 23 | that power to notify is to be derived from the 2015 Act. | 23 | LORD SUMPTION: I was going to ask you exactly the same |
| 24 | That is not their case. It is somehow by means of legal | 24 | question. |
| 25 | osmosis that the argument is being constructed. There | 25 | LADY HALE: I am sorry. |
| | | | |
| | Page 41 | | Page 43 |
| 1 | simply isn't anything there; there is nothing there upon | 1 | LORD PANNICK: I apologise, I am labouring the point but |
| 2 | which I say this argument can be framed. In my | 2 | that is the point, that Parliament has spoken. What |
| 3 | submission, it is not surprising that Parliament has not | 3 | Parliament required has occurred. This is not |
| 4 | expressly addressed the question of whether ministers | 4 | a nugatory act of Parliament, and some of your Lordships |
| 5 | can use prerogative power in order to nullify | 5 | are putting to me questions that are seeking to divine |
| 6 | a statutory provision. The principle is so basic that | 6 | from the Act a purpose and intention and effect that is |
| 7 | one would not expect Parliament expressly to address the | 7 | simply not there, in my submission. |
| 8 | question. | 8 | THE PRESIDENT: I think the case you had in mind where Lord |
| 9 | So I say the 2015 Act is an act of political | 9 | Hoffmann approved Zuma is Mattadene(?). |
| 10 | significance; it is entirely neutral on the issue before | 10 | LORD PANNICK: Your Lordship is right, 1999 appeal cases. |
| 11 | the court, as to whether or not the minister has power | 11 | Your Lordship is familiar with it. |
| 12 | to notify. | 12 | THE PRESIDENT: I have found it. I cannot pretend to be |
| 13 | LORD MANCE: On the question of whether all acts must have | 13 | familiar with it. |
| 14 | legal significance, you might I am not sure what your | 14 | LORD PANNICK: Lord Hoffmann says, quoting |
| 15 | answer is in relation to Lord Keen, the submission | 15 | Associate Justice Kentridge, that even in |
| 16 | relating to the Sewel convention, but the Sewel | 16 | a constitutional context, even in a constitutional |
| 17 | convention as enacted in section 28(8) of the | 17 | context, it is absolutely vital that what the court does |
| 18 | Scotland Act might be said to be an example of a piece | 18 | is it looks at the language of the relevant instrument, |
| 19 | of legislation which doesn't have any legal | 19 | here the 2015 Act. |
| 20 | significance. It simply enacts the convention and on | 20 | What the court cannot do, because otherwise |
| 20 | one view I appreciate it is an issue in this case, and | 20 | I think the term used is divination, what the court |
| 21 | that people are saying it does have legal significance. | 21 | cannot do is somehow to infer from the general context |
| 23 | LORD PANNICK: I can see the force of that submission. I am | 23 | a purpose and intention and effect that has no support |
| 23 | entirely neutral, of course, and the court will decide, | 24 | whatsoever in the language. That is creation. That |
| 25 | but it is not unknown for Parliament to pass legislation | 25 | would be, in my submission, objectionable to traditional |
| | | | |
| | | | |
| | Page 42 | | Page 44 |

11 (Pages 41 to 44)

| 1 | law-making. | 1 | the subject of any specific restraint, and my answer to |
|--|--|--|---|
| 2 | THE PRESIDENT: If the language used by the lawyers is | 2 | that is one would not expect it to be, because it is so |
| 3 | ignored in favour of a general resort to "values", the | 3 | fundamental an aspect of constitutional law that |
| 4 | result is not interpretation, but divination. | 4 | ministers cannot use prerogative powers in order to |
| 5 6 | LORD PANNICK: Precisely so, and what Lord Bingham said in Robinson is entirely consistent with that, because the | 5 | remove that which Parliament has created. |
| 7 | statement by Lord Bingham in Robinson is within the | 6 | But of course Parliament has not set out expressly |
| 8 | scope of the language that is used by the instrument. | 7 | that constitutional principle. It is a fundamental |
| 9 | That is my submission. | 8 | common law principle. The later acts are concerned, essentially, to constrain ministers from taking action |
| 10 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. | 10 | at international level to expand the scope of EU law. |
| 10 | LORD CARNWATH: I am trying to get a word in edgeways here, | 10 | That is the main focus of all the later legislation. |
| 12 | Lord Pannick. We have jumped from 1972 to 2015. Are | 11 | The fact that Parliament has from time to time |
| 12 | you going to come back to the | 12 | imposed such constraints cannot establish that |
| 14 | LORD PANNICK: My Lord, very, very quickly | 13 | Parliament intended to remove a basic constitutional |
| 15 | LORD CARNWATH: I would like at some point to get clear your | 15 | limit. Indeed, if one looks at the authorities, the |
| 16 | submission as to what happened in 2008, because that is | 16 | authorities show that one should be very careful indeed |
| 17 | when Article 50 is created, and undoubtedly Article 50 | 17 | before you use later legislation in order to amend or |
| 18 | created a new power operating at the international | 18 | affect earlier the effect of earlier legislation. |
| 19 | level, which one could assume would be something | 19 | My Lord, Lord Mance asked about the authorities and |
| 20 | operated by the prerogative, so a new power which the UK | 20 | my Lord helpfully referred to two authorities. One in |
| 21 | Government has operating in international law; I think | 21 | your Lordships' and your Ladyship's House most recently |
| 22 | we need to ask ourselves what the effect of the 2008 Act | 22 | is the JB (Jamaica) case, Lord Toulson's judgment. It |
| 23 | was, if anything, on that. | 23 | is in volume 22, tab 276, JB (Jamaica), MS 7778 and it |
| 24 | LORD PANNICK: I say no effect for these reasons. First of | 24 | is at paragraph 24 and I invite the court to look at |
| 25 | all, I accept, and it is the Government's case, that the | 25 | that. I don't have time to take your Lordships or your |
| - | · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · | | |
| | Page 45 | | Page 47 |
| | | | |
| 1 | United Kingdom had power to withdraw from the treaties | 1 | Ladyship to it. |
| 1 2 | United Kingdom had power to withdraw from the treaties prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not | 1 2 | Ladyship to it. THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone |
| | | | |
| 2 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not | 2 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone |
| 2 3 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is | 2 3 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. |
| 2 3 4 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the | 2 3 4 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time.LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am |
| 2 3 4 5 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. | 2 3 4 5 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time.LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say | 2 3 4 5 6 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time.LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise.My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state | 2 3 4 5 6 7 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time.LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise.My seventh and final topic is the role of |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time.LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise.My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament to notify |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and then in the 2011 Act, we get this acknowledgment that | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because notification would nullify statutory rights and indeed |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and then in the 2011 Act, we get this acknowledgment that Article 50 is within the scope, as it were, but simply | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament could lawfully confer power on the appellant to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because notification would nullify statutory rights and indeed a statutory scheme. The law of the land is not altered |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and then in the 2011 Act, we get this acknowledgment that Article 50 is within the scope, as it were, but simply a reference to Article 50(3). | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament could lawfully confer power on the appellant to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because notification would nullify statutory rights and indeed a statutory scheme. The law of the land is not altered by a motion in Parliament; this is a basic |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and then in the 2011 Act, we get this acknowledgment that Article 50 is within the scope, as it were, but simply a reference to Article 50(3). LORD PANNICK: What Parliament has done from 1978 onwards is | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament could lawfully confer power on the appellant to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because notification would nullify statutory rights and indeed a statutory scheme. The law of the land is not altered by a motion in Parliament; this is a basic constitutional principle. The court knows a motion may |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and then in the 2011 Act, we get this acknowledgment that Article 50 is within the scope, as it were, but simply a reference to Article 50(3). LORD PANNICK: What Parliament has done from 1978 onwards is to impose an increasingly rigorous form, set of | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament could lawfully confer power on the appellant to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because notification would nullify statutory rights and indeed a statutory scheme. The law of the land is not altered by a motion in Parliament; this is a basic constitutional principle. The court knows a motion may be approved in the House of Commons today. I want to be |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and then in the 2011 Act, we get this acknowledgment that Article 50 is within the scope, as it were, but simply a reference to Article 50(3). LORD PANNICK: What Parliament has done from 1978 onwards is to impose an increasingly rigorous form, set of controls, and Mr Eadie's argument is that the power | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament could lawfully confer power on the appellant to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because notification would nullify statutory rights and indeed a statutory scheme. The law of the land is not altered by a motion in Parliament; this is a basic constitutional principle. The court knows a motion may be approved in the House of Commons today. I want to be very clear on this. Our submission is that a motion in |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and then in the 2011 Act, we get this acknowledgment that Article 50 is within the scope, as it were, but simply a reference to Article 50(3). LORD PANNICK: What Parliament has done from 1978 onwards is to impose an increasingly rigorous form, set of | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament could lawfully confer power on the appellant to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because notification would nullify statutory rights and indeed a statutory scheme. The law of the land is not altered by a motion in Parliament; this is a basic constitutional principle. The court knows a motion may be approved in the House of Commons today. I want to be |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | prior to the changes made by Lisbon. It is not suggested by the Government this was a new power; it is a new means, it formalises the process. That is the first point. The second point is that Article 50 does not say anything about the way in which domestically the state should act. It refers to the constitutional requirements of the state in question. Thirdly, as Mr Eadie accepted, Article 50 does not have effect as part of section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. Therefore, I submit that it is simply not possible to suggest that what happened in 2008 affects the question of the division of responsibility between the Government and Parliament. LORD CARNWATH: Except that Parliament in the 2008 Act constrains various exercises of prerogative specifically set out in that Act, doesn't do it to Article 50, and then in the 2011 Act, we get this acknowledgment that Article 50 is within the scope, as it were, but simply a reference to Article 50(3). LORD PANNICK: What Parliament has done from 1978 onwards is to impose an increasingly rigorous form, set of controls, and Mr Eadie's argument is that the power | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | THE PRESIDENT: Sorry, it is as much my fault as anyone else's; we have been rather taking up your time. LORD PANNICK: I don't complain about that, my Lord; I am happy to seek to try to answer the points the court wants to raise. My seventh and final topic is the role of Parliament, and the submission that is made by the appellant is there have been debates in Parliament. There have been Select Committee reports, there will be more such debates, and the appellant says it is a matter for Parliament to decide the nature and the extent of its involvement. Of course we agree, subject to an important qualification. We say it necessarily follows from our submissions, if they are correct, that only an act of Parliament could lawfully confer power on the appellant to notify under Article 50(2). Why is that? Well, because notification would nullify statutory rights and indeed a statutory scheme. The law of the land is not altered by a motion in Parliament; this is a basic constitutional principle. The court knows a motion may be approved in the House of Commons today. I want to be very clear on this. Our submission is that a motion in |

12 (Pages 45 to 48)

| 1 | issues in this case. This issue arose in the Laker | 1 | have been said in ex parte Fire Brigades Union. It is |
|----|--|----|--|
| 2 | case. Can I take your Lordships back to the Laker case; | 2 | the role of the court and my Lord, Lord Reed asks me |
| 3 | it is core authorities, volume 2, and it is tab number | 3 | about the role of the court, it is the role of the court |
| 4 | 12. | 4 | to address whether there is legal power to act in the |
| 5 | THE PRESIDENT: Which page? | 5 | relevant respect, and the ability of Parliament to |
| 6 | LORD PANNICK: MS 307. It is at page 367 of the MS, MS 367. | 6 | control that which the minister is proposing to do is, |
| 7 | This is Lord Denning, and what Lord Denning explains | 7 | with great respect, nothing to the point. |
| 8 | between E and F is that the action of the Government had | 8 | This is as fundamental as any other principle in |
| 9 | been the subject of approval in both Houses of | 9 | this case and I invite the court not to accept any |
| 10 | Parliament. E to F. At G, Lord Denning says: | 10 | suggestion that the legal limits I emphasise legal |
| 11 | " mark you, this approval even by both Houses was | 11 | limits on ministers' powers are to be left to or |
| 12 | not the equivalent of an act of Parliament. It could | 12 | influenced by political control, or parliamentary |
| 13 | not override the law of the land see | 13 | control, short of an act of Parliament. |
| 14 | Hoffmann-La Roche." | 14 | The appellant then says, well, the procedures under |
| 15 | That is the point and I can take the court, if the | 15 | the 2010 Act, the CRAG act, are very likely to apply to |
| 16 | court wants to see the passages in Hoffmann-La Roche, I | 16 | a withdrawal agreement. That is not good enough. There |
| 17 | won't do so because of time, but it is volume 21, | 17 | may not be a withdrawal agreement and the UK would still |
| 18 | tab 257, MS 7183. So a motion in Parliament simply | 18 | leave the EU under Article 50(3). We don't know. If |
| 19 | cannot rectify what is otherwise the legal deficiency in | 19 | Parliament were to refuse to give approval to |
| 20 | the appellant's case. | 20 | a withdrawal agreement, Article 50(3) would still apply. |
| 21 | If, as we submit, the appellant cannot act on the | 20 | We would still leave. Parliament's approval is not |
| 22 | international plane by the exercise of the prerogative | 22 | a necessary condition for us to leave. |
| 23 | because it will nullify statutory rights, then an act of | 23 | For the same reasons, the so-called Great Repeal |
| 24 | Parliament is necessary to change the law of the land. | 24 | Bill does not assist the appellant. There is no such |
| 25 | One other authority that your Lordships and your | 25 | bill at present. The court cannot proceed, in my |
| 20 | | 25 | on a present. The court cannot proceed, in my |
| | Page 49 | | Page 51 |
| 1 | Ladyship may wish to be reminded of, it is the ex parte | 1 | submission, on any assumption as to what Parliament |
| 2 | Federation of Self-Employed case. Volume 8 of the | 2 | would or might do with a Great Repeal Bill. My Lord, |
| 3 | authorities and it is tab 68. | 3 | Lord Sumption put to Mr Eadie the court cannot assume |
| 4 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. | 4 | that the Great Repeal Bill will repeal the 1972 Act. |
| 5 | LORD PANNICK: National Federation of Self-Employed, | 5 | Mr Eadie agreed, and, with respect, so do we. It may be |
| 6 | volume 8, tab 68, MS 2782. The relevant passage is to | 6 | enacted, it may be rejected. Come what may, the act of |
| 7 | be found at MS 2809 in the speech of Lord Diplock, | 7 | notification commits the United Kingdom to leaving the |
| 8 | between F and G if your Lordships and your Ladyship have | 8 | EU with the consequence for statutory rights that we |
| 9 | that, at tab 68, Lord Diplock says: | 9 | have drawn attention to. |
| 10 | "It is not in my view a sufficient answer to say | 10 | One other very brief point. The court, I know, will |
| 11 | that judicial review of the actions of officers or | 11 | have been much assisted by the various analyses by |
| 12 | departments of central Government is unnecessary because | 12 | academic lawyers, of real distinction, on both sides of |
| 12 | they are accountable to Parliament for the way in which | 12 | the argument on this appeal. Each side has extracted |
| 13 | they carry out their functions. They are accountable to | 13 | from the academic analysis the points which support our |
| 14 | Parliament for what they do so far as regards efficiency | 15 | respective arguments and the court will decide who has |
| 16 | and policy, and of that Parliament is the only judge. | 16 | the better of the arguments. |
| 17 | They are responsible to a court of justice for the | 17 | My Lords, my Lady, the submission for Ms Miller is |
| 18 | lawfulness of what they do and of that the court is the | 18 | that the volume of materials before the court, indeed |
| 19 | only judge." | 19 | the volume of lawyers before the court, and the |
| 20 | That is the point. It is no answer for the Attorney | 20 | eloquence of my friends the Attorney General and |
| 20 | General to say in his submissions, as he did on Monday, | 20 | Mr Eadie and the Advocate General for Scotland should |
| 22 | and I quote: | 22 | not be allowed to obscure the basic principles of |
| 23 | "Parliament can stand up for itself." | 23 | constitutional law which I say the appellant's argument |
| 24 | With great respect, that is a bad legal argument. | 24 | would violate. |
| 25 | The same could have been said in Laker, the same could | 25 | Those are the submissions I want to make, unless |
| | | | |
| | Page 50 | | Page 52 |

13 (Pages 49 to 52)

| 1 | there are other matters on which I could seek to assist | 1 | Revolution of 1688, the Bill of Rights was enacted. |
|----------------------------|--|----------------------------------|--|
| 2 | the court. | 2 | Now, the doctrine itself long predated the |
| 3 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you, Lord Pannick. Thank you. | 3 | Bill of Rights but it is in the Bill of Rights that the |
| 4 | Mr Chambers. | 4 | doctrine finds its legislative expression, and if |
| 5 | Submissions by MR CHAMBERS | 5 | I could take the court first of all to the |
| 6 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lady, my Lords, I appear on behalf of the | 6 | Bill of Rights, which is in core authorities 1 at |
| 7 | second respondent and I gratefully adopt the submissions | 7 | tab 106, electronic 4150 at 4152. |
| 8 | of my learned friend Lord Pannick. We invite the court | 8 | At 4150, we have the heading of the Bill of Rights, |
| 9 | to approach this appeal from first principles, based on | 9 | and then at 4152, suspending power: |
| 10 | the fundamental legal doctrine of parliamentary | 10 | " that the pretended power of suspending laws or |
| 11 | sovereignty. Applying that doctrine, the answer to the | 11 | the execution of laws by regal authority without consent |
| 12 | issue posed in this appeal is straightforward and the | 12 | of Parliament is illegal" |
| 13 | result is clear. It is a three-stage argument which | 13 | Late dispensing power: |
| 14 | I shall summarise first and then develop. | 14 | " that the pretended power of dispensing with |
| 15 | Stage one is the doctrine of parliamentary | 15 | laws or the execution of laws by regal authority as it |
| 16 | sovereignty itself. Parliament is supreme. No person | 16 | hath been assumed and exercised of late is illegal." |
| 17 | or body apart from Parliament itself can override, | 17 | Articles 1 and 2 are clear in their terms. No ifs, |
| 18 | nullify or set aside legislation enacted by Parliament | 18 | no buts, no exceptions. Legislation enacted by |
| 19 | or the operation or effect of such legislation. | 19 | Parliament is supreme, and the executive cannot act to |
| 20 | Stage two is the concession by the appellant that by | 20 | undo that which Parliament has done. That which |
| 21 | triggering Article 50, EU law rights will undoubtedly | 21 | Parliament has granted, only Parliament can take away. |
| 22 | and inevitably be lost. Those EU law rights are | 22 | The most celebrated exposition of the doctrine of |
| 23 | enshrined in primary legislation, most notably the | 23 | parliamentary sovereignty is that given by Professor |
| 24 | 1972 Act and the 2002 European Parliamentary Elections | 24 | Dicey in his seminal work, "Introduction to the Study of |
| 25 | Act. The clear legal effect of those concessions, of | 25 | the Law of the Constitution", which was first published |
| | D 52 | | D 55 |
| | Page 53 | | Page 55 |
| 1 | that concession, is that by triggering Article 50, those | 1 | in 1885. In our printed case we have cited extracts |
| 2 | statutes will be nullified and overridden. | 2 | from the eighth edition of 1915 which was the last |
| 3 | Stage three is the absence of any parliamentary | 3 | edition which Dicey himself wrote. I have described |
| 4 | authorisation for the executive to override or nullify | 4 | Dicey's exposition as the most celebrated. It is also |
| 5 | that primary legislation. In the absence of such | 5 | the most influential and in its relevant respects, |
| 6 | parliamentary authorisation, by triggering Article 50, | 6 | Dicey's magisterial exposition still holds good today. |
| 7 | the Government will be acting contrary to the doctrine | 7 | If I could take the court to some relevant extracts |
| 8 | of parliamentary sovereignty and so the Government will | 8 | from Dicey as quickly as I can, that is core authorities |
| 9 | be acting unlawfully. | 9 | 5 at tab 157, that is electronic 4989. And at 4990, the |
| 10 | It follows from these three simple propositions in | 10 | sovereignty of Parliament is from a legal point of view |
| 11 | our submission, that the appellants' appeal must be | 11 | the dominant characteristic of our political |
| 12 | dismissed. At heart it really is as straightforward as | 12 | institutions. If you go down to under heading A, |
| 13 | that. | 13 | "Nature of parliamentary sovereignty": |
| 14 | So, starting with stage one, which is the doctrine | 14 | "Parliament means in the mouth of a lawyer, though |
| 15 | of parliamentary sovereignty, we have set out in our | 15 | the word has often a different sense in ordinary |
| 16 | printed case the relevant principles. I am not going to | 16 | conversation, the King, the House of Lords and the House |
| 17 | go through them now, but I do want to highlight some of | 17 | of Commons. These three bodies acting together may be |
| 18 | | | |
| 10 | the core jurisprudential principles behind the doctrine, | 18 | aptly described as the King in Parliament and constitute |
| 19 | | 18 19 | aptly described as the King in Parliament and constitute Parliament. The principle of parliamentary sovereignty |
| 20 | the core jurisprudential principles behind the doctrine, | 1 | |
| | the core jurisprudential principles behind the doctrine, because they make it clear that the aspect of the | 19 | Parliament. The principle of parliamentary sovereignty |
| 20 | the core jurisprudential principles behind the doctrine, because they make it clear that the aspect of the doctrine which we rely on is absolute and it admits of no exceptions whatever. The doctrine itself was forged in the fires of the | 19 20 21 22 | Parliament. The principle of parliamentary sovereignty means neither more nor less than this, namely that Parliament thus defined has under the English constitution the right to make or unmake any law |
| 20 21 | the core jurisprudential principles behind the doctrine, because they make it clear that the aspect of the doctrine which we rely on is absolute and it admits of no exceptions whatever. The doctrine itself was forged in the fires of the battlefields of 17th century England, and it arose on | 19 20 21 22 23 | Parliament. The principle of parliamentary sovereignty means neither more nor less than this, namely that Parliament thus defined has under the English constitution the right to make or unmake any law whatever, and further, that no person or body is |
| 20 21 22 23 24 | the core jurisprudential principles behind the doctrine, because they make it clear that the aspect of the doctrine which we rely on is absolute and it admits of no exceptions whatever. The doctrine itself was forged in the fires of the battlefields of 17th century England, and it arose on the basis of the clash between Crown and Parliament for | 19 20 21 22 23 24 | Parliament. The principle of parliamentary sovereignty means neither more nor less than this, namely that Parliament thus defined has under the English constitution the right to make or unmake any law whatever, and further, that no person or body is recognised by the law of England as having a right to |
| 20 21 22 23 | the core jurisprudential principles behind the doctrine, because they make it clear that the aspect of the doctrine which we rely on is absolute and it admits of no exceptions whatever. The doctrine itself was forged in the fires of the battlefields of 17th century England, and it arose on | 19 20 21 22 23 | Parliament. The principle of parliamentary sovereignty means neither more nor less than this, namely that Parliament thus defined has under the English constitution the right to make or unmake any law whatever, and further, that no person or body is |
| 20 21 22 23 24 | the core jurisprudential principles behind the doctrine, because they make it clear that the aspect of the doctrine which we rely on is absolute and it admits of no exceptions whatever. The doctrine itself was forged in the fires of the battlefields of 17th century England, and it arose on the basis of the clash between Crown and Parliament for | 19 20 21 22 23 24 | Parliament. The principle of parliamentary sovereignty means neither more nor less than this, namely that Parliament thus defined has under the English constitution the right to make or unmake any law whatever, and further, that no person or body is recognised by the law of England as having a right to |

14 (Pages 53 to 56)

| 1 | Then if you would go down about ten lines into the | 1 | to draw your Lordships' attention to was the argument |
|----------|--|----------|--|
| 2 | Then if you would go down about ten lines into the next paragraph, there is a section which reads, halfway | 2 | under the European Parliamentary Elections Act where |
| 3 | down the page: | 3 | what is said: well, what if there is no EU Parliament? |
| 4 | "There is no person or body of persons who can, | 4 | In our submission, that does not matter. What matters |
| 5 | under the English constitution, make rules which | 5 | is if there is a right to vote or to stand for elections |
| 6 | override or derogate from an act of Parliament or which, | 6 | to the European Parliament which has been granted under |
| 7 | to express the same thing in other words, will be | 7 | the 2002 Act, that is a domestic statutory right which, |
| 8 | enforced by the courts in contravention of an act of | 8 | even if it cannot be exercised, has still been granted |
| 9 | Parliament." | 9 | by Parliament, and it is Parliament's choice whether or |
| 10 | If you would then, please, move to the next tab | 10 | not that right should be taken away. |
| 10 | LORD MANCE: That is the issue, isn't it, whether what is | 11 | LORD SUMPTION: The rule that the prerogative cannot take |
| 12 | proposed here is in contravention of the 1972 Act? | 12 | away rights is not limited to statutory rights, is it? |
| 13 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, precisely, that is the issue. That | 13 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, it is not limited to statutory |
| 14 | is going to be my stage two, which is looking at the | 14 | rights; we would say it applies to all rights, including |
| 15 | rights to see whether or not there is a contravention, | 15 | common law rights. |
| 16 | but your Lordship is absolutely correct, on the | 16 | I was going to move quickly to tab 331, which is the |
| 17 | principle, the question is will there be | 17 | next tab, and it is electronic 9343. |
| 18 | a contravention. | 18 | LORD KERR: What is that number again, please? |
| 19 | LORD MANCE: Just because rights are lost, which is your | 19 | MR CHAMBERS: Electronic 9343, we are still in Dicey but it |
| 20 | stage two, does not mean to say that they are lost in | 20 | is spread over two tabs, I am afraid. The relevant |
| 21 | contravention of the statute which granted them; it may | 21 | extract is 9343. The very bottom of the page: |
| 22 | be that they are conditional or ambulatory. | 22 | "Thirdly, there does not exist in any part of the |
| 23 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, it could be, if they are conditional, | 23 | British empire any person or body of persons, executive, |
| 24 | but the point is this, if they are granted by | 24 | legislative or judicial, which can pronounce void any |
| 25 | Parliament a right is a right, if it is a statutory | 25 | enactment passed by the British Parliament on the ground |
| | | | |
| | Page 57 | | Page 59 |
| 1 | right, that is something granted by Parliament. The | 1 | of such enactment being opposed to the constitution on |
| 2 | effect will be to override or nullify that primary | 2 | any ground whatever, except of course it being repealed |
| 3 | legislation, because the rights which are afforded by | 3 | by Parliament." |
| 4 | that legislation will have been taken away. | 4 | Then if we go back to the previous tab, which is |
| 5 | THE PRESIDENT: It depends, doesn't it; I mean, if the | 5 | 157, sorry to jump around but it is just that it is |
| 6 | legislation said so long as the executive agrees, for | 6 | spread over two tabs, if we then go, please, to |
| 7 | example, there would be no problem. | 7 | page 5005, in the electronic numbering, you will see |
| 8 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, that is absolutely correct. That is | 8 | halfway down the page: |
| 9 | my stage three, which is, is there any parliamentary | 9 | "Two points are, however, well established. First, |
| 10 | authorisation. | 10 | the resolution of neither House" |
| 11 | So, for example, there would be parliamentary | 11 | This is a substantial result of the case of |
| 12 | authorisation if the statute, there was a Henry VIII | 12 | Stockdale v Hansard, a point which my learned friend |
| 13 | clause or whatever it may be, made specific provision, | 13 | Lord Pannick was on, and then specifically relevant to |
| 14 | for example, for rights to be taken away. | 14 | the question of the role of the people in terms of |
| 15 | So it is a three stage argument and I am on stage | 15 | political power and legal power. If you move on, |
| 16 | one, which is just setting out the principle, before | 16 | please, to 5010, you will see at the top of the page, |
| 17 | I get to my stage two and then stage three. In stage | 17 | the vote of the parliamentary electors and halfway down |
| 18 | three I will also be making submissions on the 2015 Act. | 18 | that page: |
| 19 20 | LORD MANCE: Yes, they could be conditional upon something | 19 | "The sole legal right of electors under the English |
| 20 | other than a specific decision to take them away; they | 20 | constitution is to elect members of Parliament. |
| 21 | could be conditional upon any event but in particular | 21 | Electors have no legal means of initiating or |
| 22 | they could be conditional on membership of the EU. | 22 | sanctioning or of repealing the legislation of |
| 23 24 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord | 23 | Parliament. No court will consider for a moment the |
| 24 25 | LORD MANCE: The EU existing. MR CHAMBERS: Yes, that is an example. The one I was going | 24 25 | argument that a law is invalid as being opposed to the opinion of the electorate. Their opinion can be legally |
| 23 | wix encumbers. Tes, mains an example. The one t was going | 23 | opinion of the electorate. Then opinion can be legally |
| | Page 58 | | Page 60 |

15 (Pages 57 to 60)

| 1 | expressed through Parliament and through Parliament | 1 | The final extract is over the page on 5026, five |
|----|---|----|--|
| 2 | alone." | 2 | lines from the bottom: |
| 3 | Then in the same vein | 3 | "The electors are a part of and the predominant part |
| 4 | LORD SUMPTION: That needs to be modified, at any rate to | 4 | of the politically sovereign power but the legally |
| 5 | some extent, in an age of referenda. | 5 | sovereign power is assuredly, as maintained by all the |
| 6 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I am going to come to that but in our | 6 | best writers on the constitution, nothing but |
| 7 | submission, the answer is yes, if Parliament has | 7 | Parliament." |
| 8 | authorised a binding referendum. But if there is no | 8 | Now, the appellant says that he does not dispute |
| 9 | binding referendum which has been authorised, this still | 9 | what he terms the general principle of the doctrine of |
| 10 | obtains. | 10 | parliamentary sovereignty, and he goes on to say that |
| 11 | LORD HODGE: Does that include the first sentence you read | 11 | nevertheless it is the case that the executive can by |
| 12 | out? | 12 | the use of the prerogative alter the law of the land, |
| 13 | MR CHAMBERS: "The sole legal right of electors under the | 13 | including that set out in statute. |
| 14 | English constitution is to elect members of Parliament." | 14 | Now, from a parliamentary sovereignty purpose, that |
| 15 | That is correct because it would be for Parliament | 15 | striking proposition is, we submit, simply wrong. The |
| 16 | then to confer rights on the people to hold | 16 | doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty is not a general |
| 17 | a referendum, for example, but the sole legal right is | 17 | principle, it is the fundamental legal doctrine upon |
| 18 | to elect. | 18 | which our constitution stands. |
| 19 | LORD MANCE: There is an anonymous and slightly droll | 19 | As we have explained in our written case, and as the |
| 20 | publishers' note at the next section of Dicey, 9322, | 20 | courts of the highest authority have said over the |
| 21 | which says the word "referendum" is a foreign expression | 21 | centuries, the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty |
| 22 | derived from Switzerland. 30 years ago it was almost | 22 | conditions and refines and defines other relevant |
| 23 | unknown to Englishmen, even though they were interested | 23 | concepts. Most importantly in this context, the issue |
| 24 | in political theories. | 24 | and the extent and use of the prerogative. |
| 25 | MR CHAMBERS: Certainly Dicey changed his view on referenda | 25 | The United Kingdom's dualist approach to |
| | Page 61 | | Page 63 |
| 1 | because he was terribly against Irish home rule, and he | 1 | international treaty-making upon which the appellant so |
| 2 | wanted referenda introduced to try and defeat Irish home | 2 | heavily relies is a product and a reflection of that |
| 3 | rule. He didn't succeed. | 3 | fact. The UK's dualist approach exists precisely |
| 4 | LORD SUMPTION: He wanted a referendum in England about | 4 | because the executive cannot alter domestic law by the |
| 5 | Irish home rule. | 5 | use of the foreign affairs prerogative and the use of |
| 6 | MR CHAMBERS: That's correct. He didn't get it. | 6 | the prerogative of withdrawal. There has to be |
| 7 | My Lords, and my Lady, 5024, halfway down the page: | 7 | authorisation by Parliament. |
| 8 | "The matter indeed may be carried a little further, | 8 | The two relevant authorities for that, which I will |
| 9 | and we may assert the arrangements of the constitution | 9 | not ask you to turn up but I will simply ask you to |
| 10 | are now such as to ensure that the will of the electors | 10 | note, is Rayner, that is core authorities 3, tab 43, |
| 11 | shall by regular and constitutional means always in the | 11 | page 500 in the report at letters B to D, electronic |
| 12 | end assert itself as the predominant influence in the | 12 | 1179; and Higgs, which is core authorities 4, tab 260 at |
| 13 | country this is a political, not a legal fact. The | 13 | page 241 of the report, electronic 7244. |
| 14 | electors can in the long run always enforce their will, | 14 | Now, contrary to the submissions made by my learned |
| 15 | but the courts will take no notice of the will of the | 15 | friend Mr Eadie, parliamentary sovereignty is not a new |
| 16 | electors. The judges know nothing about any of the will | 16 | or a newly discovered principle. It has been well |
| 17 | of the people, except insofar as that will is expressed | 17 | established and operated for over 300 years. But it |
| 18 | by an act of Parliament, and would never suffer the | 18 | does not in any way represent a challenge to the way in |
| 19 | validity of a statute to be questioned on the ground of | 19 | which the Government operates on the |
| 20 | its having been passed or being kept alive in opposition | 20 | international plane. Nor will it require in the future |
| 21 | to the wishes of the electors. The political sense of | 21 | any parliamentary micromanagement of what the Government |
| 22 | the word 'sovereignty' is, it is true, fully as | 22 | does on the international plane. This is because it |
| 23 | important as the legal sense or more so but the two | 23 | does not impact treaties which do not require |
| 24 | significations, though intimately connected together, | 24 | implementation in domestic law. It does not impact on |
| 25 | are essentially different." | 25 | the exercise of power by Government on the |
| | | | R (1) |
| | Page 62 | | Page 64 |

16 (Pages 61 to 64)

| 1 | international plane which is authorised by Parliament. | 1 | LORD CARNWATH: I put it to you because it is relied on |
|----|---|----|--|
| 2 | For example, participation of ministers in the | 2 | by in one of the papers cases before us. |
| 3 | decision-making of EU institutions. The doctrine does | 3 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes. Under our dualist approach, for any |
| 4 | not impact on the use of the prerogative in respect of | 4 | rights to be conferred in domestic law, requires the |
| 5 | the myriad of examples which are given by the appellant | 5 | intervention of Parliament. |
| 6 | in his case, for example Post Office v Estuary Radio, or | 6 | LORD CARNWATH: I accepted that. That was one of the issues |
| 7 | in relation to the (Inaudible) of diplomats, so that is | 7 | in the case, was whether that had been done effectively, |
| 8 | stage one. | 8 | given the particular power interfered very drastically |
| 9 | That brings me to stage two, which is the | 9 | with the rights of a citizen of this country. |
| 10 | appellant's concession, which is in paragraph 62A of his | 10 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes. |
| 11 | printed case, the page reference is 12353, and the | 11 | LORD CARNWATH: Now, are you saying we got it wrong or |
| 12 | concession is that the triggering of Article 50 "will | 12 | THE PRESIDENT: Do you need to see the case, really, in |
| 13 | undoubtedly lead to the removal rights and | 13 | order to answer that? |
| 14 | obligations currently conferred or imposed by EU law". | 14 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes (Inaudible). The general principle as |
| 15 | LORD MANCE: Could you just give that page again. | 15 | I say in our dualist system requires the intervention of |
| 16 | MR CHAMBERS: That is 62A of the appellant's printed case, | 16 | Parliament in order to create these rights. These |
| 17 | the page reference is 12353. | 17 | rights are not just being transposed through a conduit; |
| 18 | The appellant's description of these rights as being | 18 | the domestic legal order is being changed by the |
| 19 | conferred by EU law is not an accurate description of | 19 | 1972 Act. |
| 20 | the source of these rights as a matter of domestic law. | 20 | LORD CARNWATH: It may be, as my Lord says, better to have |
| 21 | For the purposes of the doctrine of parliamentary | 21 | a look at the case. I think it is in the papers |
| 22 | sovereignty, the source of the relevant rights in | 22 | somewhere, because it is mentioned by the lawyers |
| 23 | domestic law is absolutely critical. Of course the | 23 | MR CHAMBERS: Perhaps I can come back to that after the |
| 24 | source of the EU law rights which are being referred to | 24 | adjournment so that we can speed on. |
| 25 | here are primarily the 1972 Act and the 2002 Act. | 25 | In 1971 the Government was proposing that we join |
| | | | |
| | Page 65 | | Page 67 |
| 1 | Now, those rights were directly conferred in | 1 | the then EEC and to do that, they were proposing that |
| 2 | domestic law by those two acts of argument. These | 2 | the UK sign the accession treaty. |
| 3 | rights are available in domestic law only because | 3 | Now, joining the EEC would have two important |
| 4 | Parliament has expressed its will by primary legislation | 4 | consequences for the UK. The first is that membership |
| 5 | that this be so. | 5 | would necessarily involve the UK in the significant |
| 6 | Now, in this context, it is important to have a full | 6 | fiscal obligations of membership. These fiscal |
| 7 | appreciation of the circumstances in which and the | 7 | obligations could only be sanctioned by Parliament, by |
| 8 | reason why Parliament decided to enact the 1972 Act at | 8 | primary legislation. We saw that happened in |
| 9 | all. | 9 | section 2(3) of the 1972 Act. |
| 10 | LORD CARNWATH: Could I just pick up on a point where these | 10 | Membership would also involve changes to domestic |
| 11 | rights come from. In the case of Youssef, we had to | 11 | law and again that could only be achieved by Parliament |
| 12 | deal with a rather unusual situation where one had | 12 | through primary legislation. |
| 13 | a decision made by a United Nations body in the | 13 | So it was that on 28 October 1971, Parliament was |
| 14 | terrorism context which then took effect under | 14 | asked to give its consent in principle to the UK joining |
| 15 | a European regulation, which then in turn came into | 15 | the EEC. The terms of the relevant parliamentary |
| 16 | domestic law via the 1972 Act. | 16 | resolution, which were referred to by my Lord, |
| 17 | Now, I said in agreement with my colleagues that | 17 | Lord Mance earlier, were identical, they were put |
| 18 | that was something which arose not from domestic law, | 18 | separately to both Houses and the terms are important. |
| 19 | although it was brought into domestic law, it is a sort | 19 | The court will find them in volume 17 of the authorities |
| 20 | of typical example of the conduit approach. | 20 | at tab 193, and the electronic reference is 5787. |
| 21 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes. | 21 | LORD CLARKE: You set this out in your case, don't you? |
| 22 | LORD CARNWATH: Is that the correct analysis in your view, | 22 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, we have set out the terms of the |
| 23 | or is that an oversimplification? | 23 | resolution. I want to just show your Lordship also |
| 24 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, with respect, that is not the correct | 24 | a short passage in the debate which we have not set out |
| 25 | analysis. | 25 | in the case. I just wanted to first of all take you to |
| | | | |
| | Page 66 | | Page 68 |

17 (Pages 65 to 68)

8th Floor, 165 Fleet Street London EC4A 2DY

| 1 | 4 | | |
|----|---|----|---|
| 1 | that. | | part of western Europe and affect our daily lives but we |
| 2 | LORD CARNWATH: Sorry, the page again? | 2 | would not be there to take a share in those decisions." |
| 3 | MR CHAMBERS: It is page 5787, and you will see the terms of | 3 | So if the resolutions had not been passed, the |
| 4 | the resolution: | 4 | reality is that the Government would not have been able |
| 5 | "This House approves Her Majesty's Government's | 5 | to go on to sign the accession treaty because if it had |
| 6 | decision in principle to join the European Communities | 6 | done so, it would have been acting directly contrary to |
| 7 | on the basis of the arrangements which have been | 7 | the will of Parliament if those resolutions had been |
| 8 | negotiated." | 8 | rejected. Of course if they had been rejected, there |
| 9 | So by these resolutions the Houses of Parliament | 9 | would have been no European Communities bill. However, |
| 10 | were being asked to give their consent in principle to | 10 | the resolutions were passed and they led to the signing |
| 11 | the Government's in principle decision to join the EEC; | 11 | of the accession treaty on 22 January 1972 and the |
| 12 | in other words if the resolutions were passed, | 12 | introduction of the European Communities bill which |
| 13 | Parliament could next expect the introduction of | 13 | became an act on 17 October 1972. So that is the |
| 14 | a European Communities bill to give effect to the in | 14 | context in which the Act was passed. |
| 15 | principle decision to join the EEC. But if those | 15 | In our submission, everything from then on has to be |
| 16 | resolutions had not been passed, the UK's proposed | 16 | seen through the prism of the 1972 Act. On the very |
| 17 | membership of the EEC would have been stopped in its | 17 | next day, 18 October, the UK ratified the accession |
| 18 | tracks. | 18 | treaty and these dates are no coincidence. Prior to |
| 19 | Now, this was made clear by Mr Heath, the then Prime | 19 | ratification, it was necessary for Parliament to pass |
| 20 | Minister, and if I could just take you to two very short | 20 | legislation which would enable the UK to meet its fiscal |
| 21 | passages, first of all at 5846, electronic 5846, which | 21 | obligations and would enable the UK to change domestic |
| 22 | is towards the very end of this tab, 193, for those who | 22 | law. |
| 23 | have it in paper form. 5846, at the very top of the | 23 | THE PRESIDENT: As a matter of domestic law, would it have |
| 24 | page, this is Mr Heath winding up the debate: | 24 | been open to the executive, to the Government, to decide |
| 25 | "I do not think that any Prime Minister has stood at | 25 | not to ratify the treaty once the 1972 Act had been |
| | Page 69 | | Page 71 |
| 1 | this box in time of peace and asked the House to take a | 1 | passed? |
| 2 | positive decision of such importance as I am asking it | 2 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, strictly speaking, as a matter of |
| 3 | to take tonight. I am well aware of the responsibility | 3 | law, it may have been. Our submission is that if |
| 4 | which rests on my shoulders for so doing. After ten | 4 | Parliament had expressed its will that the UK join the |
| 5 | years of negotiation, after many years of discussion in | 5 | EEC through these resolutions, if it then passed the Act |
| 6 | this House and after ten years of debate, the moment of | 6 | which makes provision for that joinder, then we would |
| 7 | decision for Parliament has come. The other House has | 7 | say it would in fact be unlawful for the executive to go |
| 8 | already taken its vote and expressed its view. | 8 | against the will of Parliament, because the 1972 Act |
| 9 | Frontwoodsmen have voted in favour of the motion | 9 | makes express provision for our entry into the EEC, so |
| 10 | I cannot over-emphasise tonight the importance of the | 10 | that domestic law could be altered, so once the Act was |
| 11 | vote which is being taken, the importance of this issue, | 11 | is passed, that is it. |
| 12 | the scale and quality of the decision and the impact it | 12 | LORD MANCE: My Lord's question related to whether there was |
| 13 | will have, equally inside and outside Britain." | 13 | an obligation to enter into the Act. |
| 14 | So that was the momentous occasion which was the | 14 | THE PRESIDENT: No, ratify the treaty. |
| 15 | presager to the 1972 Act. If you then go to 5849, at | 15 | LORD MANCE: To ratify the treaty. But once it was |
| 16 | the very bottom, four lines up, this is still in Mr | 16 | ratified, then at any rate the rights were created. |
| 17 | Heath: | 17 | I suppose therefore that there are two stages we have to |
| 18 | "It is well known that the President of France, | 18 | consider it at. |
| 19 | supported by the Chancellor of Germany, has proposed | 19 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes. |
| 20 | a summit meeting of heads of Government This meeting | 20 | LORD MANCE: It is really the latter which is the critical |
| 21 | will settle the European approach." | 21 | one. |
| 22 | Then over the page: | 22 | MR CHAMBERS: It is the latter, it is the 17 October |
| 23 | "If by any chance the House rejected this motion | 23 | enactment, 18 October ratification. |
| 24 | tonight, that meeting would still go on and it would | 24 | THE PRESIDENT: Of course that is the history once it has |
| 25 | still take its decisions which will affect the greater | 25 | been ratified, but I just wondered whether that tiny |
| | D 7 0 | | D 72 |
| | Page 70 | | Page 72 |

18 (Pages 69 to 72)

| 1 | 24 hours or whatever it was, the position there throws | 1 | enactment of the necessary provisions would lead to the |
|----------|---|---------------------------------------|--|
| 2 | any light on the subsequent position; and it seems to me | 2 | fall of the Government. The threat of defeat means that |
| 3 | in some ways that you may well be right, consistently | 3 | a Government will always do all in its power to ensure |
| 4 | with your argument, there was an obligation to ratify. | 4 | that when negotiating a treaty, the provisions of the |
| 5 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes, we would say it would have been an abuse | 5 | treaty will be acceptable to the majority of the |
| 6 | of power under Fire Brigades Union principles if there | 6 | legislature into the electorate." |
| 7 | was no ratification. | 7 | Then, over the page at 9691, just above the heading |
| 8 | THE PRESIDENT: I see the force of that, thank you. | 8 | "(2) Negotiations and conclusion of a treaty", four |
| 9 | MR CHAMBERS: Article 2 of the accession treaty itself | 9 | lines up: |
| 10 | mandated that the accession treaty be ratified in | 10 | "In practice a treaty approved by a Government which |
| 11 | accordance with the UK's "own constitutional | 11 | retains the support of a majority in the House of |
| 12 | requirements", obviously a familiar phrase. We say | 12 | Commons will be ratified and the effect of the treaty |
| 13 | those constitutional requirements included the passing | 13 | will be given if the necessary in English law by the |
| 14 | of the 1972 Act by Parliament. | 14 | passage through Parliament of statutory incorporation of |
| 15 | Now, the correct constitutional position, so far as | 15 | the provisions of the treaty." |
| 16 | ratification is concerned, is clearly set out by the | 16 | Then at 9693, under the heading "(3) Parliamentary |
| 17 | late Lord Templeman writing extra-judicially in 1991, in | 17 | approbation or approval of treaties": |
| 18 | his article, "Treaty-making and the British | 18 | "Broadly speaking, Parliament will need to be |
| 19 | Parliament Europe". | 19 | involved where taxation is imposed or where a grant from |
| 20 | The court will find that in volume 28, tab 351, | 20 | public funds is necessary to implement the treaty where |
| 21 | electronic, 9688, and I would ask you to turn that up, | 21 | existing domestic law is affected" |
| 22 | please. This is an article published in the | 22 | And then he gives a few more examples. |
| 23 | Chicago-Kent Law Review, volume 67. You see the title | 23 | At 9694, under the heading "Ratification of |
| 24 | page at 9688. If we go to 9689: | 24 | treaties," the last line of the page: |
| 25 | "Under English law the capacity to negotiate and | 25 | "It is also envisaged that between the time of |
| | | | - |
| | Page 73 | | Page 75 |
| 1 | | 1 | |
| 1 | conclude treaties falls entirely to the executive arm of | | negotiation and the act of ratification, the legislature |
| 2 | the Government. Nominally Parliament plays no role at | $\begin{vmatrix} 2\\ 2 \end{vmatrix}$ | of a state may require to be given an opportunity to |
| 3 | all in the process." If we drop down a few lines: | | scrutinise the proposed international agreement, even in |
| 4 | "An understanding of how treaties are entered into | 4 5 | those states where legislative involvement is greater than in the UK, in order to give the necessary approval |
| 5 | and implemented in British law depends on an | 6 | of the treaty." |
| 6 7 | appreciation of the division between the international | 7 | There is then a reference to Article 14 of the |
| 8 |  | 8 | Vienna Convention and then: |
| | aspects of treaty-making and the domestic aspects of implementation. Parliament has very little involvement | 9 | "Ratification, once an opportunity for the sovereign |
| 9 10 | | 10 | |
| 10 | in the former but almost complete control over the latter aspect." | 11 | to confirm that the representative did in fact have full powers to conclude a treaty, is now a method of |
| 11 | Then at 9690, halfway down the page: | 12 | submitting the treaty making powers of the executive to |
| 12 | "The theoretical powers of Parliament in relation to | 12 | some control of the legislature, so the state may give |
| 13 | treaty making may be summarised as follows | 13 | proper scrutiny to the treaty before it allows the |
| 14 | "(2) Parliament may prevent a treaty being ratified | 14 | Government to bind the state to it." |
| 15 | if the Government submits the treaty to Parliament | 16 | Then under the heading "The Ponsonby rule", Lord |
| 10 | before ratification. However, if the House of Commons | 17 | Templeman sets out on page 9695, at footnote 11, the |
| 18 | carried a vote against ratification, this result would | 18 | preface by Mr Ponsonby to the Ponsonby rule, and at the |
| 18 | also lead the Government. | 19 | beginning he says: |
| 20 | "(3) If treaty provisions affect private rights or | 20 | "It has been the declared policy of the Labour Party |
| 20 | otherwise conflict with English common law or | 20 | for some years to strengthen the control of Parliament |
| 21 | United Kingdom statutes, Parliament may ensure that such | 21 22 | over the conclusion of international treaties and |
| 22 | provisions are not effective by refusing to pass the | 22 23 | agreements and to allow this House adequate opportunity |
| 23 24 | necessary statute which gives effect to the treaty. | 23 | to discuss the provisions of these instruments before |
| 24 | There again the failure of the Government to retain the | 25 | their final ratification. |
| | again the fundice of the Government to retain the | | |
| | | | |
| | Page 74 | | Page 76 |

| 1 "As matters now stand, there is no constitut | | under this process rather than the Ponsonby rule." |
|--|--------------|--|
| 2 obligation to compel the Government of the d | | LORD CLARKE: Can you just say again what paragraph that |
| 3 treaties to this House before ratification excep | | was. |
| 4 cases where a bill or financial resolution has t | | MR CHAMBERS: 119, my Lord, forgive me. |
| 5 receive parliamentary sanction before ratifica | | LORD CLARKE: That is all right. Thank you. |
| 6 So there is a distinction being drawn betwe | | MR CHAMBERS: So even before the Ponsonby rule came into |
| 7 the one hand, bills where there is a constitutio | | effect in 1924, there was this constitutional |
| 8 obligation, treaties to put them before Parliam | | requirement, we submit, for Parliament's consent to be |
| 9 because they contain fiscal obligations or cha | - | given to ratification of the accession treaty. Now, |
| 10 law of the land, and separately the treaties wh | | neither the Ponsonby rule nor CRAG apply to treaties |
| 11 not require to be so put forward, but are under | | which are required to be implemented under domestic law. |
| 12 Ponsonby rule which is coming. | age 12 13 | Contrary to my learned friend Mr Eadie's submissions, |
| 13 We had that at 9696, and at the top of the p | | CRAG and the subsequent legislation is nothing to the |
| 14 I come therefore to the inauguration of a chan | 0- | point on the question of withdrawal from a treaty under |
| 15 custom and procedure. Then about eight lines | 13 16 | Article 50. There is this prior fundamental lock, we |
| 16 says: | | would submit, and that lock is brought about by the fact |
| 17 "There are two sorts of treaties. There is th18 present treaty out of which a bill and a finance | | that the EU treaties require implementation in domestic law. |
| resolution arise which necessarily comes befor | | Now, the reason I go through all that history at |
| 20 Parliament and in regard to which no change | | quite some length is for two reasons. First, it |
| 20 Familient and in regard to which no charge 21 there is another sort of treaty out of which n | | demonstrates, we submit, the interaction of the doctrine |
| 21 there is another sort of treaty out of which acc 22 arises, and that is the sort of treaty which, acc | | of parliamentary sovereignty and the UK's dualist |
| 22 anses, and that is the soft of freaty which, acc23 to the present practice, need never have been | - | approach to international treaties. The treaties could |
| 24 before the House at all." | 23 24 | have no impact on domestic law without the 1972 Act, but |
| 25 That then becomes the Ponsonby rule. | 25 | it was an absolutely essential feature of the treaties, |
| 25 That then becomes the Fonsonoy fule. | 25 | it was an absolutely essential realure of the reales, |
| Page 77 | | Page 79 |
| 1 So we are dealing with the accession treaty | with 1 | as international law instruments, that much of them |
| 2 a situation where there was in our submission | | should have and should be given effect in domestic law. |
| 3 a constitutional obligation to bring it before | 3 | So the 1972 Act was essential. If the treaties |
| 4 Parliament so that domestic law could be chan | nged. 4 | could not have had effect in domestic law, without |
| 5 There is just one further reference. My least | med 5 | Parliament passing the 1972 Act, so it must be that the |
| 6 friend Lord Pannick took you to the green pap | ber in 6 | effects of those treaties in domestic law can only be |
| 7 relation to CRAG. There is also a relevant pa | ssage in 7 | removed by Parliament and not by the executive. The key |
| 8 the white paper, which is at bundle 15, tab 16 | 7. That 8 | point about the dualist system from a parliamentary |
| 9 is electronic 5213. The relevant electronic pa | ge number 9 | sovereignty perspective is that, when the UK enters into |
| 10 is in this document we are looking at the wh | nite 10 | a treaty which requires domestic implementation, |
| 11 paper 5282 and it is paragraph 119 of the w | hite 11 | Parliament remains in control of the process. It |
| 12 paper. Under the heading, "Treaties in domes | tic law": 12 | remains in control if the necessary enabling legislation |
| 13 "In the UK international treaty rights and | 13 | is passed or not. Parliament has a free choice. If |
| 14 obligations are not automatically incorporated | | Parliament refuses to pass the legislation, the treaty |
| 15 national law upon ratification. They are given | | is not ratified. |
| 16 in national law where necessary by primary or | | Now the corollary of Parliament having that control |
| 17 legislation. The Government practice is not to | - | is that parliamentary control must equally apply to the |
| 18 a treaty until all the necessary domestic legisla | | withdrawal process. It is for Parliament to choose |
| 19 in place, to enable it to comply with the treaty | | whether it will repeal the legislation which implemented |
| 20 to do otherwise could put the UK in breach of | | the treaty in domestic law. |
| 21 international obligations. Parliament, includin | | For that reason, Parliament remains in effective |
| 22 necessary the devolved legislatures, had the o | | control, whether the UK withdraws from the treaty or |
| to debate enabling legislation this practice a | | not. |
| 24 equally to all EU treaties that require enabling | | The difficulty with the appellant's argument is that |
| 25 legislation. Most parliamentary debates take | place 25 | the triggering of Article 50 by the Government alone |
| Page 78 | | Page 80 |

20 (Pages 77 to 80)

| 1 | will bypass that parliamentary control, and it will rob | 1 | Thoburn in core authorities 3, tab 22, it is |
|--|--|--|--|
| 2 | Parliament of any substantive choice as to whether or | 2 | paragraph 66 of the judgment, electronic page 746; and |
| 3 | not to repeal the 1972 Act. | 3 | the second one is McWhirter, which is paragraph 6 of the |
| 4 | LORD MANCE: Isn't there a missing middle or in that | 4 | judgment, which is in core authorities 3, tab 46, |
| 5 | proposition? Take the example of the double taxation | 5 | electronic 1849. |
| 6 | treaties and the legislation giving effect to them, it | 6 | The position is also clear, we submit, from the |
| 7 | gave effect to them, I think you argue, on the basis | 7 | European Union Act of 2011, section 18, which my learned |
| 8 | that the double taxation treaties would confer domestic | 8 | friend Lord Pannick took you to yesterday. That is the |
| 9 | rights so long as they were in existence, ie it remained | 9 | declaratory provision which says that EU law rights fall |
| 10 | in the executive's power what double taxation treaties | 10 | to be recognised and available in law only, and I stress |
| 11 | to enter into and whether to abrogate them. | 11 | the word "only", because of the 1972 Act. |
| 12 | So that merely because treaties would not have had | 12 | LORD WILSON: I have to say that I still don't really |
| 13 | an effect without an act does not mean to say that they | 13 | understand what Parliament was getting at |
| 14 | could only be disapplied by an act; the initial Act may | 14 | MR CHAMBERS: I am just about to hopefully enlighten your |
| 15 | itself contemplate, permit, their disapplication because | 15 | Lordship because I am going to take the court now to the |
| 16 | it has a limited effect, the initial Act, and the | 16 | explanatory notes, which is helpful on this, certainly |
| 17 | question in this case comes down to whether the 1972 Act | 17 | in the parliamentary sovereignty context. |
| 18 | is that sort of limited legislation. | 18 | LORD WILSON: You set them out in your case and having read |
| 19 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, yes. I am coming on to that, but | 19 | it this morning, I still don't understand it. |
| 20 | specifically so far as the double taxation treaties are | 20 | MR CHAMBERS: Then I am determined to make sure that your |
| 21 | concerned, under TIOPA, of course there is the enabling | 21 | Lordship reaches the short adjournment hopefully with |
| 22 | legislation, and then orders in council are made and so | 22 | a better understanding. |
| 23 | the Government has authority. | 23 | The explanatory notes are in volume 30 of the |
| 24 | LORD MANCE: Yes, that is because TIOPA says that, and, | 24 | authorities, tab 403. And it is electronic 10362, they |
| 25 | I mean, TIOPA could have been formulated differently, | 25 | start at 10352 and the relevant provisions are |
| | | | |
| | Page 81 |   | Page 83 |
| 1 | perhaps, but for good reason, no doubt, it was | 1 | paragraphs 118, 119 and 120, and that is at page 10362. |
| 2 | formulated as it was. | 2 | Perhaps I could just ask the court to read very quickly |
| 3 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes, it could have been but we have the | 3 | 118, 119 and 120 and I hope that will answer my Lord, |
| 4 | 1972 Act, and when I come to the point, my stage three, | 4 | Lord Wilson's question. If not, I will do my best to |
| 5 | we will say there is nothing in the Act to deal with | 5 | answer any further questions. |
| 6 | that. | 6 | (Pause) |
| 7 | LORD MANCE: Yes. | 7 | Does my Lord, Lord Wilson have the relevant passage? |
| 8 | MR CHAMBERS: Secondly, the reason I go through this | 8 | LORD WILSON: Yes, I do. |
| 9 | history, is because it throws into stark reality in our | 9 | MR CHAMBERS: So we see from that in parliamentary |
| 10 | submission, our respectful submission, the fallacy in | 10 | sovereignty purposes, the reason this has been done was |
| 11 | the appellant's proposition that the EU law rights | 11 | because although it was thought the doctrine of |
| 12 | enshrined in the 1972 Act are somehow not domestic | 12 | parliamentary sovereignty was sufficient to ensure that |
| | | | |
| | | | |
| 13 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, | 13 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty |
| 13 14 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. | 13 14 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt |
| 13 14 15 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and | 13 14 15 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody |
| 13 14 15 16 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the | 13 14 15 16 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English |
| 13 14 15 16 17 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the | 13 14 15 16 17 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law | 13 14 15 16 17 18 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law rights. That is fundamental to being a member of the | 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is LORD WILSON: What has been said to the contrary which |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law rights. That is fundamental to being a member of the EU. They have to be put into domestic law and only | 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is LORD WILSON: What has been said to the contrary which concerned Parliament? |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law rights. That is fundamental to being a member of the EU. They have to be put into domestic law and only Parliament can do that. | 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is LORD WILSON: What has been said to the contrary which concerned Parliament? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I imagine various noises in certain |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law rights. That is fundamental to being a member of the EU. They have to be put into domestic law and only Parliament can do that. That is how the position has been understood by the | 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is LORD WILSON: What has been said to the contrary which concerned Parliament? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I imagine various noises in certain sections of the House of Commons, by certain MPs who may |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law rights. That is fundamental to being a member of the EU. They have to be put into domestic law and only Parliament can do that. That is how the position has been understood by the courts in this country over a number of years, and | 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is LORD WILSON: What has been said to the contrary which concerned Parliament? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I imagine various noises in certain sections of the House of Commons, by certain MPs who may have been concerned about what they might term the |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law rights. That is fundamental to being a member of the EU. They have to be put into domestic law and only Parliament can do that. That is how the position has been understood by the courts in this country over a number of years, and I give two examples, again without asking the court to | 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is LORD WILSON: What has been said to the contrary which concerned Parliament? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I imagine various noises in certain sections of the House of Commons, by certain MPs who may have been concerned about what they might term the encroachment this was |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law rights. That is fundamental to being a member of the EU. They have to be put into domestic law and only Parliament can do that. That is how the position has been understood by the courts in this country over a number of years, and | 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is LORD WILSON: What has been said to the contrary which concerned Parliament? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I imagine various noises in certain sections of the House of Commons, by certain MPs who may have been concerned about what they might term the |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | statutory rights, or they are a conduit, to use my Lord, Lord Carnwath's point. It is absolutely essential to the whole function and the purpose of the 1972 Act, and to the operation of the treaties themselves, and to the UK's membership of the EU, that these rights are precisely that, domestic law rights. That is fundamental to being a member of the EU. They have to be put into domestic law and only Parliament can do that. That is how the position has been understood by the courts in this country over a number of years, and I give two examples, again without asking the court to | 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | EU law was not supreme in the parliamentary sovereignty sense, section 18 is declaratory, and it is really belt and braces, to make it absolutely clear to everybody that EU law rights solely take effect under English domestic law through the will of Parliament. It is LORD WILSON: What has been said to the contrary which concerned Parliament? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I imagine various noises in certain sections of the House of Commons, by certain MPs who may have been concerned about what they might term the encroachment this was |

21 (Pages 81 to 84)

| 1 | not, that the doctrine of primacy, combined with the | 1 | actually starts at 5917 which is the sixth report of the |
|--|---|---|--|
| 2 | statements of principle in cases like Costa v ENEL, did | 2 | select committee. It is a report with evidence. |
| 3 | have precisely that effect, and indeed Ms Sharpston made | 3 | If you start, please, at page 5922 and paragraph 6, |
| 4 | a submission to that effect to the divisional court in | 4 | you will see that the committee wrote to the foreign |
| 5 | Thoburn which was rejected. | 5 | secretary to ask him to set out the Government's view of |
| 6 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes. My Lord, that is very helpful. Of | 6 | how the Lisbon treaty would affect the UK constitution, |
| 7 | course there is also Factortame which is in a similar | 7 | and his reply is produced and the court will find that |
| 8 | vein. | 8 | at 5974. The relevant passage is at 5977, and it is the |
| 9 | LORD MANCE: There is the long-standing discussion between | 9 | final two paragraphs above the heading, "Courts and the |
| 10 | constitutional courts around Europe and the European | 10 | judiciary": |
| 11 | Court of Justice as to which is supreme in areas falling | 11 | "The Lisbon treaty has no effect on the principle of |
| 12 | within the scope of the local constitution, isn't there; | 12 | parliamentary sovereignty. Parliament exercised its |
| 13 | it is the same point? | 13 | sovereignty in passing the 1972 Act and has continued to |
| 14 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, it is. | 14 | do so in passing the legislation necessary to ratify |
| 15 | LORD SUMPTION: It generally resulted in the conclusion | 15 | subsequent EU treaties. The UK Parliament could repeal |
| 16 | which is the same as the one that exists here, | 16 | the 1972 Act at any time. The consequence of such |
| 17 | essentially based on the local constitutional | 17 | repeal is that the UK would not be able to comply with |
| 18 | arrangement. | 18 | its international and EU obligations and would have to |
| 19 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes. | 19 | withdraw from the European Union. The Lisbon treaty |
| 20 | My Lord, moving on, the appellant's argument based | 20 | does not change that and indeed for the first time |
| 21 | on the phrase "from time to time" in section $2(1)$ of the | 21 | includes a provision explicitly confirming member |
| 22 | 1972 Act, in our submission, does not detract from | 22 | states' rights to withdraw from the European Union." |
| 23 | parliamentary sovereignty. You have our printed case on | 23 | That then led to the committee's relevant conclusion |
| 24 | that, I will not ask you to turn that up, but it is | 24 | in paragraph 95 of the report itself, which is at 5943. |
| 25 | paragraph 38 of our printed case, at 12470. But I do | 25 | In paragraph 95 the committee say this: |
| | | | |
| | Page 85 | | Page 87 |
| 1 | want to deal with one particular argument which was in | 1 | "We conclude that the Lisbon treaty would make no |
| 2 | | | |
| | fact raised by Lawyers for Britain in its written | 2 | alteration to the current relationship between the |
| 3 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was | 2 3 | alteration to the current relationship between the principles of primacy of European Union law and |
| 3 4 | | | - |
| | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was | 3 | principles of primacy of European Union law and |
| 4 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument | 3 4 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a |
| 4 5 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights | 3 4 5 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to |
| 4 5 6 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted | 3 4 5 6 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the |
| 4 5 6 7 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section $2(1)$ must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of | 3 4 5 6 7 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law |
| 4 5 6 7 8 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section $2(1)$ must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. | 3 4 5 6 7 8 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general |
| 4 5 7 8 9 10 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary |
| 4 5 7 8 9 10 11 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the constitution, during the passage of the bill which | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the 1972 Act. The point can also be illustrated in relation |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the constitution, during the passage of the bill which eventually became the 2008 Act. The select committee's | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the 1972 Act. The point can also be illustrated in relation to the European Elections Act 2002 and there, I don't |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the constitution, during the passage of the bill which eventually became the 2008 Act. The select committee's report is at volume 17 of the authorities at tab 198. | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the 1972 Act. The point can also be illustrated in relation to the European Elections Act 2002 and there, I don't ask you to turn it up but for your note it is at core |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the constitution, during the passage of the bill which eventually became the 2008 Act. The select committee's report is at volume 17 of the authorities at tab 198. LORD CLARKE: Does this get a mention in your case? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, it does, I believe, get a mention in our case. I will just check, certainly we have referred | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article – control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the 1972 Act. The point can also be illustrated in relation to the European Elections Act 2002 and there, I don't ask you to turn it up but for your note it is at core volume 1, page 128, electronic 4434, the rights granted |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the constitution, during the passage of the bill which eventually became the 2008 Act. The select committee's report is at volume 17 of the authorities at tab 198. LORD CLARKE: Does this get a mention in your case? | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the 1972 Act. The point can also be illustrated in relation to the European Elections Act 2002 and there, I don't ask you to turn it up but for your note it is at core volume 1, page 128, electronic 4434, the rights granted under that Act, rights to stand for election and to |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the constitution, during the passage of the bill which eventually became the 2008 Act. The select committee's report is at volume 17 of the authorities at tab 198. LORD CLARKE: Does this get a mention in your case? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, it does, I believe, get a mention in our case. I will just check, certainly we have referred to it below but I believe it is in our case as well. I will give your Lordship the reference. It is | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the 1972 Act. The point can also be illustrated in relation to the European Elections Act 2002 and there, I don't ask you to turn it up but for your note it is at core volume 1, page 128, electronic 4434, the rights granted under that Act, rights to stand for election and to vote, are conferred by the 2002 Act itself. There is no reference made to rights deriving from a different legal system, or rights obtained in any |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the constitution, during the passage of the bill which eventually became the 2008 Act. The select committee's report is at volume 17 of the authorities at tab 198. LORD CLARKE: Does this get a mention in your case? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, it does, I believe, get a mention in our case. I will just check, certainly we have referred to it believe it is in our case as well. | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the 1972 Act. The point can also be illustrated in relation to the European Elections Act 2002 and there, I don't ask you to turn it up but for your note it is at core volume 1, page 128, electronic 4434, the rights granted under that Act, rights to stand for election and to vote, are conferred by the 2002 Act itself. There is no reference made to rights deriving from |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | intervention, and that argument to a certain extent was taken up to a certain extent by Mr Eadie. The argument is that from the passing of the 2008 Act, the rights given by section 2(1) must be read as rights granted from time to time subject to the operation of Article 50. Now, you have heard from my learned friend, Lord Pannick in relation to that, and the broad point is that Article 50 throws you back to domestic constitutional requirements, but I want to add this, that the introduction of Article 50, specifically in the context of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty and the 1972 Act, was considered by Parliament. It was considered by the House of Lords select committee on the constitution, during the passage of the bill which eventually became the 2008 Act. The select committee's report is at volume 17 of the authorities at tab 198. LORD CLARKE: Does this get a mention in your case? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, it does, I believe, get a mention in our case. I will just check, certainly we have referred to it below but I believe it is in our case as well. I will give your Lordship the reference. It is | 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | principles of primacy of European Union law and parliamentary sovereignty. The introduction of a provision explicitly confirming member states' rights to withdraw from the EU underlines the point that the United Kingdom only remains bound by European Union law as long as Parliament chooses to remain in the Union." Now, in our submission, that explains at a general level why there was no need for any parliamentary control under article control of Article 50, under section 6 of the 2008 Act. Because Parliament was proceeding on the basis that under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, it was for Parliament to decide whether or not to remain in the EU. So my Lords, that is the position in relation to the 1972 Act. The point can also be illustrated in relation to the European Elections Act 2002 and there, I don't ask you to turn it up but for your note it is at core volume 1, page 128, electronic 4434, the rights granted under that Act, rights to stand for election and to vote, are conferred by the 2002 Act itself. There is no reference made to rights deriving from a different legal system, or rights obtained in any |

22 (Pages 85 to 88)

| 1 | rights in every sense is legislation enacted by | 1 | misunderstanding of the doctrine of parliamentary |
|--|--|--|--|
| 2 | Parliament. And that is all that is required to engage | 2 | sovereignty. Looked at through the prism of |
| 3 | the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty. | 3 | parliamentary sovereignty, the prerogative is nothing |
| 4 | I have already dealt with the existence of the | 4 | more than a label for executive action. The prerogative |
| 5 | European Parliament point and my learned friend, Lord | 5 | can only be exercised through executive action. And |
| 6 | Pannick, has dealt with the other point which arose on | 6 | executive action is unlawful if it contravenes the |
| 7 | this, which is the rights are contingent on the | 7 | doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, and given that in |
| 8 | executive deciding to exercise the prerogative to | 8 | this case, in our submission, the exercise of the |
| 9 | withdraw. That, as Lord Pannick submitted, simply begs | 9 | prerogative will lead to this loss of rights in primary |
| 10 | the question of whether the executive can give | 10 | legislation, the only question which remains is whether |
| 11 | an Article 50 notification without the approval of | 11 | or not there is parliamentary authorisation. And under |
| 12 | Parliament. | 12 | the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, that is the |
| 13 | For parliamentary sovereignty so far as the 2002 | 13 | correct approach to the issue, but the appellant seeks |
| 14 | Act is concerned, the rights which are granted to | 14 | to persuade the court to look at matters from the wrong |
| 15 | citizens take effect of and function under the domestic | 15 | end of the telescope. |
| 16 | legal order. It is precisely because those rights take | 16 | The appellant says that the starting point is to |
| 17 | effect under the domestic legal order that the principle | 17 | look to see whether there a prerogative and, if there |
| 18 | of parliamentary sovereignty has been engaged. It is | 18 | is, he says the issue becomes whether or not the |
| 19 | important to note that the "from time to time" argument | 19 | prerogative power has been limited by Parliament in the |
| 20 | could not in any event work in relation to the 2002 Act, | 20 | relevant respect. |
| 21 | and nor could the supposed impact of the advent of | 21 | But that, in our submission, looks at the matter |
| 22 | Article 50 have any impact on the 2002 Act, because the | 22 | completely the wrong way round, because it turns the |
| 23 | point there is there is no warrant to make those rights | 23 | doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty on its head. No, |
| 24 | contingent on the introduction of Article 50; the 2002 | 24 | once it has been accepted, as it has here, that |
| 25 | Act is such that the rights are set out in stone. | 25 | executive action will override primary legislation, the |
| | Page 89 | | Page 91 |
| | | 1 | |
| 1 | So just before the short adjournment. Lean now | 1 | correct approach in our submission is for the executive |
| 1 | So just before the short adjournment, I can now return to the core of my stage two argument, which is | 1 | correct approach in our submission is for the executive to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of |
| 2 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is | 2 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of |
| 2 3 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the | 2 3 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. |
| 2 3 4 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation | 2 3 4 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there |
| 2 3 4 5 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the | 2 3 4 5 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can | 2 3 4 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is | 2 3 4 5 6 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary | 2 3 4 5 6 7 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the |
| $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ \end{array} $ | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, the authorisation of | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, the authorisation of Parliament is needed because only Parliament can | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the proposed executive action is not lawful, so there is |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, the authorisation of Parliament is needed because only Parliament can override, set aside or nullify legislation. It is | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the proposed executive action is not lawful, so there is simply no prerogative at all, in our submission, in that |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliament is needed because only Parliament can override, set aside or nullify legislation. It is important here to underline that the appellant does not | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the proposed executive action is not lawful, so there is simply no prerogative at all, in our submission, in that respect. |
| $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ \end{array} $ | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliament is needed because only Parliament can override, set aside or nullify legislation. It is important here to underline that the appellant does not claim any parliamentary authorisation; he says he | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the proposed executive action is not lawful, so there is simply no prerogative at all, in our submission, in that respect. |
| $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ 21\\ \end{array} $ | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliament is needed because only Parliament can override, set aside or nullify legislation. It is important here to underline that the appellant does not claim any parliamentary authorisation; he says he doesn't need it, he says that the prerogative power | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the proposed executive action is not lawful, so there is simply no prerogative at all, in our submission, in that respect. THE PRESIDENT: Is that a convenient moment? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I was just about to ask. |
| $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\3\\4\\5\\6\\7\\8\\9\\10\\11\\12\\13\\14\\15\\16\\17\\18\\19\\20\\21\\22\end{array} $ | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliament is needed because only Parliament can override, set aside or nullify legislation. It is important here to underline that the appellant does not claim any parliamentary authorisation; he says he doesn't need it, he says that the prerogative power suffices. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the proposed executive action is not lawful, so there is simply no prerogative at all, in our submission, in that respect. THE PRESIDENT: Is that a convenient moment? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I was just about to ask. LORD CARNWATH: Could I mention the Youssef case, if you want to come back to, I think it is at 36, 496 in the supplementary bundle, MS 67. |
| $\begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ 21\\ 22\\ 23\\ \end{array}$ | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliament is needed because only Parliament can override, set aside or nullify legislation. It is important here to underline that the appellant does not claim any parliamentary authorisation; he says he doesn't need it, he says that the prerogative power suffices. But this, in our respectful submission, goes back to | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the proposed executive action is not lawful, so there is simply no prerogative at all, in our submission, in that respect. THE PRESIDENT: Is that a convenient moment? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I was just about to ask. LORD CARNWATH: Could I mention the Youssef case, if you want to come back to, I think it is at 36, 496 in the |
| $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\3\\4\\5\\6\\7\\8\\9\\10\\11\\12\\13\\14\\15\\16\\17\\18\\19\\20\\21\\22\\23\\24\end{array} $ | return to the core of my stage two argument, which is that once it is understood that the source of the relevant rights in domestic law is primary legislation passed by Parliament, then the legal effect of the appellant's concession in paragraph 62A of his case can be properly understood, because what it amounts to is that rights granted by Parliament under primary legislation will undoubtedly and inevitably be lost or removed by notification under Article 50. Not just EU law rights, but rights granted by Parliament under acts of Parliament. So that brings me to stage three which is whether Parliament has authorised the executive to bring about the inevitable loss of rights. Under the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty, the authorisation of Parliament is needed because only Parliament can override, set aside or nullify legislation. It is important here to underline that the appellant does not claim any parliamentary authorisation; he says he doesn't need it, he says that the prerogative power suffices. But this, in our respectful submission, goes back to the flaw in the appellant's argument because the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | to show that Parliament has authorised the loss of rights in question. It is not a question of looking to see if there a prerogative power which has or has not been limited, it is for the executive to show in clear terms that Parliament has authorised the loss of statutory rights intended to be brought about by this executive action. So just to finish this point off, in answer to a question my Lord, Lord Reed raised yesterday, and that was whether or not the referendum result could provide a basis for the rational use of the prerogative, if there was a prerogative. Well, we submit this case does not involve the question of whether or not what the appellant proposes to do is a rational use of the prerogative; without parliamentary authorisation, the proposed executive action is not lawful, so there is simply no prerogative at all, in our submission, in that respect. THE PRESIDENT: Is that a convenient moment? MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I was just about to ask. LORD CARNWATH: Could I mention the Youssef case, if you want to come back to, I think it is at 36, 496 in the supplementary bundle, MS 67. |

23 (Pages 89 to 92)

| 1 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much. Court is now | 1 | clear from a variety of sources but I will take the |
|----------|---|----------|---|
| 2 | adjourned. | 2 | court to two, if I may. The first is Professor Vernon |
| 3 | We will resume again at 2.00 with Mr Chambers. | 3 | Bogdanor's book, "The new British constitution", which |
| 4 | Thank you. | 4 | the court has in volume 15 at tab 168. That is |
| 5 | (1.01 pm) | 5 | electronic 5308. |
| 6 | (The Luncheon Adjournment) | 6 | Unfortunately the front page to the book is missing, |
| 7 | (2.00 pm) | 7 | and we can have that copied, but "The new British |
| 8 | THE PRESIDENT: We are going to try a new angle, | 8 | constitution", Professor Vernon Bogdanor, 2009. |
| 9 | Mr Chambers. | 9 | This is in chapter 7, the referendum. The relevant |
| 10 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lady and my Lords, in accordance with the | 10 | passage is at 5325. It is the last paragraph on 5325: |
| 11 | registrar's excellent ambulatory seating plan, I have | 11 | "In countries with codified constitutions, the |
| 12 | moved slightly to the right or the left. | 12 | outcome of a referendum generally binds both Parliament |
| 13 | In answer to my Lord, Lord Carnwath. | 13 | and Government. In Britain, however, with an uncodified |
| 14 | LORD CARNWATH: I thought you were trying to escape from me. | 14 | constitution, the position is much less clear. Although |
| 15 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, the reference to Youssef, as your | 15 | neither Parliament nor Government can be legally bound, |
| 16 | Lordship very kindly pointed out, is in tab 496. At | 16 | the Government could agree in advance that it would |
| 17 | paragraph 34 of the judgment, supplementary electronic | 17 | respect the result, while a clear majority on |
| 18 | page 693, it was the Secretary of State who exercised | 18 | a reasonably high turnout would leave Parliament with |
| 19 | prerogative powers at the international level to | 19 | little option in practice other than to endorse a |
| 20 | sanction or to list Mr Youssef on the sanctions list. | 20 | decision of the people. Shortly before the European |
| 21 | The effect of that was to cause alterations to his | 21 | Community referendum in 1975, Edward Short, then leader |
| 22 | domestic law rights under the EEC regulation 881, or EU | 22 | of the House of Commons insisted to the House that 'this |
| 23 | regulation 881, which of course comes into English | 23 | referendum was wholly consistent with parliamentary |
| 24 | domestic law through section 2(1) of the 1972 Act. So | 24 | sovereignty. The Government will be bound by its result |
| 25 | it is no different in our submission to any European | 25 | but Parliament of course cannot be bound'. He then |
| | | | |
| | Page 93 | | Page 95 |
| 1 | Union law which is given domestic legal effect through | 1 | added 'although one would not expect honourable members |
| 2 | section 2(1). | 2 | to go against the wishes of the people, they remain free |
| 3 | My Lords, I am going to go back to my stage three, | 3 | to do so'. |
| 4 | and that is parliamentary authorisation. In our | 4 | "That was an accurate statement of the |
| 5 | submission, there is nothing in the 2015 Act which could | 5 | constitutional position only on the assumption that |
| 6 | provide parliamentary authorisation, whether it is | 6 | Short meant that the Government would be morally bound. |
| 7 | viewed through the prism of the prerogative or | 7 | It could not be legally bound for in the purely formal |
| 8 | parliamentary sovereignty. Parliament passed the | 8 | sense, it was still the case that the British |
| 9 | 2015 Act knowing full well that in our system of | 9 | constitution knew nothing of the people." |
| 10 | representative parliamentary democracy, referendums are | 10 | There are echoes of Dicey there which I took the |
| 11 | not legally binding. | 11 | court to this morning. |
| 12 | That was the legal position back in 1975, when the | 12 | At footnote 19 there is a reference to Mr Short |
| 12 | 1975 referendum was held on then EEC membership, and the | 13 | which I would like to take the court to; it is volume 17 |
| 14 | 1975 Referendum Act is in volume 12 of the authorities | 14 | at tab 195. Electronic reference 5904, it is volume 17, |
| 14 | at tab 111, electronic 4213. The reason I am taking you | 14 | tab 195. This is the Lord President of the council and |
| 16 | to that is because it is in materially identical terms | 16 | the leader of the House of Commons, Mr Edward Short, and |
| 10 | to the 2015 Act, which is in core authorities 1, tab 7, | 17 | the relevant passage is at 5905, the very top of the |
| 17 | electronic 1601. | 17 | |
| 18 | Both are in section 1 and both say: | 18 | page: "I understand and respect the view of those devoted |
| 20 | "A referendum is to be held on whether the | 20 | "I understand and respect the view of those devoted to this House and to the sovereignty of Parliament who |
| 20 21 | United Kingdom should remain a member of" | 20 | argue that a referendum is alien to the principles and |
| | - | 21 | |
| 22 | "the European Union" for 2015, or "the EEC" for | 1 | practices of parliamentary democracy. I respect their |
| 23 24 | 1975. Under the terms of the 1975 Act, in our submission | 23 24 | view but I do not agree with it. I will tell the House |
| 24 25 | Under the terms of the 1975 Act, in our submission, | 24 25 | why. This referendum is wholly consistent with |
| 25 | the 1975 referendum was not legally binding. This is | 23 | parliamentary sovereignty. The Government will be bound |
| | | 1 | |
| | Page 94 | | Page 96 |

24 (Pages 93 to 96)

| 1 | by its result but Parliament of course cannot be bound. | 1 | end of 2017. |
|---|--|--|---|
| 2 | Although one would not expect honourable members to go | 2 | LORD CLARKE: What page is this? |
| 3 | against the wishes of the people, they remain free to do | 3 | MR CHAMBERS: 6281. This is the first paragraph of the |
| 4 | so. One of the characteristics of this Parliament is it | 4 | summary. This paper has been prepared as a guide in |
| 5 | can never divest itself of its sovereignty. The | 5 | advance of the second reading debate on Tuesday, |
| 6 | referendum itself cannot be held without parliamentary | 6 | 9 June 2015. |
| 7 | approval of the necessary legislation, nor, if the | 7 | Then if the court would please go to 6303, in |
| 8 | decision is to come out of the Community, could that | 8 | section 5, with the heading, "Types of referendum": |
| 9 | decision be made effective without further legislation. | 9 | "This bill requires a referendum to be held on the |
| 10 | I do not, therefore, accept that the sovereignty of | 10 | question of the UK's continued membership of the EU |
| 11 | Parliament is in any way affected by the referendum." | 11 | before the end of 2017. It does not contain any |
| 12 | Then, to follow the history through, we have the | 12 | requirement for the UK Government to implement the |
| 13 | Government's response to the House of Lords select | 13 | results of the referendum, nor set a time limit by which |
| 14 | committee's report on referendums of 2010. The court | 14 | a vote to leave the EU should be implemented. Instead, |
| 15 | will find that in volume 18 at tab 201. That is | 15 | this is a type of referendum known as a pre-legislative |
| 16 | electronic reference 6265. Tab 201, 6265, this is the | 16 | or consultative, which enables the electorate to voice |
| 17 | fourth report of 2010 to 2011, the Government response | 17 | an opinion which then influences the Government in its |
| 18 | to the report on referendums in the United Kingdom, | 18 | policy decisions. The referendums held in Scotland, |
| 19 | published on 8 October 2010. | 19 | Wales and Northern Ireland in 1997 and 1998 are examples |
| 20 | This report is incorporating the Government's | 20 | of this type where opinion was tested before legislation |
| 21 | response to the select committee's report on | 21 | was introduced. The UK does not have constitutional |
| 22 | referendums. What the committee does is it sets out its | 22 | provisions which would require the results of |
| 23 | conclusions and the Government's response to each of its | 23 | a referendum to be implemented, unlike, for example, the |
| 24 | conclusions. The relevant page is 6275, where, if you | 24 | Republic of Ireland, where the circumstances in which |
| 25 | go to 6275, you will find two columns, one headed | 25 | a binding referendum could be held are set out in its |
| | | | C C |
| | Page 97 | | Page 99 |
| 1 | "Recommendation" and one headed "Government's response". | 1 | constitution. |
| 2 | It is recommendation number 3 on that page, the third | 2 | "In contrast, the legislation which provided for the |
| 3 | one down: | $\begin{vmatrix} 2\\ 3 \end{vmatrix}$ | referendum held on AV in May 2011 would have implemented |
| 4 | "We recognise that because of the sovereignty of | 4 | the new system of voting without further legislation, |
| 5 | Parliament, referendums cannot be legally binding in the | 5 | provided that the boundary changes also provided for in |
| 6 | UK and are therefore advisory. However, it would be | 6 | the Parliamentary Voting System and Constituencies Act |
| 7 | difficult for Parliament to ignore a decisive expression | | |
| | difficult for ramament to ignore a decisive expression | 7 | |
| 8 | | 7 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was |
| 8 | of public opinion." | 8 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." |
| 9 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: | 8 9 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We |
| 9 10 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. | 8 9 10 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change."LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. |
| 9 10 11 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament | 8 9 10 11 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change."LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before.MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover |
| 9 10 11 12 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take | 8 9 10 11 12 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change."LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before.MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? |
| 9 10 11 12 13 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." | 8 9 10 11 12 13 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change."LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before.MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"?LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This is briefing paper number 07212, 3 June 2015. | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which provides MPs and their staff with impartial briefing and |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This is briefing paper number 07212, 3 June 2015. European Union Referendum bill by Elise Uberoi from the | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which provides MPs and their staff with impartial briefing and evidence, based they need to do their work in |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This is briefing paper number 07212, 3 June 2015. European Union Referendum bill by Elise Uberoi from the House of Commons library. | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which provides MPs and their staff with impartial briefing and evidence, based they need to do their work in scrutinising Government, proposing legislation and |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This is briefing paper number 07212, 3 June 2015. European Union Referendum bill by Elise Uberoi from the House of Commons library. If you go to 6281, under "Summary", the bill was | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which provides MPs and their staff with impartial briefing and evidence, based they need to do their work in scrutinising Government, proposing legislation and supporting constituents. |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This is briefing paper number 07212, 3 June 2015. European Union Referendum bill by Elise Uberoi from the House of Commons library. If you go to 6281, under "Summary", the bill was introduced in the House of Commons on 28 May 2015 and | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which provides MPs and their staff with impartial briefing and evidence, based they need to do their work in scrutinising Government, proposing legislation and supporting constituents. Now, we relied on this briefing paper in the |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This is briefing paper number 07212, 3 June 2015. European Union Referendum bill by Elise Uberoi from the House of Commons library. If you go to 6281, under "Summary", the bill was introduced in the House of Commons on 28 May 2015 and requires the holding of a referendum on the UK's | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which provides MPs and their staff with impartial briefing and evidence, based they need to do their work in scrutinising Government, proposing legislation and supporting constituents. Now, we relied on this briefing paper in the divisional court to evidence the historical fact that |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This is briefing paper number 07212, 3 June 2015. European Union Referendum bill by Elise Uberoi from the House of Commons library. If you go to 6281, under "Summary", the bill was introduced in the House of Commons on 28 May 2015 and | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which provides MPs and their staff with impartial briefing and evidence, based they need to do their work in scrutinising Government, proposing legislation and supporting constituents. Now, we relied on this briefing paper in the |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | of public opinion." The Government's response was: "The Government agrees with this recommendation. Under the UK's constitutional arrangements, Parliament must be responsible for deciding whether or not to take action in response to a referendum result." Then to complete the story, we also rely on the House of Commons briefing paper, which was referred to in paragraph 107 of the divisional court's judgment. The briefing paper is also in volume 18 and it is in the next tab, 202. The electronic reference is 6279. This is briefing paper number 07212, 3 June 2015. European Union Referendum bill by Elise Uberoi from the House of Commons library. If you go to 6281, under "Summary", the bill was introduced in the House of Commons on 28 May 2015 and requires the holding of a referendum on the UK's | 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | 2011 were also implemented. In the event there was a substantial majority against any change." LORD CLARKE: Do we know who the author of this was? We were referred to it before. MR CHAMBERS: Yes on the first page at 6279 on the cover sheet, does your Lordship see "Elise Uberoi"? LORD SUMPTION: Who is she? MR CHAMBERS: Elise Uberoi is a member of the House of Commons library. I am being helpfully referred to the back page at 6311, where the status of this briefing paper is set out in the sense that it is a publication of the House of Commons library research service, which provides MPs and their staff with impartial briefing and evidence, based they need to do their work in scrutinising Government, proposing legislation and supporting constituents. Now, we relied on this briefing paper in the divisional court to evidence the historical fact that |

25 (Pages 97 to 100)

Article 50 - Brexit Hearing

| 1 | 2015 Act, parliamentarians were informed that under the | 1 | tell Parliament how to exercise that sovereignty. |
|----|---|----------|--|
| 2 | form of the bill, the result of the referendum would be | 2 | Imagine this situation, assume after the referendum vote |
| 3 | advisory only. Which was consistent in our submission, | 3 | the Government said: we think we should regard this as |
| 4 | which was the law as it then stood or the law as it was | 4 | Brexit means Brexit, but we want to make sure that |
| 5 | then understood by those who were going to consider this | 5 | Parliament is with us on that, so we will put a motion |
| 6 | legislation. When the referendum is referred to as | 6 | before Parliament, rather as they did back in 1972; |
| 7 | advisory only, what that means is that it was not | 7 | saying: we want your approval, Parliament, to launch |
| 8 | legally binding. | 8 | Article 50 and we are not going to go ahead with |
| 9 | The distinction sought to be drawn by my learned | 9 | Article 50 unless we get it. |
| 10 | friend Mr Eadie about whether it was advisory for the | 10 | Now, they would say: of course, we accept that is |
| 11 | Government or advisory for Parliament is not to the | 11 | not legislation, we will need in due course, in two |
| 12 | point, because the only point for this court, in our | 12 | years' time or after our negotiations, to have a repeal |
| 13 | respectful submission, is whether the result of the | 13 | bill which will deal with the rights that can be |
| 14 | referendum has any legal effect. In our submission it | 14 | transposed into domestic law, make sure there isn't |
| 15 | has no legal effect, consistent with the history, with | 15 | a black hole of rights which cannot, but that will all |
| 16 | the wording of the Act, and the law as it was understood | 16 | be done, but for the moment what we are doing is simply |
| 17 | at the time. | 17 | making sure that Parliament is with us. |
| 18 | LORD CLARKE: What was the wording of the previous, the | 18 | Now, as I understand it, you say that would not be |
| 19 | 2011 whichever date it was. | 19 | good enough. It would be open to us, the court, to say |
| 20 | MR CHAMBERS: There was the 1975 Referendum Act but as | 20 | to Parliament: no, no, that motion, even though it has |
| 21 | I say, the wording is materially identical to the 2015. | 21 | been supported by a large majority (Inaudible) is not |
| 22 | LORD CLARKE: But is there any wording which made any of | 22 | good enough, you have to have a one-line bill which |
| 23 | these compulsory, if you like? | 23 | makes all the difference. The one-line bill does not |
| 24 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, yes, there is the AV referendum. | 24 | solve any of the problems, it doesn't solve any of the |
| 25 | That was the 2011, forgive me. | 25 | problems of what we do about all the detail; but you say |
| | D | | D 101 |
| | Page 101 |   | Page 103 |
| 1 | LORD CARNWATH: But there was no question of a prerogative, | 1 | that is a magic wand that makes all the difference. |
| 2 | that was simply being done as a matter of domestic law, | 2 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, certainly not an magic wand. There |
| 3 | and so in a way, the question of prerogative under | 3 | are two stages, first of all the trigger stage and then |
| 4 | foreign powers, whether that exists is a separate | 4 | what is going to happen after the trigger stage. Your |
| 5 | question which didn't arise under the AV referendum. | 5 | Lordship referred to the Great Repeal Bill; that is |
| 6 | MR CHAMBERS: No, but what one is looking at is the question | 6 | after the trigger stage. We have to concentrate on the |
| 7 | of where power lies. | 7 | trigger stage itself. |
| 8 | LORD CARNWATH: I understand your point but I am saying that | 8 | LORD CARNWATH: Not necessarily, because obviously everyone |
| 9 | is not a direct parallel. | 9 | accepts that there has to be legislation in due |
| 10 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, I fully take that point. All I would | 10 | course as indeed the Great Repeal builds on that. So |
| 11 | submit is that there are two types of referendum and | 11 | one cannot simply look at the trigger stage without |
| 12 | this was the first type and therefore Parliament did not | 12 | having regard to what is going to follow from it. So |
| 13 | surrender its sovereignty to its people | 13 | the real question is, can we as a court say to |
| 14 | LORD CLARKE: What was the relevant provision in the AV | 14 | Parliament, the trigger stage, a motion would not be |
| 15 | referendum? Do we have that? | 15 | good enough, even a motion supported a unanimous |
| 16 | MR CHAMBERS: We do have that and the relevant provision | 16 | motion, that would not be good enough; there has to be |
| 17 | LORD CLARKE: If you just give me the reference. | 17 | this one-line bill that says: yes, you can trigger. |
| 18 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes, we will get that for you, my Lord, | 18 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, that is absolutely correct. First of |
| 19 | certainly. | 19 | all a resolution would not be sufficient, because what |
| 20 | LORD CARNWATH: Perhaps while that is going on, can I ask | 20 | one is looking at is primary legislation on the basis |
| 21 | you a more general point which is one that has been | 21 | that rights, which are granted in domestic law, are |
| 22 | troubling me, and it arises out of what Lord Reed was | 22 | going to be lost. But this court in our submission is |
| 23 | saying, whether really the question we are dealing with | 23 | the guardian of parliamentary sovereignty. |
| 24 | is not so much a question of parliamentary sovereignty, | 24 | LORD CARNWATH: I understand all that, but still you are |
| 25 | which everyone accepts, but whether we as a court can | 25 | saying that Parliament over the road has voted in |
| | D 400 | | |
| | Page 102 | 1 | Page 104 |

26 (Pages 101 to 104)

www.DTIGlobal.com

8th Floor, 165 Fleet Street London EC4A 2DY

| 1 a motion unanimously that we should go ahead; Ms Miller | 1 have any regard to the 1972 Act, that would be totally |
|---|---|
| 2 or Mr dos Santos can come to this court and say: stop | 2 ineffective |
| 3 them, they cannot go ahead, an injunction, until they | 3 MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, yes, it would. |
| 4 have got this two-line bill. | 4 LORD SUMPTION: The reason is that resolutions do not change |
| 5 MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, no one is stopping Parliament passing | 5 the law whereas statutes do. It is completely |
| 6 whatever resolutions it wants, and this court is not | 6 fundamental. |
| 7 saying to Parliament | 7 LORD CARNWATH: I understand that from a legal point of |
| 8 THE PRESIDENT: No, it is saying to the executive: you | 8 view, but to say that this is all in the name of |
| 9 cannot do it. | 9 parliamentary sovereignty does seem a little odd. It |
| 10 MR CHAMBERS: Exactly. | 10 seems to me a vitally important legal point, but it is |
| 11 THE PRESIDENT: But that is Lord Carnwath's question; what | 11 not about parliamentary sovereignty. |
| 12 we would say in those circumstances to the executive: | 12 LORD SUMPTION: It is about the rule of law. |
| 13 even though Parliament has given you a clear pass | 13 LORD MANCE: It is about what Parliament is, and I don't |
| 14 through a motion of both Houses, you still have to go | 14 think that either Professor Dicey or Professor Hart |
| 15 back to Parliament and pass the statute. | 15 would have been very surprised to find our rule of |
| 16 MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, yes, that is absolutely correct. | 16 recognition defined in the way you are defining it. |
| 17 LORD CARNWATH: That is the case. I understand it and so be | 17 THE PRESIDENT: Your point is that Parliament speaks to the |
| 18 it. | 18 people, and in particular to the courts, ultimately |
| 19 LORD KERR: That is one way of casting it but surely your | 19 through statute. |
| 20 argument is that it is for this court to decide whether | 20 MR CHAMBERS: That is absolutely right, my Lord, yes, they |
| 21 or not the 1972 Act can be set at nought, as Lord | 21 do. |
| 22 Pannick has put it, by the exercise of the prerogative. | 22 LORD SUMPTION: Resolutions are political acts, whereas |
| 23 If we decide that is the position, it is then up to | 23 legislation is directly affects the law. |
| 24 Parliament and indeed the executive to decide what to | 24 MR CHAMBERS: Yes. |
| do. We are not issuing an edict to Parliament or to the | 25 LORD REED: Life has moved on since the time of Dicey. The |
| Page 105 | Page 107 |
| | |
| 1 executive that you must do this or you must do that; we | 1 referendum result is the people speaking to the |
| 2 are simply saying what the law is. | 2 political institutions, it is giving them |
| 3 MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, that is precisely right, and | an instruction. That is one way of looking at it. MR CHAMBERS: Yes. |
| 4 obviously the divisional court was very careful to 5 ensure that there was no encroachment on any Privy | 4 MIX CHAMBERS. Fes. 5 LORD REED: If that is so, then the question, if that is the |
| 6 Council(?) and the like so everyone is being very | 6 right way of looking at the 2015 Act, that it has |
| contract and the fixed so everyone is being very careful to ensure that Parliament is not being dictated | provided a mechanism enabling effectively the people to |
| 8 to or the executive is not being dictated to. | 8 give an instruction to politicians, that they want to |
| 9 THE PRESIDENT: I understand that. It sounds very fine to | 9 leave the EU, then the law then has to work out what the |
| 10 a lawyer who understands the difference, but to the | 10 constitutional implications of that are. Falling back |
| 11 average person in the street, it seems a bit odd if one | 11 on Dicey is not going to help because Dicey didn't have |
| 12 says to the Government: you have to go back to | 12 to address that kind of situation. |
| 13 Parliament and have an act of Parliament passed to show | |
| 14 who Parliament's will is; when you have already been to | 13 MR CHAMBERS: Yes. My Lord, this court's task as part of 14 this appeal is to decide whether or not the instruction |
| 15 Parliament and had a motion before both Houses which | 14 this appear is to decide whether or not the instruction 15 which your Lordship refers to is binding or not. In our |
| 16 approves the service of the notice. That is really Lord | 16 submission it is not binding because the Act is very |
| 17 Carnwath's point, and it does seem a bit odd, doesn't | 17 clear, the 2015 Act is very clear, and on that point, |
| 17 Cantwall's point, and it does seen a bit odd, doesn't 18 it? | 17 clear, the 2013 Act is very clear, and on that point, 18 the ministerial statements which are relied on by the |
| 19 MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, it may seem odd to the man on the | appellant, we would say are not admissible because under |
| 20 Clapham omnibus, if I put it that way, but for lawyers, | 20 Pepper v Hart principles, they would only be admissible |
| 20 Chapitant onlineus, if i put it that way, but for lawyers,21 that is the correct result, for constitutionalists, that | 20 repper v hart principles, they would only be admissible 21 if there was any ambiguity in the 2015 Act which in our |
| 22 is the | 21 In there was any antiguity in the 2013 Act which in our 22 submission there is not. In any event, these |
| LORD SUMPTION: It is a vital distinction, isn't it? More | submission there is not. In any event, theseministerial statements are matters of Government policy |
| than for the lawyers, if both Houses of Parliament were | 24 and Government policy is not the law. |
| 25 to pass a resolution inviting the executive no longer to | LORD MANCE: They are not admissible any more than your |
| | |
| Page 106 | Page 108 |

27 (Pages 105 to 108)

8th Floor, 165 Fleet Street London EC4A 2DY

| 1 | House of Commons library briefing note. | 1 | LORD SUMPTION: His point was wider than that; they also |
|----|--|----|---|
| 2 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, my House of Commons library briefing | 2 | have a power to bring pressure on their members of |
| 3 | paper, with respect, is admissible, because it falls | 3 | Parliament, so that politically they feel an obligation |
| 4 | under the historical facts exception as established in | 4 | to act in a particular way which need not necessarily |
| 5 | many cases | 5 | coincide with their personal opinions. |
| 6 | LORD MANCE: On that basis you would be looking at | 6 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, that is absolutely correct, yes. |
| 7 | everything that was said and done there, and there is | 7 | That is one of the ways of expressing people's power. |
| 8 | an issue as to whether the House of Commons briefing | 8 | So my Lords, conscious of the time, our submission, |
| 9 | statement, library briefing statement is accurate; as | 9 | my stage three, is that there is no parliamentary |
| 10 | soon as that issue arises we are incapable of dealing | 10 | authorisation for this loss of rights, whether it is |
| 11 | with it, it would be contrary to the Bill of Rights to | 11 | under the 2015 Act, or any other legislation which has |
| 12 | go into it. I think there is a limit here to what we | 12 | been passed by Parliament, and in the absence of that |
| 13 | can look at. | 13 | authorisation, in our submission, the appeal should be |
| 14 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, yes, but this does not raise the | 14 | dismissed because each of my stages one, two and three |
| 15 | Bill of Rights issues, it doesn't raise the section 9 | 15 | lead to that conclusion. |
| 16 | issue of the Bill of Rights because it is not | 16 | Unless there are any further questions |
| 17 | technically a publication under a command paper. | 17 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much. Thank you, |
| 18 | THE PRESIDENT: It is a statement of what somebody thinks. | 18 | Mr Chambers. |
| 19 | MPs who voted on it may or may not have agreed with it, | 19 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, Lord Clarke wanted the reference to |
| 20 | but that is why it is so unsatisfactory, looking at all | 20 | the AV referendum Act. It is volume 13, tab 136, |
| 21 | this material, particularly when it is a controversial | 21 | electronic 4611 and it is section 8 of the Act which is |
| 22 | bill which has produced a lot of material, a lot of | 22 | at 4612. |
| 23 | inconsistent statements and it is a classic reason why | 23 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. |
| 24 | Pepper v Hart in some quarters is not very popular, and | 24 | LORD CLARKE: Thank you. |
| 25 | in remaining quarters is strongly to be kept to its | 25 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much. Mr Scoffield. |
| | | | |
| | Page 109 | | Page 111 |
| 1 | limitations and not to go outside them. | 1 | Submissions by MR SCOFFIELD |
| 2 | MR CHAMBERS: Yes, my Lord, the only point I would say is | 2 | MR SCOFFIELD: I am very grateful, my Lord. |
| 3 | that this is what Parliament was told, there was no | 3 | My Lady, my Lords, I appear with professors |
| 4 | debate as far as we know about the form of the bill. It | 4 | McCrudden and Antony for the applicants in the Agnew |
| 5 | was brought in in that respect, it is in familiar form | 5 | case, and my learned friend Mr Lavery appears in |
| 6 | and in our submission it is clear what the result is. | 6 | a separate case, the McCord case. The court has given |
| 7 | THE PRESIDENT: Your short point is this, is it, that it | 7 | us a speaking allocation of 45 minutes for the Northern |
| 8 | would have been only too easy for the legislature to | 8 | Ireland claimants as a whole. |
| 9 | provide what its effect was if it wanted to tell us. It | 9 | Subject to the court, my Lords, my Lady, Mr Lavery |
| 10 | has not told us, and it is not for the courts to try and | 10 | and I have agreed that 30 minutes of that allocation |
| 11 | guess what the legislature intended, leave it to the | 11 | will be given to the Agnew case and 15 minutes for the |
| 12 | legislature to decide what the effect of the referendum | 12 | McCord case. |
| 13 | is; is that really it? | 13 | THE PRESIDENT: If you have agreed that, that is fine with |
| 14 | MR CHAMBERS: My Lord, yes. | 14 | us, thank you. |
| 15 | My Lord, could I just finish up on this point and | 15 | MR SCOFFIELD: My Lords, my Lady, probably the only |
| 16 | the court's point about the distinction between, if | 16 | authorities volume that I will be taking the court to is |
| 17 | I may put it this way, political sovereignty and legal | 17 | the Northern Ireland authorities volume 1, if that is of |
| 18 | sovereignty, because obviously it is important that the | 18 | assistance. |
| 19 | people do not feel in our constitution that they have no | 19 | My Lords, my Lady, the applicants in the Agnew case, |
| 20 | power. Of course they have power; as Dicey said, their | 20 | as you will have seen, are a cross party and a cross |
| 20 | power is a political power to elect members of | 21 | community grouping of politicians, individuals and human |
| 22 | Parliament and it is members of Parliament who, under | 22 | rights organisations who are concerned about how |
| 23 | our constitution, make the law. So the people are not | 23 | withdrawal from the EU will uniquely affect Northern |
| 24 | powerless, they always have the right to get rid of | 24 | Ireland and further concerned, as the lead claimant |
| 25 | their members of Parliament if they want to. | 25 | is in the other case, to ensure that the process of |
| | | | |
| | | 1 | D 110 |
| | Page 110 | | Page 112 |

28 (Pages 109 to 112)

DTI (+44)207 4041400 Page 114

| dealing with the referendum result is both lawful and properly considered. As the court will have seen, there were four issues dealt with by Mr Justice Maguire in the court below, which its common case are broadly reflected in the questions referred for this court. In the time available, I intend to focus my hopefully economical submissions on issues one and two, and within those contexts to avoid duplication of the submissions already made or to be made by parties or interveners in the Miller appeal. If time permits I want to say something very briefly about issue three and to make three short points in response to the Government's case on issue four. My Lords, my Lady, issue one is whether an act of Parliament is required before notice can validly be given to the European Council under Article 50 TEU in light of the provisions of the Northern Ireland Act, lipse. In summary we say that the Northern Ireland Act, | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | part, but I hope to persuade the court that it is really not that complex at all. My Lords, my Lady, the first strand, the removal of rights, the Northern Ireland Act confers rights under EU law on Northern Ireland citizens. It does so by providing that the legislative and executive branches of a Northern Ireland administration have no competence and no power respectively to act in a way which is contrary to EU law. That is sections 6(2)(d) and 24(1)(b) and your Lordships find those at MS 20048 and MS 20068. Those rights can be and have regularly been relied upon by individuals against the Northern Ireland administration in the courts in Northern Ireland to challenge legislation or executive action. Perhaps a recent example is JR 65's application in which the court, this court, refused leave to appeal on Monday of this week, to my client, unfortunately. But, my Lords, those rights can be relied upon in the courts, and the Government accepts that in this way |
|--|---|---|
| like the European Communities Act, is not neutral as to | 20 | the Northern Ireland Act is, in their language, |
| whether the UK is a member of the EU, or whether the | 21 | "a further conduit" for the operation of EU law rights |
| treaties continue to apply in Northern Ireland. There | 22 | within the UK. Those provisions represent the UK |
| are three strands to the argument we advance on that | 23 | Parliament embedding the new legal order of the EU into |
| issue. | 24 | the constitution of Northern Ireland as well as the |
| My learned friend the Advocate General was right to | 25 | constitution of the UK. |
| Page 113 | | Page 115 |
| identify paragraph 80 of our printed case as containing a summary of those strands, and that is to be found at MS 23716. LORD MANCE: Say that again. MR SCOFFIELD: MS 23716, my Lord. The three strands are | 1 2 3 4 5 | Importantly, my Lords, my Lady, the Government also candidly accepts that each of those provisions will become otiose or will beat the air, when the EU treaties no longer apply. We see that, my Lords, my Lady, in the Government's case in Agnew and the court proceedings at |
| these: first, that the removal of rights granted by the | 6 | paragraph 57, and that is at MS 25161. |
| Northern Ireland Act cannot be achieved by the exercise | 7 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. |
| of the prerogative alone. | 8 | MR SCOFFIELD: We submit that those rights cannot lawfully |
| Second, that significant alteration of the | 9 | be defeated, frustrated or stripped of all content by |
| devolution settlement in Northern Ireland also cannot be | 10 | the exercise of the royal prerogative. |
| achieved by the exercise of the prerogative alone. | 11 | Now, the court will immediately see that that |
| Third, that the giving of an Article 50 notice with | 12 | argument is a variation on the central case which is |
| frustrate the purpose and intention of the | 13 | advanced by Lord Pannick for Ms Miller. I gratefully |
| Northern Ireland Act in the context particularly of the | 14 | adopt his submissions on that issue and don't for |
| north/south cooperation established under the Belfast | 15 | a moment pretend that I could improve upon them, but the |
| and British-Irish agreements. | 16 | court has a brief written summary of our response to the |
| I want to make extremely brief submissions about the | 17 | Government's case in Miller, in our printed case at |
| first and second of those two strands, since they are | 18 | paragraphs 92 to 104. We simply add the concise point |
| addressed by other parties who are before the court and | 19 | that the essential purpose of the dualist theory is to |
| I want to develop the third strand in just a little more | 20 | protect the position of Parliament as against the |
| detail. | 21 | executive, rather than, as the Government seeks to have |
| THE PRESIDENT: Right. | 22 | it, to protect the position of the executive against |
| MR SCOFFIELD: My learned friend the Advocate General said | 23 | Parliament. |
| that the third submission was a complex area. If it | 24 | My Lords, my Lady, issue one, the second strand, the |
| seems that way, then I am sure that is a fault on my | 25 | 1_{1} |
| | 23 | alteration of the devolution settlement. This strand of |

www.DTIGlobal.com

Page 116

29 (Pages 113 to 116)

6 one has been taken up by both the Lord Advocate on settlement, and it does so, we submit, in at least two 7 behalf of the Scottish Government and the Counsel ways. 8 General on behalf of the Welsh Government in their Firstly, as we have seen, since the legislative and 9 executive competence of the devolved authorities of submissions to the court, and assuming their submissions Northern Ireland is limited by the operation of EU law, 10 orally are consistent with their written cases, we 11 respectively adopt those submissions also. that is section 6 and section 24 read with 12 THE PRESIDENT: That is very helpful, thank you. section 98(1), the removal of EU law obligations 13 MR SCOFFIELD: But in our submission, my Lords, my Lady, the necessarily increases that competence. The administration will be able to do things which up to now 14 UK Government's contentions on the extent of its 15 it has been precluded from doing by EU law restrictions. prerogative power are, with respect, cavalier, perhaps in this context with both a small C and a large C; in But, secondly, since observing and implementing 16 obligations under EU law is a transferred matter -- that 17 respect, my Lords, my Lady, of the effect which the 18 cessation of the EU treaties will have on the delicately is in a provision we will look at in due course -- the hollowing out of EU law obligations also necessarily 19 balanced constitutional settlement in Northern Ireland. 20 I heard my learned friend Mr Eadie to say in his removes some areas of devolved responsibility. So the administration will not be able to do some things which 21 submissions that real clarity is required in a statute 22 before the constitutional balance is upset. His up to now have been its responsibility. 23 In our submission, such an alteration of the submission, of course, was addressed to what he would 24 devolution settlement in Northern Ireland cannot be suggest is the removal by statute of a well-established

24 25 affected by the executive alone acting by means of the our case is that the removal of EU law obligations as significantly alters the competence of the devolved administration in Northern Ireland. In other words, it materially alters the carefully constructed devolution

they apply in the EU, or as they apply in the UK rather,

| | Page 117 | | Page 119 |
|----|--|----|--|
| 1 | royal prerogative. To do so offends the legal principle | 1 | claimants in Miller that that is to look at the matter |
| 2 | that the law cannot be altered by means of the | 2 | from the wrong end of the telescope. |
| 3 | prerogative alone; much less, we say, can | 3 | But my Lords, my Lady, Mr Eadie is right to say, |
| 4 | a constitutional statute or indeed a constitution as the | 4 | where a constitutional balance is being upset, clear |
| 5 | Northern Ireland Act is. That would require clear | 5 | statutory authority is required. And where what we have |
| 6 | words, even in a later statute, for it to be impliedly | 6 | called a pillar of the constitution set out in the |
| 7 | repealed or become otiose. | 7 | Northern Ireland Act is being removed or hollowed out, |
| 8 | My Lords, my Lady, a distinct but related point in | 8 | that can only be done by an act of Parliament. |
| 9 | this strand is that the use of the prerogative in this | 9 | My Lords, my Lady, the third strand of issue one, |
| 10 | way also circumvents or sidesteps the usual requirements | 10 | this is an argument which is peculiar to the |
| 11 | for an amendment of the devolution scheme. That usually | 11 | circumstances of Northern Ireland, it arises from the |
| 12 | requires either an act of the Westminster Parliament or | 12 | proves of the Northern Ireland Act giving rise to the |
| 13 | an order in council under section 4 of the | 13 | Belfast agreement, which require sorry, giving effect |
| 14 | Northern Ireland Act, converting a reserved matter into | 14 | to the Belfast agreement which require north/south |
| 15 | a transferred matter, or vice versa, and the court will | 15 | cooperation in the context clearly, we say, of continued |
| 16 | find section 4 at MS 20044. | 16 | EU membership. |
| 17 | When one looks at section 4, one sees that any such | 17 | The submission is that continued membership of the |
| 18 | order in council requires not only approval by each | 18 | EU is an integral part of the scheme of the Act, on this |
| 19 | House of Parliament, but also a resolution passed in the | 19 | basis, as well as the two bases just mentioned, and the |
| 20 | Northern Ireland assembly itself, praying in favour of | 20 | royal prerogative cannot be used in a manner |
| 21 | the change, and, given the sensitivity that there is | 21 | inconsistent with that statutory purpose. |
| 22 | with tinkering with the devolution settlement in | 22 | As the court will hopefully have seen from our |
| 23 | Northern Ireland, that resolution also requires to be | 23 | written case, the British-Irish agreement, which we |
| 24 | passed with defined cross-community consent. That is | 24 | accept is unenforceable as a matter of domestic law but |
| 25 | section 4(2)(a) and 4(3). | 25 | which forms the interpretative backdrop to the |
| | Page 118 | | Page 120 |

1 2

3

4

5

25

provisions.

We submit that the use of the prerogative permitting

My Lords, my Lady, that strand of our case on issue

the executive to effect such a change without those protections frustrates the purpose and effect of those prerogative power, and on that, we agree with the 30 (Pages 117 to 120) 8th Floor, 165 Fleet Street London EC4A 2DY

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

| 1 | Northern Ireland Act, expressly envisaged that the UK | 1 | clear from the long title of the Northern Ireland Act |
|----|---|---------------------------------------|---|
| 2 | and the Republic of Ireland would develop close | 2 | that it is to implement specifically the Belfast |
| 3 | cooperation between their countries as partners in the | 3 | agreement. We have seen that. |
| 4 | European Union. Your Lordships, and your Ladyship, will | 4 | LORD MANCE: Not necessarily the whole of it, at any rate, |
| 5 | find that at MS 20373. | 5 | carry on, yes. |
| 6 | That partnership, we say, is necessary because the | 6 | MR SCOFFIELD: The second point, my Lord, is as we know from |
| 7 | Belfast agreement not only envisaged but required, as | 7 | Robinson, this document forms the interpretative |
| 8 | part of the north/south cooperation it established, the | 8 | background to the Act generally, and when we are looking |
| 9 | implementation of EU policies and programmes on | 9 | at constitutional statutes, we are looking at, as we |
| 10 | an all-Ireland basis and a cross-border basis, or at the | 10 | know from Axa, the general message. But perhaps, I hope |
| 11 | very least the possibility of such implementation. | 11 | most convincingly, we will see in a moment or two that |
| 12 | Now, we say that that is a core part of the scheme | 12 | a number of these provisions are expressly referenced |
| 13 | of the Northern Ireland Act, and the purpose for which | 13 | either in the 1998 Act or in legislation flowing from |
| 14 | the north/south machinery has been established in part | 14 | it. I will come to that in just a moment, my Lord. |
| 15 | 5. | 15 | If I might just very briefly run through some of the |
| 16 | My Lords, my Lady, the kernel of our case on that | 16 | provisions of strand two. |
| 17 | point is set out in paragraphs 46 to 51 of our written | 17 | THE PRESIDENT: Yes. |
| 18 | case. It may be helpful if the court would turn briefly | 18 | MR SCOFFIELD: As I have said, my Lords, that begins at MS |
| 19 | to strand two of the Belfast agreement. Your Lordships | 19 | 20354. |
| 20 | will find that in Northern Ireland authorities, | 20 | THE PRESIDENT: Yes. |
| 21 | volume 1, tab 14, beginning at MS 20354. | 21 | MR SCOFFIELD: I will just summarise what we say is the |
| 22 | THE PRESIDENT: 20354? | 22 | effect of a number of the key provisions. Paragraph 1, |
| 23 | MR SCOFFIELD: Yes, my Lord. | 23 | the North South Ministerial Council is a joint executive |
| 24 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. Yes. | 24 | body. It is designed to take action and implement |
| 25 | MR SCOFFIELD: My Lord, Lord Wilson summarised the | 25 | policies on an all-Ireland and cross-border basis. At |
| | Page 121 | | Page 123 |
| 1 | Government's case on this yesterday as being that the | 1 | paragraph 3(iii), it is required to meet in |
| 2 | Northern Ireland Act does not carry this issue far | 2 | an appropriate format to consider institutional and |
| 3 | enough. That is because we say the Secretary of State's | $\begin{vmatrix} 2\\ 3 \end{vmatrix}$ | cross-sectoral matters, and that includes in relation to |
| 4 | submissions do not read strand two fairly and as | 4 | the EU. |
| 5 | a whole. The North South Ministerial Council is not, as | 5 | Paragraphs 5.3 and 5.4 and paragraph 9, it must make |
| 6 | the Government's case essentially suggests in | 6 | decisions on policies for implementation, both |
| 7 | paragraph 38, it is not merely a talking shop; it is set | 7 | separately in each jurisdiction and on policies and |
| 8 | up as a joint executive body which is required to agree | 8 | action at an all-Ireland and cross-border level to be |
| 9 | and implement policies, including EU policies and | 9 | implemented by the implementation bodies. |
| 10 | programmes on an all-Ireland and cross-border basis. | 10 | Paragraph 11, those implementation bodies will |
| 11 | Now, we say, my Lords, my Lady, that simply cannot | 11 | implement the relevant policies on an all-Ireland and |
| 12 | be done if one part of the island is no longer a part of | 12 | cross-border basis. |
| 13 | the EU. Now, none of that, we say, should be surprising | 13 | Then importantly, we say, at paragraph 17, those |
| 14 | in the context of the Belfast agreement and the | 14 | policies must include EU policies or at the very, very |
| 15 | British-Irish agreement, because the whole context of | 15 | least, it must be possible for those policies to include |
| 16 | those agreements is a commitment to developing | 16 | EU policies. |
| 17 | cooperation, growing closer together and increasing | 17 | So your Lordships, and your Ladyship, see there, the |
| 18 | areas of mutual interest, rather than driving a wedge | 18 | council is to consider the European dimension of |
| 19 | between Northern Ireland and the Republic, but it also | 19 | relevant matters, that is any relevant matter of mutual |
| 20 | emerges, we say, from a simple reading of the text of | 20 | interest under paragraph 1. That must include the |
| 21 | strand two. | 21 | implementation of EU policies and programmes and |
| 22 | LORD MANCE: How do you get this into the | 22 | proposals under consideration in the EU framework. |
| 23 | Northern Ireland Act? | 23 | THE PRESIDENT: The Attorney General made the point that |
| 24 | MR SCOFFIELD: I will come to that in a moment, my Lord; two | 24 | this would still be possible because the Irish Republic |
| 25 | reasons, perhaps three reasons. Firstly, my Lord, it is | 25 | would be in the European Union. |
| | D (65 | | |
| | Page 122 | 1 | Page 124 |

8th Floor, 165 Fleet Street London EC4A 2DY

31 (Pages 121 to 124)

| 1 | MR SCOFFIELD: I respectfully say not, my Lord, and that is | 1 | to be a further agreement after this to establish the |
|--|--|--|---|
| 2 | why we say the Government's case and indeed the | 2 | six implementation bodies, but we say, looking at this |
| 3 | Attorney's case does not read strand two as a whole, | 3 | statute, the implementation of EU policies and |
| 4 | because in paragraph 17, when one is talking about the | 4 | programmes on a joint all Ireland basis is clearly |
| 5 | implementation of EU policies and programmes, that is | 5 | a core part of the North South Ministerial Council's |
| 6 | a reference back, we say, to paragraphs 1, 5, 9 and 11. | 6 | functions set out in part 5, and it is therefore likely |
| 7 | Implementation in this context does not mean | 7 | to form a significant element of the work of several, if |
| 8 | implementation in one jurisdiction only, it plainly | 8 | not all, of the implementation bodies which were |
| 9 | means implementation at an all Ireland and cross border | 9 | required to be established by the agreements, and which |
| 10 | level. | 10 | were in fact established by the implementation bodies' |
| 11 | We see that phrase repeated a number of times | 11 | order which I have just mentioned. |
| 12 | through strand two. | 12 | So the point could rest there, we say, on the basis |
| 13 | We say, respectfully, that is the key flaw in the | 13 | of the 1998 Act, but it is strengthened, we submit, when |
| 14 | Government's case. They say it is fine, there will | 14 | one has regard to the establishment of the special EU |
| 15 | still be things of mutual interest to talk about, but | 15 | programmes body, which was one of the few implementation |
| 16 | they don't appreciate the executive nature of the North | 16 | bodies agreed, north and south, and which was |
| 17 | South Ministerial Council and the implementation bodies | 17 | specifically set up by the 1999 order. |
| 18 | which follow on, and that they are required to implement | 18 | Its functions are to administer EU programmes both |
| 19 | policies each side of the border. Finally | 19 | north and south of the border, to assist both |
| 20 | LORD SUMPTION: Which provisions of the Northern Ireland do | 20 | governments in continuing negotiations with the EU |
| 21 | you say that this point assists in interpreting? | 21 | commission about future programmes, and indeed whose |
| 22 | MR SCOFFIELD: My Lord, part 5 of the Northern Ireland Act | 22 | current work involves programmes extending into 2020. |
| 23 | deals with the north/south machinery and architecture, | 23 | So, my Lords we say if there was ever any choice on |
| 24 | and indeed in answer to your Lordship's question and | 24 | the part of the North South Ministerial Council to leave |
| 25 | that of my Lord, Lord Mance a few moments ago, these | 25 | EU policies to one side, we say that is an incorrect |
| | Page 125 | | Page 127 |
| | | | |
| 1 | provisions are referred to and we say given statutory | 1 | reading of strand two but if there was ever such |
| 1 | provisions are referred to and we say given statutory effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in | 1 | reading of strand two, but if there was ever such a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative |
| 2 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in | 2 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative |
| 2 3 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the | 2 3 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we |
| 2 3 4 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships | 2 3 4 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory |
| 2 3 4 5 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is | 2 3 4 5 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section $52(c)(5)$ of the | 2 3 4 5 6 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines | 2 3 4 5 6 7 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to | 2 3 4 5 6 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies Northern Ireland order 1999, and the court finds that at | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement makes absolutely clear that all of the arrangements hang |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies Northern Ireland order 1999, and the court finds that at MS 20253. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement makes absolutely clear that all of the arrangements hang together and are interlocking and interdependent. Your |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies Northern Ireland order 1999, and the court finds that at MS 20253. THE PRESIDENT: With the exception of paragraphs 5 and 11, | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement makes absolutely clear that all of the arrangements hang together and are interlocking and interdependent. Your Lordships see that reference at paragraph 5 of the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies Northern Ireland order 1999, and the court finds that at MS 20253. THE PRESIDENT: With the exception of paragraphs 5 and 11, the only reference you are telling us is in is it | $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ \end{array} $ | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement makes absolutely clear that all of the arrangements hang together and are interlocking and interdependent. Your Lordships see that reference at paragraph 5 of the declaration of support, MS 20343 to 20344. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies Northern Ireland order 1999, and the court finds that at MS 20253. THE PRESIDENT: With the exception of paragraphs 5 and 11, the only reference you are telling us is in is it a statutory instrument, or is it does it have the | $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ 21\\ \end{array} $ | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement makes absolutely clear that all of the arrangements hang together and are interlocking and interdependent. Your Lordships see that reference at paragraph 5 of the declaration of support, MS 20343 to 20344. So, my Lords, even if breaking faith with these |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies Northern Ireland order 1999, and the court finds that at MS 20253. THE PRESIDENT: With the exception of paragraphs 5 and 11, the only reference you are telling us is in is it a statutory instrument, or is it does it have the force of a statute, the regulation? | $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\3\\4\\5\\6\\7\\8\\9\\10\\11\\12\\13\\14\\15\\16\\17\\18\\19\\20\\21\\22\end{array} $ | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement makes absolutely clear that all of the arrangements hang together and are interlocking and interdependent. Your Lordships see that reference at paragraph 5 of the declaration of support, MS 20343 to 20344. So, my Lords, even if breaking faith with these agreements is something which as a matter of domestic |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies Northern Ireland order 1999, and the court finds that at MS 20253. THE PRESIDENT: With the exception of paragraphs 5 and 11, the only reference you are telling us is in is it a statutory instrument, or is it does it have the force of a statute, the regulation? MR SCOFFIELD: It is a statutory instrument made under the | $\begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ 21\\ 22\\ 23\\ \end{array}$ | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement makes absolutely clear that all of the arrangements hang together and are interlocking and interdependent. Your Lordships see that reference at paragraph 5 of the declaration of support, MS 20343 to 20344. So, my Lords, even if breaking faith with these agreements is something which as a matter of domestic law, Parliament can do, it can amend the 1998 Act, it |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | effect and essentially incorporated into part 5 in a number of statutory provisions in or under the Northern Ireland Act. So if I can give your Lordships a number of brief references, paragraph 5 of strand 2 is referred to in section 52(c)(5) of the Northern Ireland Act, that is MS 20105. That defines the obligation on ministers in Northern Ireland to participate in the North South Ministerial Council. It is not a matter of choice; they are obliged to operate these arrangements. Paragraph 11, of strand two is referred to in sections 53(5) and 55(5), that is MS 20106 and 20107. That defines the purpose of the implementation bodies. Then the scheme generally is referred to in article 2(2) of the north/south cooperation implementation bodies Northern Ireland order 1999, and the court finds that at MS 20253. THE PRESIDENT: With the exception of paragraphs 5 and 11, the only reference you are telling us is in is it a statutory instrument, or is it does it have the force of a statute, the regulation? MR SCOFFIELD: It is a statutory instrument made under the Northern Ireland Act, my Lord, giving effect to it, | $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\3\\4\\5\\6\\7\\8\\9\\10\\11\\12\\13\\14\\15\\16\\17\\18\\19\\20\\21\\22\\23\\24\end{array} $ | a choice, that choice has now gone by the legislative choice set out in the 1999 order. My Lords, my Lady, we say the work of this particular body and the statutory functions which have been assigned to it will essentially evaporate in the event that the UK and Northern Ireland leave the EU. It is not sufficient to say, as the Government does, that those who staff the body may still have some interesting things to talk about. These are bodies, see strand 2, paragraph 11, which must have a clear operational remit and actually implement policies on an all-Ireland, all-island, and cross-border basis. We say, my Lords, that this is not a matter of small moment. As the court will recall, the Belfast agreement makes absolutely clear that all of the arrangements hang together and are interlocking and interdependent. Your Lordships see that reference at paragraph 5 of the declaration of support, MS 20343 to 20344. So, my Lords, even if breaking faith with these agreements is something which as a matter of domestic law, Parliament can do, it can amend the 1998 Act, it can make clear that the North South Ministerial Council |

www.DTIGlobal.com

32 (Pages 125 to 128)

| 1 | two, it can amend or scrap the implementation bodies' | 1 | say that it is, and on this issue we are supported again |
|----------|---|----------|---|
| 2 | order or parts of it; the point we make is that that is | 2 | by the Lord Advocate, and again I adopt the Lord |
| 3 | something that must be done again by legislation, | 3 | Advocate's submissions in his written case and hope to |
| 4 | because otherwise legislation of constitutional | 4 | confine my submissions accordingly. |
| 5 | significance would be frustrated or defeated by the | 5 | Two brief introductory points, although as I see the |
| 6 | effects of an Article 50 notice without parliamentary | 6 | time, it may be two brief final points. |
| 7 | sanction. | 7 | THE PRESIDENT: I am afraid it might. |
| 8 | My Lords, before I move on to issue two, there is | 8 | MR SCOFFIELD: The first is this, my Lord: there is nothing |
| 9 | one further discrete submission I want to make in | 9 | heretical about a contention, particularly in a largely |
| 10 | response to the Government's case on the devolution | 10 | unwritten constitution such as ours, that |
| 11 | statutes. The Advocate General took a very broad brush | 11 | a constitutional convention may be a constitutional |
| 12 | approach to the devolution statutes, and said under each | 12 | requirement, even if it is not strictly a matter of |
| 13 | of them, foreign relations are expressly reserved and | 13 | constitutional law. In fact, my Lords, my Lady, that is |
| 14 | that the devolved legislatures have no competence in | 14 | an entirely orthodox view and it is covered in |
| 15 | relation to them, and that therefore they can have | 15 | paragraphs 20 to 22 of the Lord Advocate's written case |
| 16 | nothing to say about the exercise of the foreign affairs | 16 | and paragraphs 122 to 123 of our written case. |
| 17 | prerogative. We say that in Northern Ireland that is | 17 | Conventions are non-legal rules but they may |
| 18 | not a correct starting point as a matter of law, and in | 18 | nonetheless be rules which are fundamental to the |
| 19 | any event the conclusion does not follow from the | 19 | operation of the constitution, and the court has seen |
| 20 | premise. | 20 | the reference to the Canadian case, the Canadian Supreme |
| 21 | Can I just give your Lordships a reference to | 21 | Court case, re a resolution to amend the constitution, |
| 22 | paragraph 3 of schedule 2 of the Northern Ireland Act, | 22 | which we respectfully commend on that issue. |
| 23 | which your Lordships will find at and your Ladyship will | 23 | The final point, my Lords, is this. There is |
| 24 | find, MS 20154. That makes clear that there are certain | 24 | a temptation to rush to the endpoint on this question |
| 25 | elements of international relations which are | 25 | and ask what the result would be if Parliament |
| | | | |
| | Page 129 | | Page 131 |
| 1 | transferred to the Northern Ireland authorities. | 1 | legislated, in the absence of legislative consent from |
| 2 | So carved out of the general accepted matter of | 2 | one or more of the devolved legislatures, and indeed |
| 3 | international relations are north/south cooperation in | 3 | that is how the Attorney General for Northern Ireland |
| 4 | relation to policing; the exercise of legislative powers | 4 | has framed the issue, perhaps for presentational |
| 5 | to give effect to the north/south arrangements and | 5 | reasons, but we are, we say, at this stage a long way |
| 6 | agreements of implementation bodies; the observance and | 6 | off that point. |
| 7 | implementation of obligations under the British-Irish | 7 | If legislative consent is sought, it may be granted |
| 8 | agreement; and effectively all of part 5 of the Act; and | 8 | and certainly there would be likely to be, as Mr Gordon |
| 9 | also observing and implementing obligations under EU | 9 | says in his submissions, engagement between the |
| 10 | law. | 10 | executive and Parliament and the devolved |
| 10 | So these are all areas of international relations | 11 | administrations. What we are asking the court to do at |
| 12 | which are not accepted and which are therefore | 12 | this stage is simply to clarify whether and how the |
| 12 | transferred. | 13 | convention is engaged, and the central case that we make |
| 13 | But even assuming that international relations was | 13 | on that, as you will see in our written case, is that |
| 14 | entirely an accepted matter under the | 14 | this is an obligation on the executive to put Parliament |
| 15 | Northern Ireland Act, that says nothing about the power | 15 | in the position where it is informed on that issue. |
| 10 | of the Westminster Parliament in that act to displace or | 17 | My Lords, I am sure that my learned friend the Lord |
| 17 | abrogate the prerogative. | 18 | Advocate will have much more to say on that question. |
| 18 | My Lords, my Lady, issue two arises only if the | 18 | My Lords, I see that I've got through about |
| 20 | court determines in this reference or in the Miller | 20 | two-thirds of a speaking note that I had prepared. Time |
| | | 20 | |
| 21 | appeal that an Act of Parliament is required to authorise the giving of an Article 50 potice | 21 22 | has defeated me. In the admittedly unlikely event that the court is overwhelmed with suspense about what the |
| 22 | authorise the giving of an Article 50 notice. | | the court is overwhelmed with suspense about what the |
| 23 24 | The further question is whether that is | 23 | remainder of what my submissions would be, or if it |
| 24 25 | a constitutional requirement in the United Kingdom, that | 24 25 | otherwise thinks it would be helpful, I am happy to |
| 23 | the legislative consent convention be complied with. We | 23 | provide the full speaking note to the court and to my |
| | Page 130 | | Page 132 |
| | ~ | | 5 |

www.DTIGlobal.com

33 (Pages 129 to 132)

| 1 | | 1 | |
|----------|---|---------------------------------------|---|
| 1 | learned friends. | | indeed that has been historically part of the problem in |
| 2 | THE PRESIDENT: If you could make arrangements to do that | $\begin{vmatrix} 2\\ 2 \end{vmatrix}$ | Northern Ireland, and it was to obtain that very consent |
| 3 | when we rise or tomorrow, that would be fine. | 3 | of the governed that the Good Friday agreement was |
| 4 | MR SCOFFIELD: I will do that. I am very grateful, my Lord. | 4 | arrived at, so that institutions, political institutions and the ultimate question of which country Northern |
| 5 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much indeed. I am sorry | | · · · |
| 6 7 | about the attenuated time. Thank you very much indeed, | 6 7 | Ireland should be a part of, whether it is part of the |
| | Mr Scoffield. Mr Lavery. | | United Kingdom or a united Ireland, was determined and |
| 8 9 | Submissions by MR LAVERY MR LAVERY: My Lady, my Lords, I appear on behalf of the | | looked at. |
| 9 10 | appellant Raymond McCord, with Mr Fegan, and our | 10 | That is the Supreme Court Quebec secession |
| 10 | position is one which goes further than my friend, and | 10 | reference, paragraph 77 of our printed case, but |
| 11 | in fact in some respects is contrary to it, because we | 12 | paragraph 74, it looks at this question of this is distinct before we even look at the Good Friday |
| 12 | say that as a matter of the constitution of the | 12 | - |
| 13 | United Kingdom, that it would be unconstitutional to | 13 | agreement, my Lords, my Lady, that when one is looking at a federal system, which Canada is, and arguably |
| 14 | withdraw from the EU without the consent of the people | 14 | England, Scotland and Wales may be, that the notion that |
| 15 | of Northern Ireland and we say that for two reasons. | 15 | a majority in one region may simply trump a majority in |
| 10 | First of all, being part of the EU is part of the | 17 | another is not a fair reflection of what a modern |
| 17 | constitutional settlement which in some respects | 17 | |
| 18 | overlaps with the arguments made by my learned friend. | 10 | democratic society should do. Paragraph 74, the Canadian courts looked at this |
| 20 | But we say, secondly, that there has been a transfer of | 20 | question in the case of the Quebec secession |
| 20 21 | sovereignty by virtue of the Good Friday agreement, the | 20 | reference sorry, my Lords, my Lady, paragraph 73, |
| 21 | Downing Street declaration and section 1 of the | 21 | first of all, they say that in looking at the underlying |
| 22 | Northern Ireland Act, so that in fact the people of | 22 | principles of what a constitution should look like, that |
| 23 24 | Northern Ireland now have sovereignty over any kind of | 23 | it should be animated by the whole of the constitution, |
| 24 25 | constitutional change, rather than Parliament. | 24 | including the principles of federalism, democracy and |
| 23 | constitutional change, rauter than Farnament. | 23 | including the principles of redefansin, democracy and |
| | Page 133 | | Page 135 |
| 1 | The notion that Parliament is supreme, that it has | 1 | constitutionalism. |
| 2 | primacy is now gone. There have been various dicta from | 2 | At paragraph 74, then, another extract from the same |
| 3 | your Lordships, including Lord Mance in Axa, about a law | 3 | case is set out, and it looks at the a negotiation |
| 4 | which might discriminate against red-headed people, and | 4 | process which they say should take place if there is |
| 5 | of course the dicta from Lord Steyn and Hoffmann in | 5 | a conflict between majorities in a federal system. And |
| 6 | Jackson, that the Lords would have to intervene if | 6 | that negotiation process, precipitated by a decision of |
| 7 | Parliament were to act in a way which the court might | 7 | a clear majority of the population of Quebec, on a clear |
| 8 | regard to be unlawful or unconstitutional. | 8 | question to pursue secession, would require the |
| 9 | What is supreme, my Lords and my Lady, is the rule | 9 | reconciliation of various rights and obligations by the |
| 10 | of law, in my respectful submission, and in interpreting | 10 | representatives of the two legitimate majorities, namely |
| 11 | what the rule of law is, it is useful to take a look at | 11 | the clear majority of the population of Quebec, and the |
| 12 | some of the Canadian cases, which, although there is | 12 | clear majority of Canada as a whole, whatever that may |
| 13 | a written constitution in Canada, which the UK of course | 13 | be. |
| 14 | does not have, looked at areas where the constitution | 14 | There can be no suggestion that either of these |
| 15 | did not apply. | 15 | majorities trumps the other political majority, that |
| 16 | Some extracts from the cases are set out in our | 16 | does not act in accordance with the underlying |
| 17 | printed case and for time reasons, I wonder could | 17 | constitutional principles we have identified, puts at |
| 18 | I refer your Lordships and my Lady to that; it is core | 18 | risk the legitimacy of the exercise of these rights. |
| 19 | volume 1 of the McCord case, it is a very small binder. | 19 | What we say, my Lady, my Lords, is that that is in |
| 20 | THE PRESIDENT: Thank you. | 20 | the context of a federal system. But what section 1 of |
| 21 | MR LAVERY: And the Quebec secession case. First of all, | 21 | the Northern Ireland Act does is it puts Northern |
| 22 | my Lords, my Lady, one of the principles which is | 22 | Ireland's place within the United Kingdom on a voluntary |
| 23 | extracted by the Canadian cases is that the consent of | 23 | basis. It is more in the nature of confederalism than |
| 24 | the governed is a value that is basic to our | 24 | federalism. To equate the devolution structure of |
| 25 | understanding of a free and democratic society, and | 25 | Northern Ireland with the other devolution arrangements |
| | Page 134 | | Page 136 |
| | | | 0 |

34 (Pages 133 to 136)

| 1 | for Scotland and Wales does no justice to history, and | 1 | part of the UK or to join a united Ireland, what are the |
|----|--|----|---|
| 2 | does no justice to the right of the people of Ireland to | 2 | areas of legislation which the people of Northern |
| 3 | self-determination, as set out in the Anglo-Irish | 3 | Ireland under this have? Where does it all end? |
| 4 | agreement, the Good Friday agreement, and does no | 4 | MR LAVERY: We say, my Lord, that every other section of the |
| 5 | justice to the principle of consent which is enshrined | 5 | Northern Ireland Act, and if one looks at legislative |
| 6 | in section 1 of the Northern Ireland Act. Section 1 of | 6 | consent motions, they simply divvy up legislative |
| 7 | the Northern Ireland Act enshrines, we say, is | 7 | consequences between Westminster and the Northern |
| 8 | a statutory expression of both of these principles. | 8 | Ireland assembly and have no real impact upon the point |
| 9 | When you look at it, which it is in Northern Ireland | 9 | which we are making, which is that the ultimate right, |
| 10 | volume 1, one can see my Lords, Northern Ireland | 10 | the ultimate sovereignty has transferred by virtue of |
| 11 | authorities, volume 1, tab 3. | 11 | section 1. One doesn't need to look at, as I say, |
| 12 | LORD KERR: 20021. | 12 | simply this divvying up of legislative competencies. |
| 13 | MR LAVERY: I am very grateful, my Lord. | 13 | I am not sure if I answered my Lord's question. |
| 14 | THE PRESIDENT: Is this the status of Northern Ireland, | 14 | THE PRESIDENT: I was simply going to say subsection (2), |
| 15 | 20044. | 15 | I suppose, could be said to be another example of |
| 16 | MR LAVERY: Section 1 we say first of all, what the court | 16 | a statutory provision which actually says what happens |
| 17 | should take from section 1 is it is declaratory and | 17 | as a result of a referendum or, in this case, a poll. |
| 18 | says: | 18 | MR LAVERY: The context of that, we say, is important, |
| 19 | "It is hereby declared Northern Ireland in its | 19 | my Lord, and to the extent that the United Kingdom has |
| 20 | entirety remains a part of the United Kingdom and shall | 20 | no written constitution, we say that the Good Friday |
| 21 | not cease to be so without the consent of a majority of | 21 | agreement now forms a written part of the constitution |
| 22 | the people of Northern Ireland." | 22 | of Northern Ireland, and unlike my friend, we say that |
| 23 | So there is a transfer there of power, of | 23 | it is binding, parts of it, not all of it but certainly |
| 24 | sovereignty, over the ultimate question, from | 24 | that section of it that deals with constitutional issues |
| 25 | Parliament, we say, to the people of Northern Ireland. | 25 | is binding, it is a binding arrangement. As a matter of |
| 23 | i amanent, we suy, to the people of Northern Related. | | |
| | Page 137 | | Page 139 |
| | | | |
| 1 | We say it is not simply the ultimate question, which has | 1 | constitutional law, in that it may derive its legitimacy |
| 2 | been transferred, but it is all rights of | 2 | from the rule of law and what has been agreed between |
| 3 | self-determination up until that point. | 3 | the parties, between Britain and Ireland and between |
| 4 | That is the unique distinguishing feature of | 4 | Britain and Northern Ireland, it derives legitimacy from |
| 5 | Northern Ireland well, perhaps there are two | 5 | that. But it also derives legitimacy as |
| 6 | distinguishing features. I will look at section 2 in | 6 | an international agreement, a binding international |
| 7 | a moment. But first of all, the voluntary basis upon | 7 | agreement which has been incorporated into UK domestic |
| 8 | which the people of Northern Ireland remain part of the | 8 | law by virtue of section 1. |
| 9 | United Kingdom, and secondly, that we share power and | 9 | My Lords, if I can just turn very briefly to that |
| 10 | share sovereignty in respect of the all-Ireland | 10 | agreement, it appears at volume 1, tab 14, 20342 and the |
| 11 | implementation bodies. That is unique to Northern | 11 | constitutional issues which are set out, they are, it |
| 12 | Ireland and does not exist anywhere else. | 12 | must be said, set out initially in what is what may |
| 13 | Subsection (2) says: | 13 | be described as binary terms, but what I would say to |
| 14 | "But if the wish expressed by a majority in such a | 14 | the court is there is very little about Northern Ireland |
| 15 | poll is that Northern Ireland should be part of the | 15 | that can be described in a binary basis. |
| 16 | United Kingdom and form part of a united Ireland, the | 16 | Take the applicant, my client, for instance, he is |
| 17 | Secretary of State shall lay before Parliament such | 17 | a Protestant from north Belfast, he is a victim of the |
| 18 | proposals to give effect to that wish as may be agreed." | 18 | Troubles, he is a victims' rights campaigner. He is |
| 19 | Again, my Lords, my Lady, we say that is | 19 | here, has always attended court with his friend who |
| 20 | an expression of the voluntary basis that the people of | 20 | a Catholic. But his son was murdered by loyalist |
| 21 | Northern Ireland remain part of the United Kingdom. | 21 | paramilitaries. He regards himself as British, although |
| 22 | LORD WILSON: Insofar as you are saying that section 1 | 22 | many people in Britain may regard him as Irish. It is |
| 23 | confers on the people of Northern Ireland the say in | 23 | a complex situation, my Lords, my Lady, northern |
| 24 | respect of legislation, and we certainly see that it | 24 | Ireland, and there is a complex constitutional |
| 25 | confers a power in respect of the decision to remain | 25 | settlement. |
| | Daga 129 | | Page 140 |
| | Page 138 | | Page 140 |

35 (Pages 137 to 140)

| 1 It would be very disturbing for the people of 1 wishes. 2 Northern Ireland & creating in the Hearts as sugged in 1 wishes. 3 the Good Tricky agreement were not binding to some 3 1 wishes. 4 extent, did not have constitutional status. 4 Northern Healtod Ac could be repeated and I would refer 5 Lord Hoffmann in Rohinson at paragraph 13, 5 in the remarks made by I out Demning in the Headback on the propeid by charts be the indernitors, and he said 6 page 3286, refers to the fact that a garcement should 6 case where he referred to whether on ecould repeal the agreement and the purpose 10 made astinand interpretation of section 1 of the Act 9 but he sub the indernitorus, and here a written 12 as ort of device employed by courts here in 13 expression of said fave everi dhate has back price astatuse? 13 expression of said fave everi dhate boass in fouring your Londships very quickly to 13 terms the triggering 0/ Arise's 0 would impede that 14 there onstitutional issues, and there are astimply five of 20 the submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 14 there was no provision within the Good Friday agreement has 11 theastwas on the content thit is has ber agreeme | | | | |
|--|----|---|-----|--|
| 3 the Good Friday agreement were not hinding to some 3 it would be untiminable that section 1 of the 4 extent, did not have a constitutional status. 4 Nothern Reland Act could be repealed and I would refer 6 page 3286, refers to the fact that the agreement should 6 acce where he referred to wheller one could repeal the 7 acce where he referred to wheller one could appeal the acce where he referred to wheller one could appeal the 8 but in Kohmson itsoff, my Lords, my Lady, the court 8 it would be untiminable for such maters to be repealed 9 made a strained interpretation of section 1, acce where he referred to wheller one court would look at it 11 or device employed by courts then the ary antime 11 but the such as the such and that ever dith mappen in terms of the 12 be taken back," and we sy spection 1 is a statury is a theorize and prove maters. in the such as a dith and the propeed that 13 consent. 13 expression of flat.my Lords, my Lady, my Lords, my Lady my Lords is the transk sous appective flat. 14 terms and prove mitma mitmable be associant 16 and brocant acce where he estary the device one photo that. 16 consent. 11 the constitutional status. the basis | 1 | It would be very disturbing for the people of | | wishes. |
| 4 extent, did not have a constitutional status. 4 Northern Reland Act could be repealed and i would refir 5 Lord Hoffmann in Robinson interfield in the paragraph 13, is is in the remarks made by Lod Deminison, and he said 7 be looked at in terms of interpretation of section 1, 7 acts which give power beck to the dominison, and he said 9 made a strained interpretation of section 1, 7 acts which give power beck to the dominison, and he said 10 in order to give effect to the agreement and the purpose in the phrase he used. What has been given away cannot 12 a sort of device employed by courts that have a written 12 be taken back. "Most how sequences is a statuncy 13 constitution. It is a device employed by courts hare in 13 expression of stat ruy tords, ruy Lady, and in those 14 this jurisdiction in terms of looking at the European 14 terms the triggering of Article 50 would impede that 15 Convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis 16 consumant and the principle of 16 use so to and, to the extent that it has been argued 17 THE INERSIDENT: That you very much indeed, Mr Lavey. 18 HT could bring yery quickly to 17 THE PRESIDENT: Word Pares | | | | |
| 5 Lord Hoffmann in Robinson a paragraph 13. 5 to the centure made by Locd Denning in the Blachbarn 6 page 3286, refers to the fact that the agreement should 6 case where he referred to whether one could repeal the 7 acts which give power back to the dominions, and he said 1 8 but in Robinson itself, my Lords, my Lady, the court 8 10 in order to give effect to the agreement and the purpose 10 European arrangements, then the court would lock at it 11 of the agreement - in a purposive general way. That is 11 but in k chirson of locking at the European 12 as ord device employed by courts that have a written 13 expression of flut, my Lords, my Lady, and in those 13 convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis 16 convention 16 14 this jurisdiction in terms of locking at the European 15 convention 16 convention 14 the cold bring your Lordships very quickly to 16 convention 16 convention 16 upon which the Good Friday agreement should be locked in ERSIDENT: Thank you very much indeed, Mr Lavery. 17 THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much indeed, Mr Lavery. 17 < | | | | |
| 6 page 3286, refers to the fact that the agreement should 6 case where be referred to whether one could repeal the 7 but in Robinson itself, ym Lords, yn Lady, the court 8 rit would be unthinkible for such nutters to be repealed 9 made a strained interpretation of section 1, on purposive general way. That is 8 rit would be unthinkible for such nutters to be repealed 10 in order to give effect to the agreement and the purpose 10 the said that ever did happen in terms of the agreement is not not ever the prass he used, "Mat has been given away cannot 12 a sort of device employed by courts that have a written 13 expression of that rup tords, my Lady, and in hone 14 this jurisdiction in terms of looking at the European 14 terms the triggering of Article 50 would inset that 15 Convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis 16 consent. 16 upon which the Good Friday agreement should be looked 16 consent. 17 at. 17 THE LORD ADVOCATE 10 Mach Advocat. 20 the status of Northem Iteland Save with the consent. 10 THE LORD ADVOCATE 20 21 the status of Northem Iteland Save with the consent. 11 THE LORD ADVOCATE. | | | | * |
| 7 be looked at in terms of interpretation of section 1, 7 acts which give power back to the dominions, and he said 8 but in Robinson itself, my Lords, my Lady, the court 8 it would be unthinkable for seal matters to be repealed 9 made a strained interpretation of section 16 of the Act 9 but he said if that ever dathappen in terms of the 10 in order to give effect to the agreement - in a purposive general way. That is 10 European arrangements, then the court would look at it 11 of the agreement - in a purposive general way. That is 11 but he plans the used. "Mut has been given away cannot 12 a sort of device employed by courts that have a written 11 but he plans the used. "Mut has been given away cannot 13 convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis 13 expression of self determination and the principle of 14 there was no provision within the Good Friday agreement 14 That you very much. 14 there was no provision within the Good Friday agreement 20 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 21 by the coventuring and in fact by Mr Justice Maguin that 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE 21 22 Lord Advocate. 22 may Ladopt my writem casas which le astrained in regit | | | | |
| 8 but in Robinson itself, my Lords, my Lady, the court 8 it would be unthinkable for summatres to be repealed 9 made a strained interpretation of section 16 of the Act 9 but he said if that ever did happen interns of the tempean arrangements, then the court would look at it 11 of the agreement in a purposive general way. That is 10 European arrangements, then the court would look at it 12 a sort of device employed by courts that have a written 13 expression of that, my Lords, my Lady, and in those 14 this jurisdiction in terms of looking at the European 14 terms the triggering of Article 90 would impede that 15 constitution in itsms, so lively out bridly agreement should be looked 16 consent. 16 upon which the Good Friday agreement should be looked 16 consent. 17 THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much indeed, Mr Lavery. 18 HT could bring your Lordships very quickly to 18 Thank you very much. 20 there set out and, to be extent that it has been argued 20 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 21 there was no provision writhin the Good Friday agreement 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE 23 there was no provision writhin the Good Friday agreement which were in the rel | | | | * |
| 9 made a strained interpretation of section 16 of the Act in order to give effect to the agreement i and the purpose in order to give effect to the agreement and the purpose of the agreement - in a purposive general way. That is a sort of device employed by courts that have a written in constitution. It is a device employed by courts that have a written in this is a device employed by courts that have a written in the said if that ever did happen is a statutory constitution. It is a device employed by courts that have a written in the said if that ever did happen is a statutory in the said of that, it is a dark is a statutory in the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of the status of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put it is there beside the principle of consent. 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE Sublisions by THE LORD ADVOCATE the constitutional issues which ensititutional issues which ensitit the following uper, it is is there beside | | - | | |
| 10 in order to give effect to the agreement and the purpose of the agreement - in a purposive general way. That is 10 European arrangements, then the ocurn would look at it 11 a sort of device employed by courts that was a written 14 this jurisdiction in terms of looking at the European 15 constitution. It is a device employed by courts there in 14 the taken had ² , and we say section I is a stututery this jurisdiction in terms of looking at the European 15 constitution suppression of blat, my Lords, my Lord, my Lord | | | | * |
| 11 of the agreement in a purposive general way. That is a sort of device employed by courts that have a written constrution. It is a device employed by courts ther a written this jurisdiction in terms of looking at the European Convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis device employed by courts ther that is the basis of up on which the Good Friday agreement should be looked to the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of at. 11 but the phrase the used, "What has been given away cannot be taken back", and we say chail is the basis of the Good Friday agreement should be looked to the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of the overnment and in fact by Mr Justice Maguire that the load of the very last 11 but the phrase the used, "What has been given away cannot be taken back", and we say such in a statutory expression of self determinian and the principle of consent. 13 is subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put that its context, the is part of the constitutional sizes have to be determined in light of constitutional sizes have to be determined in light of the status of Northern Ireland, and brian, imposed upon the people of consent. 11 THE LORD ADVOCATE is and with the consent of the agreement, when one indepity of its people." 11 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put that its would be wrong it make any change in the status of Northern Ireland, and which was inposed upon the people of consent. 11 THE LORD ADVOCATE is some remarks about the general issue before the court also to atend to the registry of the agreement, when one inore of submissions but Imvite court also to ate | | - | | ** |
| 12 a sort of device employed by courts that have a written 12 be taken back", and we say section 1 is a statutory 13 constitution. It is a device employed by courts here in 13 expression of flat, my Lark, my Lady, and in those 14 this juridiction in terms of looking agreement should be looked 14 terms the trigging of Article 50 would impede that 15 convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis 15 expression of self determination and the principle of 16 upon which the Good Friday agreement should be looked 14 17 THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much indeed, Mr Lavery. 18 If I could bring your Lordships very quickly to 18 Thank you very much. 19 20 the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of 20 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 21 21 these set out and, to the extent that it has been argued 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE 22 Subplementary remarks which I will make today and 22 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 25 THE PRESIDENT: Set principle of consent. 26 THE PRESIDENT: Yes, of course. 23 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadic observed ft | | | | |
| 13 constitution. It is a device employed by courts here in 13 expression of that, my Lords, my Lady, and in those 14 this jurisdiction in terms of looking at the European 14 terms the triggering of Article 30 would impede that 15 Convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis 16 terms the triggering of Article 30 would impede that 16 upon which the Good Friday agreement should be looked 16 consent. 17 If I could bring your Lordships very quickly to 18 THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much. 19 subparagraph (1), sorry, my Lords, it is 20374, where 17 THE NOR DAVOCATE: My Lord Presiden, my Lady, my Lon 20 the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of 21 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE: My Lord Presiden, my Lady, my Lon 21 those set out and, to condentious, if I could direct your 24 may I adopt my written case with the relatively brief 23 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 14 THE LORD ADVOCATE: My Lood Presiden, my Lady, and any Lody, and my Lords, my Lady, and any Lody and my Lords, I am going to make 3 which enshrines the principle of consent. 25 THE LORD ADVOCATE: My Lady and my Lords, my Lady, and any Lords, I am going to make | | | | |
| 14 this jurisdiction in terms of looking at the European 14 terms the triggering of Article 50 would impede that 15 Convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis 15 expression of self determination and the principle of 16 upon which the Good Friday agreement should be looked 16 expression of self determination and the principle of 17 at. 17 THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much. 19 subparagraph (1), sorry, my Lords, it is 20374, where 19 20 the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of 10 21 these set out and, to the extent that it has been argued 11 24 which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 23 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 25 26 Page 141 Page 143 27 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 1 3 usbuclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed the constitutional issues have to be determined in light of 3 issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 3 1 4 THE UNED ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed the atit to constitutional issue | | | | |
| 15 Convention on Human Rights, and we say that is the basis upon which the Good Friday agreement should be looked at. 15 expression of self determination and the principle of onsent. 17 at. 17 THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much indeed, Mr Lavery. 18 If I could bring your Lordships very quickly to subparagraph (1), sorry, my Lords, it is 20374, where the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of the set out and, to the extent that it has been argued the set out and, to the extent that it has been argued the set out and, to the extent that it has been argued the set out and, to the extent that it has been argued the set out and, the tast by Mr Justice Maguire that which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your that into context, that is part of the constitutional issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 17 THE LORD ADVOCATE: My Lord President, my Lady, my Lord may I adopt my written case with the relatively brief supplementary remarks which I will make today and tomorrow. 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eade observed it tomorrow. 26 mate intak is part of the constitutional issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 1 1 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eade observed it to constitutional issues have for determined in light of current constitutional issues have for determined in light of current constitutional issues have for determined in light of current constitutional current constitutional issues which englio of Northern Feland i | | | | |
| 16 upon which the Good Friday agreement should be looked 16 consent. 17 at. 17 THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much indeed, Mr Lavery. 18 If I could bring your Lordships very quickly to 19 subparagraph (1), sorry, my Lords, it is 20374, where 20 the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of 10 Thank you very much. 21 those set out and, to the extent that it has been argued 20 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 22 by the Government and in fact by Mr Justice Maguire that 23 supplementary remarks which I will make today and 23 there was no provision within the Good Friday agreement 24 supplementary remarks which I will make today and 24 which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 25 THE LORD ADVOCATE: 70 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 24 THE ENENDENT: Wes, of course. 24 26 marce 11 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th constitutional issues have to be determined in light of 27 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 28 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to ch | | | | |
| 17 at. 17 HE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much indeed, Mr Lavery. 18 If I could bring your Lordships very quickly to 18 Thank you very much. 19 subparagraph (1), sorry, my Lords, it is 20374, where 10 Lord Advocate. 20 the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of 10 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE. 21 those set out and, to the extent that it has been argued 20 may I adopt my writen case with the relatively brief 22 by the Government and in fact by Mr Justice Magure that 13 supplementary remarks which I will make today and 24 which sets out contentious, if I could direct your 25 THE PRESIDENT: Yes, of course. 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 26 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed it constitutional 3 issues which enstrines the principle of consent. 1 THE PRESIDENT: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed it constitutional issues show to be determined in light of 3 issues which enstrines the principle of consent tore is the status of Northern Ireland asse with the consent of 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed it constitutional issue show to be determined in light of 4 THE PRESIDENT: Nene keyse 5 Some remarka ab | | | | * * * |
| 18 If I could bring your Lordships very quickly to 18 Thank you very much. 19 subparagraph (1), sorry, my Lords, it is 20374, where 19 Lord Advocate. 20 the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of 20 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 21 those set out and, to the extent thit it has been argued 20 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 22 by the Government and in fact by Mr Justice Maguire that ray I adopt my written case with the relatively brief 23 supplementary remarks which I will make today and 21 24 which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 25 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 26 26 Page 141 Page 143 27 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 28 that into context, that is part of the constitutional 2 31 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 29 It at it would be wrong it make any change in 1 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 3 issues which here here hand and and and save with the consent of 6 <t< td=""><td></td><td></td><td></td><td></td></t<> | | | | |
| 19 subparagraph (1), sorry, my Lords, ii is 20374, where 19 Lord Advocate. 20 the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of 20 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 21 those set out and, to the extent that it has been argued 20 THE LORD ADVOCATE THE LORD ADVOCATE 22 by the Government and in fact by Mr Justice Maguire that 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE THE LORD ADVOCATE 23 there was no provision within the Good Friday agreement 23 supplementary remarks which I will make today and 24 which sets out or contentious, if I could direct your 24 THE LORD ADVOCATE THE PRESIDENT: Yes, of course. 25 Lord Advocate. 23 supplementary remarks which I will make today and tomorow. 26 that into context, that is part of the constitutional 2 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 26 that into context, that is part of the constitutional 2 corrent constitutional circumstances. I agree. 4 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th constitutional circumstances. I agree. 5 MR LAVERY: Yes: 5 some remarks about the general issue oberor the court 6 " that it would be wro | | | | |
| 20 the constitutional issues, and there are simply five of 20 Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE 21 those set out and, to the extent that it has been argued 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE: My Lord President, my Lady, my Lord, may I adopt my written case with the relatively brief 22 by the Government and in fact by Mr Justice Maguire that 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE: My Lord President, my Lady, my Lord, may I adopt my written case with the relatively brief 23 which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 23 supplementary remarks which I will make today and 24 which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 24 tomorrow. 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 25 THE PRESIDENT: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 26 Page 141 Page 143 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 26 " that it would be wrong it make any change in 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 27 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 4 I should asy, my Lady and my Lords, I am going to make 26 " that it would be wrong it make any change in 1 The tastus of Northern Ireland, save with the consent of 7 27 The tastus of Northern Ireland, save with the consent t | | | | |
| 21 those set out and, to the extent that it has been argued 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE: My Lord President, my Lady, my Lord 22 by the Government and in fact by Mr Justice Maguire that 22 may I adopt my written case with the relatively brief 23 there was no provision within the Good Friday agreement 23 supplementary remarks which I will make today and 24 which sets out our contentious, if I could diret your 24 tomorrow. 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 25 THE DRD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadle observed the 2 that into context, that is part of the constitutional 2 constitutional issues have to be determined in light of 3 issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadle observed the 4 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 4 I should say, my Lady and my Lords, I am going to make 5 MR LAVERY: Yes: 5 some remarks about the general issue before the court 6 " that it would be wrong it make any change in 6 and then turn to the legislative consent question. 7 On the general issue, others have focused on the 8 effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights 9 | | | | |
| 22 by the Government and in fact by Mr Justice Maguire that 22 may I adopt my written case with the relatively brief 23 there was no provision within the Good Friday agreement 23 supplementary remarks which I will make today and 24 which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 24 tomorrow. 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 25 THE PRESIDENT: Yes, of course. Page 141 1 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 2 that into context, that is part of the constitutional 2 current constitutional issues have to be determined in light of 3 issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 3 current constitutional issues have to be determined in light of 6 " that it would be wrong it make any change in 6 and then turn to the legislative consent question. 7 the status of Northern Ireland, save with the consent of 8 effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights 8 ti ta md it is in the following page, it 1 oth eegreal issue, others have focused on the 9 It is there beople of Northern Ireland, 10 tothe effect of withdrawal on | | | | - |
| 23 there was no provision within the Good Friday agreement which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 23 supplementary remarks which I will make today and tomorow. 24 which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 24 tomorow. 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 25 THE PRESIDENT: Yes, of course. 21 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 23 that into context, that is part of the constitutional issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed th 26 "In that in would be wrong it make any change in 1 constitutional issues have to be determined in light of 3 issues of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 7 On the general issue before the court 3 it and it is in the following page, it 11 to the effect of withdrawal from the European Union or rights 9 It is there beside the principle of consent. 11 10 the sagiorit yof its pacele." 10 we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one 10 the sage all and onthing I have to say is intended to detract from 11 looks at it, and it is in the following page, it < | | | | |
| 24 which sets out our contentious, if I could direct your 24 tomorrow. 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 25 THE PRESIDENT: Yes, of course. Page 141 1 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed the constitutional issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 3 issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 3 4 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 4 5 MR LAVERY: Yes: 5 6 " that it would be wrong it make any change in 6 7 the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 7 8 the majority of its people." 8 9 It is there beside the principle of consent because 9 10 we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one 10 11 toke effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights 12 replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement, 11 13 which was imposed upon the people of Northern 15 14 it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of 14 14 | | | | |
| 25 Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last 25 THE PRESIDENT: Yes, of course. Page 141 Page 143 1 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 2 that into context, that is part of the constitutional 3 issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 4 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 4 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 5 MR LAVERY: Yes: Some remarks about the general issue before the court 6 " that it would be wrong it make any change in 6 and the majority of its people." 9 It is there beside the principle of consent because 9 and othing I have to say is intended to detract from 10 we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one 10 to hese satus inposed upon the people of Northern 12 replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement, 13 which was imposed upon the people of Northern 14 it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of 15 Intenand and Britian, imposed upon the people of Northern <td>23</td> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> | 23 | | | |
| Page 141 Page 143 1 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed the constitutional issues have to be determined in light of 2 that into context, that is part of the constitutional 2 constitutional issues have to be determined in light of 3 issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 3 current constitutional circumstances. I agree. 4 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 4 I should say, my Lady and my Lords, I am going to make 5 MR LAVERY: Yes: 5 some remarks about the general issue before the court 6 " that it would be wrong it make any change in 6 and then turn to the legislative consent question. 7 the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 7 On the general issue, others have focused on the 8 the majority of its people." 8 effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights 9 It is three beside the principle of consent because 9 and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from 10 we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one 10 to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional 11 looks at it, and it is in the following page, it <td>24</td> <td>-</td> <td>24</td> <td></td> | 24 | - | 24 | |
| 1 subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed the constitutional issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 2 that into context, that is part of the constitutional issues which enshrines the principle of consent. 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago, Mr Eadie observed the constitutional issues have to be determined in light of constitutional sizes have to be determined in light of 4 THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status? 4 I should say, my Lady and my Lords, I am going to make 5 MR LAVERY: Yes: 5 some remarks about the general issue before the court 6 " that it would be wrong it make any change in 6 and then turn to the legislative consent question. 7 the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 7 On the general issue, others have focused on the 8 the majority of its people." 8 effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights 9 It is there beside the principle of consent because 9 and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from 10 we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one 10 those submissions but I invite the court also to attend 11 looks at it, and it is in the following page, it 11 11 to the effect of withdra | 25 | Lordships towards subsection (3) and the very last | 25 | THE PRESIDENT: Yes, of course. |
| 2that into context, that is part of the constitutional issues which enshrines the principle of consent.2constitutional issues have to be determined in light of current constitutional circumstances. I agree.4THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status?4I should say, my Lady and my Lords, I am going to make some remarks about the general issue before the court6" that it would be wrong it make any change in " that it would be wrong it make any change in The status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 86and then turn to the legislative consent question.7the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 87On the general issue, others have focused on the effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights9It is there beside the principle of consent because 99and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from those submissions but I invite the court also to attend 1010we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one 1010the signement, the 1985 agreement, 121212replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement, 1312arrangement between the Republic of 141414it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of 1514I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the European Union. If I may simply refer the court to those paragraphs.19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said before. 1918One might ad to those constitutional consequences the effect which withdrawal from the European Union which wap is intend to the principle of consent and | | Page 141 | | Page 143 |
| 2that into context, that is part of the constitutional issues which enshrines the principle of consent.2constitutional issues have to be determined in light of current constitutional circumstances. I agree.4THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status?4I should say, my Lady and my Lords, I am going to make some remarks about the general issue before the court6" that it would be wrong it make any change in " that it would be wrong it make any change in The status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 86and then turn to the legislative consent question.7the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 87On the general issue, others have focused on the effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights9It is there beside the principle of consent because 99and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from those submissions but I invite the court also to attend 1010we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one 1010the signement, the 1985 agreement, 121212replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement, 1312arrangement between the Republic of 141414it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of 1514I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the European Union. If I may simply refer the court to those paragraphs.19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said before. 1918One might ad to those constitutional consequences the effect which withdrawal from the European Union which wap is intend to the principle of consent and | 1 | subclause of that, it is after the semi-colon. To put | 1 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Two days ago Mr Eadie observed that |
| 3issues which enshrines the principle of consent.3current constitutional circumstances. I agree.4THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status?4I should say, my Lady and my Lords, I am going to make5MR LAVERY: Yes:5some remarks about the general issue before the court6" that it would be wrong it make any change in6and then turn to the legislative consent question.7the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of7On the general issue, others have focused on the8the majority of its people."8effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights9It is there beside the principle of consent because9and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from10we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one10those submissions but I invite the court also to attend11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is sa | | - | | |
| 4THE PRESIDENT: Reference to changing the status?4I should say, my Lady and my Lords, I am going to make5MR LAVERY: Yes:5some remarks about the general issue before the court6" that it would be wrong it make any change in6and then turn to the legislative consent question.7the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of7On the general issue, others have focused on the8the majority of its people."8effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights9It is there beside the principle of consent because9and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from10we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one10those submissions but I invite the court also to attend11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland,13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from theEuropean Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given se | | - | | - |
| 5MR LAVERY: Yes:5some remarks about the general issue before the court6" that it would be wrong it make any change in6and then turn to the legislative consent question.7the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of7On the general issue, others have focused on the8the majority of its people."8effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights9It is there beside the principle of consent because9and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from10we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one10those submissions but I invite the court also to attend11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland,13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary | | | | - |
| 6" that it would be wrong it make any change in6and then turn to the legislative consent question.7the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of7On the general issue, others have focused on the8the majority of its people."8effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights9It is there beside the principle of consent because9and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from10we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one10those submissions but I invite the court also to attend11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland,13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20 | | | | |
| 7the status of Northern Ireland save with the consent of 87On the general issue, others have focused on the effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights9It is there beside the principle of consent because9and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from10we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one10those submissions but I invite the court also to attend11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland,13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19would have on the rule of recognition which applies in20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is | | | | - |
| 8the majority of its people."8effect of withdrawal from the European Union on rights9It is there beside the principle of consent because9and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from10we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one10those submissions but I invite the court also to attend11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland,13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord< | | e , e | | |
| 9It is there beside the principle of consent because9and nothing I have to say is intended to detract from10we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one10those submissions but I invite the court also to attend11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland,13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> | | | | |
| 10we say, my Lord, the history of the agreement, when one10those submissions but I invite the court also to attend11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland,13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraph 318paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself.< | | | | · · |
| 11looks at it, and it is in the following page, it11to the effect of withdrawal on the constitutional12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement,12arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland,13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraph 318paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | - | | - | |
| 12replaces the Anglo-Irish agreement, the 1985 agreement, which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland, 1412arrangements by which we in the United Kingdom are governed.13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland, 1413governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is 2019the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is 2120would have on the rule of recognition which applies in 2121given separate status. My submission is that it is to 2221the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord 2223Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| 13which was imposed upon the people of Northern Ireland, it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of13governed.14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraph 318paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| 14it was a joint arrangement between the Republic of14I identify at paragraph 35 and following of my case15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraph 318paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| 15Ireland and Britain, imposed upon the people of Northern15some constitutional consequences of withdrawal from the16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | - |
| 16Ireland, much to unionist disconnect.16European Union. If I may simply refer the court to17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| 17LORD HODGE: One has to read what is said at the end of paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.17those paragraphs.18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is 2019the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is 2120would have on the rule of recognition which applies in 2121given separate status. My submission is that it is to 2221the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord 2223Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | * |
| 18paragraph 3 in the context of what is said before.18One might add to those constitutional consequences19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| 19MR LAVERY: One does. It is said in binary terms but it is19the effect which withdrawal from the European Union20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| 20an addition to the principle of consent and why it is20would have on the rule of recognition which applies in21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| 21given separate status. My submission is that it is to21the United Kingdom. It is a point that my Lord, Lord22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | * |
| 22avoid a scenario like joint sovereignty, like the22Hodge made yesterday about withdrawal altering the23Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the23sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| 23 Anglo-Irish agreement, ever happening again, for the 23 sources of law and not simply the law itself. | | | | |
| | | | | |
| 24 WILLOT UNE PEOPLE OF NORTHERN IFEIAND IN CONSTITUTIONAL 24 LOKD MANCE: Which was the paragraph you said set out | | | | |
| 25 issues to be overridden by Parliament against their 25 THE PRESIDENT: 35. | | | | |
| 25 issues to be overridden by ramament against tilen 25 mil ritesidelivit. 55. | 23 | issues to be overreaden by ramanicilt against them | 2.5 | THE INCOLUCIT. 55. |
| Page 142 Page 144 | | Page 142 | | Page 144 |

36 (Pages 141 to 144)

8th Floor, 165 Fleet Street London EC4A 2DY Day 3

| 1 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is paragraph 35 and following, | 1 | nature of the our representative democracy has changed |
|----------|---|----------|---|
| 2 | my Lord. It is where I identify the | 2 | since the 17th century, and indeed notwithstanding that |
| 3 | LORD MANCE: No, I had the wrong case, I am sorry. | 3 | today, by the will of Parliament, we have four |
| 4 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is at MS 12585, and I identify that | 4 | representative legislatures in the United Kingdom. It |
| 5 | withdrawal and of course this is the point would | 5 | is perhaps not an entirely incidental point that when |
| 6 | deprive legislative, executive and judicial institutions | 6 | the United Kingdom was founded in 1707, it was to |
| 7 | which currently exercise power as regards the | 7 | Parliament and not to the Crown that the power to change |
| 8 | United Kingdom of that power and would mean that none of | 8 | the laws in use in Scotland was given. That is Article |
| 9 | the legislatures and public authorities of the UK would | 9 | 18 of the Act of |
| 10 | operate within the framework, as they currently do, of | 10 | LORD HODGE: Exclusively given? |
| 11 | European Union law. I make some other observations in | 11 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Well, the power was given in terms of |
| 12 | those paragraphs. | 12 | the Acts of Union. |
| 13 | I say that the only body which has the legal power | 13 | LORD HODGE: I thought you said only by the British |
| 14 | to authorise and effect such changes to the | 14 | Parliament. |
| 15 | constitutional law of the United Kingdom, indeed to the | 15 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: It certainly was not given to the Crown. |
| 16 | constitution of the United Kingdom, is the Queen in | 16 | To Parliament and its delegates, and of course |
| 17 | Parliament, and I invite the court to take the view that | 17 | Parliament has through the 1972 Act and through the |
| 18 | the claim by the executive in this case to effect such | 18 | devolution statutes, transferred legislative powers or |
| 19 | changes to the law of the land by an act of the | 19 | acknowledged legislative powers on the part of others. |
| 20 | prerogative is inconsistent with the principles, the | 20 | I say that, if that is correct, then we are talking |
| 21 | constitutional principles, articulated in the Claim of | 21 | about the scope and limits of the prerogative power |
| 22 | Right Act 1689 for Scotland and the Bill of Rights for | 22 | relied on here, and that is quintessentially a question |
| 23 | England and Wales. Those can be found at MS 6358 and | 23 | of law for the court. |
| 24 | MS 4152. | 24 | Can I make clear that I do not contend that there is |
| 25 | That 17th century legislation reflected and enacted | 25 | any speciality of Scots law as regards the prerogative |
| | | | |
| Page 145 | | | Page 147 |
| 1 | in statute what I submit is an imperative rule of | 1 | that affects this case. First of all, the capacity of |
| 2 | constitutional law which sets an outer limit to what may | 2 | the Crown in right of the United Kingdom to engage in |
| 3 | lawfully be done by virtue of the prerogative. The | 3 | relations on the international plane on behalf of the |
| 4 | foreign affairs prerogative does not normally buck up | 4 | United Kingdom is an incident of the Crown in right of |
| 5 | against that imperative rule because of the dualist | 5 | the United Kingdom, and it frankly makes no sense to |
| 6 | approach which we take to international treaties but | 6 | suggest that that might change in the different |
| 7 | when it does, in my submission, the prerogative gives | 7 | jurisdictions of the Union. |
| 8 | way to that imperative rule of our constitution. | 8 | Equally, the limits which Scots law places on the |
| 9 | LORD REED: That is really a crucial proposition. Now, is | 9 | effects which acts of the Crown in the exercise of its |
| 10 | there any authority for saying the one trumps the other? | 10 | foreign affairs prerogative may have within the domestic |
| 11 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Well, I start from the proposition that | 11 | legal order in Scotland are the same limits as |
| 12 | what I call the imperative rule is articulated in | 12 | I understand English law to place on those effects, |
| 12 | statute, the Claim of Right Act 1689, the | 13 | first of all, because Scots law adheres to the dualist |
| 14 | Bill of Rights. But I also respectfully adopt and | 14 | theory, as English law does, and, secondly, because |
| 15 | accept the submissions that have already been made to | 15 | Scots law like English law contains the same limiting |
| 16 | the effect that it reflects a basic constitutional | 16 | rule which I mentioned a moment ago which precludes the |
| 17 | principle of our constitution. | 17 | executive, I say, from changing the law of the land by |
| 18 | Perhaps I can put it this way, that that principle | 18 | an act of the prerogative. |
| 19 | enshrined in the 17th century constitutional statutes | 19 | So, with those remarks on the general question and |
| 20 | | | |
| 20 21 | reflects and flows from a recognition of the proper institutional roles in a representative democracy as | 20 21 | on the relevance of Scots law in relation to the |
| 21 | | | prerogative, let me turn to the question of legislative |
| 22 | regards the law of the land of, on the one hand, the representative legislature and, on the other, the | 22 23 | consent. I say that the executive's claim in this case |
| 23 24 | executive. | 23 | not only misconceives the respective roles of Parliament |
| 24 25 | That remains the case, notwithstanding that the | 24 | and the Crown in relation to the law of the land, but |
| 23 | That remains the ease, notwittistationing that the | 23 | would elide the constitution the mechanism through which |
| | Page 146 | | Page 148 |
| | - | | - |

37 (Pages 145 to 148)

Day 3

| 1 | the question of whether the devolved legislatures, which | 1 | of the Scottish Parliament will lapse, to use Mr Eadie's |
|--|---|---|--|
| 2 | have power to change the law of the land, consent or do | 2 | word. Legislation enacted by the Scottish Parliament |
| 3 | not consent to legislation which has the effect with | 3 | and Scottish Government which depends for their |
| 4 | regard to devolved matters. It would elide the | 4 | operation on the subsistence of applicable European law |
| 5 | mechanism, the legislative consent convent, through | 5 | will become potentially ineffective and one might think |
| 6 | which that consent is treated as an issue of | 6 | for example of the regulations which deal with the |
| 7 | constitutional significance. | 7 | administration of the Common Agricultural Policy. Other |
| 8 | Can I make clear that I do not assert that the | 8 | legislation made by the Scottish Parliament and the |
| 9 | Scottish Parliament has a veto on the decision to | 9 | Scottish Government which cross-refers to EU law will |
| 10 | withdraw the United Kingdom from the European Union. | 10 | have to be considered from the point of view of whether |
| 11 | That decision is ultimately, I say, for the Queen in | 11 | it can operate or can operate as intended when those |
| 12 | Parliament. What I do say is that the question of | 12 | laws no longer apply. |
| 13 | whether the Scottish Parliament consents or does not | 13 | At a constitutional level, withdrawal from the |
| 14 | consent to the effects of withdrawal with regard to | 14 | European Union will effect a significant change on the |
| 15 | devolved matters is, by virtue to the legislative | 15 | legislative competence of the Scottish Parliament and |
| 16 | consent convention, a matter of constitutional | 16 | the executive competence of the Scottish Government. |
| 17 | significance. I will elaborate on that and explain what | 17 | Mr Eadie accepted in response to a question from |
| 18 | I say the position is. | 18 | my Lord, Lord Reed, that section 2(1) of the European |
| 19 | But, ultimately, I say that the approach that | 19 | Communities Act would become redundant on withdrawal. |
| 20 | I invite the court to take reflects the proper | 20 | In my submission, the same is true of section 29(2)(d) |
| 21 | institutional roles of the United Kingdom Parliament on | 21 | of the Scotland Act, which is at MS 4360, section 57(2) |
| 22 | the one hand and the Scottish Parliament on the other, | 22 | of the Scotland Act, which is at MS 4368, and |
| 23 | in a context where the Scottish Parliament has wide | 23 | paragraph 7(2)(a) of schedule 5 to the Scotland Act, |
| 24 | legislative competence and where the effect of | 24 | which is at MS 4379. These are the provisions which |
| 25 | withdrawal from the European Union would be significant, | 25 | limit the competence of the Scottish Parliament and the |
| | | | ····· r |
| | Page 149 | | Page 151 |
| | | | |
| 1 | with regard to devolved matters | 1 | competence of the Scottish Government by reference to EU |
| 1 | with regard to devolved matters. | 1 | competence of the Scottish Government by reference to EU law and the provision which provides that the |
| 2 | In other words, in that context, it is | 2 | law and the provision which provides that the |
| 2 3 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know | 2 3 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, |
| 2 3 4 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those | 2 3 4 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing |
| 2 3 4 5 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament | 2 3 4 5 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved | 2 3 4 5 6 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the United Kingdom Government but also for the devolved | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the reference in my case is a misreference, it should be to |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the United Kingdom Government but also for the devolved legislatures and devolved administrations and I have | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scottland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the reference in my case is a misreference, it should be to number 407 at MS 10379. In the explanatory notes to the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the United Kingdom Government but also for the devolved legislatures and devolved administrations and I have given examples and illustrations at paragraphs 43 to 49 | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the reference in my case is a misreference, it should be to number 407 at MS 10379. In the explanatory notes to the Act it said: |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the United Kingdom Government but also for the devolved legislatures and devolved administrations and I have given examples and illustrations at paragraphs 43 to 49 of my case, but I can perhaps summarise the points in | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the reference in my case is a misreference, it should be to number 407 at MS 10379. In the explanatory notes to the Act it said: "This Act required a legislative consent motion from |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the United Kingdom Government but also for the devolved legislatures and devolved administrations and I have given examples and illustrations at paragraphs 43 to 49 of my case, but I can perhaps summarise the points in this way. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the reference in my case is a misreference, it should be to number 407 at MS 10379. In the explanatory notes to the Act it said: "This Act required a legislative consent motion from the Scottish Parliament on the basis that it contains |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the United Kingdom Government but also for the devolved legislatures and devolved administrations and I have given examples and illustrations at paragraphs 43 to 49 of my case, but I can perhaps summarise the points in this way. First of all, directly affected European law in | $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ 21\\ 22\\ 23\\ 24\\ \end{array} $ | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the reference in my case is a misreference, it should be to number 407 at MS 10379. In the explanatory notes to the Act it said: "This Act required a legislative consent motion from the Scottish Parliament on the basis that it contains provisions applying to Scotland which alter the |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the United Kingdom Government but also for the devolved legislatures and devolved administrations and I have given examples and illustrations at paragraphs 43 to 49 of my case, but I can perhaps summarise the points in this way. | 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the reference in my case is a misreference, it should be to number 407 at MS 10379. In the explanatory notes to the Act it said: "This Act required a legislative consent motion from the Scottish Parliament on the basis that it contains |
| 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | In other words, in that context, it is constitutionally relevant and significant to know whether the Scottish Parliament consents to those effects. It is then for the United Kingdom Parliament to decide, in light of the views of the devolved legislatures and its own assessment, what to do. LORD REED: I should say Mr Wolffe, for those of us at the edges of the room, it would help if you keep your voice up. THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do apologise, my Lord, and I hope the transcript will at least pick up what I am saying. Yesterday, I think it was yesterday, Mr Eadie reminded the court of the magnitude of the task which is presented by withdrawal from the European Union and the United Kingdom Government will, I hope, not dispute the magnitude of the task which withdrawal will present not only for the United Kingdom Parliament and the United Kingdom Government but also for the devolved legislatures and devolved administrations and I have given examples and illustrations at paragraphs 43 to 49 of my case, but I can perhaps summarise the points in this way. First of all, directly affected European law in | $ \begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ 21\\ 22\\ 23\\ 24\\ \end{array} $ | law and the provision which provides that the reservation of international relations has an exception, namely an exception for the observing and implementing of EU law. So I say that at withdrawal those provisions become disabled, to use the word that is in the Claim of Right Act, they become redundant. I say if a bill were to come before the United Kingdom Parliament which changed the competences of the Scottish Parliament or the Scottish Government in these ways, let alone the other effects with regard to devolved competence, then such a bill would engage the legislative consent convention. Can I perhaps draw the court's attention in that regard to the explanatory notes to the Scotland Act 2016. It is quoted in my case at paragraph 76 at the top of page 4, and it appears in the bundle at volume 30, tab 407, MS 10379 and I should say the reference in my case is a misreference, it should be to number 407 at MS 10379. In the explanatory notes to the Act it said: "This Act required a legislative consent motion from the Scottish Parliament on the basis that it contains provisions applying to Scotland which alter the |

38 (Pages 149 to 152)

| 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Weak in a wave and affinities finding the passage wave are efforting to 1 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Server, my Lord. It is quoted in my witten case at MS 1612. 6 LORD WIRSON: Weak networks and the submission for manager a question about in the spont of the page. It is paragraph 76, subparagraph 4, right at the top of the page. It is paragraph 70, subparagraph 4, right at the top of the page. It is paragraph 70, subparagraph 90 ft die explanatory notes. 1 1 10 LADV MALE: Yee, that is what as 10379, a paragraph 90 ft die explanatory notes. 1 1 11 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is paragraph 70, subparagraph 90 ft die explanatory notes. 1 1 11 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is paragraph 70, subparagraph 90 ft die explanatory notes. 1 1 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is paragraph 70, subparagraph 90 ft die explanatory notes. 1 1 13 Indeed merv was Legibalities of the ft file indeed merview as legibalities of the file indeed merview as legibalities of the file indeed merview as legibalities of the file indeed merview indeed mervi | 1 | | | | | |
|--|---|--|---|---|--|--|
| 3 you are referring to. 3 Attimety General has invited this court to answer 4 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Sorty, my Lord. It is quoted in my 4 a question, the Attimety General has invited this court to answer 6 LORD WITSON: Paragraph? 6 legislative correst, a question about 6 LORD WITSON: Paragraph? 6 legislative correst, a question about 7 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Is paragraph ? 6 legislative correst, a question about 8 right at the top of the page. It is paragraph ? 8 age that the approach that the UK Government is taking 11 LADY HALE: Yes, that is what is at 10379, is paragraph ? 10 United Kingdow Parliament, hut, 1 say, of all the 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Inclusion input the source of the | | the executive competence of the Scottish ministers." | 1 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Well, I say that it is germane to the | | |
| 4 THE LORD ADVCATE: Serry, my Lord. It is quoted in my written case at MS 1612. 4 a question, the Attorney General for Notherm Inclued 7 THE LORD ADVCCATE: It is paragraph 96, subparagraph 4, right at the top of the page. It is untargate 90 of the 7 The Ind, MSO: Engraph 76, subparagraph 9 of the explanatory notes. 7 1 | 2 | LORD WILSON: We are having difficulty finding the passage | 2 | 2 it is germane in two ways here. First of all, the | | |
| 5 written care at MS 1612. 6 LORD WILSON: Paragraph 7 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is paragraph 76, subparagraph 4, 8 right at the top of the page. It is paragraph 9 of 10 LADY HALE: Yes, that is what is at 10379, is paragraph 9 of 11 the control was passed. 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lady. 13 Indeed three was a logislative consent motion and 14 the Adv was passed. 15 UDRD MANCE: The Souldard Act 2016 changed the court was passed. 16 UDRD MANCE: The Souldard Act 2016 changed the court was passed. 17 THE LORD DADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lady. 18 LORD MANCE: The Souldard Act 2016 changed the court was passed. 19 THE LORD DADVOCATE: In Souldard Act 2016 changed the court was passed. 10 THE LORD DADVOCATE: In souldard Act 2016 changed the court was passed. 11 the Adv was passed. 12 and the court was passed. 13 logislative consert. 14 CORD MANCE: Weet adv was the the court of the souldard Act 2016 changed the court in the souldard Act 2016 changed the court in the souldard Act 2016 changed the court in the sould act 2016 changed the sould act 2016 changed the court in the sould act 2016 changed the court in the s | 3 | you are referring to. | 3 | Attorney General has invited this court to answer | | |
| 6 LORD WILSON: Paragraph? 6 legislative consent, albeit directed to Northem 7 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Its paragraph 9 of 7 The lord paragraph? 9 explanatory notes. 9 9 10 LADV HALE: Yes, that is valut 3 at 10379, is paragraph 9 of 10 10 10 11 the explanatory notes. 10 11 representative legislatives consent. 11 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Laly. 12 interests are in our constitution protected humph the 14 the At wap pased. 14 LORD MANCE: This exclude At 2016 changed the 16 competences of the Sociab Parliament. 10 10 11 12 17 LORD MANCE: This exclude to Parliament. 10 | 4 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Sorry, my Lord. It is quoted in my | 4 | a question, the Attorney General for Northern Ireland | | |
| 7 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is paragraph 70, subparagraph 4, right at the top for the page. It is paragraph 9 of e explanatory notes. 7 Teland: and 1 also made the submission a few moments is also ago that the approach that the UK Governments is also ago that the approach that the the UK Governments is also ago that the approach that the the UK Governments is also ago that the Approach that the the UK Governments is also ago that the APP opport is of the UK MANCE. The the approach that the app | 5 | written case at MS 1612. | 5 | has invited the court to answer a question about | | |
| 8 right at the top of the page. It is paragraph 9 of the 8 age that the approach that the UK Government is taking 9 cxplanatory notes. 9 here clides not only the proper too of the 11 the explanatory notes. 10 United Kingdon Pharlament, but, I say, of all the 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lady. 11 representative legislatives of the United Kingdon whose 13 Indeed there was a legislative consent motion and 13 legislative consent. 14 the At was passid. 100 DANCE: The social Act, the 16 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Inc. THE LORD ADVOCATE: Inc. 14 19 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Inc. 14 100 21 robe explanatory notes that the Act required 10 1000 MANCE: The social Act, the 19 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Inc. 11 1000 MANCE: The social Act, the 11 22 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 12 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 23 a legislative consent motion: on the basis that it 22 conservation approach that the Act act of 24 robe explanatory notes that the Act required 24 consethave the basis that it | 6 | LORD WILSON: Paragraph? | 6 | legislative consent, albeit directed to Northern | | |
| 9 explanatory notes. 9 here elides not only the proper cole of the 10 LADY HALE: Yes, that is what is at 10379, is paragraph 9 of 10 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lady. 11 13 Indeed there was a beginitative consent motion and 12 14 the Act was passed. 12 15 LORD MANCE: This Act is what? 14 16 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Scottand Act 2016 changed the 17 LORD MANCE: The Act was passed. 16 18 LORD MANCE: The Act the legislative - and the executive 17 19 remover that the Act required 18 20 port that I make is that it is explained to Parlament 18 21 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 20 incorporated into status, and if I could put it this 22 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 20 incorporated into status, and if I could put it this 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 was, in a legal system where the basis role of 24 contains provisions applying to Scotlard Which alter the 25 a legislative consent motion, and the Scotlard Act? 25 | 7 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is paragraph 76, subparagraph 4, | 7 | Ireland; and I also made the submission a few moments | | |
| 10 LADY HALE: Yes, that is what is at 10379, is paragraph 9 of 10 United Kingdom Parliament, but, 1 say, of all the 11 the captantory notes. 11 representative legislatives of the United Kingdom whose 13 Indeed there was a legislative consent motion and 11 12 14 the Act was passed. 13 LORD MANCE: The Act is what? 16 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Social Act 2016 changed the 16 reference, the incorporation of the Sevel convention as 16 reference, the incorporation of the Sevel convention as 16 reference, the incorporation of the Sevel convention as 17 LORD MANCE: Is ace. 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Invode the legislative - and the excurive 18 LORD MANCE: Is ace. 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Invode the Act required 20 20 no point that I make is that it is explained to Parliament 21 neord first and the Bair radie of 21 point that I make is that it is explained to Parliament and 23 way, in a legal system the shair rule of 22 legislative conset motion, on the basis that it 23 way, in a legal system the shair rule of 24 contains provisions applying to Social advich is hif er the 24 recognition in | 8 | right at the top of the page. It is paragraph 9 of the | 8 | ago that the approach that the UK Government is taking | | |
| 11 the explanatory notes. 11 representative legislatives of the United Kingdom whose 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lady. 12 interests are in our constitution protected through the 14 the Act was passed. 12 IDRD MANCE: This Act is what? 15 LORD MANCE: The Soutiand Act 2016 changed the completenes of the Soutian Parity make the submission – 13 registative consert 19 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Soutiand Act 2016 changed the completenes of the Soutian Parity make the submission – 14 LORD MANCE: This Act is what? 10 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Soutian Act quired 16 reference, the incorporated into a law che submission – 19 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative - and the cocuritie 10 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I would certainly make the submission – 20 completence of Soutiab ministers, and of course the cocuritie 10 18 the submission and the submission – 21 point that it is explained to Parliament 21 10 a legislative consert motion as been 21 10000 MANCE: When do you get it form the Soutiah ACT 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament eaacts 22 legislative consert motion of the Soutiah Tharitament and 25 as buy, that has a than of the antion | 9 | explanatory notes. | 9 | here elides not only the proper role of the | | |
| 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lady: 12 interests are in our constitution protected through the 13 Indeed there was a legislative consent motion and 13 legislative consent. 14 LORD MANCE: This Act is what? 15 LORD MANCE: This Act is what? 16 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Scotland Act 2016 changed the 16 reference, the incorporation of the Socuel certainly make the solumission – 16 ORD MANCE: Tase. 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative – and the eccentrice 20 competence of Scotlish ministers, and of course the 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I would extinut, and IT could put it this 21 m the explanatory notes that the Act required 20 law by section 28(8). I would make the submission. Of 22 m the explanatory notes the that the Act required 21 course I have the benefit that the convention has been 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 as w, that hast transformed the juridical status of the 24 convention most motions on the Socued Act? 1 rule from a convention into rule of law. 25 legislative consent motion? You gut it from the Sevel 1 rule from a convention into rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where doyou get the | 10 | LADY HALE: Yes, that is what is at 10379, is paragraph 9 of | 10 | United Kingdom Parliament, but, I say, of all the | | |
| 13 Indeed there was a legislative consent motion and 13 legislative consent. 14 the Act was passed. 15 LORD MANCE: This Act is what? 16 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Scutuand Act 2016 changed the completence of the Scottish Parliament. 16 reference, the incorporation of the Sevel convention as 17 LORD MANCE: This is explained to Parliament. 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I would certainly make the submission – 19 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative and the executive completence of Scottish ministers, and of course the course than the benefit that the convention has been incorporated into statute, and if the submission of course have the benefit that the convention has been incorporated into statute, and if the submission. Of 21 21 contains provisions applying to Scottand which alter the 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the 24 22 legislative competence 1 rule form a convention into a rule of law. 23 legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the 24 23 legislative consent motion? You get if from the Sevel 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the 24 24 convention and from the econtretin the Scottand Acr? | 11 | the explanatory notes. | 11 | representative legislatives of the United Kingdom whose | | |
| 14 the Act was passed. 14 LORD MANCE: This Act is what? 15 LORD MANCE: This Act is what? 15 16 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Scotland Act 2016 changed the competence of the Scottish Parliament. 16 17 LORD MANCE: Thes collard Act 2016 changed the competence of Scottish Parliament. 18 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative – and the executive competence of Scottish ministers, and of course the course that the control tool. 18 20 point that I make is that it explained to Parliament 20 21 point that I make is that it explained to Parliament 21 22 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 21 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 24 contains provisions applying to Scotland which after the 25 25 legislative consent motion? You get it from the Sevel 14 14 26 order about that, Dean of Faculty, because 26 3 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I worder about that, Dean of Faculty, because 3 4 tit allos about recognising contention, the Scould Act? 14 5 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I worder about that, Dean of Faculty, because 3 <td< td=""><td>12</td><td>THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lady.</td><th>12</th><td>interests are in our constitution protected through the</td></td<> | 12 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lady. | 12 | interests are in our constitution protected through the | | |
| 15 LORD MANCE: This Act is what? 15 you in the last instance rely on the Sociland Act, the 16 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Sociland Act 2016 changed the 16 reference, the incorporation of the Sevel convention as 17 Competence of Socilar Mainament. 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I see. 18 19 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I see. 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I would excitating make the submission Of 21 point that I make is that it is explanatory notes that the Act required 20 incorporated into statute, and if I could put it this 22 in the system of the Sociland which after the 21 incorporated into status, off the automission of the 23 alegislative consert motion, on the basis that if 23 alegislative competence in the Sociland which after the 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts 24 constrains provisions applying to Sociland which after the 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts 25 legislative consert motion? You get if the binding nature of the 34 we will look lear at the wording of the provision, but 36 legislative consert motion? You get if no the Sevel 1 rule form a convention into a rule of law? 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding | 13 | Indeed there was a legislative consent motion and | 13 | - | | |
| 16 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Southand Act 2016 changed the competences of the Southish Parliament. 16 reference, the incorporation of the Sewel convention as 17 17 LORD MANCE: 1see. 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative - and the executive competence of Southish ministers, and of course the competence of Southish ministers, and of course the ven if it wash', if it had not been incorporated into 21 10 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I would make the submission - 0 20 point that 1 make is that it is explained to Parliament 21 course I have the beenft that the course in brainament course I have the beenft that the course in brainament course I have the beenft that the course in brainament mates 23 alsa way, in a legal system where the basic rule of 12 21 course I have the beenft that the Course in brainament mates 23 alsa w, that has transformed the juricidal status of the 12 22 legislative consetter of ourse of the wording of the provision, but 24 recognition a recognition of the root is course. 23 law MI bas about Torogonate of the United Kingdon under 25 and then it is said: but it is recognited. 24 constitutional requirements. onter with what are the 24 and then it is said: but it is course. 25 IDRD MANCE: Is any to thing, may lord, I say first 16 rule from a convertint in tha course. 24 | 14 | the Act was passed. | 14 | LORD MANCE: I see that point, but can we be specific; do | | |
| 17 competences of the Scottish Parliament. 17 law? 18 LORD MANCE: I see: 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative - and the executive 20 competence of Scottish ministers, and of course the 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I would certainly make the submission - even if it wants for stature, and if I could put it this 21 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 20 law by section 28(8). I would make the submission. Of 22 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 21 incorporated into stature, and if I could put it this 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 way, in a legal system where the basic rule of 24 contains provisions applying to Scolland which alter the 25 as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the 25 low DMANCE: Where do you got the binding ruler of the 2 LORD HODGE: I wonder about that, Dean of Faculty, because 36 registative consent motion? You got if from the Sevel 1 rule from a convention into arule of law. 4 convention and from the ensement in the Scotland Act? 5 subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept 3 and the it is sourcemed with what are the 6 and then it is sourcemed with what are the <t< td=""><td></td><td></td><th>15</th><td>you in the last instance rely on the Scotland Act, the</td></t<> | | | 15 | you in the last instance rely on the Scotland Act, the | | |
| 18 LORD MANCE: I see. 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative and the executive 19 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative and the executive 10 even if it wasn't, if it had no been incorporated into 21 point that I make is that it is explained to Parliament 10 even if it wasn't, if it had no been incorporated into 22 point that I make is that it is explained to Parliament 12 incorporated into Statute, and if I could put it this 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 way, in a legal system where the basic rule of 24 contains provisions applying to Soctland which alter the 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts 25 legislative competence - 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get it from the Sevel 2 LORD HODGE: I wonder about that, Dean of Faculty, because 3 regislative consent motion? You get it from the Sevel 3 we will look later at the wording of the provision, but 4 tortak about recognising something. It says in subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept 3 actors within the constrain the legal power of 5 subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept | 16 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: The Scotland Act 2016 changed the | 16 | reference, the incorporation of the Sewel convention as | | |
| 19 THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative - and the executive competence of Scottsh ministers, and of course the 19 even if it wasn't, if it had not been incorporated into 20 competence of Scottsh ministers, and of course the 20 law by section 28(8), law usid make the submission. Of 21 point that I make is that it is explained to Parliament 20 law by section 28(8), law usid make the submission. Of 22 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 21 course I have the benefit that the convention has been 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 way, in a legal system where the basic rule of 24 contains provisions applying to Scotland which alter the 23 as law, that has transformed the juricical status of the 25 legislative competence - 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the 2 low of law under the sourcing of the provision, but 4 convention and from the catchment in the Scotland Act? 5 subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept 5 of all that this court is concerned with what are the 6 and then it is said: but it is concerned with what are the 7 conventions that they constain the legal power of | 17 | competences of the Scottish Parliament. | 1 | law? | | |
| 20 competence of Scottish ministers, and of course the 20 law by section 28(8). I would make the submission. Of 21 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 21 course I have the benefit that the convention has been 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 24 contains provisions applying to Scotland which alter the 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts 25 legislative competence in the Scottish Parliament and 25 as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the 24 convention and from the excent in the Scotland Act? 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the 2 LORD HODGE: I working, It says - in 3 legislative consert motion? You get if from the Sevel 3 we will look later at the wording of the provision, but 4 convention and from the encenter in the Scotland Act? 4 it taks about recognising something. It says - in 5 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I say two things, my Lod, I say first 6 adthen it is said; but it is recognised. And it can 6 of all that this courie is concarrend with what are the 6 adthen i | 18 | | 1 | - | | |
| 21 point that I make is that it is explained to Parliament 21 course I have the benefit that the convention has been 22 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 22 incorportade into statute, and I fl could put it this 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 way, in a legal system where the basic rule of 24 contains provisions applying to Socotand which alter the 25 as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the 25 legislative consent motion? You get it from the Second 7 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts 26 LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get it from the Second 2 LORD HODGHE: I say two things, my Lord, I say first 3 of all that this court is concerned with what are the 2 subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept 4 conventions that the constitution to at in accordance with 5 subsection (8) prevents its 10 accors within the constitution to at in accordance with 10 desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it 11 the constitutional requirements. 11 12 LORD MANCE: Where is and whether i | 19 | | 19 | even if it wasn't, if it had not been incorporated into | | |
| 22 in the explanatory notes that the Act required 22 incorporated into statute, and if I could put it this 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 way, in a legal system where the basis rule of 24 contains provisions applying to Scotland which alter the 23 way, in a legal system where the basis rule of 25 legislative competence in the Scotlish Parliament and 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts 26 a legislative competence - 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 21 LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the 26 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD ADVOCATE: I say two things, my Lord, I say first 6 and then it it sis aid: but it is recognised. And it can 7 constitutional requirements of the United Kingdon under 7 subsection (3) prevents its 10 actors within the constitution to a rule of law? 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is us that it is of the nature of 12 LORD MANCE: What is it – that raises the question what a constitutional requirements and whether – it is 13 actors within the constitution to quere the rule kingdom — 12 14 a question of European law, isn' it? </td <td>20</td> <td></td> <th>1</th> <td>law by section 28(8), I would make the submission. Of</td> | 20 | | 1 | law by section 28(8), I would make the submission. Of | | |
| 23 a legislative consent motion, on the basis that it 23 way, in a legal system where the basic rule of 24 contains provisions applying to Scotland which alter the 23 way, in a legal system where the basic rule of 25 legislative competence in the Scottish Parliament and 23 way, in a legal system where the basic rule of 26 Page 153 Page 155 1 the executive competence 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the 1 LORD HODGE: I wonder about that, Dean of Faculty, because 3 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD HODGE: I wonder about that, Dean of Faculty, because 4 convention aff on the exocutand Act? 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 5 tit law but recognising something. It says - in 5 subsection (7) if gives the principle which you accept 6 of all that this court is concerned with what are the 6 and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can 7 conventions that they constrain the legal power of 3 conventions and there rese is it 10 actors whin the constitutional requirements. 10 convention at rule of law? | 21 | | 1 | course I have the benefit that the convention has been | | |
| 24 contains provisions applying to Scotland which alter the 24 recognition is that what the Queen in Parliament enacts 25 legislative competence in the Scotlish Parliament and 25 as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the 26 Page 153 Page 155 1 the executive competence 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get it the binding nature of the 2 LORD HODGE: I wonder about that, Dean of Faculty, because 3 that this court is concerned with what are the 2 convention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act? 4 constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under 3 subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept 6 of all that this court is concrened with what are the 5 conventions that they constrain the legal power of 10 acconstitutional requirements. 10 destrudt, as it were; in what other sense is it 11 the constitutional requirements. 11 the solution are any that it is of the nature of 12 LORD MANCE: What is it – that raises the question what 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Is any what it is of the nature of 13 a question of Europena law, sint 1?? 11 tha | 22 | | 22 | | | |
| 25 legislative competence in the Scottish Parliament and 25 as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the 26 Page 153 Page 155 1 the executive competence 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the 2 2 3 legislative consent motion? You get it from the Sevel 3 we will look later at the wording of the provision, but 4 it talks about recognising something: It saysin 5 subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept 6 of all that this court is concerned with what are the 6 and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can 7 clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political 8 conventions that they constrain the legal power of 10 actors within the constitutional requirements. 10 desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it 11 the constitutional requirements. 11 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be 16 but don't think the United Kingdom - 10 court - the learned Advocate General referred the court 12 thas been concet dinto statute, and I can give the 11 tha sequestion of European law, isn'ti? | 23 | - | 23 | | | |
| Page 153 Page 155 1 the executive competence 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the 3 we will look later at the wording of the provision, but 3 legislative consent motion? You get if from the Sevel 3 we will look later at the wording of the provision, but 4 convention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act? 4 it talks about recognising something. It says in 5 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Is say two things, my Lord, I say first 5 subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept 6 of all that this court is concerned with what are the 6 and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can 7 constitutional requirements. 7 clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political 10 actors within the constitution to act in accordance with 11 eonventions that they constrain the legal power of 3 actors within the constitutional requirements. 11 contrestinational requirements. 11 the constitutional requirements is and whether - it is 11 it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the 16 but I don't think the United Kingdom 16 16 constitutional convention could be 16 that in principle a constitutional convention could be 16 <t< td=""><td></td><td></td><th>1</th><td></td></t<> | | | 1 | | | |
| 1 the executive competence 1 rule from a convention into a rule of law. 2 LORD MANCE: Where do you get it binding nature of the 2 LORD HODGE: I wonder about that, Dean of Faculty, because 3 legislative consent motion? You get it from the Sewel 3 we will look later at the wording of the provision, but 4 convention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act? 4 it talks about recognising something. It says - in 5 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I say two things, my Lord, I say first 6 and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can 7 constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under 7 clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political 8 Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of 9 time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its 10 actors within the constitutional requirements. 10 desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it 11 the constitutional requirement is and whether it is 14 a question of European law, isn't it? 14 a question of European law, isn't it? 14 court the learned Advocate General referred the court 15 ITHE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and 18 court divided on whether it would answer a question | 25 | legislative competence in the Scottish Parliament and | 25 | as law, that has transformed the juridical status of the | | |
| 2LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the legislative consent motion? You get it from the Sevel2LORD HODGE: I wonder about that, Dean of Faculty, because3econvention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act?4it talks about recognising something. It says - in4convention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act?4it talks about recognising something. It says - in5THE LORD ADVOCATE: Is asy two things, my Lord, I say first5subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept6of all that this court is concerned with what are the6and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can7constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under7clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political8Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of8conventions can change with political practice over9conventions that they constrain the legal power of9time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its10actors within the constitutional requirements.11converted into a rule of law?12LORD MANCE: What is it - that raises the question what13it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the13a question of European law, isn't if?14court - the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, the16but 1 don't think the United Kingdom -17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may | Page 153 | | Page 155 | | | |
| 2LORD MANCE: Where do you get the binding nature of the legislative consent motion? You get it from the Sevel2LORD HODGE: I wonder about that, Dean of Faculty, because3econvention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act?4it talks about recognising something. It says - in4convention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act?4it talks about recognising something. It says - in5THE LORD ADVOCATE: Is asy two things, my Lord, I say first5subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept6of all that this court is concerned with what are the6and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can7constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under7clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political8Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of8conventions can change with political practice over9conventions that they constrain the legal power of9time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its10actors within the constitutional requirements.11converted into a rule of law?12LORD MANCE: What is it - that raises the question what13it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the13a question of European law, isn't if?14court - the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, the16but 1 don't think the United Kingdom -17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may | 1 | de ana dia anna dana | 1 | | | |
| 3 legislative consent motion? You get it from the Sewel 3 we will look later at the wording of the provision, but 4 convention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act? 4 it talks about recognising something. It says - in 5 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I say two things, my Lord, I say first 5 subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept 6 of all that this court is concerned with what are the 6 and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can 7 constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under 7 clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political 8 Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of 8 conventions that they constrain the legal power of 9 10 actors within the constitution to act in accordance with 10 desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it 11 the constitutional requirements. 11 converted into a rule of law? 12 LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be 14 court - the learned Advocate General referred the court 15 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be 15 to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question 16 but I don't think + - I would be surprised if it did dispute 16 not very dis | | - | 1 | | | |
| 4convention and from the enactment in the Scotland Act?4it talks about recognising something. It says – in5THE LORD ADVOCATE: I say two things, my Lord, I say first5subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept6of all that this court is concerned with what are the6and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can7constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under7clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political8Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of8conventions that they constitution to act in accordance with10actors within the constitution to act in accordance with10desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it11the constitutional requirements.11converted into a rule of law?12LORD MANCE: What is it – that raises the question what12THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that13a constitutional requirement is and whether – it is13it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the14a question of European law, isn't it?14court – the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom –16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answera ques | | | 1 | · · · · · | | |
| 5THE LORD ADVOCATE: 1 say two things, my Lord, I say first5subsection (7) it gives the principle which you accept6of all that this court is concerned with what are the6and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can7constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under7clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political8Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of8conventions can change with political practice over9conventions that they constrain the legal power of8conventions can change with political practice over9conventions that they constrain the legal power of9time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its10actors within the constitution to act in accordance with10desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it11the constitutional requirements.11converted into a rule of law?12LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what12THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that13a constitutional requirement is and whetherit is ultimately be1414a question of European law, isn't it?15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether a constitutional convention of consent by20 <td></td> <td></td> <th>1</th> <td></td> | | | 1 | | | |
| 6of all that this court is concerned with what are the constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under6and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political8Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with 117clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political score and then it is said: but it is recognised. And it can clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political score and the approximation of action a specialist, it might be a question of European law, isn't it?12LORD MANCE: What is it - that raises the question what a question of European law, isn't it?10desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it to the constitutional requirement is and whether it is ultimately, it may ultimately be to the LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be to the LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and 101116but I don't think + I would be surprised if it did dispute that in principle a constitutional convention could be a constitutional requirement.1112LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is, to the ra lawyer1213but for a lawyerIsoure the the potential transformation of a convention by statute, a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement to but for a lawyer1324a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement to but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | | | 1 | | | |
| 7constitutional requirements of the United Kingdom under7clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political8Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of8conventions that they constrain the legal power of9time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its10actors within the constitution to act in accordance with10desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it11the constitutional requirements.11converted into a rule of law?12LORD MANCE: What is it - that raises the question what12THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that13a constitutional requirement is and whether it is13it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the14a question of European law, isn't it?14court the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional lengurement.21All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer23a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requi | | | 1 | | | |
| 8 Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of 8 conventions that they constrain the legal power of 9 conventions that they constrain the legal power of 9 time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its 10 actors within the constitutional requirements. 10 desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it 11 the constitutional requirements. 11 converted into a rule of law? 12 LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what 12 THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that 13 a constitutional requirement is and whether it is 11 thas been enacted into statute, and I can give the 14 a question of European law, isn't it? 14 court the learned Advocate General referred the court 15 THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be 15 to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question 16 but I don't think the United Kingdom has not disputed, and 18 court divided on whether a constitutional convention could be 19 I don't think I would be surprised if'it did dispute 19 about whether a constitutional convention of consent by 20 that in principle a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is, 22 All of the judges agreed that in the | | | | and then it is said; but it is recognized. And it can | | |
| 9conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with9time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its10actors within the constitution to act in accordance with10desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it11the constitutional requirements.11converted into a rule of law?12LORD MANCE: What is it - that raises the question what12THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that13a constitutional requirement is and whether it is13it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the14a question of European law, isn't it?14court the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references ca | | | 1 | - | | |
| 10actors within the constitution to act in accordance with10desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it11the constitutional requirements.10desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it12LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what11converted into a rule of law?13a constitutional requirement is and whether it is12THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that14a question of European law, isn't it?14court the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | | · | 7 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political | | |
| 11the constitutional requirements.11converted into a rule of law?12LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what12THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that13a constitutional requirement is and whether it is13it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the14a question of European law, isn't it?14court the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of | 7 8 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over | | |
| 12LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what12THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that13a constitutional requirement is and whether it is13it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the14a question of European law, isn't it?14court the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD ADVOCATE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of | 7 8 9 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its | | |
| 13a constitutional requirement is and whether it is13it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the14a question of European law, isn't it?14court the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with | 7 8 9 10 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it | | |
| 14a question of European law, isn't it?14court the learned Advocate General referred the court15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. | 7 8 9 10 11 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? | | |
| 15THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be15to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements.LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what | 7 8 9 10 11 12 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that | | |
| 16but I don't think the United Kingdom16not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21they would.22LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the | | |
| 17LORD MANCE: Is it for us?17deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21they would.22LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court | | |
| 18THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and18court divided on whether it would answer a question19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21they would.22LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question | | |
| 19I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute19about whether a constitutional convention of consent by20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21they would.22LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to | | |
| 20that in principle a constitutional convention could be20the provinces was required, and the majority held that21a constitutional requirement.21they would.22LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the | | |
| 21a constitutional requirement.21they would.22LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the court divided on whether it would answer a question | | |
| 22LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is,22All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the court divided on whether it would answer a question about whether a constitutional convention of consent by | | |
| 23but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for23a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute that in principle a constitutional convention could be | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the court divided on whether it would answer a question about whether a constitutional convention of consent by the provinces was required, and the majority held that | | |
| 24a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement24the potential transformation of a convention by statute,25but for a lawyer25and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute that in principle a constitutional convention could be a constitutional requirement. | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the court divided on whether it would answer a question about whether a constitutional convention of consent by the provinces was required, and the majority held that they would. | | |
| 25 but for a lawyer 25 and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute that in principle a constitutional convention could be a constitutional requirement. LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is, | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the court divided on whether it would answer a question about whether a constitutional convention of consent by the provinces was required, and the majority held that they would. All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if | | |
| | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute that in principle a constitutional convention could be a constitutional requirement. LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is, but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the court divided on whether it would answer a question about whether a constitutional convention of consent by the provinces was required, and the majority held that they would. All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to | | |
| Page 154 Page 156 | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute that in principle a constitutional convention could be a constitutional requirement. LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is, but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the court divided on whether it would answer a question about whether a constitutional convention of consent by the provinces was required, and the majority held that they would. All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to the potential transformation of a convention by statute, | | |
| | 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | Article 50, and I say that it is of the nature of conventions that they constrain the legal power of actors within the constitution to act in accordance with the constitutional requirements. LORD MANCE: What is it that raises the question what a constitutional requirement is and whether it is a question of European law, isn't it? THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is ultimately, it may ultimately be but I don't think the United Kingdom LORD MANCE: Is it for us? THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has not disputed, and I don't think I would be surprised if it did dispute that in principle a constitutional convention could be a constitutional requirement. LORD MANCE: For a constitutional lawyer, no doubt it is, but for a lawyer perhaps I should have said for a constitutional specialist, it might be a requirement but for a lawyer | 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 | clearly have legal effect. Insofar as political conventions can change with political practice over time, you can say that subsection (8) prevents its desuetude, as it were; in what other sense is it converted into a rule of law? THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the very straightforward sense that it has been enacted into statute, and I can give the court the learned Advocate General referred the court to the Canadian patriation case, which raised a question not very dissimilar from the one that this court has to deal with on this issue. In the patriation case, the court divided on whether it would answer a question about whether a constitutional convention of consent by the provinces was required, and the majority held that they would. All of the judges agreed that in the true sense, if a convention is not a rule of law, and they all spoke to the potential transformation of a convention by statute, and the references can be seen at MS 8834, in the | | |

39 (Pages 153 to 156)

Day 3

| 1 | opinion of the minority, and 8845 in the opinion of the | 1 | illustrates, is that a bill may relate to a reserve |
|----|--|----|--|
| 2 | majority, MS 8834 and MS 8845. | 2 | matter, one which the Scottish Parliament could not |
| 3 | LORD REED: Mr Wolffe, I think many of us are struggling to | 3 | itself enact. But may nevertheless, insofar as it has |
| 4 | see exactly how the Sewel convention impacts on the | 4 | effect with regard to devolved matters, engage the |
| 5 | central issue before us. Are you saying simply that the | 5 | requirement for the consent of the Scottish Parliament. |
| 6 | impact is this, that if and to the extent that the Sewel | 6 | So my learned friend the Advocate General's argument |
| 7 | convention would politically oblige Parliament to | 7 | where he points to the reservation of international |
| 8 | consult the Scottish Parliament before triggering | 8 | relations in my submission is |
| 9 | Article 50, that is an extra argument for why this is | 9 | LORD MANCE: It doesn't help. |
| 10 | a matter for Parliament rather than the executive, or | 10 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: guilty of the fallacy that simply |
| 11 | does it fit in in another way? | 11 | because something is reserved, it cannot engage |
| 12 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: I do say that. I also say, I also say, | 12 | legislative consent convention, that is simply not the |
| 13 | and it is fair to say I come to this case recognising | 13 | case. That fallacy also underlies the reasoning of |
| 14 | that the Attorney General for Northern Ireland has asked | 14 | Mr Justice Maguire in paragraph 121 of the |
| 15 | a specific question, albeit focused on the Northern | 15 | LORD KERR: Which paragraph, please? |
| 16 | Ireland situation, which raises directly for the court | 16 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is MS 742, paragraph 121 of McCord |
| 17 | a question which falls to be answered or not answered, | 17 | where his Lordship essentially said, because |
| 18 | if the court takes the view that it cannot appropriately | 18 | international relations are reserved, therefore this is |
| 19 | be answered; and that it is right that I make clear what | 19 | nothing to do with the Northern Irish assembly. |
| 20 | my position is in relation to the convention. | 20 | What I say is that if a bill were presented to the |
| 21 | But I do say that on the essential point raised in | 21 | UK Parliament, which had the effects for the competence |
| 22 | Miller, that we now are looking to the constitution as | 22 | for the Scottish Parliament and Scottish Government |
| 23 | it currently exists, we not only have the basic rule | 23 | which will take place on withdrawal from the EU, and |
| 24 | which I outlined at the outset, that it is for the Queen | 24 | which had all the other effects within devolved |
| 25 | in Parliament to change the law of the land; but in | 25 | competence, then there would be no doubt in my |
| | | | |
| | Page 157 | | Page 159 |
| 1 | a context where we have four legislatures which can | 1 | submission that that engaged the legislative consent |
| 2 | change the law of the land, we have a structure of | 2 | convention. |
| 3 | constitutional convention which engages the entitles | 3 | LORD REED: I don't suppose there is any definition of |
| 4 | those legislatures to have a voice in the decision. | 4 | either "with regard to" or "devolved matters"? |
| 5 | Perhaps I shall make this point at this stage. | 5 | THE ADVOCATE GENERAL FOR SCOTLAND: One of the interesting |
| 6 | I drew the court's attention to the explanatory notes to | 6 | points, I am going to make a short submission about |
| 7 | the Scotland Act 2016. Similarly, the Scotland Act | 7 | interpretation directed to section 28(8). |
| 8 | 2012, where again the legislative competence of the | 8 | LORD REED: We have had a lot of case law on what is meant |
| 9 | Scottish Parliament was changed, engaged our legislative | 9 | by, relates to reserved matters. |
| 10 | consent requirement, and the court can see the | 10 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: It is an important point, my Lord, that |
| 11 | explanatory memorandum for that act at MS 10369, | 11 | the phrase, "with regard to devolved matters", does not |
| 12 | paragraph 8. | 12 | use the conceptual language that is used elsewhere in |
| 13 | Indeed my Lord reads remarks about the Sewel | 13 | the Scotland Act. Rather it points back to language |
| 14 | convention in Imperial Tobacco, volume 5, tab 41, MS | 14 | which appears in the memorandum of understanding and |
| 15 | 1619, were expressly directed to changes to legislative | 15 | which has been articulated in practice. It points back, |
| 16 | competence. | 16 | I say, to the convention as it has been applied in |
| 17 | So in my submission there is no there should be | 17 | practice and indeed the word, it is recognised that, |
| 18 | no dispute that the legislative consent convention | 18 | again is pointing one back to the practice, as regards |
| 19 | applies where there are changes to the legislative | 19 | the convention. |
| 20 | competence or executive competence of the Parliament and | 20 | LORD REED: Really you have to argue that an act |
| 21 | the Government. That has reflected consistent practice | 21 | hypothesising an act which authorises the Government to |
| 22 | which I have sought to provide information about in the | 22 | give notification under Article 50 is an act which |
| 23 | narrative in my case. | 23 | legislates with regard to devolved matters, essentially |
| 24 | What that illustrates in particular, what the | 24 | because of its because it has a consequential impact |
| 25 | application of the convention to the two(?) Scotland Act | 25 | on some devolved matters. |
| | | | |
| | Page 158 | | Page 160 |

40 (Pages 157 to 160)

| 8But I say that within that proposition are a whole8flagrantly be in breach of the provision, that it9series of effects with regard to devolved matters, and9legislated continuously on matters of the Scottish10if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition,10Parliament, so that the norm became that they did11and in separate clauses say all the things that legally11legislate rather than that they refrained from12would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then12legislating?13it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and13THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the14I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance14assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it15that those propositions are simply implicit in the15will do in this provision.16headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from16LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is18It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at18scenario, but it is possible to conceive of19section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what19circumstances in which it could be | | | | | | |
|---|----------|--|----|---|--|--|
| 3 test the argument by assuming a one-clause bill that 4 determines to withdraw the United Kingdom from the 5 European Union, and I do make the point that it would 6 have to be a bill making that decision, not and no 7 doubt consequentially authorising the notice. 8 But I say that within that proposition are a whole 9 series of effects with regard to devolved matters, and 10 if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition, 11 and in separate clauses say all the things that legally 12 would be plapning with regard to devolved matters, then 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 14 I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance 15 that those propositions are simply implicit in the 16 headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 17 the European Union. 18 It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at 19 scection 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 scection 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 scection 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 11 and saying and what I am not saying a | 1 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Absolutely, my Lord, and perhaps | 1 | that has never happened, at least knowingly, where | | |
| 4 determines to withdraw the United Kingdom from the 4 THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the context of article 9 of the 5 European Union, and I do make the point that it would 5 Bill of Rights, I accept that I find it difficult to 6 have to be a bill making that decision, not and no 6 imagine how it would engage a justiciable issue. 7 doubt consequentially authorising the notice. 7 LORD KERR: What if Westminster Parliament could be shown if 8 But I say that within that proposition are a whole 8 flagrantly be in breach of the provision, that it 9 legislated continuously on matters of the Scottish 10 Parliament, so that the norm became that they did 10 if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition, are singaged, and 11 legislating? 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the 14 I say that i cannot matter as a matter of substance 14 assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it 15 that those propositions are simply implicit in the 16 LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the 18 It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at 18 scerario, but it is possible to conceive, albeit | 2 | 2 I should put it this way, and it is perhaps helpful to | | legislation is proposed with regard to devolved matters. | | |
| 5 European Union, and I do make the point that it would 5 Bill of Rights, I accept that I find it difficult to 6 have to be a bill making that decision, not and no 6 imagine how it would engage a justiciable issue. 7 doubt consequentially authorising the notice. 7 LORD KER: What if Westminster Parliament could be shown if 8 But I say that within that proposition are a whole 8 flagrantly be in breach of the provision, that it 9 series of effects with regard to devolved matters, and 9 legislated continuously on matters of the Scottish 10 if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition, 10 Parliament, so that the norm became that they did 11 and in separate clauses say all the things that legally 11 legislated continuously on matters of the Scottish 12 would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then 12 legislating? 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the 14 I say that I am not saying about it. 16 LORD KER: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is 17 the European Union. 17 possible to conceive of 18 It may be helpfuli i | 3 | test the argument by assuming a one-clause bill that | 3 | LORD SUMPTION: Is the question what is normal justiciable? | | |
| 6 have to be a bill making that decision, not and no 6 imagine how it would engage a justiciable issue. 7 doubt consequentially authorising the notice. 7 LORD KERR: What if Westminster Parliament could be shown it 8 But I say that within that proposition are a whole 8 figaratly be in breach of the provision, that it 9 series of effects with regard to devolved matters, and 9 legislate continuously on matters of the Scottish 10 if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition, 10 Parliament, so that the norn became that they did 11 and in separate clauses say all the things that legally 11 legislate rather than that they refrained from 12 would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then 12 legislate rather than that they refrained from 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the 14 Isay that it cannot matter as a matter of substance 14 assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it 15 that those propositions are simply implicit in the 15 will do in this provision. 16 headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 LORD KERR: It is a proxision of justiciability; | 4 | determines to withdraw the United Kingdom from the | 4 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: In the context of article 9 of the | | |
| 7 doubt consequentially authorising the notice. 7 LORD KERR: What if Westminster Parliament could be shown if flagrantly be in breach of the provision, that it 8 But I say that within that proposition are a whole 8 flagrantly be in breach of the provision, that it 9 series of effects with regard to devolved matters, and 9 legislate continuously on matters of the Scottish 10 if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition 10 Parliament, so that the norm became that they did 11 and in separate clauses say all the things that legally 11 legislate rather than that they refrained from 12 would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then 12 legislate intervention of used the headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 LORD KERE: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is 17 the European Union. 17 possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish 18 It may saying and what 1 am not saying about it. 10 recurvatures, it is a pure question of iust can see that 10 It HE PRESIDENT: Yes. 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I can see that, my Lord, I can see that 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since | 5 | European Union, and I do make the point that it would | 5 | Bill of Rights, I accept that I find it difficult to | | |
| 8 But I say that within that proposition are a whole 8 flagrantly be in breach of the provision, that it 9 series of effects with regard to devolved matters, and 9 legislated continuously on matters of the Scottish 10 if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition, 10 Parliament, so that the norm became that they did 11 and in separate clauses say all the things that legally 11 legislater ather than that they refrained from 12 would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then 12 legislating? 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the 14 I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance 14 assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it 15 that those proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is 18 It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at 18 scenario, but it is possible to conceive of 19 section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 circumstances in which it could be 20 I am saying and what I am not saying about it. 20 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in | 6 | have to be a bill making that decision, not and no | 6 | imagine how it would engage a justiciable issue. | | |
| 9 series of effects with regard to devolved matters, and 9 legislated continuously on matters of the Scottish 10 if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition, 10 Parliament, so that the norm became that they did 11 and in separate clauses say all the things that legally 11 legislated continuously on matters of the Scottish 12 would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then 12 legislate rather than that they refrained from 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the 14 I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance 14 assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it 15 that those propositions are simply implicit in the 15 will do in this provision. 16 headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is 17 the European Union. 17 possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish 18 It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at 18 scenario, but it is possible to conceive of 19 section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 circumstances in which it could be - | 7 | doubt consequentially authorising the notice. | 7 | LORD KERR: What if Westminster Parliament could be shown to | | |
| 10 if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition, 11 and in separate clauses say all the things that legally 10 12 would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then 11 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 14 I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance 14 15 that those propositions are simply implicit in the 15 16 headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 17 the European Union. 16 18 It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at 18 19 section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 20 I am saying and what I am not saying about it. 20 21 THE DCRD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 25 recognition, the question of its effect and 1 26 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 26 Lord D Aphaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 26 <td>8</td> <td>But I say that within that proposition are a whole</td> <td>8</td> <td>flagrantly be in breach of the provision, that it</td> | 8 | But I say that within that proposition are a whole | 8 | flagrantly be in breach of the provision, that it | | |
| 11 and in separate clauses say all the things that legally 11 legislate rather than that they refrained from 12 would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the 14 I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance 14 assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it 15 that those proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is 17 the European Union. 17 possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish 18 It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at 18 scenario, but it is possible to conceive of 20 I am saying and what I am not saying about it. 20 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 devolved matters" is one upon | 9 | series of effects with regard to devolved matters, and | 9 | legislated continuously on matters of the Scottish | | |
| 12 would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then 12 legislating? 13 it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and 13 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the 14 I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance 14 assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it 15 that those propositions are simply implicit in the 15 will do in this provision. 16 headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from 16 LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is 17 the European Union. 17 possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish 18 It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at 18 scenario, but it is possible to conceive of 19 section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 circumstances in which it could be 20 I am saying and what I am not saying about it. 20 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon 25 recognition, th | 10 | if Parliament were to unpack the headline proposition, | 10 | Parliament, so that the norm became that they did | | |
| 13it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and13THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the14I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance14assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it15that those propositions are simply implicit in the15will do in this provision.16headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from16LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is17the European Union.17possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish18It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at18scenario, but it is possible to conceive of20I am saying and what I am not saying about it.20THE LORD ADVOCATE: I can see that, my Lord, I can see that21THE PRESIDENT: Yes.21my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to23volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since23because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to24this is a provision which satisfies our rule of24devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon25recognition, the question of its effect and1LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If2then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court.3Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which3Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which3breach this convention as recognised in this section, you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 11 | and in separate clauses say all the things that legally | 11 | legislate rather than that they refrained from | | |
| 14I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance14assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it15that those propositions are simply implicit in the15will do in this provision.16headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from16LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is17the European Union.17possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish18It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at18scenario, but it is possible to conceive of19section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what19circumstances in which it could be20I am saying and what I am not saying about it.20THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in21THE PRESIDENT: Yes.21my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to23volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since23because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to24this is a provision which satisfies our rule of24devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon25recognition, the question of its effect and1LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If2then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court.3breach this convention as recognised in this section,3Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which3breach this convention as recognised in this section,4requires to be construed against the background of4you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the <td>12</td> <td>would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then</td> <td>12</td> <td>legislating?</td> | 12 | would be happening with regard to devolved matters, then | 12 | legislating? | | |
| 15that those propositions are simply implicit in the15will do in this provision.16headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from16LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is17the European Union.17possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish18It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at18scenario, but it is possible to conceive of19section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what19circumstances in which it could be20I am saying and what I am not saying about it.20THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in21THE ENDENT: Yes.21my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to23volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since2324this is a provision which satisfies our rule of2425recognition, the question of its effect and252then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court.23Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which34requires to be construed against the background of4 | 13 | it would be plain that the convention is engaged, and | 13 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, I proceed on the | | |
| 16headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from16LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is17the European Union.16LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is18It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at18scenario, but it is possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish19section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what19circumstances in which it could be20I am saying and what I am not saying about it.20THE LORD ADVOCATE: I can see that, my Lord, I can see that21THE PRESIDENT: Yes.21my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to22THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in22make an argument about the word "normally" in this case,23volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since23because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to24this is a provision which satisfies our rule of24devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon25recognition, the question of its effect and1LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If2then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court.3breach this convention, and3Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which3breach this convention as recognised in this section,4requires to be construed against the background of4you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 14 | I say that it cannot matter as a matter of substance | 14 | assumption that Parliament will do what it has said it | | |
| 17the European Union.17possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish18It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at18scenario, but it is possible to conceive of19section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what19circumstances in which it could be20I am saying and what I am not saying about it.20THE PRESIDENT: Yes.21THE PRESIDENT: Yes.21my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to22THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in22make an argument about the word "normally" in this case,23volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since23because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to24this is a provision which satisfies our rule of24devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon25recognition, the question of its effect and1LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If2then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court.3breach this convention as recognised in this section,3Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which3breach this convention as recognised in this section,4requires to be construed against the background of4you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 15 | that those propositions are simply implicit in the | 15 | will do in this provision. | | |
| 18 It may be helpful if I invite the court to look at 18 scenario, but it is possible to conceive of 19 section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 circumstances in which it could be 20 I am saying and what I am not saying about it. 20 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I can see that, my Lord, I can see that 21 THE PRESIDENT: Yes. 21 my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to 22 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in 22 make an argument about the word "normally" in this case, 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon 25 recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 25 which the court can adjudicate. Page 161 1 UORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 breach this convention as recognised in this section, 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have | 16 | headline proposition of a determination to withdraw from | 16 | LORD KERR: It is a pure question of justiciability; it is | | |
| 19 section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 circumstances in which it could be 20 I am saying and what I am not saying about it. 20 THE PRESIDENT: Yes. 21 THE PRESIDENT: Yes. 21 my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to 22 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in 22 make an argument about the word "normally" in this case, 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon 25 recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 25 which the court can adjudicate. 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 17 | the European Union. | 17 | possible to conceive, albeit on a somewhat outlandish | | |
| 19 section 28(8), so that I can perhaps make clear what 19 circumstances in which it could be 20 I am saying and what I am not saying about it. 20 THE PRESIDENT: Yes. 20 21 THE PRESIDENT: Yes. 21 my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to 22 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in 22 make an argument about the word "normally" in this case, 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon 25 recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 25 which the court can adjudicate. Page 161 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 breach this convention as recognised in this section, 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 18 | - | 18 | scenario, but it is possible to conceive of | | |
| 20 I am saying and what I am not saying about it. 20 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I can see that, my Lord, I can see that 21 THE PRESIDENT: Yes. 21 my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to 22 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in 22 make an argument about the word "normally" in this case, 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon 25 recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 25 Page 161 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 breach this convention as recognised in this section, 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 19 | | 19 | circumstances in which it could be | | |
| 21 THE PRESIDENT: Yes. 21 my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to 22 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in 22 make an argument about the word "normally" in this case, 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon 25 recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 25 which the court can adjudicate. Page 161 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 20 | | 20 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: I can see that, my Lord, I can see that, | | |
| 23 volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since 23 because what I say is that the phrase "with regard to 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon 25 recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 25 which the court can adjudicate. Page 161 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 21 | | 21 | my Lord. Perhaps I can put it this way: I don't need to | | |
| 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon which the court can adjudicate. 25 Page 161 25 Page 163 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 2 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 4 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 22 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: The court has that at tab 124 in | 22 | make an argument about the word "normally" in this case, | | |
| 24 this is a provision which satisfies our rule of recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 24 devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon which the court can adjudicate. 25 Page 161 25 Page 163 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 2 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 4 3 breach this convention as recognised in this section, 4 | | volume 12 at MS 4359. Can I say immediately that since | 23 | | | |
| 25 recognition, the question of its meaning and effect, 25 which the court can adjudicate. Page 161 Page 163 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 breach this convention as recognised in this section, 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | | | 24 | devolved matters" is one upon it is a phrase upon | | |
| Page 161 Page 163 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 breach this convention as recognised in this section, 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 25 | - | 25 | | | |
| 1 well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and 1 LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If 2 then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court. 2 the UK Parliament does breach this convention, and 3 Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which 3 breach this convention as recognised in this section, 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | | | | - | | |
| 2then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court.2the UK Parliament does breach this convention, and3Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which3breach this convention as recognised in this section,4requires to be construed against the background of4you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | Page 161 | | | Page 163 | | |
| 2then of its meaning, are matters of law for the court.2the UK Parliament does breach this convention, and3Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which3breach this convention as recognised in this section,4requires to be construed against the background of4you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 1 | well, perhaps firstly the question of its effect and | 1 | LORD MANCE: But it doesn't have any effect, you say? If | | |
| 3Can I say that I accept that it is a provision which3breach this convention as recognised in this section,4requires to be construed against the background of4you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 2 | | | | | |
| 4 requires to be construed against the background of 4 you say it doesn't have any effect. So what is the | 3 | - | 3 | | | |
| | 4 | | | - | | |
| | 5 | | | | | |
| 6 that it does not displace the Pickin rule and if the 6 the UK Parliament doing it, if it was proposing to, | 6 | | 6 | | | |
| 7 validity of an Act of Parliament once enacted could not 7 and I suppose the further question is what is the | 7 | - | | | | |
| 8 be, I say, challenged under reference to an alleged 8 relevance of this? We are not talking about the UK | | - | | | | |
| 9 failure to respect section 28(8). 9 Parliament legislating, we are talking about a case | 9 | | | - | | |
| 10 I also acknowledge that article 9 of the Bill of 10 where it is proposing to use its executive powers. | 10 | I also acknowledge that article 9 of the Bill of | 10 | | | |
| 11 Rights is part of the relevant constitutional context 11 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I say two things, my Lord, in response | | 6 | | | | |
| 12 and that, it may be, is relevant to what the court is to 12 to that. I say first of all that it is perhaps on | | | | | | |
| 13 make of the word "normally". 13 the second point, I have already made the submission, | | | | | | |
| 14 LORD HODGE: Will you be addressing us, Lord Advocate, at 14 that part of the current constitutional context in which | | - | | | | |
| 15 some stage on any precedents for the use in statute of 15 the court should consider | | | | - | | |
| 16 the words, "it is recognised that"? 16 LORD MANCE: If you cannot legislate, you cannot do other | | | | | | |
| 10 It works, it is recognised that if 17 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I can certainly see if I can put myself 17 things, is your basic point, is it? | | - | | | | |
| 17 18 in a position to do so, my Lord. 18 18 THE LORD ADVOCATE: The basic point is that, when one is | | | | | | |
| 19 LORD WILSON: Equally, "normally" is not a word one sees 19 testing whether the Crown can by the prerogative change | | | | _ | | |
| 20 very often sees in statutes. 20 the law of the law, no has to keep in mind that in the | | | | | | |
| 21 THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, my Lord, and I accept that the 21 current constitutional arrangements, there are several | | 5 | | · · · · · | | |
| 21 Inte LORD ADVOCATE. Indeed, my Loid, and raccept that the 21 current constitutional atrangements, there are several 22 word "normally" implies that there may be circumstances 22 legislatures that have an interest in that question. | | | | - | | |
| | | | | | | |
| | | * | | LORD MANCE: Not even Parliament can change, you say, so how | | |
| 24 notwithstanding that the consent of the Scottish 24 possibly could the Government? 25 Parliament is not forthcoming, albeit I am advised that 25 THE LORD ADVOCATE: I say there is a convention, | | | | | | |
| 2.5 I a manion is not formedining, about 1 am advised mat 2.5 THE LOKD AD VOCATE. I say mere is a convention, | 23 | r a manent is not forthcoming, aloch i all auviscu that | 23 | THE LOAD AD VOCATE. I say mere is a convention, | | |
| Page 162 Page 164 | | Page 162 | | Page 164 | | |

41 (Pages 161 to 164)

www.DTIGlobal.com

Day 3

| 1 | a constitutional requirement, I would say, that | 1 | LORD MANCE: It may be it would have looked a bit bleak, | |
|----------|--|----------|---|--|
| 2 | Parliament has itself acknowledged in statute. | 2 | subsection (7), by itself. | |
| 3 | LORD KERR: I think what you can say is that Parliament at | 3 | LADY HALE: It was there for quite a long time. | |
| 4 | the very least commits itself to the question whether it | 4 | LORD REED: But subsection (7) is not qualified. It does | |
| 5 | should legislate within on a matter which is within | 5 | rather look as though subsection (8) may be symbolic or | |
| 6 | 6 the competence of the Scottish Parliament, it would be | | a douceur, as Lord Mance | |
| 7 | incongruous with that situation that the Government | 7 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Well, my Lord says subsection (7) is not | |
| 8 | would in effect change the law of Scotland. | 8 | qualified, subsection (8) is introduced by the word | |
| 9 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Absolutely. Absolutely, my Lord. | 9 | "but". | |
| 10 | LORD REED: I suppose you have to read subsection (8) also | 10 | LORD HODGE: But you can give legal content to it, that it | |
| 11 | in the light of subsection (7), which tells us about the | 11 | is more than a douceur, if you say that, as I said at | |
| 12 | section as a whole, (Inaudible) not affecting the power | 12 | the outset of my engagement with you, it was preventing | |
| 13 | of the Parliament of the UK to make laws for Scotland. | 13 | the convention from slipping away by disveritude or a | |
| 14 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Yes, but, sorry, my Lord, I might | 14 | change of practice, it is a recognition that this | |
| 15 | just | 15 | a convention that is to apply. That doesn't make the | |
| 16 | LORD REED: 28(8) | 16 | convention a rule of law. It is merely recognising it | |
| 17 | LORD MANCE: I don't dissent from Lord Reed's proposition. | 17 | as something that is fixed, as a convention. | |
| 18 | THE PRESIDENT: You deal with the questions in turn. We | 18 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: I would put it this way, my Lord, that, | |
| 19 | will not ask you any more until you have finished. | 19 | as a provision and an Act of Parliament, it is part of | |
| 20 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: I am happy to deal with questions and | 20 | the law of the land. What its effect and interpretation | |
| 21 | points, but the other point that my Lord, Lord Mance put | 21 | are are matters upon which the court may properly | |
| 22 | to me is perhaps I can answer in this way. We are | 22 | adjudicate. | |
| 23 | concerned with the decision which falls to be made by | 23 | LORD HODGE: You can ask us to say what does section (8) | |
| 24 | the United Kingdom under Article 50 of the treaty. | 24 | mean. | |
| 25 | LORD MANCE: Yes. | 25 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: And what effect does it have in | |
| Page 165 | | Page 167 | | |
| 1 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: The United Kingdom has to make that | 1 | a particular context. | |
| 2 | decision in accordance with its constitutional | 2 | It is perhaps important to address the question in | |
| 3 | requirements. I say that those constitutional | 3 | the context in which we are currently considering the | |
| 4 | requirements include an Act of Parliament | 4 | question, which I accept is one where there is no bill | |
| 5 | LORD MANCE: And legislative consent. | 5 | before Parliament, there is no question of the court | |
| 6 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: And the legislative consent. | 6 | being asked to interfere with proceedings in Parliament, | |
| 7 | LORD MANCE: Would it be a catastrophe for the devolved | 7 | there is no question of me inviting the court to | |
| 8 | settlement if one read subsection (8) as simply | 8 | invalidate its statute even in the extreme hypothesis | |
| 9 | a non-legally binding or legally effective douceur. | 9 | that my Lord Kerr put to me. | |
| 10 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: What I will say, my Lord, is there is | 10 | We are at a point in the process where this court is | |
| 11 | plenty of evidence, including statements by the | 11 | seized of the question of what the constitutional | |
| 12 | United Kingdom Government which I have referred to in my | 12 | requirements of the United Kingdom are to make the | |
| 13 | case about the importance of this convention to the | 13 | decision, the important decision, to withdraw from the | |
| 14 | working of the devolution settlement. | 14 | European Union and what I am inviting the court to do is | |
| 15 | LORD MANCE: I am sure the convention conventions are | 15 | to acknowledge in the Miller case, for the reasons | |
| 16 | incredibly important, but they are not legally binding. | 16 | I have outlined, and in the Northern Irish case in | |
| 17 | That is their nature. | 17 | response to the Attorney General's second question, that | |
| 18 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Indeed, and what I can also say is that | 18 | one of those requirements is the convention. | |
| 19 | the United Kingdom Parliament decided that this | 19 | My Lord, I don't know whether that is a convenient | |
| 20 | convention should be enacted into statute and I might | 20 | point to | |
| 21 | put my Lord's question perhaps answer it with what it | 21 | THE PRESIDENT: If it is convenient for you Lord Advocate, | |
| 22 | would be impertinent to suggest is anything other than | 22 | yes. | |
| 22 | a rhetorical question, which is, what was the point in | 23 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Yes, I am planning to break there and | |
| 23 | enshrining this in law if it doesn't become a provision | 24 | resume again in the morning. | |
| 25 | that the courts can address. | 25 | THE PRESIDENT: We will resume again at 10.15, and I think | |
| | | | D 170 | |
| | Page 166 | | Page 168 | |

42 (Pages 165 to 168)

| 1 | you have half an hour, is that right? | |
|----------|--|--|
| 2 | THE LORD ADVOCATE: Yes, thank you. | |
| 3 | THE PRESIDENT: And you are on course for that? | |
| 4 | Thank you very much. We will adjourn now and resume | |
| 5 | again at 10.15 tomorrow morning. The court is now | |
| 6 | adjourned. | |
| 7 | (4.00 pm) | |
| 8 | (The court adjourned until 10.15 am the following day) | |
| 9 | | |
| 10 | | |
| 11 | | |
| 12 | | |
| 13 | | |
| 14 | | |
| 15 | | |
| 16 | | |
| 17 | | |
| 18 | | |
| 19 | | |
| 20 | | |
| 21 | | |
| 22 | | |
| 23 | | |
| 24 | | |
| 25 | | |
| | | |
| | Page 169 | |
| 1 | INDEX | |
| 2 | | |
| 3 | Submissions by LORD PANNICK1 (continued) | |
| 4 | Submissions by MR CHAMBERS53 | |
| 5 | Submissions by Wik CHANDERS | |
| | Submissions by MR SCOFFIELD112 | |
| 6 | Submissions by MR LAVERY133 | |
| 7 | Submissions by THE LORD ADVOCATE143 | |
| 8 9 | | |
| | | |
| 10 | | |
| 11 12 | | |
| 13 | | |
| 14 | | |
| 15 | | |
| 16 | | |
| 17 18 | | |
| 19 | | |
| 20 | | |
| 21 | | |
| 22 | | |
| 23 24 | | |
| -∠-+ | | |
| 25 | | |
| 25 | Page 170 | |

| Page | 171 |
|------|-----|
|------|-----|

| A | accurate 65:19 | 58:18 59:2,7 | action 2:14 26:3 | administration |
|------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---------------------|--------------------------|----------------------------------|
| abeyance 29:11 | 96:4 109:9 | 62:18 65:25,25 | 47:9 49:8 91:4,5,6 | 115:7,13 117:4,14 |
| ability 24:5 51:5 | achieve 33:8 | 66:8,16 67:19 | 91:25 92:8,17 | 117:21 151:7 |
| able 24:3 71:4 | achieved 68:11 | 68:9 70:15 71:13 | 98:13 115:14 | administrations |
| 87:17 117:14,21 | 114:7,11 | 71:14,16,25 72:5 | 123:24 124:8 | 132:11 150:20 |
| abolish 29:12 | acknowledge 162:5 | 72:8,10,13 73:14 | actions 50:11 | admissible 108:19 |
| abolishing 27:11 | 162:10 168:15 | 76:1 79:24 80:3,5 | activities 11:17 | 108:20,25 109:3 |
| abrogate 81:11 | acknowledged | 81:3,13,14,14,16 | actors 38:15,19 | admits 54:20 |
| 130:18 | 147:19 165:2 | 81:17 82:4,5,12 | 43:9 154:10 | admittedly 132:21 |
| absence 34:20 54:3 | acknowledgment | 82:16 83:7,11 | acts 7:10,13,17 8:7 | adopt 53:7 116:14 |
| 54:5 111:12 132:1 | 46:19 | 85:22 86:5,15,18 | 34:7 37:24 42:13 | 119:11 131:2 |
| absolute 54:20 | act 1:7,12,15,21 | 87:13,16 88:12,17 | 47:8 66:2 90:12 | 143:22 146:14 |
| absolutely 6:15 | 3:10 4:16,20 6:1,2 | 88:18,21,22 89:14 | 107:22 143:7 | adopted 12:7 20:2 |
| 7:22 21:15 31:24 | 6:22 7:7,11 8:2,9 | 89:20,22,25 93:24 | 147:12 148:9 | adult 16:13 |
| | 8:16,23,25 9:2,9 | 94:5,9,14,17,24 | add 2:3 7:11 9:9 | advance 95:16 99:5 |
| 39:23 43:11,19 44:17 57:16 58:8 | 9:14,19 10:3,16 | 100:6 101:1,16,20 | 20:25 21:6 86:12 | 113:23 |
| | 10:17,18 11:13 | 105:21 106:13 | 116:18 144:18 | advanced 116:13 |
| 65:23 79:25 82:15 | 12:12 13:10,11,16 | 107:1 108:6,16,17 | added 8:12 9:14 | advanced 110.15 advent 89:21 |
| 84:15 104:18 | 13:23 14:6 17:4 | 108:21 111:4,11 | 96:1 | advents 7:1 |
| 105:16 107:20 | 18:19,19,21,25 | 111:20,21 113:15 | adding 8:23 | advise 31:6,7,8,9 |
| 111:6 128:17 | 19:16,17,21 20:24 | 113:18,19,20 | addition 142:20 | advised 162:25 |
| 161:1 165:9,9 | 21:18 22:10 23:3 | 114:7,14 115:4,8 | additional 6:18 | advised 102.23 advising 30:17 |
| absurd 14:3 | 23:5 25:15,16,22 | 115:20 118:5,12 | 17:6 | advisory 31:10,14 |
| abuse 73:5 | 25:23 26:4,7,10 | 118:14 120:7,8,12 | address 13:9,10 | 31:14 98:6 101:3 |
| academic 52:12,14 | 27:4,10 28:5,6,9 | 120:18 121:1,13 | 17:22 37:16 42:7 | 101:7,10,11 |
| accept 3:8 5:21 | 28:11,13,17 29:11 | 120:18 121:1,15 | 51:4 108:12 | Advocate 52:21 |
| 13:14 14:14 21:9 | 29:20,22,24 30:21 | 122:2,25 125:1,8 | 166:25 168:2 | 113:25 114:23 |
| 21:22,23 28:12,24 | 31:16,22,23 32:4 | 126:4,7,24 127:13 | addressed 8:18 9:5 | 119:6 129:11 |
| 33:22 39:17 45:25 | | 128:23 129:22 | 13:24 25:20 39:25 | 131:2 132:18 |
| 51:9 97:10 103:10 | 33:4,5 34:2,8,13 35:7,12,17,25 | | 42:4 114:19 | |
| 120:24 146:15 | | 130:8,16,17,21 | | 143:19,20,21 |
| 156:5 162:3,21 | 36:4,6,7,16,18,19 | 133:23 134:7 | 119:23 | 144:1 145:1,4 |
| 163:5 168:4 | 36:20 37:1,8,15 | 136:16,21 137:6,7 | 0 | 146:11 147:11,15 |
| acceptable 75:5 | 37:17,20,22,24 | 139:5 141:9 143:4 | 12:19 13:6 35:19 | 150:11 153:4,7,12 |
| accepted 46:10 | 38:3,24 39:3,5,5,7 | 145:19,22 146:13 | 162:14 | 153:16,19 154:5 |
| 67:6 91:24 130:2 | 39:8,10,11,18,25 | 147:9,17 148:18 | adds 4:7 36:4 | 154:15,18 155:1 |
| 130:12,15 151:17 | 40:6,8 41:3,4,7,9 | 151:19,21,22,23 | adequate 76:23 | 155:18 156:12,14 |
| accepts 102:25 | 41:18,23 42:9,9 | 152:8,15,21,22 | adheres 148:13 | 157:12 159:6,10 |
| 104:9 115:19 | 42:18 43:4,13,13 | 153:14,15,16,22 | adjourn 169:4 | 159:16 160:5,10 |
| 116:2 | 43:17 44:4,6,19 | 154:4,10 155:15 | adjourned 93:2 | 161:1,22 162:14 |
| accession 9:13 68:2 | 45:22 46:8,11,16 | 158:7,7,11,25 | 169:6,8 | 162:17,21 163:4 |
| 71:5,11,17 73:9 | 46:18,19 48:16 | 160:13,20,21,22 | adjournment 67:24 | 163:13,20 164:11 |
| 73:10 78:1 79:9 | 49:12,21,23 51:4 | 162:7,23 166:4 | 83:21 90:1 93:6 | 164:18,25 165:9 |
| account 7:15 | 51:13,15,15 52:4 | 167:19 | adjudicate 163:25 | 165:14,20 166:1,0 |
| accountable 38:12 | 52:6 53:24,25 | acting 54:7,9 56:17 | 167:22 | 166:10,18 167:7 |
| 50:13,14 | 55:19 57:6,8,12 | 71:6 117:25 | administer 127:18 | 167:18,25 168:21 |

www.DTIGlobal.com

| 168:23 169:2 | Agricultural 151:7 | amends 8:23 | 48:9,11,17 49:21 | appropriately |
|---------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|---------------------------|
| 170:7 | ahead 34:11 103:8 | amounts 90:7 | 51:14,24 53:20 | 157:18 |
| Advocate's 131:3 | 105:1,3 | Amsterdam 7:15 | 63:8 64:1 65:5 | approval 8:8,11,14 |
| 131:15 | air 4:14 116:3 | analyses 52:11 | 90:19 91:13,16 | 9:3,7,15 20:22 |
| affairs 64:5 129:16 | albeit 155:6 157:15 | analysis 10:4 17:17 | 92:15 108:19 | 49:9,11 51:19,21 |
| 146:4 148:10 | 162:25 163:17 | 52:14 66:22,25 | 133:10 | 75:17 76:5 89:11 |
| affect 8:13 47:18 | alien 96:21 | angle 93:8 | appellant's 37:14 | 97:7 103:7 118:18 |
| 48:25,25 70:25 | alive 62:20 | Anglo-Irish 137:3 | 41:22 49:20 52:23 | approved 19:13 |
| 71:1 74:20 87:6 | all-Ireland 121:10 | 142:12,23 | 65:10,16,18 80:24 | 20:12 44:9 48:23 |
| 112:23 | 122:10 123:25 | animated 135:24 | 82:11 85:20 90:6 | 75:10 |
| afforded 58:3 | 124:8,11 128:13 | annex 7:12,17 | 90:24,25 | approves 9:1 69:5 |
| afraid 59:20 131:7 | 138:10 | annexed 18:15,24 | appellants' 54:11 | 106:16 |
| afternoon 2:19 | all-island 128:13 | 20:3 | appellate 3:5,9 | approving 40:20 |
| age 61:5 | alleged 162:8 | anonymous 61:19 | applicable 151:4 | 41:14 |
| Agnew 112:4,11,19 | allocation 112:7,10 | answer 6:19 10:7,9 | applicant 17:25 | aptly 56:18 |
| 116:5 | allow 40:10 76:23 | 19:7 21:21,22,24 | 140:16 | architecture |
| ago 61:22 125:25 | allowed 52:22 | 21:25 38:21 42:15 | applicants 112:4,19 | 125:23 |
| 144:1 148:16 | allowing 24:18 | 47:1 48:5 50:10 | application 19:5 | area 114:24 |
| 155:8 | allows 76:14 | 50:20 53:11 61:7 | 36:12 115:15 | areas 9:17,20 12:6 |
| agree 4:18 15:18 | alter 7:25 18:12 | 67:13 84:3,5 92:9 | 158:25 | 85:11 117:20 |
| 19:5 35:24 36:11 | 63:12 64:4 152:24 | 93:13 125:24 | applied 160:16 | 122:18 130:11 |
| 48:13 95:16 96:23 | 153:24 | 155:3,5 156:18 | applies 10:21 11:5 | 134:14 139:2 |
| 119:25 122:8 | alteration 37:20 | 165:22 166:21 | 36:1 59:14 78:23 | 150:25 |
| 144:3 | 88:2 114:9 116:25 | answered 139:13 | 144:20 158:19 | arguably 135:14 |
| agreed 52:5 109:19 | 117:23 | 157:17,17,19 | apply 18:14 28:14 | argue 81:7 96:21 |
| 112:10,13 127:16 | alterations 93:21 | answering 25:10 | 51:15,20 79:10 | 160:20 |
| 138:18 140:2 | altered 37:9,9,12 | anterior 28:15 | 80:17 113:22 | argued 37:23 |
| 141:2 156:22 | 48:20 72:10 118:2 | Antony 112:4 | 116:4 117:2,2 | 141:21 |
| agreement 18:2,15 | altering 37:25 | anybody's 38:1 | 134:15 151:12 | arguing 33:24 |
| 51:16,17,20 66:17 | 144:22 | apart 53:17 | 167:15 | 40:14 |
| 76:3 120:13,14,23 | alters 117:3,5 | apologise 7:23 44:1 | applying 53:11 | argument 6:16 |
| 121:7,19 122:14 | ambiguity 108:21 | 150:11 | 152:24 153:24 | 10:4 12:22 13:18 |
| 122:15 123:3 | ambiguous 6:2 | appeal 3:8 44:10 | appreciate 42:21 | 14:19 15:25 17:11 |
| 127:1 128:16 | ambitious 20:16,18 | 52:13 53:9,12 | 125:16 | 20:15,16,21 21:2 |
| 130:8 133:21 | 20:19 | 54:11 108:14 | appreciation 66:7 | 21:10 22:4,7,13 |
| 135:3,13 137:4,4 | ambulatory 13:25 | 111:13 113:11 | 74:7 | 26:1 28:8 30:5 |
| 139:21 140:6,7,10 | 57:22 93:11 | 115:16 130:21 | approach 53:9 | 32:24 34:12 35:11 |
| 141:3,6,10,11,16 | amend 7:24 20:25 | appear 53:6 112:3 | 63:25 64:3 66:20 | 41:22,25 42:2 |
| 141:23 142:10,12 | 21:5 25:13 47:17 | 133:9 | 67:3 70:21 79:23 | 46:24 50:24 52:13 |
| 142:12,23 | 128:23 129:1 | appears 23:12 | 90:25 91:13 92:1 | 52:23 53:13 58:15 |
| agreements 76:23 | 131:21 | 112:5 140:10 | 129:12 146:6 | 59:1 60:24 66:2 |
| 114:16 122:16 | amended 7:10,14 | 152:17 160:14 | 149:19 155:8 | 73:4 80:24 85:20 |
| 127:9 128:22 | amending 7:18 | appellant 4:22 5:13 | approbation 75:17 | 86:1,3,4 89:19 |
| 130:6 | amendment 8:16 | 5:23 9:23 10:7,10 | appropriate 24:22 | 90:2,24 105:20 |
| agrees 58:6 98:10 | 19:17 22:5 118:11 | 15:1 41:5,6,19 | 43:7 124:2 | 113:23 116:12 |
| | | | | |
| | | | | |

| Page | 173 |
|------|-----|
|------|-----|

| | | | • | 1 age 175 |
|---------------------------------------|--------------------------------|----------------------------|---------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 120:10 157:9 | 53:18 56:25 90:18 | 52:20 124:23 | aware 70:3 | beat 116:3 |
| 159:6 161:3 | asked 4:13 7:9 15:5 | 126:25 132:3 | Axa 123:10 134:3 | beg 11:2 |
| 163:22 164:5 | 23:7 41:2 47:19 | 155:3,4 157:14 | | beginning 76:19 |
| arguments 52:15 | 68:14 69:10 70:1 | 168:17 |   | 121:21 |
| 52:16 133:19 | 157:14 168:6 | Attorney's 125:3 | B 21:25 22:1 64:11 | begins 41:20 |
| arises 35:25 38:18 | asking 14:17 35:21 | author 100:9 | back 7:3,8 17:15 | 123:18 |
| 77:22 102:22 | 70:2 82:24 132:11 | authorisation | 19:8 24:16 34:1 | begs 10:9 33:7,20 |
| 109:10 120:11 | asks 51:2 | 13:12,13,16,20 | 45:13 49:2 60:4 | 35:9 89:9 |
| 130:19 | aspect 47:3 54:19 | 15:22 16:1 54:4,6 | 67:23 86:11 90:23 | behalf 53:6 119:7,8 |
| arising 14:6 | 74:11 | 58:10,12 64:7 | 92:23 94:3,12 | 133:9 148:3 |
| arm 74:1 | aspects 74:8,8 | 90:16,20 91:11 | 100:16 103:6 | Belfast 114:15 |
| arose 49:1 54:23 | assembly 25:21 | 92:16 94:4,6 | 105:15 106:12 | 120:13,14 121:7 |
| 66:18 89:6 | 118:20 139:8 | 111:10,13 | 108:10 125:6 | 121:19 122:14 |
| arrangement 85:18 | 159:19 | authorise 130:22 | 143:7,12 160:13 | 123:2 128:16 |
| 139:25 142:14 | assent 19:18,19 | 145:14 | 160:15,18 | 140:17 |
| arrangements 62:9 | 24:9 25:7 | authorised 13:16 | backdrop 120:25 | believe 5:6 86:21 |
| | assert 62:9,12 | 61:8,9 65:1 90:14 | background 20:6,7 | 86:23 |
| 128:17 130:5 | 149:8 | 92:2,7 | 123:8 162:4 | believes 24:17 |
| 133:2 136:25 | assess 37:5 | authorises 160:21 | bad 50:24 | belt 84:14 |
| 143:10 144:12 | assessment 150:7 | authorising 14:12 | balance 119:22 | benefit 155:21 |
| 164:21 | assigned 128:5 | 161:7 | 120:4 | best 63:6 84:4 |
| arrived 135:4 | assist 25:10 51:24 | authorities 6:25 | balanced 119:19 | betrays 90:25 |
| article 11:23 13:17 | 53:1 127:19 | 8:15,20 17:10,24 | balancing 5:10 | better 52:16 67:20 |
| 14:13 34:6 35:2 | assistance 112:18 | 23:6 47:15,16,19 | based 53:9 85:17 | 83:22 |
| , | assisted 52:11 | 47:20 49:3 50:3 | 85:20 100:20 | beware 28:3 |
| 46:6,10,18,20,21 | assists 125:21 | 55:6 56:8 64:8,10 | bases 120:19 | bill 3:14 12:23 38:7 |
| 48:18 51:18,20 | Associate 41:14 | 64:12 68:19 83:1 | basic 28:23 37:12 | 38:9,11 40:17 |
| 53:21 54:1,6 | 44:15 | 83:4,24 86:19 | 42:6 47:14 48:21 | 51:24,25 52:2,4 |
| , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , | assume 45:19 52:3 | 94:14,17 112:16 | 52:22 134:24 | 55:1,3,3,6,8 69:14 |
| 76:7 79:15 80:25 | 103:2 | 112:17 117:9 | 146:16 155:23 | 71:9,12 77:4,18 |
| | assumed 27:10 | 121:20 130:1 | 157:23 164:17,18 | 77:21 86:17 98:20 |
| 88:11 89:11,22,24 | 55:16 | 137:11 145:9 | basically 34:24 | 98:22 99:9 100:25 |
| - | assuming 119:9 | authority 2:21 3:20 | basis 12:8 13:21 | 101:2 103:13,22 |
| 113:17 114:12 | 130:14 161:3 | 49:25 55:11,15 | 17:18 54:24 69:7 | 103:23 104:5,17 |
| | assumption 13:2 | 63:20 81:23 120:5 | 81:7 88:13 92:12 | 105:4 109:11,15 |
| 130:22 143:14 | 52:1 96:5 163:14 | 146:10 | 104:20 109:6 | 109:16,22 110:4 |
| | assuredly 63:5 | automatically | 120:19 121:10,10 | 145:22 146:14 |
| | attend 144:10 | 78:14 | 122:10 123:25 | 152:8,13 159:1,20 |
| | attended 140:19 | AV 100:3 101:24 | 124:12 127:4,12 | 161:3,6 162:10 |
| | attention 3:4,10 | 102:5,14 111:20 | 128:13 136:23 | 163:5 168:4 |
| articulated 145:21 | 5:15 10:17 20:14 | available 66:3 | 138:7,20 140:15 | bills 77:7 |
| 146:12 160:15 | 23:20 41:19 52:9 | 83:10 113:7 | 141:15 152:23 | binary 140:13,15 |
| artificial 3:16 4:23 | 59:1 152:14 158:6 | average 106:11 | 153:23 | 142:19 |
| | attenuated 133:6 | avoid 113:9 142:22 | battlefields 54:23 | bind 76:15 |
| 26:11 31:22 36:3 | A 4 A A A A A A A A A A | · I · 10 7 | bearing 29:16 | hindon 124.10 |
| 20.11 31.22 30.3 | Attorney 50:20 | avoiding 19:7 | bearing 29.10 | binder 134:19 |

www.DTIGlobal.com

| | | | | 1 480 111 |
|----------------------------|--------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------|--------------------------|
| binding 23:25 | braces 84:15 | buts 55:18 | 26:9 27:1,6 29:18 | ceded 34:10 |
| 33:10,13,24 34:1 | branches 115:6 | bypass 81:1 | 37:8 41:15,15,24 | ceding 30:9 |
| 34:4,6,8,8,13 61:8 | breach 78:20 163:8 | | 42:21 44:8 45:25 | celebrated 55:22 |
| 61:9 94:11,25 | 164:2,3 | C | 47:22 49:1,2,2,20 | 56:4 |
| 98:5 99:25 101:8 | break 168:23 | C 17:17 19:16 22:1 | 50:2 51:9 54:16 | central 50:12 |
| 108:15,16 139:23 | breaking 128:21 | 119:16,16 | 56:1 60:11 63:11 | 116:12 132:13 |
| 139:25,25 140:6 | Brexit 103:4,4 | CA 16:24 | 63:19 65:6,11,16 | 157:5 |
| 141:3 154:2 166:9 | brief 52:10 114:17 | call 16:17 146:12 | 66:11 67:7,12,21 | centuries 63:21 |
| 166:16 | 116:16 126:5 | called 3:1 16:22,23 | 68:21,25 81:17 | century 54:23 |
| binds 95:12 | 131:5,6 143:22 | 16:24 37:4 120:6 | 83:18 85:23,25 | 145:25 146:19 |
| Bingham 29:16 | briefing 98:15,17 | calling 35:2 | 86:20,22,23 90:6 | 147:2 |
| 32:19,21 45:5,7 | 98:19 100:16,19 | campaigner 140:18 | 91:8 92:13,22 | certain 4:14 32:18 |
| bit 5:24 14:16 33:3 | 100:23 109:1,2,8 | Canada 134:13 | 96:8 105:17 112:5 | 84:21,22 86:3,4 |
| 106:11,17 167:1 | 109:9 | 135:14 136:12 | 112:6,6,11,12,19 | 129:24 |
| black 15:5 103:15 | briefly 2:18 113:12 | Canadian 131:20 | 112:25 113:5,14 | certainly 3:22 |
| Blackburn 6:23 | 121:18 123:15 | 131:20 134:12,23 | 112.23 113.3,14 | 61:25 83:16 86:22 |
| 143:5 | 121:18 123:13 | 135:19 156:15 | 114:17 116:5,12,17 | |
| | | candidly 116:2 | 110:17 117:1 | 102:19 104:2 |
| bleak 167:1 | Brigades 17:9,13 | capable 27:16 | | 132:8 138:24 |
| blurred 5:25 | 27:14 51:1 73:6 | capacity 73:25 | 121:16,18 122:1,6 | 139:23 147:15 |
| bodies 56:17 124:9 | bring 78:3 90:14 | 148:1 | 125:2,3,14 129:10 | 155:18 162:17 |
| 124:10 125:17 | 111:2 141:18 | careful 9:16 47:16 | 131:3,15,16,20,21 | cessation 119:18 |
| 126:14,16 127:2,8 | brings 65:9 90:13 | 106:4,7 | 132:13,14 134:17 | cetera 21:14,14 |
| 127:16 128:10 | Britain 70:13 86:2 | carefully 117:5 | 134:19,21 135:10 | challenge 18:1 |
| 130:6 138:11 | 95:13 140:3,4,22 | Carnwath 6:10 | 135:20 136:3 | 64:18 115:14 |
| bodies' 127:10 | 142:15 | | 139:17 143:6,22 | challenged 162:8 |
| 129:1 | British 30:7 35:14 | 23:13,15 45:11,15 | 144:14 145:3,18 | Chambers 53:4,5,6 |
| body 39:4 53:17 | 59:23,25 73:18 | 46:16 66:10,22 | 146:25 148:1,22 | 57:13,23 58:8,23 |
| 56:23 57:4 59:23 | 74:6 95:3,7 96:8 | 67:1,6,11,20 69:2 | 150:22 152:16,19 | 58:25 59:13,19 |
| 66:13 122:8 | 140:21 147:13 | 92:22 93:13,14 | 153:5 156:15,17 | 61:6,13,25 62:6 |
| 123:24 127:15 | British-Irish | 102:1,8,20 104:8 | 157:13 158:23 | 65:16 66:21,24 |
| 128:4,9 145:13 | 114:16 120:23 | 104:24 105:17 | 159:13 160:8 | 67:3,10,14,23 |
| Bogdanor 95:8 | 122:15 130:7 | 107:7 | 163:22 164:9 | 68:22 69:3 72:2 |
| Bogdanor's 95:3 | broad 86:10 129:11 | Carnwath's 82:14 | 166:13 168:15,16 | 72:19,22 73:5,9 |
| book 13:1 15:23 | broadly 75:18 | 105:11 106:17 | cases 3:8 4:12 | 79:4,6 81:19 82:3 |
| 95:3,6 | 113:5 | carried 62:8 74:18 | 27:14 44:10 67:2 | 82:8 83:14,20 |
| border 125:9,19 | brought 19:12,20 | carry 50:14 122:2 | 77:4 85:2 109:5 | 84:9,21 85:6,14 |
| 127:19 | 66:19 77:23 79:16 | 123:5 | 119:10 134:12,16 | 85:19 86:21 92:21 |
| bottom 59:21 63:2 | 92:8 110:5 | carrying 11:12 | 134:23 | 92:25 93:3,9,10 |
| 70:16 | Browne-Wilkinson | carved 130:2 | casting 105:19 | 93:15 99:3 100:11 |
| bound 88:7 95:15 | 17:14,16 | case 2:2,25 3:6,12 | catastrophe 166:7 | 100:14 101:20,24 |
| 95:24 96:6,7,25 | brush 129:11 | 3:22,24 4:6,20 | Catholic 140:20 | 102:6,10,16,18 |
| 97:1 | buck 146:4 | 6:15,23 7:12 10:2 | cause 93:21 | 104:2,18 105:5,10 |
| bound' 95:25 | builds 104:10 | 10:5 16:11,12 | causes 7:5 | 105:16 106:3,19 |
| boundary 100:5 | bundle 78:8 92:24 | 17:2,14 18:5 19:6 | cavalier 119:15 | 107:3,20,24 108:4 |
| box 24:12,13 70:1 | 152:17 | 19:12,19 25:11 | cease 137:21 | 108:13 109:2,14 |
| | l | l | | |
| | | | | |

| [| | | • | |
|---------------------------|--|-----------------------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|
| 110:2,14 111:6,18 | circumvents | 29:8 32:14 | 87:4,25 97:22 | completing 1:6 |
| 111:19 170:4 | 118:10 | clearly 1:12 36:18 | committee's 86:18 | complex 114:24 |
| chance 70:23 | cited 56:1 | 37:11 73:16 | 87:23 97:14,21 | 115:2 140:23,24 |
| Chancellor 70:19 | citizen 67:9 | 120:15 127:4 | common 47:8 | complied 130:25 |
| change 25:5 40:5 | citizens 11:22 | 156:7 | 59:15 74:21 113:5 | comply 78:19 87:17 |
| 49:24 71:21 77:9 | 28:18 35:14 89:15 | client 115:17 | 151:7 | compulsory 101:23 |
| 77:14,20 87:20 | 115:5 | 140:16 | Commons 3:16,18 | conceive 163:17,18 |
| 100:8 107:4 | claim 15:20 90:20 | close 26:17 27:13 | 48:23 56:17 74:17 | concentrate 104:6 |
| 118:21 119:2 | 145:18,21 146:13 | 41:4 121:2 | 75:12 84:22 95:22 | concept 31:1 |
| 133:25 142:6 | 148:22 152:7 | closely 27:19 | 96:16 98:15,21,23 | concepts 63:23 |
| 147:7 148:6 149:2 | claimant 112:24 | closer 122:17 | 100:15,18 109:1,2 | conceptual 160:12 |
| 151:14 156:8 | claimants 112:8 | club 10:9 | 100:15,10 105:1,2 | concern 7:6,7 |
| 157:25 158:2 | 120:1 | code 17:20 | communications | 10:14 18:2 |
| 164:19,23 165:8 | clamp 28:6,7,10,16 | codified 95:11 | 9:21 10:16,17,18 | concerned 5:19 |
| 167:14 | 29:15,20,22 35:8 | coherent 33:14 | 10:24 11:8 12:12 | 9:18 12:20 16:25 |
| changed 14:4 61:25 | 35:10,20 36:11 | coincide 111:5 | 13:11,23 | 25:11 30:10 34:10 |
| 67:18 78:4 147:1 | Clapham 106:20 | coincidence 71:18 | Communities | 41:21 47:8 73:16 |
| 152:9 153:16 | | | 19:17 69:6,14 | |
| 152.9 155.10 | clarify 132:12 clarity 36:15,20 | colleagues 66:17 columns 97:25 | , | 81:21 84:20,23 |
| | • / | | 71:9,12 113:20 | 89:14 112:22,24 |
| changes 24:7 25:24 | 37:13 119:21 | combined 85:1 | 151:19 | 154:6 165:23 |
| 46:2 68:10 100:5 | Clarke 10:25 11:2 | come 7:8 16:10 | community 11:14 | concerns 11:8 |
| 145:14,19 158:15 | 16:20 68:21 79:2 | 19:8 40:24 45:13 | 11:16,20 18:22 | concession 53:20 |
| 158:19 | 79:5 86:20 99:2 | 52:6 61:6 66:11 | 19:22 20:4 21:12 | 54:1 65:10,12 |
| changing 142:4 | 100:9 101:18,22 | 67:23 70:7 77:14 | 95:21 97:8 112:21 | 90:6 |
| 148:17 | 102:14,17 111:19 | 82:4 92:23 97:8 | compel 40:16 77:2 | concessions 53:25 |
| chapter 10:22 11:7 | 111:24 | 105:2 122:24 | competence 115:7 | concise 116:18 |
| 95:9 | clash 54:24 | 123:14 152:9 | 117:3,9,13 129:14 | conclude 29:21 |
| characteristic | classic 109:23 | 157:13 | 149:24 150:25 | 74:1 76:11 88:1 |
| 56:11 | clause 58:13 | comes 26:17 30:6 | 151:15,16,25 | concluded 2:10,11 |
| characteristics | clauses 1:11 26:9 | 34:1 35:17 41:4 | 152:1,12,25 153:1 | 20:17 |
| 97:4 | 161:11 | 77:19 81:17 93:23 | 153:20,25 154:1 | conclusion 75:8 |
| check 86:22 | | coming 12:21 16:5 | 158:8,16,20,20 | 76:22 85:15 87:23 |
| Chicago-Kent | 18:13 26:18 27:3 | 35:4 77:12 81:19 | 159:21,25 165:6 | 111:15 129:19 |
| 73:23 | 45:15 48:24 53:13 | command 24:15 | competences | conclusions 97:23 |
| choice 59:9 80:13 | 53:25 54:19 55:17 | 109:17 | 152:10 153:17 | 97:24 |
| 81:2 126:10 | 69:19 83:6 84:15 | commend 131:22 | competencies | concrete 43:2 |
| 127:23 128:2,2,3 | 92:6 95:1,14,17 | comment 15:14 | 139:12 | condition 51:22 |
| choose 80:18 | 105:13 108:17,17 | comments 40:10 | competition 9:21 | conditional 57:22 |
| chooses 29:13 88:8 | 110:6 118:5 120:4 | commission 127:21 | complain 22:12 | 57:23 58:19,21,22 |
| chosen 33:12 | 123:1 128:11,17 | commit 34:14,15 | 48:4 | conditions 63:22 |
| circumstances | 128:24 129:24 | commitment | complained 19:1 | conduit 66:20 |
| 29:19 66:7 99:24 | 136:7,7,11,12 | 122:16 | complete 74:10 | 67:17 82:13 |
| 105:12 120:11 | 147:24 149:8 | commits 52:7 165:4 | 98:14 | 115:21 |
| 144:3 162:22 | 157:19 161:19 | committee 3:5,9 | completely 14:5 | confederalism |
| 163:19 | clearest 26:13 29:6 | 48:10 86:16 87:2 | 91:22 107:5 | 136:23 |
| | | | | l |

| | | | | 1 480 170 |
|---------------------------------|---------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| confer 27:5 48:17 | consequently 14:2 | 41:8,12 44:16,16 | containing 114:1 | contravenes 91:6 |
| 61:16 81:8 | consider 15:16 | 46:8 47:3,7,14 | contains 1:7 36:8 | contravention 57:8 |
| conferred 65:14,19 | 60:23 72:18 101:5 | 48:22 52:23 62:11 | 148:15 152:23 | 57:12,15,18,21 |
| 66:1 67:4 88:22 | 124:2,18 164:15 | 73:11,13,15 77:1 | 153:24 | contribute 11:18 |
| confers 115:4 | considerable 4:11 | 77:7 78:3 79:7 | contemplate 81:15 | control 40:13 51:6 |
| 138:23,25 | consideration | 85:10,17 86:11 | contemporary 7:2 | 51:12,13 74:10 |
| confine 131:4 | 124:22 | 96:5 98:11 99:21 | contend 147:24 | 76:13,21 80:11,12 |
| confirm 76:10 | considered 21:21 | 108:10 118:4 | content 18:12 | 80:16,17,22 81:1 |
| confirmatory 27:7 | 43:7 86:15,16 | 119:19,22 120:4 | 116:9 167:10 | 88:11,11 |
| | 113:2 151:10 | 123:9 129:4 | contention 3:3 41:4 | controls 46:24 |
| confirming 87:21 88:5 | | | 41:20 131:9 | |
| | considering 4:15 | 130:24 131:11,11 | | controversial 43:6 |
| conflict 74:21 | 168:3 | 131:13 133:18,25 | contentions 119:14 | 109:21 |
| 136:5 | consistent 45:6 | 136:17 139:24 | contentious 33:16 | convenient 92:20 |
| connected 62:24 | 95:23 96:24 101:3 | 140:1,11,24 141:4 | 141:24 | 168:19,21 |
| conscious 111:8 | 101:15 119:10 | 141:20 142:2,24 | contents 1:7 28:13 | convent 149:5 |
| consent 55:11 | 158:21 | 144:2,3,11,15,18 | context 19:6 20:13 | convention 24:11 |
| 68:14 69:10 79:8 | consistently 73:3 | 145:15,21 146:2 | 22:22 25:24 32:17 | 42:16,17,20 76:8 |
| 118:24 130:25 | Constituencies | 146:16,19 149:7 | 35:12,13,25 37:21 | 130:25 131:11 |
| 132:1,7 133:15 | 100:6 | 149:16 151:13 | 41:13 44:16,17,22 | 132:13 141:15 |
| 134:23 135:2 | constituents 100:22 | 154:7,11,13,20,21 | 63:23 66:6,14 | 149:16 152:13 |
| 137:5,21 139:6 | constitute 56:18 | 154:22,24 156:19 | 71:14 83:17 86:13 | 154:4,20 155:16 |
| 142:3,7,9,20 | constituted 28:5,9 | 158:3 162:5,11 | 114:14 119:16 | 155:21 156:1,19 |
| 143:16 144:6 | constitution 29:17 | 164:14,21 165:1 | 120:15 122:14,15 | 156:23,24 157:4,7 |
| 148:22 149:2,3,5 | 31:1 33:4 55:25 | 166:2,3 168:11 | 125:7 136:20 | 157:20 158:3,14 |
| 149:6,14,16 | 56:22 57:5 60:1 | constitutionalism | 139:18 142:2,18 | 158:18,25 159:12 |
| 152:13,22 153:13 | 60:20 61:14 62:9 | 136:1 | 149:23 150:2 | 160:2,16,19 |
| 153:23 154:3 | 63:6,18 85:12 | constitutionalists | 158:1 162:11 | 161:13 164:2,3,25 |
| 155:6,13 156:19 | 86:17 87:6 95:3,8 | 106:21 | 163:4 164:14 | 166:13,15,20 |
| 158:10,18 159:5 | 95:14 96:9 100:1 | constitutionally | 168:1,3 | 167:13,15,16,17 |
| 159:12 160:1 | 110:19,23 115:24 | 40:18 150:3 | contexts 35:16 | 168:18 |
| 162:24 166:5,6 | 115:25 118:4 | constitutions 95:11 | 113:9 | conventions 131:17 |
| consents 149:13 | 120:6 131:10,19 | constrain 47:9 | contingent 89:7,24 | 154:9 156:8 |
| 150:4 | 131:21 133:13 | 154:9 | continue 14:8 | 166:15 |
| consequence 28:24 | 134:13,14 135:23 | constrained 24:6 | 113:22 | conversation 56:16 |
| 30:23,24,24 33:21 | 135:24 139:20,21 | constrains 46:17 | continued 1:4 | converted 156:11 |
| 34:3 40:15 43:2 | 141:13 145:16 | constraints 47:13 | 87:13 98:25 99:10 | converting 118:14 |
| 43:12 52:8 87:16 | 146:8,17 148:25 | constructed 41:25 | 120:15,17 170:3 | convincingly |
| consequences | 154:10 155:12 | 117:5 | continuing 127:20 | 123:11 |
| 30:21,22 38:14 | 154.10 155.12 | construe 40:14 | continuously 163:9 | cooperation 114:15 |
| 68:4 139:7 144:15 | constitutional 4:6 | construed 27:11 | contracts 5:8,8 | 120:15 121:3,8 |
| 144:18 | 25:3 28:13 31:20 | 162:4 | contracts 5.8,8 contrary 54:7 | 120:13 121:3,8 122:17 126:16 |
| | | | 64:14 71:6 79:12 | 122.17 120.10 |
| consequential | 31:25 32:10,11,17 | construing 5:8 | | |
| 160:24 | 35:15,19,22 36:1 | consult 24:22 157:8 | 84:19 109:11 | copied 95:7 |
| consequentially | 36:2,7,12 37:12 | consultative 99:16 | 115:8 133:12 | copies 15:3 |
| 161:7 | 37:21 39:20 40:1 | contain 77:9 99:11 | contrast 100:2 | core 6:25 8:15,20 |
| | 1 | | 1 | 1 |

| | | | | Page 177 |
|---------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------|---------------------------|
| 17:9,24 23:6 49:3 | court 2:4,6,10 3:5 | 147:23 149:20 | cross-refers 151:9 | 113:1 |
| 54:18 55:6 56:8 | 3:13 4:7,21 5:23 | 150:14 154:6 | cross-sectoral | deals 125:23 |
| 64:10,12 83:1,4 | 6:1,7,9,25 7:4,11 | 155:3,5 156:14,14 | 124:3 | 139:24 |
| 88:19 90:2 94:17 | 7:20 8:16,19,20 | 156:16,18 157:16 | Crown 2:13 23:3 | dealt 89:4,6 113:4 |
| 121:12 127:5 | 8:22,24 9:10,12 | 157:18 158:10 | 54:24 147:7,15 | Dean 156:2 |
| 134:18 | 10:14 14:17,25 | | · · · · · · | debate 6:20,21 7:2 |
| corollary 80:16 | 15:3,5,11 17:15 | 161:18,22 162:2 162:12 163:25 | 148:2,4,9,24 164:19 | 24:20 68:24 69:24 |
| correct 16:15 26:12 | | | | |
| | 17:23,25 18:8,9 | 164:15 167:21 | Crown's 21:11 | 70:6 78:23 99:5 |
| 48:16 57:16 58:8 | 19:15 20:8,15,16 | 168:5,7,10,14 | crucial 146:9 | 110:4 |
| 61:15 62:6 66:22 | 20:20 21:16,24 | 169:5,8 | culmination 25:22 | debated 16:3 |
| 66:24 73:15 91:13 | 22:3,14,19,20,21 | court's 2:4 10:17 | 54:25 | debates 13:22 48:9 |
| 92:1 104:18 | 23:1,9,18 24:13 | 22:11 23:12,20 | current 88:2 | 48:11 78:25 |
| 105:16 106:21 | 25:18 38:16,17,22 | 40:8 41:12 98:16 | 127:22 144:3 | December 1:1 |
| 111:6 129:18 | 38:22 39:13,19,24 | 108:13 110:16 | 164:14,21 | decide 4:6,13 30:8 |
| 147:20 | 40:2,15,21,22 | 152:14 158:6 | currently 24:6 | 34:21 38:7,8,9 |
| Costa 85:2 | 41:2,8,17,21 | courts 17:2 57:8 | 65:14 145:7,10 | 42:24 48:12 52:15 |
| council 2:25 81:22 | 42:11,24 43:4 | 62:15 63:20 82:23 | 157:23 168:3 | 71:24 88:15 |
| 96:15 106:6 | 44:17,20,21 47:24 | 85:10 87:9 107:18 | curtail 21:5 | 105:20,23,24 |
| 113:17 118:13,18 | 48:5,22 49:15,16 | 110:10 115:13,19 | curtailed 20:24 | 108:14 110:12 |
| 122:5 123:23 | 50:17,18 51:2,3,3 | 135:19 141:12,13 | custom 77:15 | 150:6 |
| 124:18 125:17 | 51:9,25 52:3,10 | 166:25 | | decided 27:13 |
| 126:9 127:24 | 52:15,18,19 53:2 | cover 100:11 |   | 34:17 66:8 166:19 |
| 128:24 | 53:8 55:5 56:7 | covered 18:21,23 | D 17:17 64:11 | deciding 20:8 22:22 |
| Council's 127:5 | 60:23 68:19 73:20 | 24:10 131:14 | daily 71:1 | 89:8 98:12 |
| counsel 20:18,19 | 82:24 83:15 84:2 | covering 12:6 | dangerous 31:13 | decision 58:20 |
| 119:7 | 85:4,11 87:7 | CRAG 23:5,9 | dangers 35:6 | 66:13 69:6,11,15 |
| countries 95:11 | 91:14 93:1 95:2,4 | 24:24 25:2,9 | date 20:3 101:19 | 70:2,7,12 95:20 |
| 121:3 | 96:11,13 97:14 | 51:15 78:7 79:10 | dates 71:18 | 97:8,9 136:6 |
| country 13:2 62:13 | 99:7 100:24 | 79:13 | David 15:2 | 138:25 149:9,11 |
| 67:9 82:23 135:5 | 101:12 102:25 | create 26:15 67:16 | Davis 15:2 | 158:4 161:6 |
| course 4:5 5:11,12 | 103:19 104:13,22 | created 26:4,23 | Davis' 15:14 | 165:23 166:2 |
| 9:19 10:8 22:20 | 105:2,6,20 106:4 | 28:1 36:3 45:17 | day 38:2,2 71:17 | 168:13,13 |
| 24:8,8 25:6 27:1 | 112:6,9,16 113:3 | 45:18 47:5 72:16 | 77:2 169:8 | decision-making |
| 28:3,4 30:7 34:25 | 113:4,6 114:19 | creating 1:24 2:16 | days 24:16 144:1 | 65:3 |
| 42:24 43:5 47:6 | 115:1,16,16 116:5 | 6:11 35:12 | De 16:11,16,17,19 | decisions 70:25 |
| 48:13 60:2 65:23 | 116:11,16 118:15 | creation 44:24 | 16:19,20 17:14,18 | 71:2 99:18 124:6 |
| 71:8 72:24 81:21 | 119:9 120:22 | critical 65:23 72:20 | 17:19 27:14 | decisive 30:7 98:7 |
| 85:7 93:23 95:25 | 121:18 126:17 | cross 112:20,20 | deal 1:15 2:1,19 | declaration 128:20 |
| 97:1 103:10,11 | 128:16 130:20 | 125:9 | 12:21,24 16:7 | 133:22 |
| 104:10 110:20 | 131:19,21 132:11 | cross-border | 40:25,25 66:12 | declaratory 83:9 |
| 117:18 119:23 | 132:22,25 134:7 | 121:10 122:10 | 82:5 86:1 103:13 | 84:14 137:17 |
| 134:5,13 143:25 | 135:9 137:16 | 123:25 124:8,12 | 151:6 156:17 | declared 76:20 |
| 145:5 147:16 | 140:14,19 141:8 | 128:13 | 165:18,20 | 137:19 |
| 153:20 155:21 | 143:10 144:5,10 | cross-community | dealing 3:21 78:1 | defeat 17:5 62:2 |
| 169:3 | 144:16 145:17 | 118:24 | 102:23 109:10 | 75:2 |
| 107.5 | 111.10 173.17 | 110.27 | | 15.2 |
| L | • | • | • | |

| | | | | T |
|---------------------------|--------------------------|----------------------------|------------------------------------|-----------------------|
| defeated 116:9 | destroy 2:15 | 88:24 93:25 148:6 | 135:12 | 71:23 72:10 74:8 |
| 129:5 132:21 | desuetude 156:10 | differently 81:25 | distinction 52:12 | 75:21 78:4,12,18 |
| defend 22:13 | detail 8:22 11:10 | difficult 6:17 13:18 | 77:6 101:9 106:23 | 79:11,17,24 80:2 |
| deficiency 49:19 | 103:25 114:21 | 43:3 98:7 163:5 | 110:16 | 80:4,6,10,20 81:8 |
| defined 56:21 | determination | difficulty 80:24 | distinguishing | 82:12,18,20 84:17 |
| 107:16 118:24 | 143:15 161:16 | 153:2 | 138:4,6 | 86:11 89:15,17 |
| defines 63:22 126:7 | determine 4:9 | dimension 14:19 | disturbing 141:1 | 90:4 93:22,24 |
| 126:14 | determined 83:20 | 124:18 | disveritude 167:13 | 94:1 102:2 103:14 |
| defining 107:16 | 135:7 144:2 | Diplock 50:7,9 | divest 97:5 | 104:21 120:24 |
| definition 18:18 | determines 130:20 | diplomats 65:7 | divided 156:18 | 128:22 140:7 |
| 19:21 22:7 160:3 | 161:4 | direct 102:9 141:24 | divination 44:21 | 148:10 |
| delegates 147:16 | detract 85:22 144:9 | directed 155:6 | 45:4 | domestically 46:7 |
| deliberately 33:12 | develop 53:14 | 158:15 160:7 | divine 41:9 44:5 | dominant 56:11 |
| delicately 119:18 | 114:20 121:2 | directive 11:15 | division 37:16 39:8 | dominions 143:7 |
| democracy 94:10 | developing 122:16 | directly 66:1 71:6 | 39:14 46:14 74:7 | dos 105:2 |
| 96:22 135:25 | development 11:18 | 107:23 150:24 | divisional 2:3,6,10 | double 81:5,8,10,20 |
| 146:21 147:1 | device 141:12,13 | 157:16 | 18:8 20:8,14,16 | doubt 13:21 14:3 |
| democratic 134:25 | devolution 114:10 | disabled 152:7 | 20:20 21:24 22:2 | 82:1 154:22 |
| 135:18 | 116:25 117:5,24 | disapplication | 20:20 21:24 22:2 22:11,14,18,21 | 159:25 161:7 |
| demonstrates | 118:11,22 129:10 | 81:15 | 85:4 98:16 100:24 | douceur 166:9 |
| 79:21 | 129:12 136:24,25 | disapplied 81:14 | 106:4 | 167:6,11 |
| denigrate 6:4 | 147:18 166:14 | discern 37:1,19 | divvy 139:6 | Downing 133:22 |
| Denning 7:1 49:7,7 | devolved 78:22 | disconnect 142:16 | divvy 139.0 divvying 139:12 | dozens 12:5 |
| 49:10 143:5 | 117:3,9,20 129:14 | discovered 64:16 | doctrine 1:22 53:10 | drastically 67:8 |
| departing 38:25 | 132:2,10 149:1,4 | discrete 129:9 | 53:11,15 54:7,14 | draw 3:4,10 59:1 |
| departments 50:12 | 149:15 150:1,6,19 | discriminate 134:4 | 54:18,20,22 55:2 | 152:14 |
| depending 40:11 | 150:20 152:12 | discuss 76:24 | 55:4,22 63:9,16 | drawn 41:19 52:9 |
| 1 0 | | discussion 70:5 | | 77:6 101:9 |
| depends 32:3 58:5 | 159:4,24 160:4,11 | 85:9 | 63:17,21 65:3,21 | |
| 74:6 151:3 | 160:23,25 161:9 | | 79:21 84:11 85:1 | draws 5:15 |
| deprive 145:6 | 161:12 163:2,24 | dismantled 28:7 | 86:14 88:13 89:3 | drew 158:6 |
| Deputy 7:9 | 166:7 | dismantling 35:20 | 90:15 91:1,7,12 | driving 122:18 |
| derive 140:1 | devoted 96:19 | dismissed 54:12 | 91:23 | droll 61:19 |
| derived 41:23 | Dicey 55:24 56:3,8 | 111:14 dispansing 55:12 | document 15:4,7 | drop 74:4 |
| 61:22 | 59:19 61:20,25 | dispensing 55:13 | 25:4 78:10 123:7 | dualist 63:25 64:3 |
| derives 140:4,5 | 96:10 107:14,25 | 55:14 | doing 13:19 24:21 | 67:3,15 79:22 |
| deriving 88:23 | 108:11,11 110:20 | displace 35:22 | 70:4 103:16 | 80:8 116:19 146:5 |
| derogate 57:6 | Dicey's 56:4,6 | 130:17 162:6 | 117:15 164:6 | 148:13 |
| described 56:3,18 | dicta 134:2,5 | disposal 19:4 | domestic 7:24,25 | due 103:11 104:9 |
| 140:13,15 | dictated 106:7,8 | dispute 39:18 63:8 | 8:13 18:6,7,12,22 | 117:18 |
| description 65:18 | difference 103:23 | 150:16 154:19 | 19:2 20:10,23 | duplication 113:9 |
| 65:19 | 104:1 106:10 | 158:18 | 21:19 22:10 24:2 | duties 10:19 11:3 |
| designed 33:8 38:3 | different 9:5 14:5 | disputed 154:18 | 26:6 59:7 64:4,24 | 20:10 21:20 |
| 38:14 123:24 | 28:19,25 34:19 | dissent 165:17 | 65:20,23 66:2,3 | duty 11:12 |
| desks 2:24 | 35:3,16 37:23 | dissimilar 156:16 | 66:16,18,19 67:4 | E |
| despite 20:21,22 | 43:15 56:15 62:25 | distinct 9:17 118:8 | 67:18 68:10 71:21 | Ľ |
| | | | l | |

DTI (+44)207 4041400 www.DTIGlobal.com

| | | | | Page 179 |
|-------------------------|---------------------|--------------------|---------------------|------------------------------|
| E 21.2 22.1 40.9 10 | 101.15 110.0 12 | 96.25 99.20 02.17 | ENEL 05.2 | 24.22 164.5 |
| E 21:2 22:1 49:8,10 | 101:15 110:9,12 | 86:25 88:20 93:17 | ENEL 85:2 | 34:22 164:5 |
| Eadie 5:14 14:25 | 119:2,3,17 120:13 | 94:15,18 95:5 | enforce 62:14 | entitles 158:3 |
| 15:5 19:3 20:9,14 | 123:22 126:2,24 | 96:14 97:16 98:18 | enforced 57:8 | entry 72:9 |
| 23:1,4 25:17 | 130:5 138:18 | 111:21 | engage 89:2 148:2 | environmental |
| 26:21 27:1 46:10 | 141:10 144:8,11 | element 127:7 | 152:13 159:4,11 | 9:22 |
| 52:3,5,21 64:15 | 144:19 145:14,18 | elements 15:23 | 163:6 | envisaged 75:25 |
| 86:4 101:10 | 146:16 149:3,24 | 129:25 | engaged 89:18 | 121:1,7 |
| 119:20 120:3 | 151:14 156:7 | elide 148:25 149:4 | 132:13 158:9 | equality 9:21 |
| 144:1 150:13 | 159:4 161:25 | elides 155:9 | 160:1 161:13 | equally 70:13 78:24 |
| 151:17 | 162:1 164:1,4 | eliminating 27:12 | engagement 132:9 | 80:17 148:8 |
| Eadie's 46:24 79:12 | 165:8 167:20,25 | Elise 98:20 100:12 | 167:12 | 162:19 |
| 151:1 | effective 74:23 | 100:14 | engages 158:3 | equate 136:24 |
| earlier 47:18,18 | 80:21 97:9 166:9 | eloquence 52:20 | England 54:23 | equivalent 49:12 |
| 68:17 | effectively 40:16 | else's 48:3 | 56:24 62:4 135:15 | escape 93:14 |
| easy 110:8 | 67:7 108:7 130:8 | embedding 115:23 | 145:23 | escape 93.14 essence 39:2 |
| | | 0 | | |
| echoes 96:10 | effects 37:25 80:6 | emerged 28:4 | English 56:21 57:5 | essential 18:4 20:7 |
| economical 113:7 | 129:6 148:9,12 | emerges 122:20 | 60:19 61:14 73:25 | 79:25 80:3 82:15 |
| edges 150:9 | 149:14 150:5 | emphasise 51:10 | 74:21 75:13 84:16 | 116:19 157:21 |
| edgeways 45:11 | 152:12 159:21,24 | empire 59:23 | 93:23 148:12,14 | essentially 38:13 |
| edict 105:25 | 161:9 | employed 141:12 | 148:15 | 47:9 62:25 85:17 |
| edition 56:2,3 | efficacy 35:18 | 141:13 | Englishmen 61:23 | 122:6 126:2 128:6 |
| Edward 95:21 | efficiency 50:15 | enable 71:20,21 | enjoys 6:7 38:23 | 159:17 160:23 |
| 96:16 | eight 77:15 | 78:19 | enlighten 83:14 | establish 31:5 |
| EEC 18:25 21:1,6 | eighth 56:2 | enables 99:16 | enormous 36:25 | 47:13 127:1 |
| 68:1,3,15 69:11 | either 26:12 107:14 | enabling 78:23,24 | 38:4 | established 60:9 |
| 69:15,17 72:5,9 | 118:12 123:13 | 80:12 81:21 108:7 | enshrined 53:23 | 64:17 109:4 |
| 93:22 94:13,22 | 136:14 160:4 | enact 66:8 159:3 | 82:12 137:5 | 114:15 121:8,14 |
| effect 4:15 9:25 | elaborate 149:17 | enacted 7:3,18 | 146:19 | 127:9,10 |
| 11:14 13:10,22 | elect 60:20 61:14 | 25:14 27:23 28:22 | enshrines 137:7 | establishing 20:3 |
| 14:8 18:6 19:2 | 61:18 110:21 | 42:17 52:6 53:18 | 142:3 | 26:18 |
| | election 88:21 | 55:1,18 89:1 | enshrining 166:24 | establishment |
| 20:9,23 22:8 25:2 | | - | 8 | 127:14 |
| 27:11 28:12,12 | elections 10:3 | 145:25 151:2 | ensure 62:10 74:22 | |
| 29:15 33:2,5,10 | 53:24 59:2,5 | 156:13 162:7 | 75:3 84:12 106:5 | Estuary 65:6 |
| 33:13,23 34:19 | 88:18 | 166:20 | 106:7 112:25 | et 21:14,14 |
| 41:11 43:13,14,18 | electorate 43:10 | enacting 21:4 43:4 | ensuring 38:18 | EU 7:25 9:24 10:19 |
| 43:21 44:6,23 | 60:25 75:6 99:16 | enactment 24:7,25 | enter 72:13 81:11 | 11:3 12:2,9,10 |
| 45:22,24 46:11 | electors 60:17,19 | 25:6 59:25 60:1 | entered 74:5 | 13:3,24 14:2 |
| 47:18 53:19,25 | 60:21 61:13 62:10 | 72:23 75:1 154:4 | enters 80:9 | 25:19 33:18 47:10 |
| 58:2 66:14 69:14 | 62:14,16,21 63:3 | enacts 8:3 42:20 | entirely 5:21 14:14 | 51:18 52:8 53:21 |
| 74:24 75:12 78:15 | electronic 10:24 | 155:24 | 42:10,24 45:6 | 53:22 58:22,24 |
| 79:7 80:2,4 81:6,7 | 11:8 55:7 56:9 | encroachment | 74:1 130:15 | 59:3 65:3,14,19 |
| 81:13,16 84:16 | 59:17,19 60:7 | 84:24 106:5 | 131:14 147:5 | 65:24 78:24 79:17 |
| 85:3,4 87:11 | 64:11,13 68:20 | endorse 95:19 | entirety 137:20 | 82:11,18,20 83:9 |
| 89:15,17 90:5 | 69:21 73:21 78:9 | endpoint 131:24 | entities 5:19 | 84:13,16 87:15,18 |
| 93:21 94:1 101:14 | 78:9 83:2,5,24 | ends 24:24 | entitled 30:13 | 88:6,15 90:11 |
| 75.21 74.1 101.14 | 10.7 03.2,3,24 | CIIUS 24.24 | Churcu 30.13 | 00.0,13 70.11 |
| | 1 | 1 | 1 | · |

DTI (+44)207 4041400 www.DTIGlobal.com

| | | | | rage 100 |
|---------------------------|--------------------------------------|-----------------------|-------------------------|----------------------------|
| 93:22 99:10,14 | 51:1 | 125:16 132:10,15 | 88:5 | 127:10 131:13 |
| 108:9 112:23 | exactly 43:23 | 145:6,18 146:24 | exposition 55:22 | 133:12,23 141:6 |
| 113:21 115:4,9,21 | 105:10 157:4 | 148:17 151:16 | 56:4,6 | 141:22 |
| 115:23 116:3 | examine 35:17 | 153:1,19 154:1 | express 13:20 | Factortame 85:7 |
| 117:1,2,10,12,15 | example 8:15 10:2 | 157:10 158:20 | 21:12 29:19 57:7 | facts 109:4 |
| 117:17,19 119:18 | 10:6,14 12:12 | 164:10 | 72:9 | Faculty 156:2 |
| 120:16,18 121:9 | 13:1 38:1 40:19 | executive's 81:10 | expressed 61:1 | failure 38:12 74:25 |
| · · | | 148:22 | 62:17 66:4 70:8 | 162:9 |
| 122:9,13 124:4,14 | 42:18 58:7,11,14 58:25 61:17 65:2 | exercise 2:23 3:17 | 72:4 138:14 | fair 135:17 157:13 |
| 124:16,21,22 | | | | |
| 125:5 127:3,14,18 | 65:6 66:20 81:5 | 17:3,7 27:18 36:9 | expressing 111:7 | fairly 122:4 |
| 127:20,25 128:7 | 99:23 115:15 | 49:22 64:25 89:8 | expression 55:4 | faith 128:21 |
| 130:9 133:15,17 | 139:15 151:6 | 91:8 103:1 105:22 | 61:21 98:7 137:8 | fall 75:2 83:9 |
| 151:9 152:1,5 | examples 10:13 | 114:7,11 116:10 | 138:20 143:13,15 | fallacy 82:10 |
| 159:23 | 24:9 33:11 65:5 | 129:16 130:4 | expressly 1:20 4:24 | 159:10,13 |
| Europe 71:1 73:19 | 75:22 82:24 99:19 | 136:18 145:7 | 16:7 32:6 42:4,7 | falling 85:11 |
| 85:10 | 150:21 | 148:9 | 47:6 121:1 123:12 | 108:10 |
| European 8:16 9:4 | excellent 93:11 | exercised 55:16 | 129:13 158:15 | falls 74:1 109:3 |
| 10:2 11:18,22 | exception 20:4 | 59:8 87:12 91:5 | extend 16:1 18:7 | 157:17 165:23 |
| 15:10,15 19:17,24 | 109:4 126:19 | 93:18 | extending 127:22 | familiar 24:14 |
| 20:4 25:21 53:24 | 152:3,4 | exercises 46:17 | extension 10:1 | 44:11,13 73:12 |
| 59:2,6 66:15 69:6 | exceptionally 6:17 | exhortatory 43:1 | extensive 10:4 | 110:5 |
| 69:14 70:21 71:9 | 13:18 | exist 26:16,19 | extent 4:8 48:12 | famous 41:13 |
| 71:12 83:7 85:10 | exceptions 54:21 | 59:22 138:12 | 61:5 63:24 86:3,4 | far 1:10 20:1 30:9 |
| 87:19,22 88:3,7 | 55:18 | existed 9:16 27:8 | 119:14 139:19 | 34:10 37:21 50:15 |
| 88:18 89:5 93:25 | exclude 3:15 | 28:1 | 141:4,21 157:6 | 73:15 81:20 89:13 |
| 94:22 95:20 98:20 | excluded 18:19 | existence 81:9 89:4 | extra 157:9 | 110:4 122:2 |
| 98:25 113:17,20 | 22:6 | existing 58:24 | extra-judicially | far-reaching 21:10 |
| 121:4 124:18,25 | exclusive 17:20 | 75:21 | 73:17 | fault 11:2 48:2 |
| 141:14 143:10 | Exclusively 147:10 | exists 26:20 64:3 | extract 59:21 63:1 | 114:25 |
| 144:8,16,19 | execution 55:11,15 | 85:16 102:4 | 136:2 | favour 45:3 70:9 |
| 145:11 149:10,25 | executive 1:8,13 | 157:23 | extracted 52:13 | 118:20 |
| 150:15,24 151:4 | 2:7 27:22 30:3 | exit 14:13 15:17 | 134:23 | feature 79:25 138:4 |
| 151:14,18 154:14 | 31:21 32:12 36:18 | expand 47:10 | extracts 56:1,7 | features 138:6 |
| 161:5,17 168:14 | 37:3,16 39:9 40:5 | expect 42:7 47:2 | 134:16 | February 19:25 |
| evaporate 128:6 | 54:4 55:19 58:6 | 69:13 96:1 97:2 | extreme 168:8 | federal 135:14 |
| event 25:6 33:5,19 | 59:23 63:11 64:4 | expectation 6:11,16 | extremely 114:17 | 136:5,20 |
| 38:3 58:21 89:20 | 71:24 72:7 74:1 | explain 149:17 | | federalism 135:25 |
| 100:7 108:22 | 76:12 80:7 89:8 | explained 24:12 |   | 136:24 |
| 128:6 129:19 | 89:10 90:14 91:4 | 63:19 153:21 | F 17:16,17 19:23 | Federation 50:2,5 |
| 132:21 | 91:5,6,25 92:1,6,8 | explains 49:7 88:9 | 21:3 49:8,10 50:8 | feel 110:19 111:3 |
| eventually 86:18 | 92:17 105:8,12,24 | explanatory 83:16 | face 4:1 30:6 | Fegan 133:10 |
| everybody 84:15 | 106:1,8,25 115:6 | 83:23 152:15,20 | fact 7:18 20:21,22 | fetter 21:11 32:5,6 |
| evidence 87:2 | 115:14 116:21,22 | 153:9,11,22 158:6 | 27:19 47:12 62:13 | 32:7,9 35:8,10,11 |
| 100:20,24 166:11 | 117:9,25 119:2 | 158:11 | 64:3 72:7 76:10 | 35:21 |
| ex 17:9,12,22 50:1 | 122:8 123:23 | explicitly 87:21 | 79:16 86:2 100:24 | fifth 2:17 16:10,23 |
| | | | | |
| | | | | |

| ſ | | | | 1 age 101 |
|--------------------------|-------------------------------|-------------------------|----------------------------|------------------------|
| 22:23 | fit 157:11 | format 124:2 | 114:13 | 52:20,21 63:9,16 |
| final 48:7 63:1 | five 63:1 141:20 | former 30:12 74:10 | frustrated 9:23 | 67:14 88:9 102:21 |
| 76:25 87:9 131:6 | fixed 167:17 | forms 120:25 123:7 | 12:3 14:12 116:9 | 113:25 114:23 |
| 131:23 143:2 | flagrantly 163:8 | 139:21 | 129:5 | 119:8 123:10 |
| Finally 125:19 | flaw 90:24 125:13 | formulated 81:25 | frustrates 119:3 | 124:23 129:11 |
| financial 77:4,18 | flexible 29:18 31:1 | 82:2 | Frustration 14:14 | 130:2 132:3 |
| find 7:12 19:15 | 33:4 40:10 | forthcoming | fulfilling 10:19 | 141:11 144:5,7 |
| 21:9 31:11 68:19 | floor 3:18 4:24 5:2 | 162:25 | 11:3 | 148:19 155:3,4 |
| 73:20 87:7 97:15 | flowing 123:13 | forward 5:14 77:11 | full 24:9 25:7 66:6 | 156:14 157:14 |
| 97:25 107:15 | flows 146:20 | found 23:11 44:12 | 76:10 94:9 132:25 | 160:5 |
| 115:10 118:16 | focus 6:1 23:18 | 50:7 114:2 145:23 | fully 16:2 62:22 | General's 159:6 |
| 121:5,20 129:23 | 32:15 41:6 47:11 | founded 147:6 | 102:10 | 168:17 |
| 129:24 163:5 | 113:7 | four 70:16 75:8 | function 11:9 82:15 | generally 20:24 |
| finding 153:2 | focused 29:24 | 113:3,14 147:3 | 89:15 | 36:1 85:15 95:12 |
| finds 21:13 55:4 | 144:7 157:15 | 115.5,14 147.5 | functions 9:5 10:21 | 123:8 126:15 |
| 126:17 | | fourth 1:6 97:17 | 10:22 11:5,7,13 | |
| | focusing 41:10 folder 15:5 | framed 42:2 132:4 | 27:22 50:14 127:6 | germane 155:1,2 |
| fine 16:6 106:9 | | | | Germany 70:19 |
| 112:13 125:14 | follow 30:16 43:11 | framework 11:15 | 127:18 128:5,25 | getting 83:13 |
| 133:3 | 97:12 104:12 | 124:22 145:10 | fundamental 31:20 | give 10:13 11:14 |
| finish 92:9 110:15 | 125:18 129:19 | France 70:18 | 31:25 32:9,11 | 14:5 16:22 24:9 |
| finished 165:19 | following 10:21 | franchise 43:15,16 | 35:22,25 36:2,12 | 29:12 36:6 51:19 |
| Fire 17:9,13 27:14 | 11:5 142:11 | frankly 148:5 | 36:14 47:3,7 51:8 | 65:15 68:14 69:10 |
| 51:1 73:6 | 144:14 145:1 | free 80:13 96:2 | 53:10 63:17 79:15 | 69:14 76:5,13 |
| fires 54:22 | 169:8 | 97:3 134:25 | 82:19 90:25 107:6 | 82:24 86:24 89:10 |
| first 2:20 3:19 6:18 | follows 18:20 48:15 | free-standing 19:4 | 131:18 | 102:17 108:8 |
| 11:7 20:9 23:4 | 54:10 74:14 | Friday 133:21 | fundamentally | 126:4 129:21 |
| 25:20 28:1 31:24 | footing 24:23 | 135:3,12 137:4 | 40:2 | 130:5 138:18 |
| 45:24 46:5 53:9 | footnote 5:15 76:17 | 139:20 141:3,16 | fundamentals | 141:10 143:7 |
| 53:14 55:5,25 | 96:12 | 141:23 | 37:21 40:1 | 156:13 160:22 |
| 60:9 61:11 68:4 | force 7:25 14:3 | friend 14:25 53:8 | funds 75:20 | 167:10 |
| 68:25 69:21 79:20 | 18:22 30:5 32:25 | 60:12 64:15 78:6 | further 3:20 56:23 | given 10:1,3 20:22 |
| 82:25 87:20 95:2 | 34:13 36:4 42:23 | 79:12 83:8 86:9 | 62:8 78:5 84:5 | 21:24,25 29:3,4 |
| 99:3 100:11 | 73:8 126:22 | 89:5 101:10 112:5 | 97:9 100:4 111:16 | 30:14 31:3 33:15 |
| 102:12 104:3,18 | foreign 24:2 61:21 | 113:25 114:23 | 112:24 115:21 | 35:13,14 55:23 |
| 114:6,18 115:3 | 64:5 87:4 102:4 | 119:20 132:17 | 127:1 129:9 | 65:5 67:8 75:13 |
| 131:8 133:17 | 129:13,16 146:4 | 133:11,19 139:22 | 130:23 133:11 | 76:2 78:15 79:9 |
| 134:21 135:22 | 148:10 | 140:19 159:6 | 164:7 | 80:2 86:6 91:7 |
| 137:16 138:7 | forged 54:22 | friends 4:21 32:15 | future 33:17 64:20 | 94:1 105:13 112:6 |
| 148:1,13 150:24 | forgive 79:4 101:25 | 52:20 133:1 | 127:21 | 112:11 113:17 |
| 154:5 155:2 | form 46:23 69:23 | front 95:6 | | 118:21 126:1 |
| 164:12 | 101:2 110:4,5 | Frontwoodsmen | G | 142:21 143:11 |
| firstly 117:8 122:25 | 127:7 138:16 | 70:9 | G 17:16 20:15 21:2 | 147:8,10,11,15 |
| 162:1 | formal 96:7 | frustrate 14:20 | 21:23 49:10 50:8 | 150:21 |
| fiscal 68:6,6 71:20 | formalised 24:19 | 17:5,8 21:19 | general 37:15 | gives 74:24 75:22 |
| 77:9 | formalises 46:4 | 25:13 32:12 36:19 | 44:22 45:3 50:21 | 146:7 156:5 |
| | | | | |
| | | | | |

| Page | 182 |
|------|-----|
|------|-----|

| | | | | 1 age 102 |
|----------------------------|-------------------|----------------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| giving 19:7 81:6 | 24:19 30:4,8,11 | 137:13 | 165:20 | 137:1 142:10 |
| 108:2 114:12 | 30:18 31:8,9,21 | gratefully 53:7 | Hart 2:22 107:14 | Hodge 61:11 |
| 120:12,13 126:24 | 34:4,5,8,9,14,14 | 116:13 | 108:20 109:24 | 142:17 144:22 |
| 130:22 | 34:16,16,21 38:7 | great 4:4 12:23 | hath 55:16 | 147:10,13 156:2 |
| Glorious 54:25 | 38:12 40:11,17 | 41:7 50:24 51:7 | head 91:23 | 162:14 167:10,23 |
| go 1:10 3:1 5:3 7:3 | 45:21 46:3,14 | 51:23 52:2,4 | headed 10:19 97:25 | Hoffmann 41:16 |
| 17:15 34:11 54:17 | 49:8 50:12 54:7,8 | 104:5,10 | 98:1 | 44:9,14 134:5 |
| 56:12 57:1 60:4,6 | 64:19,21,25 67:25 | greater 36:4 70:25 | heading 23:21 55:8 | 141:5 |
| 70:15,24 71:5 | 70:20 71:4,24 | 76:4 | 56:12 75:7,16,23 | Hoffmann's 41:13 |
| 72:7 73:24 79:19 | 74:2,16,19,25 | green 23:8,10,10,16 | 76:16 78:12 87:9 | Hoffmann-La |
| 82:8 94:3 96:2 | 75:2,3,10 76:15 | 23:18 78:6 | 99:8 | 49:14,16 |
| 97:2,25 98:22 | 77:2 78:17 80:25 | ground 22:15 30:9 | headline 161:10,16 | hold 6:4 24:20 |
| 99:7 103:8 105:1 | 81:23 95:13,15,16 | 59:25 60:2 62:19 | heads 70:20 | 61:16 |
| 105:3,14 106:12 | 95:24 96:6,25 | grouping 112:21 | heard 7:20 23:1 | holding 98:24 |
| 109:12 110:1 | 97:17 98:10 99:12 | growing 122:17 | 33:19 86:9 119:20 | holds 56:6 |
| goes 8:19 20:13 | 99:17 100:21 | guardian 104:23 | heart 54:12 | hole 103:15 |
| 63:10 90:23 | 101:11 103:3 | guess 110:11 | Heath 69:19,24 | hollowed 120:7 |
| 133:11 | 106:12 108:23,24 | guide 99:4 | 70:17 | hollowing 117:19 |
| going 1:17 3:13,13 | 115:19 116:1,21 | guilty 22:17 159:10 | heavily 64:2 | Holme 3:6 4:1 |
| 5:7 6:12,13 12:4 | 119:7,8 128:8 | 8 | height 27:20 | home 62:1,2,5 |
| 12:22,22 16:7 | 141:22 150:16,19 |   | held 94:13,20 97:6 | honourable 96:1 |
| 25:5 37:1 38:6,10 | 151:3,9,16 152:1 | H 7:1 20:15 21:8,23 | 99:9,18,25 100:3 | 97:2 |
| 39:15 43:23 45:13 | 152:11 155:8 | 22:3 | 156:20 | hope 5:22 7:12 84:3 |
| 54:16 57:14 58:25 | 158:21 159:22 | HALE 7:21 15:7,9 | help 22:4 108:11 | 115:1 123:10 |
| 59:16 61:6 83:15 | 160:21 164:24 | 16:12,16,18 20:18 | 150:9 159:9 | 131:3 150:11,16 |
| 93:8 94:3 101:5 | 165:7 166:12 | 26:22,25 43:13,20 | helpful 7:12 83:16 | hopefully 83:14,21 |
| 102:20 103:8 | Government's 5:13 | 43:25 153:10 | 85:6 92:25 119:12 | 113:7 120:22 |
| 104:4,12,22 | 5:24 24:5 45:25 | 167:3 | 121:18 132:24 | hour 169:1 |
| 108:11 139:14 | 69:5,11 87:5 | half 169:1 | 161:2,18 | hours 73:1 |
| 144:4 160:6 | 97:13,20,23 98:1 | halfway 57:2 60:8 | helpfully 47:20 | House 3:16,18 4:25 |
| good 1:5 40:22 | 98:9 113:14 116:5 | 60:17 62:7 74:12 | 100:15 | 5:2 47:21 48:23 |
| 51:16 56:6 82:1 | 116:17 119:14 | hand 77:7 146:22 | Henry 1:11 26:9 | 56:16,16 60:10 |
| 103:19,22 104:15 | 122:1,6 125:2,14 | 149:22 | 58:12 | 69:5 70:1,6,7,23 |
| 104:16 133:21 | 129:10 | handed 14:25 | heretical 131:9 | 74:17 75:11 76:23 |
| 135:3,12 137:4 | governments | hang 128:17 | Higgs 64:12 | 77:3,24 84:22 |
| 139:20 141:3,16 | 127:20 | Hansard 2:21 3:9 | high 95:18 | 86:16 95:22,22 |
| 141:23 | grant 75:19 | 4:8 60:12 | highest 63:20 | 96:16,20,23 97:13 |
| Gopal 3:1 | granted 55:21 | happen 104:4 | highlight 54:17 | 98:15,21,23 |
| Gordon 132:8 | 57:21,24 58:1 | 143:9 | highlights 5:18 | 100:14,18 109:1,2 |
| governed 134:24 | 59:6,8 86:6 88:20 | happened 45:16 | highly 33:16 43:6 | 109:8 118:19 |
| 135:3 144:13 | 89:14 90:8,11 | 46:13 68:8 163:1 | historical 100:24 | Houses 16:2 24:15 |
| governing 41:17 | 104:21 114:6 | happening 142:23 | 109:4 | 40:20 49:9,11 |
| government 3:24 | 132:7 | 161:12 | historically 135:1 | 68:18 69:9 105:14 |
| 5:14,17,19 7:21 | grateful 15:13 | happens 139:16 | history 72:24 79:19 | 106:15,24 |
| 7:23 8:2,4 24:17 | 112:2 133:4 | happy 48:5 132:24 | 82:9 97:12 101:15 | HUGHES 12:11 |
| ···=- •·=, · = ···· / | | | | |
| | | | | |

| | | | | 1 age 105 |
|-------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------------|------------------------|--------------------------|
| 13:7 | implementation | inability 36:18 | ineffective 107:2 | 33:24,25 34:19 |
| human 3:3 112:21 | 64:24 74:9 79:17 | inappropriate | 151:5 | 39:12 47:14 92:8 |
| 141:15 | 80:10 121:9,11 | 27:18 | inevitable 90:15 | 110:11 144:9 |
| hundreds 12:5 | 124:6,9,10,21 | Inaudible 8:8,24 | inevitably 12:20 | 151:11 |
| hypothesis 168:8 | 125:5,7,8,9,17 | 65:7 67:14 103:21 | 38:6 53:22 90:9 | intending 26:15,15 |
| hypothesising | 126:14,16 127:2,3 | 165:12 | infer 39:24 40:3 | intention 5:13,16 |
| 160:21 | 127:8,10,15 129:1 | inauguration 77:14 | 44:22 | 5:24 31:4 41:9 |
| 100.21 | 130:6,7 138:11 | incapable 109:10 | influence 62:12 | 43:1 44:6,23 |
| | implemented 74:6 | incident 148:4 | influenced 51:12 | 43.144.0,25 114:13 |
| identical 68:17 | 79:11 80:19 99:14 | incidental 147:5 | influences 99:17 | interaction 79:21 |
| 94:16 101:21 | | | | |
| identified 136:17 | 99:23 100:3,7 | include 61:11 | influential 56:5 | interdependent |
| identify 3:10 38:23 | 124:9 | 124:14,15,20 | information 158:22 | 128:18 |
| 114:1 144:14 | implementing | 166:4 | informed 101:1 | interest 122:18 |
| | 117:16 130:9 | included 18:17 | 132:16 | 124:20 125:15 |
| 145:2,4 | 152:4 | 73:13 | initial 81:14,16 | 164:22 |
| identifying 2:21 | implication 2:12 | includes 18:17 | initially 140:12 | interested 61:23 |
| ifs 55:17 | 32:1,3,5,8 | 87:21 124:3 | initiating 60:21 | interesting 128:10 |
| ignorant 43:5 | implications | including 20:12 | injunction 105:3 | 160:5 |
| ignore 4:17 98:7 | 108:10 | 59:14 63:13 78:21 | insensible 14:20 | interests 11:21 |
| ignored 45:3 | implicit 161:15 | 122:9 134:3 | 15:24 | 155:12 |
| illegal 55:12,16 | implied 1:12,22 | 135:25 166:11 | inserted 19:23 | interfere 168:6 |
| illustrated 88:17 | 26:10 | incongruous 165:7 | inside 70:13 | interfered 67:8 |
| illustrates 35:6 | impliedly 14:11 | inconsistency 4:1 | insisted 95:22 | interlocking |
| 158:24 159:1 | 16:25 29:22 118:6 | inconsistent 26:11 | insofar 62:17 | 128:18 |
| illustrations 150:21 | implies 162:22 | 109:23 120:21 | 138:22 156:7 | internal 11:18 |
| imagine 84:21 | importance 4:12 | 145:20 | 159:3 | international 2:15 |
| 103:2 141:2 163:6 | 29:17 36:7 40:3 | incorporated 78:14 | instance 140:16 | 19:13 21:18 22:9 |
| immediately | 70:2,10,11 166:13 | 126:2 140:7 | 155:15 | 23:4,25 24:1 26:3 |
| 116:11 161:23 | important 4:5,8 6:3 | 155:19,22 | institute 33:9 | 31:22 38:24 45:18 |
| impact 64:23,24 | 6:5 14:19 30:23 | incorporating | institutional 124:2 | 45:21 47:10 49:22 |
| 65:4 70:12 79:24 | 33:15 48:14 62:23 | 97:20 | 146:21 149:21 | 64:1,20,22 65:1 |
| 89:21,22 139:8 | 66:6 68:3,18 | incorporation | institutions 56:12 | 74:7 76:3,22 |
| 157:6 160:24 | 89:19 90:19 | 75:14 155:16 | 65:3 108:2 135:4 | 78:13,21 79:23 |
| impacts 157:4 | 107:10 110:18 | incorrect 127:25 | 135:4 145:6 | 80:1 87:18 93:19 |
| impartial 100:19 | 139:18 160:10 | increases 25:20 | instruction 108:3,8 | 129:25 130:3,11 |
| impede 143:14 | 166:16 168:2,13 | 117:13 | 108:14 | 130:14 140:6,6 |
| impediment 13:19 | importantly 63:23 | increasing 9:3 | instrument 24:14 | 146:6 148:3 152:3 |
| imperative 146:1,5 | 116:1 124:13 | 122:17 | 41:18 44:18 45:8 | 159:7,18 |
| 146:8,12 | impose 17:2 46:23 | increasingly 46:23 | 88:25 126:21,23 | interpret 40:8 41:3 |
| Imperial 158:14 | imposed 23:2 47:13 | incredibly 166:16 | instruments 76:24 | interpretation 26:8 |
| impertinent 166:22 | 65:14 75:19 | incumbent 37:10 | 80:1 | 29:2,5 45:4 141:7 |
| implement 75:20 | 142:13,15 | INDEX 170:1 | integral 120:18 | 141:9 160:7 |
| 99:12 122:9 123:2 | imposing 32:5,6 | indicates 1:12 | intend 113:7 | 167:20 |
| 123:24 124:11 | impossible 15:19 | individuals 112:21 | intended 1:23 2:13 | interpretative |
| 125:18 128:12 | improve 116:15 | 115:12 | 18:14 21:5 31:5 | 120:25 123:7 |
| | mprove 110.13 | 113.12 | 10.14 21.3 31.3 | 120.23 123.7 |
| | 1 | 1 | 1 | • |

| | | | | 1 age 104 |
|---------------------------|-----------------------|---|--|-------------------------------|
| interpreted 32:18 | 120:7,11,12 121:1 | issuing 105:25 | keep 150:9 164:20 | known 24:11 70:18 |
| interpreting | 120:7,11,12 121:1 | issuing 105.25 | Keep 130.9 104.20 Kentridge 41:14 | 99:15 |
| 125:21 134:10 | 121.2,13,20 122.2 | J | 44:15 | |
| | - | Jackson 134:6 | | knows 48:22 |
| interprets 40:9 | 125:9,20,22 126:4 | Jamaica 47:22,23 | kept 62:20 109:25 | L |
| intervene 134:6 | 126:7,8,17,24 | January 71:11 | kernel 121:16 | label 91:4 |
| interveners 113:10 | 127:4 128:7 | JB 47:22,23 | Kerr 4:14 22:18 | Labour 76:20 |
| intervention 67:5 | 129:17,22 130:1 | - | 28:3,10,15 29:1 | |
| 67:15 86:3 | 130:16 132:3 | job 9:1 | 35:6 59:18 105:19 | labouring 44:1 lacks 31:21 |
| intimately 62:24 | 133:16,23,24 | join 67:25 69:6,11 69:15 72:4 139:1 | 137:12 159:15 | |
| introduce 38:7 | 135:2,6,7 136:21 | | 163:7,16 165:3 | Lady 1:5 2:17 7:9 |
| 40:17 | 136:25 137:2,6,7 | joinder 72:6 | 168:9 | 7:21 15:7,9 16:12 |
| introduced 26:6 | 137:9,10,14,19,22 | joining 68:3,14 | key 80:7 123:22 | 16:16,18 20:18 |
| 38:9,11 62:2 | 137:25 138:5,8,12 | joint 122:8 123:23 | 125:13 | 25:25 26:22,25 |
| 98:23 99:21 167:8 | 138:15,16,21,23 | 127:4 142:14,22 | Keyser 16:11,16,17 | 43:13,20,25 52:17 |
| introduction 55:24 | 139:1,3,5,8,22 | JR 115:15 | 16:19,19,20 17:14 | 53:6 62:7 93:10 |
| 69:13 71:12 86:13 | 140:3,4,14,24 | judge 50:16,19 | 17:18,19 27:14 | 112:3,9,15,19 |
| 88:4 89:24 | 141:2 142:7,13,15 | judges 62:16 | kind 12:14 108:12 | 113:15 115:3 |
| introductory 131:5 | 142:16,24 143:4 | 156:22 | 133:24 | 116:1,4,24 118:8 |
| invalid 60:24 | 155:4,7 157:14,16 | judgment 2:4,5,11 | kindly 93:16 | 119:5,13,17 120:3 |
| invalidate 168:8 | Ireland's 136:22 | 41:14 47:22 83:2 | King 56:16,18 | 120:9 121:16 |
| invested 28:17 | Irish 62:1,2,5 | 83:4 93:17 98:16 | Kingdom 12:8 | 122:11 128:3 |
| invite 6:9 23:9,20 | 124:24 140:22 | judgments 3:5 | 28:17 36:13 46:1 | 130:19 131:13 |
| 47:24 51:9 53:8 | 159:19 168:16 | judicial 50:11 | 52:7 74:22 88:7 | 133:9 134:9,18,22 |
| 144:10 145:17 | island 122:12 | 59:24 145:6 | 94:21 97:18 | 135:13,21 136:19 |
| 149:20 161:18 | issue 6:7 13:6 16:2 | judiciary 87:10 | 130:24 133:14 | 138:19 140:23 |
| invited 155:3,5 | 21:16 30:6,15 | July 19:19,20 | 135:7 136:22 | 141:8 143:2,13,21 |
| invites 20:14 | 33:16 34:10 38:18 | jump 60:5 | 137:20 138:9,16 | 144:4 153:10,12 |
| inviting 10:16 | 39:12,19 42:10,21 | jumped 45:12 | 138:21 139:19 | 167:3 |
| 22:20 40:15 | 43:7 49:1 53:12 | June 98:19 99:6 | 144:12,21 145:8 | Ladyship 2:25 4:5 |
| 106:25 168:7,14 | 57:11,13 63:23 | juridical 155:25 | 145:15,16 147:4,6 | 6:24 7:22 16:14 |
| invoked 28:18 | 70:11 91:13,18 | jurisdiction 124:7 | 148:2,4,5 149:10 | 23:6 48:1 50:1,8 |
| involve 33:13 68:5 | 109:8,10,16 | 125:8 141:14 | 149:21 150:5,16 | 121:4 124:17 |
| 68:10 92:14 | 113:13,14,15,24 | jurisdictions 148:7 | 150:18,19 152:9 | 129:23 |
| involved 75:19 | 116:14,24 119:5 | jurisprudential | 154:7,16,18 | Ladyship's 47:21 |
| involvement 35:5 | 120:9 122:2 129:8 | 54:18 | 155:10,11 161:4 | laid 24:15 |
| 48:13 74:9 76:4 | 130:19 131:1,22 | justice 21:1 41:14 | 165:24 166:1,12 | Laker 49:1,2 50:25 |
| involves 127:22 | 132:4,16 144:5,7 | 44:15 50:17 85:11 | 166:19 168:12 | land 48:20 49:13 |
| Ireland 99:19,24 | 149:6 156:17 | 113:4 137:1,2,5 | Kingdom's 63:25 | 49:24 63:12 77:10 |
| 112:8,17,24 | 157:5 163:6 | 141:22 159:14 | knew 96:9 | 145:19 146:22 |
| 113:18,19,22 | issues 4:6 24:2 | justiciability | know 30:25 51:18 | 148:17,24 149:2 |
| 114:7,10,14 115:4 | 41:21 49:1 67:6 | 163:16 | 52:10 62:16 100:9 | 157:25 158:2 |
| 115:5,7,12,13,20 | 109:15 113:3,8 | justiciable 163:3,6 | 110:4 123:6,10 | 164:20 167:20 |
| 115:24 117:4,10 | 139:24 140:11 | | 150:3 168:19 | language 29:23 |
| 117:24 118:5,14 | 141:20 142:3,25 |   | knowing 94:9 | 32:17,20,22 34:3 |
| 118:20,23 119:19 | 144:2 | Keen 42:15 | knowingly 163:1 | 41:3,6,10,17 |
| ., | | | 8, | |
| | | | | |

| | | | | Page 185 |
|---------------------|---------------------------------|---------------------|---------------------|-----------------------------|
| 44.10.04.45.0.0 | 117.10 10 15 17 | 110.20 122.17 | 24.9 25.7 12 | 150.7 20 150.1 4 |
| 44:18,24 45:2,8 | 117:10,12,15,17 117:19 118:2 | 119:20 132:17 | 24:8 25:7,13 | 150:7,20 158:1,4 164:22 |
| 115:20 160:12,13 | | 133:1,19 156:14 | 26:14,17 27:6 | |
| lapse 10:8 151:1 | 120:24 128:23 | 159:6 | 31:24 32:17 38:2 | legitimacy 136:18 |
| large 14:21 15:23 | 129:18 130:10 | leave 10:8 13:24 | 41:10 42:19,25 | 140:1,4,5 |
| 103:21 119:16 | 131:13 134:3,10 | 14:2 15:23 51:18 | 47:11,17,18 53:18 | legitimate 6:11,16 |
| largely 131:9 | 134:11 140:1,2,8 | 51:21,22 95:18 | 53:19,23 54:5 | 136:10 |
| late 55:13,16 73:17 | 144:23,23 145:11 | 99:14 108:9 | 55:18 56:25 58:3 | length 79:20 |
| launch 103:7 | 145:15,19 146:2 | 110:11 115:16 | 58:4,6 60:22 66:4 | letter 19:16 |
| Lavery 112:5,9 | 146:22 147:23,25 | 127:24 128:7 | 68:8,12 71:20 | letters 64:11 |
| 133:7,8,9 134:21 | 148:8,12,13,14,15 | leaving 15:10 25:25 | 78:17,18,23,25 | level 19:14 38:15 |
| 137:13,16 139:4 | 148:15,17,20,24 | 52:7 | 79:13 80:12,14,19 | 45:19 47:10 88:10 |
| 139:18 142:5,19 | 149:2 150:24 | led 71:10 87:23 | 81:6,18,22 87:14 | 93:19 124:8 |
| 143:17 170:6 | 151:4,9 152:2,5 | left 51:11 93:12 | 89:1 90:4,9,18 | 125:10 151:13 |
| law 4:3 7:24,25 | 154:14 155:17,20 | legal 13:19 28:12 | 91:10,25 97:7,9 | library 98:21 |
| 8:13 9:21,21,21 | 155:25 156:1,11 | 33:10,13 34:19 | 99:20 100:2,4,21 | 100:15,18 109:1,2 |
| 9:22 15:16,16,19 | 156:23 157:25 | 38:17 39:8 41:24 | 101:6 103:11 | 109:9 |
| 16:11 18:6,7,12 | 158:2 160:8 162:2 | 42:14,19,22 43:2 | 104:9,20 107:23 | licensing 11:9 |
| 18:22 19:2 20:10 | 164:20 165:8 | 43:21 48:25 49:19 | 111:11 115:14 | Lidington 3:15 |
| 20:23 21:12,19 | 166:24 167:16,20 | 50:24 51:4,10,10 | 123:13 129:3,4 | 4:24 |
| 24:1,7 25:5 26:6,9 | law-making 45:1 | 53:10,25 56:10 | 138:24 139:2 | lie 5:9 |
| 30:20,25 32:25 | lawful 38:20 43:16 | 60:15,19,21 61:13 | 145:25 149:3 | lies 102:7 |
| 33:1,6 45:21 47:3 | 92:17 113:1 | 61:17 62:13,23 | 151:2,8 163:2 | life 9:20 12:6 16:13 |
| 47:8,10 48:20 | lawfully 10:11 | 63:17 67:18 88:24 | legislative 13:12 | 107:25 |
| 49:13,24 52:23 | 48:17 116:8 146:3 | 89:16,17 90:5 | 55:4 59:24 76:4 | light 7:6 73:2 |
| 53:21,22 55:25 | lawfulness 50:18 | 94:1,12 101:14,15 | 115:6 117:8 128:2 | 113:18 144:2 |
| 56:22,24 59:15 | laws 55:10,11,15,15 | 107:7,10 110:17 | 130:4,25 132:1,7 | 150:6 165:11 |
| 60:24 63:12 64:4 | 147:8 151:12 | 115:23 118:1 | 139:5,6,12 144:6 | liked 39:22 |
| 64:24 65:14,19,20 | 165:13 | 145:13 148:11 | 145:6 147:18,19 | limit 47:15 99:13 |
| 65:23,24 66:2,3 | lawyer 56:14 | 154:9 155:23 | 148:21 149:5,15 | 109:12 146:2 |
| 66:16,18,19 67:4 | 106:10 154:22,23 | 156:7 167:10 | 149:24 150:25 | 151:25 |
| 68:11 71:22,23 | 154:25 | legality 1:12 26:10 | 151:15 152:13,22 | limitations 22:25 |
| 72:3,10 73:23,25 | lawyers 45:2 52:12 | legally 60:25 63:4 | 152:25 153:13,19 | 110:1 |
| 74:6,21 75:13,21 | 52:19 67:22 86:2 | 94:11,25 95:15 | 153:23,25 154:3 | limited 6:2 59:12 |
| 77:10 78:4,12,15 | 106:20,24 | 96:7 98:5 101:8 | 155:6,13 158:8,9 | 59:13 81:16,18 |
| 78:16 79:11,18,24 | lay 138:17 | 161:11 166:9,16 | 158:15,18,19 | 91:19 92:5 117:10 |
| 80:1,2,4,6,20 | lead 65:13 74:19 | legislate 163:11 | 159:12 160:1 | limiting 148:15 |
| 82:11,18,20 83:9 | 75:1 91:9 111:15 | 164:16 165:5 | 166:5,6 | limits 17:3,20 23:3 |
| 83:10 84:13,16,17 | 112:24 | legislated 132:1 | legislatives 155:11 | 51:10,11 147:21 |
| 88:3,7 90:4,11 | leader 95:21 96:16 | 163:9 | legislature 5:20 | 148:8,11 |
| 93:22,24 94:1 | leading 13:5 | legislates 160:23 | 75:6 76:1,13 | line 75:24 |
| 101:4,4,16 102:2 | learned 53:8 60:12 | legislating 163:12 | 110:8,11,12 | lines 57:1 63:2 |
| 103:14 104:21 | 64:14 78:5 79:12 | 164:9 | 146:23 | 70:16 74:4 75:9 |
| 106:2 107:5,12,23 | 83:7 86:9 89:5 | legislation 4:10,16 | legislatures 78:22 | 77:15 |
| 108:9,24 110:23 | 101:9 112:5 | 8:9 9:8,15 12:7,14 | 129:14 132:2 | Lisbon 7:16 8:18 |
| 115:5,9,21 117:1 | 113:25 114:23 | 12:14 22:24 23:9 | 145:9 147:4 149:1 | 9:1 46:2 87:6,11 |
| | | | | Í Í |
| | | | | |

| r | | | | Page 186 |
|---------------------|--------------------|--------------------|-------------------|----------------------|
| 87:19 88:1 | 118:17 135:11 | 61:19 62:4 65:15 | 150:11,11 151:18 | 137:10 138:19 |
| list 4:7 93:20,20 | 136:3 139:5 | 66:10,22,24 67:1 | 151:18 153:2,4,4 | 140:9,23 141:8,19 |
| little 27:19 31:2 | 142:11 | 67:6,11,20,20 | 153:6,7,12,15,16 | 143:2,13,21 144:4 |
| 62:8 74:9 95:19 | Lord 1:3,4,5 2:20 | 68:16,17,21,22 | 153:18,19 154:2,5 | Lordship 3:24 19:9 |
| 107:9 114:20 | 2:20 3:20,21,23 | 69:2 72:2,12,15 | 154:5,12,15,17,18 | 19:14 21:7 31:18 |
| 140:14 | 3:23,25 4:3,14,18 | 72:20 73:17 76:16 | 154:22 155:1,14 | 32:10 34:18 38:21 |
| lives 71:1 | 4:19 5:12,21 6:10 | 78:6 79:2,4,5 81:4 | 155:18 156:2,12 | 39:2 41:1 44:10 |
| Lloyd 17:16 21:1 | 6:15,19,19,20 7:1 | 81:19,24 82:7,13 | 157:3,12 158:13 | 44:11 57:16 68:23 |
| local 3:24 85:12,17 | 7:22 8:5,7,11 | 82:14 83:8,12,18 | 159:9,10,15,16 | 83:15,21 86:24 |
| lock 79:15,16 | 10:25 11:1,2,3 | 84:3,4,7,7,8,19,21 | 160:3,8,10,10,20 | 93:16 100:12 |
| long 55:2 58:6 | 12:11,16 13:7,14 | 84:25 85:6,9,14 | 161:1,1,22 162:14 | 104:5 108:15 |
| 62:14 81:9 88:8 | 13:25 14:10,11,14 | 85:15,20 86:9,20 | 162:14,17,18,19 | 159:17 |
| 123:1 132:5 167:3 | 14:15,15 15:8,10 | 86:21 89:5,9 | 162:21,21 163:3,4 | Lordship's 19:7 |
| long-standing 85:9 | 15:13,25 16:4,7,8 | 92:10,10,21,22 | 163:7,13,13,16,20 | 30:15 125:24 |
| longer 106:25 | 16:10,14,17,19,20 | 93:13,13,14,15 | 163:20,21 164:1 | Lordships 2:24 3:1 |
| 116:4 122:12 | 16:23 17:11,11,14 | 96:15 99:2 100:9 | 164:11,11,16,18 | 4:4 6:24 12:25 |
| 128:25 151:12 | 17:15,16,17 19:3 | 100:13 101:18,22 | 164:23,25 165:3,9 | 23:5 44:4 47:25 |
| look 3:13,13,17,25 | 19:6,10,11 20:19 | 101:24 102:1,8,10 | 165:9,10,14,14,16 | 49:2,25 50:8 |
| 4:20,22,23 5:24 | 21:1,22,22 22:4 | 102:14,17,18,20 | 165:17,17,20,21 | 115:10 121:4,19 |
| 6:24 9:10,11 14:7 | 22:11,16,17,17,18 | 102:22 104:2,8,18 | 165:21,25 166:1,5 | 124:17 126:4 |
| 14:16 23:10 27:4 | 22:20 23:7,7,13 | 104:24 105:5,11 | 166:6,7,10,10,15 | 128:19 129:21,23 |
| 27:18 31:13,14 | 23:14,15,16 26:24 | 105:16,17,19,21 | 166:18 167:1,4,6 | 134:3,18 141:18 |
| 32:19 34:2,3 | 27:1,9,20 28:3,9 | 106:3,16,19,23 | 167:7,7,10,18,18 | 141:25 |
| 38:16 41:17 47:24 | 28:10,11,15,21 | 107:3,4,7,12,13 | 167:23,25 168:9 | Lordships' 47:21 |
| 67:21 91:14,17 | 29:1,2,16,23 30:2 | 107:20,22,25 | 168:19,21,23 | 59:1 |
| 104:11 109:13 | 30:12,23 31:3,8 | 108:5,13,25 109:2 | 169:2 170:3,7 | loss 90:15 91:9 92:2 |
| 117:18 120:1 | 31:16 32:9,19,21 | 109:6,14 110:2,14 | Lord's 72:12 | 92:7 111:10 |
| 134:11 135:12,23 | 32:21 33:7 34:1 | 110:15 111:1,6,19 | 139:13 166:21 | lost 53:22 57:19,20 |
| 137:9 138:6 | 34:12 35:4,6,24 | 111:19,24 112:2 | Lords 1:5 2:17 | 90:9 104:22 |
| 139:11 143:10 | 36:23 37:7,23 | 114:4,5 116:13 | 11:24 25:25 52:17 | lot 11:10 29:9 |
| 156:3 161:18 | 38:21 40:7,24,24 | 119:6 121:23,25 | 53:6 56:16 62:7 | 109:22,22 160:8 |
| 167:5 | 41:13,16 42:13,15 | 121:25 122:22,24 | 86:16 88:16 93:10 | lots 31:12 |
| looked 91:2 134:14 | 42:23 43:19,22,22 | 122:25 123:4,6,14 | 94:3 97:13 111:8 | loyalist 140:20 |
| 135:8,19 141:7,16 | 43:22,23 44:1,8 | 125:1,20,22,25,25 | 112:3,9,15,19 | Luncheon 93:6 |
| 167:1 | 44:10,14,14 45:5 | 126:24 131:2,2,8 | 113:15 115:3,18 | |
| looking 5:1,10 29:9 | 45:5,7,11,12,14 | 131:15 132:17 | 116:1,4,24 118:8 |   |
| 38:13 57:14 78:10 | 45:14,15,24 46:16 | 133:4 134:3,5 | 119:5,13,17 120:3 | Maastricht 7:15 |
| 92:4 102:6 104:20 | 46:22 47:19,19,20 | 137:12,13 138:22 | 120:9 121:16 | 18:1 19:25 20:2 |
| 108:3,6 109:6,20 | 47:22 48:4,4 49:6 | 139:4,19 141:5 | 122:11 123:18 | machinery 6:13 |
| 123:8,9 127:2 | 49:7,7,10 50:5,7,9 | 142:10,17 143:5 | 127:23 128:3,14 | 121:14 125:23 |
| 135:13,22 141:14 | 51:2,2 52:2,3 53:3 | 143:19,20,21,21 | 128:21 129:8 | madness 5:9 |
| 157:22 | 53:8 57:11,13,19 | 144:1,21,21,24 | 130:19 131:13,23 | magic 104:1,2 |
| looks 8:7,15,24,25 | 57:23 58:8,19,23 | 145:1,2,3,4 146:9 | 132:17,19 133:9 | magisterial 56:6 |
| 19:14 32:4,4 | 58:24 59:11,13,18 | 146:11 147:10,11 | 134:6,9,22 135:13 | magnitude 150:14 |
| 44:18 47:15 91:21 | 60:13 61:4,6,11 | 147:13,15 150:8 | 135:21 136:19 | 150:17 |
| | | | | |
| | | | | |

| Page 1 | 87 |
|--------|----|
|--------|----|

| Maguire 113:4 | market 11:19 | 46:4 56:14,20 | 157:22 168:15 | morning 1:5 83:19 |
|--------------------------------|-------------------------|--|--|--|
| 141:22 159:14 | material 4:22,23 | 60:21 62:11 75:2 | mind 3:24 6:23 | 96:11 168:24 |
| main 47:11 | 39:11,12 109:21 | 101:7 103:4 | 29:16 44:8 164:20 | 169:5 |
| maintained 63:5 | 109:22 | 117:25 118:2 | minister 1:25 5:4 | motion 16:2 48:21 |
| Majesty's 69:5 | materially 94:16 | 125:9 | 40:17 42:11 51:6 | 48:22,24 49:18 |
| majorities 136:5,10 | 101:21 117:5 | meant 96:6 160:8 | 69:20,25 | 70:9,23 103:5,20 |
| 136:15 | materials 9:10 | measure 38:14 | ministerial 31:12 | 104:14,15,16 |
| majority 3:8 17:13 | 52:18 | mechanism 108:7 | 108:18,23 122:5 | 105:1,14 106:15 |
| 75:5,11 95:17 | Mattadene 44:9 | 148:25 149:5 | 123:23 125:17 | 152:22 153:13,23 |
| 100:8 103:21 | matter 6:5 15:19 | meet 71:20 124:1 | 126:9 127:5,24 | 154:3 |
| 135:16,16 136:7 | 19:9,11 30:25 | meeting 70:20,20 | 128:24 | motions 139:6 |
| 136:11,12,15 | 33:1,6 35:2 40:3 | 70:24 | ministers 3:14 5:15 | mouth 56:14 |
| 137:21 138:14 | 48:11 59:4 62:8 | member 12:9,10 | 6:10 36:3,9 39:13 | move 2:17 57:10 |
| 142:8 156:20 | 65:20 71:23 72:2 | 13:3 82:19 87:21 | 39:14 42:4 47:4,9 | 59:16 60:15 129:8 |
| 157:2 | 91:21 102:2 | 88:5 94:21 100:14 | 65:2 126:8 153:1 | moved 4:3 93:12 |
| making 4:19 38:11 | 117:17 118:14,15 | 113:21 | 153:20 | 107:25 |
| 38:25 58:18 74:14 | 120:1,24 124:19 | members 60:20 | ministers' 51:11 | moving 85:20 |
| 76:12 103:17 | 126:10 128:14,22 | 61:14 96:1 97:2 | minority 157:1 | MPs 84:22 100:19 |
| 139:9 161:6 | 129:18 130:2,15 | 110:21,22,25 | minutes 112:7,10 | 109:19 |
| man 106:19 | 131:12 133:13 | 111:2 | 112:11 | murdered 140:20 |
| Mance 3:20,25 | 139:25 149:16 | membership 9:24 | mischief 4:9 | mutual 122:18 |
| 14:11 17:11 22:4 | 157:10 159:2 | 33:18 58:22 68:4 | misconceives | 124:19 125:15 |
| 22:16 23:7 27:9 | 161:14,14 165:5 | 68:6,10 69:17 | 148:23 | myriad 65:5 |
| 42:13 47:19 57:11 | matters 2:18 4:3 | 82:17 94:13 98:25 | mispronouncing | |
| 57:19 58:19,24 | 11:10 39:24 53:1 | 99:10 120:16,17 | 16:12 | Ν |
| 61:19 65:15 68:17 | 59:4 77:1 91:14 | memorandum | misreference | name 107:8 |
| 72:12,15,20 81:4 | 108:23 124:3,19 | 158:11 160:14 | 152:19 | narrative 158:23 |
| 81:24 82:7 85:9 | 143:8 149:4,15 | mention 86:20,21 | missing 81:4 95:6 | national 12:6 50:5 |
| 107:13 108:25 | 150:1 159:4 160:4 | 92:22 | misunderstanding | 78:15,16 |
| 107.15 108.25 | 160:9,11,23,25 | mentioned 31:23 | 91:1 | Nations 66:13 |
| 122:22 123:4 | 161:9,12 162:2 | 67:22 120:19 | model 33:12 | nature 48:12 56:13 |
| 125:25 134:3 | 163:2,9,24 167:21 | 127:11 148:16 | modern 135:17 | 125:16 136:23 |
| 144:24 145:3 | McCord 112:6,12 | merely 18:24 25:23 | modestly 5:22 | 147:1 154:2,8 |
| 153:15,18 154:2 | 133:10 134:19 | 34:7 81:12 122:7 | modified 61:4 | 166:17 |
| 154:12,17,22 | 159:16 | 167:16 | moment 60:23 70:6 | necessarily 5:4 |
| 154.12,17,22 | McCrudden 112:4 | message 123:10 | 92:20 103:16 | 43:2 48:15 68:5 |
| 164:1,16,23 | McWhirter 83:3 | metaphors 28:3 | 116:15 122:24 | 77:19 104:8 111:4 |
| · · · | mean 5:1 27:10 | 35:7 | 123:11,14 128:15 | 117:13,19 123:4 |
| 165:17,21,25 | | | · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · | necessary 9:8 36:1: |
| 166:5,7,15 167:1 | 57:20 58:5 81:13 | method 76:11 | 138:7 148:16 | 49:24 51:22 71:19 |
| 167:6 Manazis 6:10 24:1 | 81:25 125:7 145:8 | micromanagement 64:21 | momentous 70:14 | 74:24 75:1,13,20 |
| Mance's 6:19 34:1 | 167:24 meaning 11:23 | | moments 125:25 | 76:5 77:20 78:16 |
| mandated 72.10 | meaning 11.73 | middle 81:4 | 155:7 | |
| | 0 | Millon 52.17 105.1 | Mandar 50.01 | |
| mandated 73:10 manner 38:20 | 161:25 162:2 | Miller 52:17 105:1 | Monday 50:21 | 78:18,22 80:12 87:14 97:7 121:6 |
| | 0 | Miller 52:17 105:1 113:11 116:13,17 120:1 130:20 | Monday 50:21 115:16 morally 96:6 | 87:14 97:7 121:6 need 1:10 7:8 8:11 |

| | | | | rage 100 |
|----------------------------|--------------------|---------------------|----------------------------|-------------------------|
| 8:13 9:15 12:23 | north 122:5 123:23 | 35:2 62:15 106:16 | 111:3 126:8 | one-line 103:22,23 |
| 17:22 24:7 28:1 | 125:16 126:9 | 113:16 114:12 | 132:15 | 104:17 |
| 45:22 67:12 75:18 | 127:5,16,19,24 | 129:6 130:22 | obligations 10:20 | onwards 46:22 |
| 77:23 88:10 90:21 | 127.3,10,19,24 | 129.0 130.22 | 11:4 12:2 24:1 | open 33:9 39:20,21 |
| 100:20 103:11 | north/south 114:15 | notification 12:18 | 65:14 68:6,7 | 71:24 103:19 |
| | | | - | |
| 111:4 139:11 163:21 | 120:14 121:8,14 | 12:21 40:20 48:19 | 71:21 77:9 78:14 | operate 126:10 |
| | 125:23 126:16 | 52:7 89:11 90:10 | 78:21 87:18 117:1 | 145:10 151:11,11 |
| needed 7:24 12:11 | 130:3,5 | 160:22 | 117:12,17,19 | operated 45:20 |
| 90:17 | northern 99:19 | notifies 9:24 | 130:7,9 136:9 | 64:17 |
| needs 61:4 | 112:7,17,23 | notify 6:8 12:1 | oblige 157:7 | operates 64:19 |
| negotiate 73:25 | 113:18,19,22 | 13:17 14:18 15:21 | obliged 34:5 126:10 | operating 38:19 |
| negotiated 69:8 | 114:7,10,14 115:4 | 27:3 34:16,21 | obscure 52:22 | 45:18,21 |
| negotiating 75:4 | 115:5,7,12,13,20 | 41:23 42:12 46:25 | observance 130:6 | operation 53:19 |
| negotiation 70:5 | 115:24 117:4,10 | 48:17 | observations | 82:16 86:7 115:21 |
| 76:1 136:3,6 | 117:24 118:5,14 | notifying 13:4 | 145:11 | 117:10 131:19 |
| negotiations 75:8 | 118:20,23 119:19 | notion 134:1 | observed 144:1 | 151:4 |
| 103:12 127:20 | 120:7,11,12 121:1 | 135:15 | observing 117:16 | operational 128:12 |
| neither 56:20 60:10 | 121:13,20 122:2 | notwithstanding | 130:9 152:4 | opinion 60:25,25 |
| 79:10 95:15 | 122:19,23 123:1 | 146:25 147:2 | obtain 15:21 135:2 | 98:8 99:17,20 |
| networks 11:9 | 125:20,22 126:4,7 | 162:24 | obtained 88:24 | 157:1,1 |
| neutral 42:10,24 | 126:8,17,24 128:7 | nought 35:18 | obtains 35:23 61:10 | opinions 111:5 |
| 113:20 | 129:17,22 130:1 | 105:21 | obviously 25:1 40:7 | opportunity 76:2,9 |
| never 27:21,25 | 130:16 132:3 | novelty 40:18 | 40:12 73:12 104:8 | 76:23 78:22 |
| 62:18 77:23 97:5 | 133:16,23,24 | nowadays 7:5 | 106:4 110:18 | opposed 30:18 60:1 |
| 163:1 | 135:2,5 136:21,21 | nugatory 44:4 | occasion 21:16 | 60:24 |
| nevertheless 20:24 | 136:25 137:6,7,9 | nullified 12:3 54:2 | 70:14 | opposition 62:20 |
| 34:18 63:11 159:3 | 137:10,14,19,22 | nullify 1:9 10:12 | occurred 44:3 | option 95:19 |
| new 7:11,15,24 | 137:25 138:5,8,11 | 17:5 21:19 26:4 | October 15:2 68:13 | orally 119:10 |
| 8:23 26:6 35:12 | 138:15,21,23 | 27:23 32:13 39:1 | 71:13,17 72:22,23 | order 4:9 25:12,13 |
| 35:13,15 45:18,20 | 139:2,5,7,22 | 42:5 48:19 49:23 | 97:19 | 27:22 42:5 47:4 |
| 46:3,4 64:15 | 140:4,14,23 141:2 | 53:18 54:4 58:2 | odd 106:11,17,19 | 47:17 67:13,16,18 |
| 77:11 93:8 95:3,7 | 142:7,13,15,24 | 90:18 | 107:9 | 76:5 89:16,17 |
| 100:4 115:23 | 143:4 155:4,6 | number 14:21 | Ofcom 10:22 11:6 | 115:23 118:13,18 |
| newly 64:16 | 157:14,15 159:19 | 19:15 23:13 49:3 | 11:12 | 126:17 127:11,17 |
| Nice 7:16 | 168:16 | 59:18 78:9 82:23 | Ofcom's 11:17 | 128:3 129:2 |
| Nicholls 17:17 | notably 53:23 | 98:2,19 123:12,22 | offends 118:1 | 141:10 148:11 |
| noises 84:21 | note 23:12 61:20 | 125:11 126:3,5 | Office 65:6 | orders 81:22 |
| Nominally 74:2 | 64:10 82:25 88:19 | 152:20 | officers 50:11 | ordinary 36:6 |
| non-legal 131:17 | 89:19 109:1 | numbering 60:7 | okay 16:6,9 | 56:15 |
| non-legally 166:9 | 132:20,25 | | omnibus 106:20 | organisations |
| norm 163:10 | notes 83:16,23 | 0 | once 6:8 28:16 | 112:22 |
| normal 40:13 163:3 | 152:15,20 153:9 | objectionable | 71:25 72:10,15,24 | orthodox 131:14 |
| normally 146:4 | 152:15,20 155:5 | 44:25 | 76:9 90:3 91:24 | osmosis 41:25 |
| 162:13,19,22 | notice 12:13 13:9 | obligation 72:13 | 162:7 | otiose 116:3 118:7 |
| 163:22 | 13:12 14:2 34:6 | 73:4 77:2,8 78:3 | one-clause 161:3 | ought 32:18 |
| 103.22 | 13.12 14.2 34.0 | | UIIC-CIAUSC 101.J | ought 52.10 |
| | 1 | 1 | 1 | • |

| | | | | Page 189 |
|------------------------|-------------------|--------------------|-------------------|--------------------|
| outcome 36:25 | 3:23 4:3,18 5:12 | 135:10,11,19,21 | 51:5,13,19 52:1 | 149:13,21,22,23 |
| 40:11 95:12 | 5:21 6:15 7:22 | 136:2 141:5 | 53:16,17,18 54:24 | 149.13,21,22,23 |
| outer 146:2 | 8:5,7,11 11:1,3 | 142:18 144:14,24 | | 151:2,8,15,25 |
| | | , | 55:12,19,20,21,21 | , , , , |
| outlandish 163:17 | 12:16 13:14 14:10 | 145:1 151:23 | 56:10,14,18,19,21 | 152:9,10,23,25 |
| outlined 157:24 | 14:14 15:8,10,13 | 152:16 153:6,7,8 | 56:25 57:6,9,25 | 153:17,21,25 |
| 168:16 | 15:25 16:4,7,10 | 153:10 158:12 | 58:1 59:3,6,9,25 | 155:10,24 157:7,8 |
| outset 157:24 | 16:14,17,19,23 | 159:14,15,16 | 60:3,20,23 61:1,1 | 157:10,25 158:9 |
| 167:12 | 19:6,11 20:19 | paragraphs 1:17 | 61:7,14,15 62:18 | 158:20 159:2,5,21 |
| outside 70:13 110:1 | 22:11,17,20 23:14 | 3:2 84:1 87:9 | 63:7 64:7 65:1 | 159:22 161:10 |
| over-emphasise | 23:16 26:24 27:1 | 116:18 121:17 | 66:4,8 67:5,16 | 162:7,25 163:7,10 |
| 70:10 | 27:20 28:9,11,21 | 124:5 125:6 | 68:7,11,13 69:9 | 163:14 164:2,6,9 |
| overlaps 133:19 | 29:2,23 30:12,23 | 126:19 131:15,16 | 69:13 70:7 71:7 | 164:23 165:2,3,6 |
| overridden 54:2 | 31:3,8,16 32:9,21 | 144:17 145:12 | 71:19 72:4,8 | 165:13 166:4,19 |
| 142:25 | 33:7 34:12 35:4 | 150:21 | 73:14,19 74:2,9 | 167:19 168:5,6 |
| override 49:13 | 35:24 37:7 38:21 | parallel 102:9 | 74:13,15,16,22 | Parliament's 9:4 |
| 53:17 54:4 56:25 | 40:24 42:23 43:19 | paramilitaries | 75:14,18 76:21 | 51:21 59:9 79:8 |
| 57:6 58:2 90:18 | 43:22 44:1,10,14 | 140:21 | 77:8,20 78:4,21 | 106:14 |
| 91:25 | 45:5,12,14,24 | pardon 11:2 | 80:5,7,11,13,14 | parliamentarians |
| oversimplification | 46:22 48:4 49:6 | Parliament 1:20,23 | 80:16,18,21 81:2 | 101:1 |
| 66:23 | 50:5 53:3,8 60:13 | 2:13,15 5:10 6:22 | 82:21 83:13 84:17 | parliamentary 8:8 |
| overturn 31:19 | 78:6 83:8 86:10 | 7:2,10,19,24 8:3 | 84:20 86:15 87:12 | 8:11,14 9:2,7 10:3 |
| overwhelmed | 89:6,9 105:22 | 9:6,16 12:7,19 | 87:15 88:8,12,14 | 13:22 15:22 16:1 |
| 132:22 | 116:13 170:3 | 13:5,8,10,14,20 | 89:2,5,12 90:5,8 | 26:18 28:23,24 |
| | paper 23:8,10,10 | 14:8 15:2 16:25 | 90:12,12,14,17,17 | 29:6 35:5 40:12 |
| P | 23:12,16,16,18 | 17:9 19:12 20:11 | 91:19 92:2,7 94:8 | 43:16 51:12 53:10 |
| page 7:1 8:21,25 | 24:15 69:23 78:6 | 20:22 21:4,10 | 95:12,15,18,25 | 53:15,24 54:3,6,8 |
| 9:11 11:1 15:13 | 78:8,11,12 98:15 | 24:3,9,15,18,20 | 96:20 97:1,4,11 | 54:15 55:23 56:13 |
| 17:16 19:14,15 | 98:17,19 99:4 | 25:8,23 26:14,15 | 98:5,7,11 101:11 | 56:19 58:9,11 |
| 22:6 23:7,17,20 | 100:17,23 109:3 | 27:23 28:21,22,25 | 102:12 103:1,5,6 | 59:2 60:17 63:10 |
| 24:13,16 49:5,6 | 109:17 | 29:4 30:3,3,5,9,13 | 103:7,17,20 | 63:14,16,21 64:15 |
| 57:3 59:21 60:7,8 | papers 23:8 67:2 | 30:18 31:4,4,8,10 | 104:14,25 105:5,7 | 64:21 65:21 68:15 |
| 60:16,18 62:7 | 67:21 | 31:16,22 33:9,11 | 105:13,15,24,25 | 75:16 77:5 78:25 |
| 63:1 64:11,13 | paragraph 2:2,4,6 | 33:12,14 34:9,10 | 106:7,13,13,15,24 | 79:22 80:8,17 |
| 65:11,15,17 69:2 | 2:11 10:5 15:14 | 35:1 36:3,6,14,21 | 107:13,17 110:3 | 81:1 83:17 84:9 |
| 69:3,24 70:22 | 19:3,23 20:8 | 36:23 37:1,4,11 | 110:22,22,25 | 84:12,13 85:23 |
| 73:24 74:12 75:7 | 23:23 25:4 47:24 | 37:17,20,24 38:2 | 111:3,12 113:16 | 86:14 87:12 88:4 |
| 75:24 76:17 77:13 | 57:2 65:10 78:11 | 38:8,8,11 39:9,15 | 115:23 116:20,23 | 88:10,14 89:3,13 |
| 78:9 83:2 84:1 | 79:2 83:2,3 85:25 | 39:21,21 40:4,18 | 118:12,19 120:8 | 89:18 90:16,20 |
| 87:3 88:20 93:18 | 87:3,24,25 90:6 | 40:19,21 42:3,7 | 128:23 130:17,21 | 91:1,3,7,11,12,23 |
| 95:6 96:18 97:24 | 93:17 95:10 98:16 | 42:25 43:4 44:2,3 | 131:25 132:10,15 | 92:16 94:4,6,8,10 |
| 98:2 99:2 100:11 | 99:3 114:1 116:6 | 44:4 46:15,16,22 | 133:25 134:1,7 | 95:23 96:22,25 |
| 100:16 141:6 | 122:7 123:22 | 47:5,6,12,14 48:8 | 137:25 138:17 | 97:6 100:6 102:24 |
| 142:11 152:17 | 124:1,5,10,13,20 | 48:9,12,16,21,25 | 142:25 145:17 | 104:23 107:9,11 |
| 153:8 | 125:4 126:5,12 | 49:10,12,18,24 | 147:3,7,14,16,17 | 111:9 129:6 |
| Pannick 1:3,4,5 | 128:11,19 129:22 | 50:13,15,16,23 | 148:23 149:9,12 | part 10:22 11:8 |
| | 120.11,17 127.22 | 50.15,15,10,25 | 170.23 177.7,12 | Part 10.22 11.0 |
| L' | • | | | • |

| Page 190 |
|----------|
|----------|

| 23:4 24:24 25:2,9 | passages 49:16 | persuade 29:10 | 34:1,2,25 35:3 | policy 18:3,12 20:5 |
|--------------------|---------------------------|---------------------|-------------------------|---------------------------|
| 30:15 46:11 59:22 | 69:21 | 91:14 115:1 | 37:25 40:25 41:1 | 20:11 24:2 50:16 |
| 63:3,3 71:1 | passed 59:25 62:20 | persuaded 4:21 | 44:1,2 45:15 46:5 | 76:20 99:18 |
| 108:13 115:1 | 69:12,16 71:3,10 | 29:10 | 46:6 49:15 50:20 | 108:23,24 150:25 |
| 120:18 121:8,12 | 71:14 72:1,5,11 | phrase 73:12 85:21 | 51:7 52:10 56:10 | 151:7 |
| 121:14 122:12,12 | 80:13 90:5 94:8 | 125:11 143:11 | 57:24 60:12 66:10 | political 30:24 33:2 |
| 125:22 126:2 | 106:13 111:12 | 160:11 163:23,24 | 79:14 80:8 82:4 | 33:16 37:2,25 |
| 127:5,6,24 130:8 | 118:19,24 153:14 | pick 66:10 150:12 | 82:14 85:13 86:10 | 38:4,14,15,15,19 |
| 133:17,17 135:1,6 | 162:23 | Pickin 162:6 | 88:6,17 89:5,6,23 | 39:17 42:9 43:5,6 |
| 135:6 137:20 | passes 37:24 38:2 | piece 42:18 | 91:16 92:9 101:12 | 43:6,9 51:12 |
| 138:8,15,16,21 | passing 73:13 80:5 | pillar 120:6 | 101:12 102:8,10 | 56:11 60:15 61:24 |
| 139:1,21 142:2 | 86:5 87:13,14 | place 6:9 78:19,25 | 102:21 106:17 | 62:13,21 107:22 |
| 147:19 162:11 | 105:5 | 136:4,22 148:12 | 107:7,10,17 | 108:2 110:17,21 |
| 164:14 167:19 | path 12:18 | 159:23 | 108:17 110:2,7,15 | 135:4 136:15 |
| parte 17:9,12,22 | patriation 156:15 | placed 22:25 | 110:16 111:1 | 156:7,8 |
| 50:1 51:1 | 156:17 | places 148:8 | 116:18 118:8 | politically 63:4 |
| participate 126:9 | Pause 84:6 | placing 35:8 | 121:17 123:6 | 111:3 157:7 |
| participation 65:2 | peace 70:1 | plain 161:13 | 124:23 125:21 | politicians 108:8 |
| particular 10:5 | peculiar 120:10 | plainly 125:8 | 127:12 129:2,18 | 112:21 |
| 18:2 21:3 22:19 | people 5:5,7 30:7 | plan 93:11 | 131:23 132:6 | poll 138:15 139:17 |
| 23:19 32:16 58:21 | 30:10,13,17 33:15 | plane 2:15 21:18 | 138:3 139:8 143:2 | Ponsonby 24:11,14 |
| 67:8 86:1 107:18 | 33:18 34:11 42:22 | 22:9,10 23:4 26:3 | 144:21 145:5 | 24:23,25 76:16,18 |
| 111:4 128:4 | 60:14 61:16 62:17 | 31:22 38:24 49:22 | 147:5 151:10 | 76:18 77:12,25 |
| 158:24 168:1 | 95:20 96:2,9 97:3 | 64:20,22 65:1 | 153:21 155:14 | 79:1,6,10 |
| particularly 26:5 | 102:13 107:18 | 148:3 | 157:21 158:5 | popular 109:24 |
| 29:16 32:7 109:21 | 108:1,7 110:19,23 | planning 168:23 | 160:10 161:5 | population 136:7 |
| 114:14 131:9 | 133:15,23 134:4 | play 35:15 38:17,22 | 164:13,17,18 | 136:11 |
| parties 113:10 | 137:2,22,25 138:8 | plays 74:2 | 165:21 166:23 | Portugal 9:13 |
| 114:19 140:3 | 138:20,23 139:2 | plead 22:17 | 168:10,20 | posed 53:12 |
| partners 121:3 | 140:22 141:1 | please 3:6 8:20 | pointed 22:5 93:16 | position 14:1 29:7 |
| partnership 30:2 | 142:8,13,15,24 | 9:10,11 18:10 | 126:25 | 37:9,9,13,14 40:5 |
| 121:6 | people's 111:7 | 23:10,18 57:10 | pointing 160:18 | 73:1,2,15 82:22 |
| parts 129:2 139:23 | Pepper 2:22 108:20 | 59:18 60:6,16 | points 4:12 20:6 | 83:6 88:16 94:12 |
| party 18:14 23:24 | 109:24 | 73:22 87:3 99:7 | 39:2 48:5 52:14 | 95:14 96:5 105:23 |
| 76:20 112:20 | perfectly 13:8 | 159:15 | 60:9 113:13 131:5 | 116:20,22 132:16 |
| pass 38:10 40:19 | 33:14 34:22 | plenty 166:11 | 131:6 150:22 | 133:11 149:18 |
| 42:25 71:19 74:23 | permit 81:15 | pm 93:5,7 169:7 | 159:7 160:6,13,15 | 157:20 162:18 |
| 80:14 105:13,15 | permits 113:12 | point 2:18 3:19,21 | 165:21 | positive 70:2 |
| 106:25 | permitting 119:1 | 4:18,19 5:12,22 | policies 121:9 | possibility 121:11 |
| passage 20:13 | person 53:16 56:23 | 6:18,19 7:5,7,8 | 122:9,9 123:25 | possible 29:8 46:12 |
| 23:19 50:6 68:24 | 57:4 59:23 106:11 | 11:11 12:4,5 | 124:6,7,11,14,14 | 124:15,24 163:17 |
| 75:14 78:7 84:7 | personal 111:5 | 14:14,15,16 16:4 | 124:15,16,21 | 163:18 |
| 86:17 87:8 95:10 | persons 11:22 57:4 | 17:11 21:14,15 | 125:5,19 127:3,25 | possibly 164:24 |
| 96:17 100:25 | 59:23 | 22:19 25:10 26:1 | 128:12 | post 8:9 9:8,15 |
| 153:2 | perspective 80:9 | 28:15 31:24 33:2 | policing 130:4 | 22:24 23:2 25:17 |
| | | | | l |

www.DTIGlobal.com

| | | | • | 1 age 191 |
|---------------------|----------------------|---------------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|
| 25:25 27:5 29:6 | praying 118:20 | 148:18,21 164:19 | previously 27:8 | problem 5:18 12:19 |
| 65:6 | pre-legislative | presager 70:15 | primacy 85:1 88:3 | 13:11 14:4,6 |
| potential 156:24 | 99:15 | present 51:25 | 134:2 | 32:24 58:7 135:1 |
| potentially 151:5 | preceded 23:8 | 77:18,23 150:17 | primarily 65:25 | problems 13:23,23 |
| power 1:9,14 2:14 | precedents 162:15 | presentational | primary 12:7 53:23 | 30:19 103:24,25 |
| 6:7,8 12:1 14:18 | precipitated 136:6 | 132:4 | 54:5 58:2 66:4 | procedure 24:17 |
| 15:20 17:1,3,4 | precisely 8:5,7 31:7 | presented 150:15 | 68:8,12 78:16 | 77:15 |
| 20:25 21:5,11,18 | 37:7 45:5 57:13 | 159:20 | 90:4,8 91:9,25 | procedures 51:14 |
| 23:3 25:12 26:3 | 64:3 82:18 85:3 | President 1:3 4:11 | 104:20 | proceed 12:8,18 |
| 26:11,16,19,22,24 | 89:16 106:3 | 4:19 5:1,17 7:9 | Prime 69:19,25 | 13:2,21 17:18 |
| 26:25 27:3,5,7,10 | precluded 117:15 | 8:2,6,10 15:6,12 | principle 17:6,7 | 51:25 163:13 |
| 27:12,16,21,25 | precludes 148:16 | 15:25 16:6,9,21 | 25:3 28:19 31:20 | proceeding 88:13 |
| 28:6 31:21 34:21 | predated 55:2 | 29:8 30:1,19,25 | 31:25 32:10,12 | proceedings 116:5 |
| 34:23,25 36:9 | predominant 62:12 | 31:7,9 32:3,19,24 | 35:15,19,23 36:1 | 168:6 |
| 37:16 38:24 41:23 | 63:3 | 33:22 34:24 44:8 | 36:2 42:6 47:7,8 | process 24:4 25:22 |
| 42:5,11 45:18,20 | preface 76:18 | 44:12 45:2,10 | 48:22 51:8 56:19 | 46:4 74:3 79:1 |
| 46:1,3,24,25 | premise 129:20 | 48:2 49:5 50:4 | 57:17 58:16 63:9 | 80:11,18 112:25 |
| 48:17 51:4 55:9 | prepared 99:4 | 53:3 58:5 67:12 | 63:17 64:16 67:14 | 136:4,6 168:10 |
| 55:10,13,14 60:15 | 132:20 | 70:18 71:23 72:14 | 68:14 69:6,10,11 | produced 39:10 |
| 60:15 63:4,5 | prerogative 1:8 2:8 | 72:24 73:8 92:20 | 69:15 85:2 87:11 | 87:7 109:22 |
| 64:25 67:8 73:6 | 2:14 6:8 10:11 | 93:1,8 96:15 | 89:17 118:1 137:5 | product 64:2 |
| 75:3 81:10 90:21 | 12:1 13:4,13 | 105:8,11 106:9 | 142:3,9,20 143:15 | Professor 55:23 |
| 91:19 92:5 102:7 | 14:18 15:20 17:1 | 107:17 109:18 | 146:17,18 154:20 | 95:2,8 107:14,14 |
| 110:20,20,21,21 | 17:3,4,8,20 20:25 | 110:7 111:17,23 | 156:5 | professors 112:3 |
| 111:2,7 115:8 | 21:5,18 22:25 | 111:25 112:13 | principles 26:8 | programmes 121:9 |
| 119:15,25 130:16 | 25:12 26:2,11,16 | 114:22 116:7 | 28:14 29:4 36:12 | 122:10 124:21 |
| 137:23 138:9,25 | 26:19,22 27:7,9 | 119:12 121:22,24 | 36:14 39:4 52:22 | 125:5 127:4,15,18 |
| 143:7 145:7,8,13 | 27:12,15,21,25 | 123:17,20 124:23 | 53:9 54:16,18 | 127:21,22 |
| 147:7,11,21 149:2 | 29:13,15,20 32:5 | 126:19 131:7 | 73:6 88:3 96:21 | Project 26:9 |
| 154:9 165:12 | 34:20,23,24 35:9 | 133:2,5 134:20 | 108:20 134:22 | promised 2:19 6:19 |
| powerless 110:24 | 36:10 38:25 42:5 | 137:14 139:14 | 135:23,25 136:17 | 7:8 |
| powers 2:8 9:4 | 45:20 46:17,25 | 142:4 143:17,21 | 137:8 145:20,21 | promote 11:21 |
| 10:11 13:4 17:8 | 47:4 49:22 59:11 | 143:25 144:25 | 162:5 | pronounce 59:24 |
| 17:21 22:25 25:21 | 63:12,24 64:5,6 | 161:21 165:18 | printed 54:16 56:1 | proper 76:14 |
| 35:13 47:4 51:11 | 65:4 89:8 90:21 | 168:21,25 169:3 | 65:11,16 85:23,25 | 146:20 149:20 |
| 74:13 76:11,12 | 91:3,4,9,17,19 | pressure 111:2 | 114:1 116:17 | 155:9 |
| 93:19 102:4 130:4 | 92:5,12,13,16,18 | presumptions 1:11 | 134:17 135:10 | properly 27:11 |
| 147:18,19 164:10 | 93:19 94:7 102:1 | pretend 44:12 | prior 24:7 25:6 | 90:7 113:2 167:21 |
| practical 4:11 | 102:3 105:22 | 116:15 | 46:2 71:18 79:15 | proposals 124:22 |
| practice 14:4 75:10 | 114:8,11 116:10 | pretended 55:10,14 | priority 1:21 | 138:18 |
| 77:23 78:17,23 | 118:1,3,9 119:1 | prevent 74:15 | prism 71:16 91:2 | proposed 57:12 |
| 95:19 156:8 | 119:15,25 120:20 | preventing 167:12 | 94:7 | 69:16 70:19 76:3 |
| 158:21 160:15,17 | 129:17 130:18 | prevents 156:9 | private 74:20 | 92:17 163:2 |
| 160:18 167:14 | 145:20 146:3,4,7 | previous 60:4 | Privy 2:25 106:5 | proposes 92:15 |
| practices 96:22 | 147:21,25 148:10 | 101:18 | probably 112:15 | proposing 51:6 |
| | | | I | I |

| | | | | 1 age 172 |
|--------------------|---------------------------|----------------------------|---------------------------|---------------------|
| 67:25 68:1 100:21 | 123:12,16,22 | 0 | 59:16 84:2 141:18 | 84:2 86:6 117:11 |
| 164:6,10 | 125:20 126:1,3 | qualification 48:14 | quintessentially | 122:4 125:3 |
| proposition 32:2 | 151:24 152:6,24 | qualified 167:4,8 | 147:22 | 142:17 165:10 |
| 63:15 81:5 82:11 | 153:24 | quality 70:12 | quite 4:23 31:13 | 166:8 |
| 146:9,11 161:8,10 | public 26:9 75:20 | quarters 109:24,25 | 33:22,23 79:20 | reading 99:5 |
| 161:16 165:17 | 98:8 145:9 | Quebec 134:21 | 167:3 | 122:20 128:1 |
| propositions 54:10 | publication 100:17 | 135:9,20 136:7,11 | quote 50:22 | reads 57:2 158:13 |
| 161:15 | 109:17 | Queen 145:16 | quoted 152:16 | real 52:12 104:13 |
| protect 116:20,22 | published 55:25 | 149:11 155:24 | 153:4 | 119:21 139:8 |
| protected 155:12 | 73:22 97:19 | 157:24 | quoting 44:14 | realities 43:5 |
| protections 119:3 | publishers' 61:20 | question 2:20 4:8 | | reality 43:6 71:4 |
| Protestant 140:17 | pure 163:16 | 6:20 10:10,10 | R | 82:9 |
| protocol 18:2,5,11 | purely 96:7 | 19:8 21:23 22:13 | radical 40:5 | really 14:18 38:16 |
| 18:13,15,16,20 | purpose 1:7 2:22 | 25:11,11 27:25 | Radio 65:6 | 38:18 54:12 67:12 |
| 20:4,11,23 22:6,8 | 3:10 4:16 6:3,4 | 28:16 29:2 30:16 | raise 48:6 109:14 | 72:20 83:12 84:14 |
| protocols 18:17 | 10:19 11:3 18:17 | 33:7,20 35:4,9,11 | 109:15 | 102:23 106:16 |
| 20:2,12 | 25:1 32:20 44:6 | 35:12,20,21 39:20 | raised 2:19 86:2 | 110:13 115:1 |
| proves 120:12 | 44:23 63:14 82:16 | 42:4,8,13 43:20 | 92:10 156:15 | 146:9 160:20 |
| provide 92:11 94:6 | 114:13 116:19 | 43:24 46:9,13 | 157:21 | reason 5:5 19:4 |
| 110:9 132:25 | 119:3 120:21 | 57:17 60:14 72:12 | raises 154:12 | 20:10 35:15 40:5 |
| 158:22 | 121:13 126:14 | 79:14 81:17 84:4 | 157:16 | 66:8 79:19 80:21 |
| provided 28:22 | 141:10 | 89:10 91:10 92:3 | range 24:2 | 82:1,8 84:10 |
| 43:14 100:2,5,5 | purposes 9:2 65:21 | 92:4,10,14 99:10 | rate 61:4 72:16 | 94:15 107:4 |
| 108:7 | 84:10 | 102:1,3,5,6,23,24 | 123:4 | 109:23 |
| provides 19:20 | purposive 141:11 | 104:13 105:11 | ratification 18:1,11 | reasonably 95:18 |
| 100:19 152:2 | pursuant 13:17 | 108:5 125:24 | 71:19 72:23 73:7 | reasoning 159:13 |
| providing 115:6 | pursue 136:8 | 130:23 131:24 | 73:16 74:17,18 | reasons 8:14 36:5 |
| provinces 156:20 | put 2:24 5:21 15:5 | 132:18 135:5,11 | 75:23 76:1,9,25 | 45:24 51:23 79:20 |
| provision 1:19,22 | 24:22 27:1 29:11 | 135:20 136:8 | 77:3,5 78:15 79:9 | 122:25,25 132:5 |
| 17:8 42:6 58:13 | 29:13 34:12,25 | 137:24 138:1 | ratified 7:19,21,23 | 133:16 134:17 |
| 72:6,9 83:9 87:21 | 40:7,9 52:3 67:1 | 139:13 144:6 | 71:17 72:16,25 | 168:15 |
| 88:5 102:14,16 | 68:17 77:8,11 | 147:22 148:19,21 | 73:10 74:15 75:12 | recall 17:25 128:16 |
| 117:18 139:16 | 78:20 82:20 103:5 | 149:1,12 151:17 | 80:15 | receive 77:5 |
| 141:23 152:2 | 105:22 106:20 | 154:12,14 155:4,5 | ratifies 8:4 | received 19:18,19 |
| 156:3 161:24 | 110:17 132:15 | 156:15,18 157:15 | ratify 24:5 71:25 | recognise 18:5 98:4 |
| 162:3 163:8,15 | 142:1 146:18 | 157:17 161:25 | 72:14,15 73:4 | recognised 17:13 |
| 166:24 167:19 | 155:22 161:2 | 162:1 163:3,16 | 78:17 87:14 | 25:4 56:24 83:10 |
| provisions 2:13 | 162:17 163:21 | 164:7,22 165:4 | Ratifying 23:21,23 | 156:6 160:17 |
| 10:12 12:9 13:1 | 165:21 166:21 | 166:21,23 168:2,4 | rational 92:12,15 | 162:16 164:3 |
| 14:21 20:1 23:2 | 167:18 168:9 | 168:5,7,11,17 | Raymond 133:10 | recognising 156:4 |
| 39:6 74:20,23 | puts 14:15 27:7 | questioned 62:19 | Rayner 64:10 | 157:13 167:16 |
| 75:1,4,15 76:24 | 30:2 136:17,21 | questions 44:5 84:5 | reached 1:15 | recognition 107:16 |
| 83:25 99:22 | putting 5:14 29:15 | 111:16 113:6 | reaches 83:21 | 144:20 146:20 |
| 113:18 115:22 | 31:18 32:10 34:18 | 165:18,20 | reaction 22:11 | 155:24 161:25 |
| 116:2 119:4 | 35:18 44:5 | quickly 45:14 56:8 | read 61:11 83:18 | 167:14 |
| | | | | |

| | | | | Page 195 |
|---------------------------|-------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| un no man dation | 61.17 01 60.4 | 150.4 160.4 11 22 | 07.0 22 00.4 | nondon 14:20 |
| recommendation | 61:17,21 62:4 | 159:4 160:4,11,23 | 87:8,23 90:4 91:20 95:9 96:17 | render 14:20 |
| 98:1,2,10 | 92:11 94:13,14,20 | 161:9,12 163:2,23 | | rendered 15:23 |
| reconciliation | 94:25 95:9,12,21 | regarded 20:20 | 97:24 102:14,16 | repeal 1:12,23 |
| 136:9 | 95:23 96:21,24 | regards 50:15 | 124:11,19,19 | 12:23 26:10 51:23 |
| reconsidering 35:3 | 97:6,11 98:13,20 | 140:21 145:7 | 150:3 162:5,11,12 | 52:2,4,4 80:19 |
| rectify 49:19 | 98:24 99:8,9,13 | 146:22 147:25 | relied 67:1 100:23 | 81:3 87:15,17 |
| red-headed 134:4 | 99:15,23,25 100:3 | 160:18 | 108:18 115:11,18 | 103:12 104:5,10 |
| redundant 151:19 | 101:2,6,14,20,24 | region 135:16 | 147:22 | 143:6 |
| 152:8 | 102:5,11,15 103:2 | registrar's 93:11 | relies 20:9 23:1 | repealed 14:11 |
| Reed 37:23 40:7 | 108:1 110:12 | regular 62:11 | 26:21 64:2 | 60:2 118:7 143:4 |
| 51:2 92:10 102:22 | 111:20 113:1 | regularly 115:11 | rely 1:19 54:20 | 143:8 |
| 107:25 108:5 | 139:17 | regulation 66:15 | 98:14 155:15 | repealing 14:9 |
| 146:9 150:8 | referendums 94:10 | 93:22,23 126:22 | relying 29:19 35:24 | 60:22 |
| 151:18 157:3 | 97:14,18,22 98:5 | regulations 151:6 | remain 14:3 39:6 | repeat 33:1 41:22 |
| 160:3,8,20 165:10 | 99:18 | rejected 20:20 52:6 | 88:8,15 94:21 | 43:3 |
| 165:16 167:4 | referred 23:4 29:5 | 70:23 71:8,8 85:5 | 96:2 97:3 138:8 | repeated 125:11 |
| Reed's 2:20 165:17 | 47:20 65:24 68:16 | rejecting 20:15 | 138:21,25 | repeating 1:18 |
| Rees-Mogg 17:22 | 86:22 98:15 | 21:2,7 22:3 | remainder 132:23 | replaces 142:12 |
| 17:23 19:1 22:23 | 100:10,15 101:6 | relate 20:1 25:19 | remained 81:9 | reply 87:7 |
| refer 2:3 34:7 | 104:5 113:6 126:1 | 159:1 | remaining 109:25 | report 18:9 64:11 |
| 134:18 143:4 | 126:6,12,15 143:6 | related 72:12 118:8 | remains 39:2,3 | 64:13 86:19 87:1 |
| 144:16 | 156:14 166:12 | relates 160:9 | 80:11,12,21 88:7 | 87:2,24 97:14,17 |
| reference 46:21 | referring 15:7 | relating 42:16 | 91:10 137:20 | 97:18,20,21 |
| 65:11,17 68:20 | 153:3 | relation 21:11 26:5 | 146:25 | reports 48:10 |
| 76:7 78:5 86:24 | refers 25:17 46:8 | 42:15 65:7 74:13 | remarks 143:5,23 | represent 5:5 64:18 |
| 88:23 93:15 96:12 | 108:15 141:6 | 78:7 86:10 88:16 | 144:5 148:19 | 115:22 |
| 96:14 97:16 98:18 | refines 63:22 | 88:17 89:20 124:3 | 158:13 | representative |
| 102:17 111:19 | reflected 113:5 | 129:15 130:4 | remember 3:20 | 76:10 94:10 |
| 125:6 126:20 | 145:25 158:21 | 148:20,24 157:20 | 15:4 41:15 | 146:21,23 147:1,4 |
| 128:19 129:21 | reflection 64:2 | relations 129:13,25 | reminded 50:1 | 140.21,23 147.1,4 |
| 130:20 131:20 | 135:17 | 130:3,11,14 148:3 | 150:14 | representatives |
| 135:10,21 142:4 | reflects 146:16,20 | 150:3,11,14 148.5 | remit 128:12 | 136:10 |
| r | 149:20 | | | |
| 152:1,19 155:16 | | relationship 40:4 | removal 28:9 65:13 | Republic 99:24 121:2 122:19 |
| 162:8 | refrained 163:11 | 88:2 relatively 142:22 | 114:6 115:3 117:1 | |
| referenced 123:12 | refuse 51:19 | relatively 143:22 | 117:12 119:24 | 124:24 142:14 |
| references 126:5 | refused 115:16 | relaxes 29:22 | remove 18:7 29:11 | require 24:7 25:5 |
| 156:25 | refuses 80:14 | relevance 148:20 | 34:20 47:5,14 | 26:13 27:12 29:6 |
| referenda 61:5,25 | refusing 74:23 | 164:8 | removed 2:7 31:25 | 38:5 64:20,23 |
| 62:2 | regal 55:11,15 | relevant 2:21 6:11 | 32:8,13 35:10 | 76:2 77:11 78:24 |
| referendum 6:5,8 | regard 1:10 26:7 | 7:13,19 9:20 26:7 | 36:14 80:7 90:10 | 79:17 99:22 118:5 |
| 25:24 30:10,20,21 | 35:7 77:20 103:3 | 44:18 50:6 51:5 | 120:7 | 120:13,14 136:8 |
| 31:5,17 33:1,4,5,8 | 104:12 107:1 | 54:16 56:5,7 | removes 29:22 | required 9:7 44:3 |
| 33:9 36:22,24,24 | 127:14 134:8 | 59:20 60:13 63:22 | 36:18 117:20 | 79:11 89:2 113:16 |
| 37:1 40:12 43:14 | 140:22 149:4,14 | 64:8 65:22 68:15 | removing 16:25 | 119:21 120:5 |
| 43:15,17 61:8,9 | 150:1 152:12,15 | 78:7,9 83:25 84:7 | 35:20 | 121:7 122:8 124:1 |
| | I | l | I | l |

www.DTIGlobal.com

| Page | 194 |
|------|-----|
|------|-----|

| | | | | 1 age 174 |
|---------------------|---------------------|-------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------------|
| 125:18 127:9 | respectful 82:10 | return 2:18 90:2 | 88:23,24 89:1,7 | 162:6 167:16 |
| 130:21 152:22 | 90:23 101:13 | reverse 6:22 | 89:14,16,23,25 | rules 57:5 131:17 |
| 150:21 152:22 | 134:10 | review 50:11 73:23 | 90:4,8,11,11,15 | 131:18 |
| requirement 11:16 | respectfully 4:18 | revival 27:9 | 91:9 92:3,7 93:22 | run 13:18 62:14 |
| 11:17,20,21 79:8 | 15:18 30:14 32:1 | revived 27:17 | 103:13,15 104:21 | 123:15 |
| | | | 2 | |
| 99:12 130:24 | 35:24 36:11,17 | revives 34:24 | 109:11,15,16 | rush 131:24 |
| 131:12 154:13,21 | 37:19 125:1,13 | reviving 27:25 | 111:10 112:22 |   |
| 154:24 158:10 | 131:22 146:14 | Revolution 55:1 | 114:6 115:4,4,11 | sanction 77:5 93:20 |
| 159:5 165:1 | respective 52:15 | rhetorical 166:23 | 115:18,21 116:8 | 129:7 |
| requirements | 148:23 | rid 110:24 | 136:9,18 138:2 | |
| 11:14,15 46:9 | respectively 115:8 | right 7:22 12:13 | 140:18 141:15 | sanctioned 68:7 |
| 73:12,13 86:12 | 119:11 | 13:8 24:3 27:24 | 144:8 145:22 | sanctioning 60:22 |
| 118:10 154:7,11 | respects 56:5 | 30:19 31:20 44:10 | 146:14 162:11 | sanctions 93:20 |
| 166:3,4 168:12,18 | 133:12,18 | 56:22,24 57:25,25 | 163:5 | Santos 105:2 |
| requires 12:13 24:8 | respond 38:9 | 58:1 59:5,7,10 | rigorous 46:23 | satisfies 161:24 |
| 25:6,7 67:4,15 | respondent 53:7 | 60:19 61:13,17 | rise 14:5 29:12 | save 2:3 142:7 |
| 80:10 98:24 99:9 | response 38:5 | 73:3 79:5 93:12 | 120:12 133:3 | saw 68:8 |
| 118:12,18,23 | 40:10 97:13,17,21 | 106:3 107:20 | risk 136:18 | saying 3:25 7:4 |
| 162:4 | 97:23 98:1,9,13 | 108:6 110:24 | road 104:25 | 12:11 27:4,17,19 |
| requiring 25:23 | 113:14 116:16 | 113:25 114:22 | rob 81:1 | 29:3 30:13,25 |
| research 100:18 | 129:10 151:17 | 120:3 137:2 139:9 | Robinson 29:18 | 31:10 42:22 67:11 |
| reservation 152:3 | 164:11 168:17 | 145:22 146:13 | 45:6,7 123:7 | 102:8,23 103:7 |
| 159:7 | responsibility 39:9 | 148:2,4 152:7 | 141:5,8 | 104:25 105:7,8 |
| reserve 159:1 | 39:14 46:14 70:3 | 153:8 157:19 | Roche 49:14,16 | 106:2 138:22 |
| reserved 118:14 | 117:20,22 | 169:1 | role 30:9 38:17,22 | 146:10 150:12 |
| 129:13 159:11,18 | responsible 50:17 | rightly 2:10,11 | 38:22 40:8 41:12 | 157:5 161:20,20 |
| 160:9 | 98:12 | 33:23 | 48:7 51:2,3,3 | says 2:6 5:4 9:3 |
| resolution 40:20 | rest 127:12 | rights 2:7 3:3 8:1 | 60:14 74:2 155:9 | 15:14 19:3 30:5 |
| 60:10 68:16,23 | restraint 47:1 | 8:13 10:8 17:6 | roles 38:19 146:21 | 31:17,17 32:22,22 |
| 69:4 77:4,19 | restrictions 117:15 | 18:7 19:2 20:10 | 148:23 149:21 | 32:23 36:22,23 |
| 104:19 106:25 | rests 70:4 | 20:23 21:19 28:17 | room 150:9 | 39:10 40:6 44:14 |
| 118:19,23 131:21 | result 23:25 38:3 | 28:18,20 35:13 | round 14:9 91:22 | 46:25 48:11 49:10 |
| resolutions 69:9,12 | 40:10 43:20 45:4 | 36:19 38:1 39:1,4 | royal 19:18,19 | 50:9 51:14 61:21 |
| 69:16 71:3,7,10 | 53:13 60:11 74:18 | 48:19 49:23 52:8 | 116:10 118:1 | 63:8 67:20 76:19 |
| 72:5 105:6 107:4 | 92:11 95:17,24 | 53:21,22 55:1,3,3 | 120:20 | 77:16 81:24 83:9 |
| 107:22 | 97:1 98:13 101:2 | 55:6,8 57:15,19 | rule 24:11,14,23,25 | 90:20,21 91:16,18 |
| resort 45:3 | 101:13 106:21 | 58:3,14 59:12,12 | 59:11 62:1,3,5 | 104:17 106:12 |
| respect 4:4 30:12 | 101:13 100:21 | 59:14,14,15 61:16 | 76:16,18 77:12,25 | 130:16 132:9 |
| 32:21 33:7 41:7 | 131:25 139:17 | 65:13,18,20,22,24 | 79:1,6,10 107:12 | 137:18 138:13 |
| 50:24 51:5,7 52:5 | resulted 85:15 | 66:1,3,11 67:4,9 | 107:15 134:9,11 | 139:16 156:4 |
| 65:4 66:24 91:20 | results 99:13,22 | 67:16,17 72:16 | 140:2 144:20 | 167:7 |
| 92:19 95:17 96:19 | resume 93:3 168:24 | 74:20 78:13 81:9 | | scale 70:12 |
| | | | 146:1,5,8,12 | scenario 142:22 |
| 96:22 109:3 110:5 | 168:25 169:4 | 82:11,13,18,19 | 148:16 155:23 | 163:18 |
| 119:15,17 138:10 | retain 74:25 | 83:9 84:16 86:5,6 | 156:1,1,11,23 | schedule 129:22 |
| 138:24,25 162:9 | retains 75:11 | 87:22 88:5,20,21 | 157:23 161:24 | SUILUUIL 127.22 |
| | 1 | l | 1 | 1 |

www.DTIGlobal.com

| 151:23 | 135:9,20 136:8 | 115:9 126:13 | 156:22 | Sharpston 85:3 |
|-----------------------|---------------------|--------------------|----------------------------|--------------------------|
| scheme 1:9,24 | second 6:18 11:16 | secure 11:17 | sensitivity 40:3 | sheet 100:12 |
| 21:20 26:4,5 | 15:13 19:4 30:15 | see 8:16,22 9:12 | 118:21 | shop 122:7 |
| 32:13 33:14 48:20 | 46:6 53:7 83:3 | 17:14,15,16 18:25 | sentence 61:11 | short 51:13 68:24 |
| 118:11 120:18 | 99:5 114:9,18 | 22:16 32:25 42:23 | separate 5:19 21:24 | 69:20 83:21 90:1 |
| 121:12 126:15 | 116:24 123:6 | 49:13,16 57:15 | 102:4 112:6 | 95:21 96:6,12,16 |
| Scoffield 111:25 | 164:13 168:17 | 60:7,16 67:12 | 142:21 161:11 | 110:7 113:13 |
| 112:1,2,15 114:5 | secondary 78:16 | 69:3 73:8,23 84:9 | separately 9:6,17 | 160:6 |
| 114:23 116:8 | secondly 20:11 | 87:4 91:17 92:4 | 68:18 77:10 124:7 | Shortly 95:20 |
| 119:13 121:23,25 | 82:8 117:16 | 100:12 116:4,11 | series 161:9 | shoulders 70:4 |
| 122:24 123:6,18 | 133:20 138:9 | 123:11 124:17 | seriously 34:15 | show 37:11 47:16 |
| 123:21 125:1,22 | 148:14 | 125:11 128:10,19 | serve 34:5 | 68:23 92:2,6 |
| 126:23 131:8 | secretary 11:25 | 131:5 132:14,19 | served 14:2 35:2 | 106:13 |
| 133:4,7 170:5 | 12:17 13:3,16 | 137:10 138:24 | service 12:13 13:9 | shown 19:9 163:7 |
| scope 4:9 32:22 | 14:17,24 15:20 | 153:18 155:14 | 100:18 106:16 | shows 7:17 |
| 45:8 46:20 47:10 | 21:17 38:23 87:5 | 157:4 158:10 | services 11:9 | side 52:13 125:19 |
| 85:12 147:21 | 93:18 122:3 | 162:17 163:20,20 | set 1:24 7:13 8:22 | 127:25 |
| Scotland 42:18 | 138:17 | seek 6:4 48:5 53:1 | 19:15 21:2 26:11 | sides 52:12 |
| 52:21 99:18 | section 1:15,19 2:1 | seeking 18:1 44:5 | 31:22 36:3 46:18 | sidesteps 118:10 |
| 135:15 137:1 | 2:8 7:6,10,14,18 | seeks 14:20 91:13 | 46:23 47:6 53:18 | sign 68:2 71:5 |
| 145:22 147:8 | 8:12,21,24,25 9:9 | 116:21 | 54:15 56:25 63:13 | signed 19:25 |
| 148:11 151:21,22 | 9:14 10:17,18,21 | seen 29:17 71:16 | 68:21,22,24 73:16 | significance 29:3 |
| 151:23 152:15,24 | 10:25 11:1,4,5,11 | 112:20 113:3 | 83:18 87:5 89:25 | 33:20 36:25 37:2 |
| 153:16,24 154:4 | 13:15 18:18,21,23 | 117:8 120:22 | 90:18 99:13,25 | 37:6 38:4 39:18 |
| 155:15 158:7,7,25 | 18:25 19:16,17,21 | 123:3 131:19 | 100:17 105:21 | 42:10,14,20,22 |
| 160:5,13 165:8,13 | 21:4,13 22:9 36:8 | 156:25 | 120:6 121:17 | 129:5 149:7,17 |
| Scots 147:25 148:8 | 42:17 46:11 57:2 | sees 30:1 118:17 | 122:7 127:6,17 | significant 68:5 |
| 148:13,15,20 | 61:20 68:9 83:7 | 162:19,20 | 128:3,25 134:16 | 114:9 127:7 |
| Scottish 119:7 | 84:14 85:21 86:6 | seized 168:11 | 136:3 137:3 | 149:25 150:3 |
| 149:9,13,22,23 | 88:12 93:24 94:2 | select 48:10 86:16 | 140:11,12 141:21 | 151:14 |
| 150:4 151:1,2,3,8 | 94:19 99:8 109:15 | 86:18 87:2 97:13 | 144:24 | significantly 117:3 |
| 151:9,15,16,25 | 111:21 117:11,11 | 97:21 | sets 76:17 97:22 | significations 62:24 |
| 152:1,10,11,23,25 | 117:12 118:13,16 | self 143:15 | 141:24 146:2 | signing 71:10 |
| 153:1,17,20,25 | 118:17,25 126:6 | self-determination | setting 58:16 | signs 8:3 |
| 157:8 158:9 159:2 | 133:22 136:20 | 137:3 138:3 | settle 70:21 | similar 85:7 |
| 159:5,22,22 | 137:6,6,16,17 | Self-Employed | settlement 114:10 | Similarly 158:7 |
| 162:24 163:9 | 138:6,22 139:4,11 | 50:2,5 | 116:25 117:6,24 | simple 12:17 22:16 |
| 165:6 | 139:24 140:8 | self-evident 30:12 | 118:22 119:19 | 36:21 54:10 |
| scrap 129:1 | 141:7,9 143:3,12 | semi-colon 142:1 | 133:18 140:25 | 122:20 |
| scrutinise 24:3,18 | 151:18,20,21 | seminal 55:24 | 166:8,14 | simply 2:22 11:24 |
| 76:3 | 155:20 160:7 | sense 2:9 11:24,25 | seventh 16:4 48:7 | 12:3 14:7 15:16 |
| scrutinising 100:21 | 161:19 162:9 | 12:9 30:1 56:15 | Sewel 42:16,16 | 17:4 22:14 26:10 |
| scrutiny 76:14 | 164:3 165:12 | 62:21,23 84:14 | 154:3 155:16 | 27:15,17,21 29:24 |
| seating 93:11 | 167:23 | 89:1 96:8 100:17 | 157:4,6 158:13 | 31:16 37:15 39:6 |
| secession 134:21 | sections 12:7 84:22 | 148:5 156:10,12 | share 71:2 138:9,10 | 39:24 41:12 42:1 |

www.DTIGlobal.com

| Page | 196 |
|------|-----|
|------|-----|

| | | | | 0 |
|----------------------|----------------------|--------------------------|---------------------|----------------------|
| 42:20 44:7 46:12 | 77:22 81:18 | speciality 147:25 | 96:4 109:9,9,18 | steps 15:7,10,22 |
| 46:20 49:18 63:15 | 141:12 | specific 6:3 47:1 | statements 3:17 | 33:17 38:5,6 |
| 64:9 89:9 92:18 | sorts 77:17 | 58:13,20 155:14 | 26:13 29:6 31:13 | Steyn 3:21,23 |
| 102:2 103:16 | sought 36:5 101:9 | 157:15 | 32:14 41:11 85:2 | 134:5 |
| 104:11 106:2 | 132:7 158:22 | specifically 18:19 | 108:18,23 109:23 | stick 16:21 |
| 116:18 122:11 | sounds 106:9 | 25:19 46:17 60:13 | 166:11 | Stockdale 60:12 |
| 132:12 135:16 | source 26:6 65:20 | 81:20 86:13 123:2 | states 76:4 | stone 89:25 |
| 138:1 139:6,12,14 | 65:22,24 88:25 | 127:17 | states' 87:22 88:5 | stood 69:25 101:4 |
| 141:20 144:16,23 | 90:3 | speech 50:7 | status 100:16 | stop 35:1 105:2 |
| 157:5 159:10,12 | sources 95:1 | speed 67:24 | 137:14 141:4 | 164:5 |
| 161:15 166:8 | 144:23 | spend 29:9 | 142:4,7,21 155:25 | stopped 69:17 |
| situation 66:12 | south 122:5 123:23 | spoke 156:23 | statute 12:25 13:25 | stopping 105:5 |
| 78:2 103:2 108:12 | 125:17 126:9 | spoken 30:17 44:2 | 14:12 15:23 26:23 | story 98:14 |
| 140:23 157:16 | 127:5,16,19,24 | spread 59:20 60:6 | 29:10,14 31:11 | straightforward |
| 165:7 | 128:24 | staff 100:19 128:9 | 57:21 58:12 62:19 | 53:12 54:12 |
| six 11:13 127:2 | sovereign 63:4,5 | stage 12:21 53:15 | 63:13 74:24 | 156:12 |
| sixth 22:24 87:1 | 76:9 | 53:20 54:3,14 | 105:15 107:19 | strained 141:9 |
| slightly 61:19 93:12 | sovereignty 28:23 | 57:14,20 58:9,15 | 118:4,6 119:21,24 | strand 114:20 |
| slipping 167:13 | 28:24 53:11,16 | 58:15,17,17,17 | 126:22 127:3 | 115:3 116:24,25 |
| small 119:16 | 54:8,15 55:23 | 65:8,9 82:4 84:25 | 146:1,13 155:22 | 118:9 119:5 120:9 |
| 128:14 134:19 | 56:10,13,19 63:10 | 90:2,13 94:3 | 156:13,24 162:15 | 121:19 122:4,21 |
| so' 96:3 | 63:14,16,21 64:15 | 104:3,4,6,7,11,14 | 165:2 166:20 | 123:16 125:3,12 |
| so-called 51:23 | 65:22 79:22 80:9 | 111:9 132:5,12 | 168:8 | 126:5,12 128:1,11 |
| social 18:3,11 20:5 | 83:17 84:10,12,13 | 158:5 162:15 | statutes 9:20 12:6 | 128:25 |
| 20:11 | 85:23 86:14 87:12 | stages 72:17 104:3 | 14:5 25:18,19 | strands 113:23 |
| society 134:25 | 87:13 88:4,14 | 111:14 | 26:1 27:5 54:2 | 114:2,5,18 |
| 135:18 | 89:3,13,18 90:16 | stand 50:23 59:5 | 74:22 107:5 123:9 | strange 14:7,16 |
| sole 60:19 61:13,17 | 91:2,3,7,12,23 | 77:1 88:21 | 129:11,12 146:19 | street 106:11 |
| solecism 41:8 | 94:8 95:24 96:20 | stands 63:18 | 147:18 162:20 | 133:22 |
| solely 84:16 | 96:25 97:5,10 | stark 82:9 | statutory 1:9,11,21 | strengthen 76:21 |
| solve 103:24,24 | 98:4 102:13,24 | start 5:9 83:25 87:3 | 2:22 10:12 13:20 | strengthened |
| somebody 5:4 | 103:1 104:23 | 146:11 | 14:21 17:5 21:20 | 127:13 |
| 109:18 | 107:9,11 110:17 | starting 54:14 | 23:2 24:23,25 | stress 83:10 |
| somewhat 163:17 | 110:18 133:21,24 | 91:16 129:18 | 26:4,5,24,25 27:3 | strictly 72:2 131:12 |
| son 140:20 | 137:24 138:10 | starts 87:1 | 27:5 32:13 33:14 | striking 63:15 |
| soon 109:10 | 139:10 142:22 | state 11:25 12:18 | 36:19 39:1,4,4 | stripped 116:9 |
| sorry 8:19 11:2 | sovereignty' 62:22 | 13:3,16 14:17,24 | 42:6 48:19,20 | strong 27:24 |
| 23:14 25:15 43:25 | Spain 9:13 | 15:20 21:17 38:23 | 49:23 52:8 57:25 | strongly 109:25 |
| 48:2 60:5 69:2 | Spath 3:6 4:1 | 46:7,9 76:2,13,15 | 59:7,12,13 75:14 | structure 136:24 |
| 86:25 120:13 | speaking 72:2 | 93:18 138:17 | 82:13 92:7 120:5 | 158:2 |
| 133:5 135:21 | 75:18 108:1 112:7 | State's 122:3 | 120:21 126:1,3,21 | struggling 157:3 |
| 141:19 145:3 | 132:20,25 | stated 1:20 18:8 | 126:23 128:4 | study 27:13 55:24 |
| 153:4 165:14 | speaks 107:17 | statement 1:8 15:1 | 137:8 139:16 | subclause 142:1 |
| sort 6:11 30:1,2 | special 127:14 | 26:18 31:11,12 | 143:12 | subject 37:17 40:6 |
| 38:1 66:19 77:21 | specialist 154:24 | 32:15 41:13 45:7 | step 13:4 | 40:12 47:1 48:13 |
| | | | | |
| | | | | |

www.DTIGlobal.com

| r | | | | 1 age 197 |
|--------------------------|--|---|----------------------------|---------------------|
| 49:9 86:7 112:9 | 49:21 63:15 77:2 | summary 08.22 | summising 21.2.2 | 102:10 123:24 |
| | | summary 98:22 99:4 113:19 114:2 | surprising 31:2,3 | 134:11 136:4 |
| submission 1:6,13 | 79:8,16,21 83:6 | | 32:2,7 33:3 42:3 | |
| 1:25 3:15,19 5:23 | 90:25 92:13 | 116:16 | 122:13 | 137:17 140:16 |
| 5:25 6:5 12:16,17 | 102:11 116:8 | summit 70:20 | surrender 102:13 | 145:17 146:6 |
| 12:25 14:22,23 | 117:6 119:1 | Sumption 13:25 | suspending 55:9,10 | 149:20 159:23 |
| 15:21 17:1,19 | 127:13 146:1 | 14:15 43:22,23 | suspense 132:22 | taken 6:9 25:18 |
| 18:4 22:3 25:9 | submits 74:16 | 52:3 59:11 61:4 | sustain 6:17 | 28:20,21 33:17 |
| 27:20,24 30:16 | submitted 26:2,7 | 62:4 84:25 85:15 | Switzerland 61:22 | 38:5,6 58:4,14 |
| 31:3,5 36:5 37:7 | 89:9 | 100:13 106:23 | symbolic 167:5 | 59:10 70:8,11 |
| 37:11 40:1 41:2,7 | submitting 76:12 | 107:4,12,22 111:1 | system 67:15 80:8 | 86:4 119:6 143:12 |
| 42:3,15,23 43:10 | subparagraph | 125:20 163:3 | 88:24 94:9 100:4 | takes 1:21 31:15 |
| 44:7,25 45:9,16 | 141:19 153:7 | superior 28:19 | 100:6 135:14 | 157:18 |
| 48:8,24 52:1,17 | subsection 7:14 | supplementary | 136:5,20 155:23 | talk 125:15 128:10 |
| 54:11 59:4 61:7 | 11:16 138:13 | 92:24 93:17 | , | talking 6:21 122:7 |
| 71:15 72:3 78:2 | 139:14 141:25 | 143:23 | T | 125:4 147:20 |
| 82:10,10 85:4,22 | 156:5,9 165:10,11 | support 3:2 22:18 | tab 3:6,7 6:25 8:15 | 164:8,9 |
| 88:9 90:23 91:8 | 166:8 167:2,4,5,7 | 37:13 41:20 44:23 | 8:20 9:11 10:15 | talks 156:4 |
| 91:21 92:1,18 | 167:8 | 52:14 75:11 | 10:15 16:24 17:10 | task 108:13 150:14 |
| 93:25 94:5,24 | subsequent 73:2 | 128:20 | 17:24 23:6,11,17 | 150:17 |
| 101:3,13,14 | 79:13 87:15 | supported 70:19 | 23:17,19 47:23 | taxation 75:19 81:5 |
| , , | | 103:21 104:15 | 49:3,18 50:3,6,9 | |
| 104:22 108:16,22 | subsistence 151:4 | | 55:7 56:9 57:10 | 81:8,10,20 |
| 110:6 111:8,13 | substance 161:14 | 131:1 | 59:16,17 60:4 | technically 14:1 |
| 114:24 117:23 | substantial 60:11 | supporting 41:4 | 64:10,12 68:20 | 109:17 |
| 119:13,23 120:17 | 100:8 | 100:22 | 69:22 73:20 78:8 | telescope 91:15 |
| 129:9 134:10 | substantive 81:2 | suppose 6:10 14:11 | | 120:2 |
| 142:21 146:7 | succeed 62:3 | 72:17 139:15 | 83:1,4,24 86:19 | tell 16:14 33:23 |
| 151:20 155:7,18 | suffer 62:18 | 160:3 164:7 | 93:16 94:15,17 | 96:23 103:1 110:9 |
| 155:20 158:17 | suffices 90:22 | 165:10 | 95:4 96:14,15 | telling 40:22 |
| 159:8 160:1,6 | sufficient 31:19 | supposed 89:21 | 97:15,16 98:18 | 126:20 |
| 164:13 | 35:22 50:10 84:12 | supposing 12:12 | 111:20 121:21 | tells 6:12 43:10 |
| submissions 1:4,16 | 104:19 128:8 | 13:8 | 137:11 140:10 | 165:11 |
| 26:12 28:5,11 | suggest 27:2 34:15 | suppressing 27:15 | 152:18 158:14 | Templeman 73:17 |
| 48:15 50:21 52:25 | 39:11 46:13 | 35:8 | 161:22 | 76:17 |
| 53:5,7 58:18 | 119:24 148:6 | supremacy 54:25 | tabs 59:20 60:6 | temptation 131:24 |
| 64:14 79:12 112:1 | 166:22 | supreme 53:16 | take 1:17 2:14 7:14 | ten 57:1 70:4,6 |
| 113:8,9 114:17 | suggested 46:3 | 55:19 84:13 85:11 | 9:25 13:4 15:22 | term 29:19 44:21 |
| 116:14 119:9,9,11 | 84:25 | 131:20 134:1,9 | 18:9 26:3 28:15 | 84:23 |
| 119:21 122:4 | suggesting 4:7 | 135:9 | 30:15 47:25 49:2 | terminate 12:1 |
| 131:3,4 132:9,23 | suggestion 51:10 | sure 31:15 42:14 | 49:15 55:5,21 | terminates 9:24 |
| 131:5,4 152:5,25 | 136:14 | 83:20 103:4,14,17 | 56:7 58:20 59:11 | termination 9:25 |
| 144:10 146:15 | suggests 34:5 122:6 | 114:25 132:17 | 62:15 68:25 69:20 | terms 9:23 21:12 |
| 170:3,4,5,6,7 | suggests 34.3 122.0 summarise 53:14 | 139:13 166:15 | 70:1,3,25 71:2 | 30:20 34:2 36:21 |
| submit 15:18 17:4 | 123:21 150:22 | | 78:25 81:5 83:15 | 37:15 55:17 60:14 |
| | | surely 105:19 | 84:16 89:15,16 | |
| 32:2 35:11 36:13 | summarised 74:14 | surprised 29:21 | 95:1 96:13 98:12 | 63:9 68:15,18,22 |
| 36:17 37:19 46:12 | 121:25 | 107:15 154:19 | 95.1 90.15 90.12 | 69:3 92:6 94:16 |
| | I | l | I | I |

| Page | 198 |
|------|-----|
|------|-----|

| | | | | 1 age 170 |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|------------------------|----------------------------|---------------------------|
| 94:24 140:13 | 59:22 | 152:17 153:8 | 8:18 9:1,9,12,13 | two 5:19 9:5,17,25 |
| 141:2,7,14 142:19 | Thoburn 83:1 85:5 | topic 16:10,23 | 17:5 18:24,25 | 20:6 24:6 47:20 |
| 143:9,14 147:11 | thought 84:11 | 22:23,24 37:18 | 19:24 20:1,3,12 | 53:20 57:14,20 |
| terribly 62:1 | 93:14 147:13 | 39:22 48:7 | 21:1,6 25:5 38:25 | 58:17 59:20 60:6 |
| terrorism 66:14 | threat 75:2 | totally 107:1 | 68:2 71:5,11,18 | 60:9 62:23 64:8 |
| test 161:3 | three 2:18 54:3,10 | touch 39:12,25 | 71:25 72:14,15 | 65:9 66:2 68:3 |
| tested 99:20 | 56:17 58:9,15,17 | touches 39:19,20 | 73:9,10 74:14,15 | 69:20 72:17 77:17 |
| testing 164:19 | 58:18 82:4 90:13 | 41:20 | 74:16,20,24 75:4 | 79:20 82:24 87:9 |
| TEU 13:17 113:17 | 94:3 111:9,14 | Toulson's 47:22 | 75:5,8,10,12,15 | 90:2 95:2 97:25 |
| text 19:16 122:20 | 113:13,13,23 | track 41:16 | 75:20 76:6,11,12 | 102:11 103:11 |
| thank 8:6 23:15 | 113.13,13,23 | tracks 69:18 | 76:14 77:18,21,22 | 102.11 103.11 |
| | | | | |
| 45:10 50:4 53:3,3 | three-page 15:4 | traditional 44:25 | 78:1,13,18,19 | 113:8 114:18 |
| 73:8 79:5 92:25 | three-stage 53:13 | transcript 16:22 | 79:9,14 80:10,14 | 117:6 120:19 |
| 93:1,4 111:17,17 | throws 73:1 82:9 | 150:12 | 80:20,22 87:6,11 | 121:19 122:4,21 |
| 111:23,24,25 | 86:11 | transfer 133:20 | 87:19 88:1 165:24 | 122:24 123:11,16 |
| 112:14 116:7 | time 1:18 5:16,16 | 137:23 | treaty-making | 125:3,12 126:12 |
| 119:12 121:24 | 10:1 19:11 28:2 | transferred 117:17 | 21:11 24:4 27:22 | 128:1 129:1,8 |
| 133:5,6 134:20 | 29:9 47:12,12,25 | 118:15 130:1,13 | 64:1 73:18 74:8 | 130:19 131:5,6 |
| 143:17,18 169:2,4 | 48:3 49:17 70:1 | 138:2 139:10 | trigger 104:3,4,6,7 | 133:16 136:10 |
| theoretical 74:13 | 75:25 85:21,21 | 147:18 | 104:11,14,17 | 138:5 144:1 154:5 |
| theories 61:24 | 86:7,7 87:16,20 | transformation | triggering 53:21 | 155:2 158:25 |
| theory 116:19 | 89:19,19 99:13 | 156:24 | 54:1,6 65:12 | 164:11 |
| 148:14 | 101:17 103:12 | transformed | 80:25 143:14 | two-line 105:4 |
| thing 57:7 | 107:25 111:8 | 155:25 | 157:8 | two-thirds 132:20 |
| things 11:15 28:4 | 113:6,12 131:6 | transposed 67:17 | trouble 5:1 | type 2:22 17:2,14 |
| 117:14,21 125:15 | 132:20 133:6 | 103:14 | Troubles 140:18 | 37:23 99:15,20 |
| 128:10 154:5 | 134:17 156:9 | treacherous 5:11 | troubling 102:22 | 102:12 |
| 161:11 164:11,17 | 167:3 | treat 9:16 | true 62:22 151:20 | types 99:8 102:11 |
| think 2:24 3:20,23 | times 125:11 | treated 149:6 | 156:22 | typical 66:20 |
| 4:14 15:4 16:20 | tinkering 118:22 | treaties 7:11,15 9:3 | trump 135:16 | |
| 17:12 19:3 23:7 | tiny 72:25 | 9:6 12:2 18:16,18 | trumps 136:15 | U |
| 28:15 34:15 44:8 | TIOPA 81:21,24 | 18:20,22,23 19:22 | 146:10 | Uberoi 98:20 |
| 44:21 45:21 67:21 | 81:25 | 19:22 22:7 23:21 | try 40:25 48:5 62:2 | 100:12,14 |
| 69:25 81:7 92:23 | title 73:23 123:1 | 23:23,25 24:5,6 | 93:8 110:10 | UK 15:16 18:14,14 |
| 103:3 107:14 | titles 19:24 20:2 | 24:10,10,18,21 | trying 45:11 93:14 | 23:24 24:1,7 25:5 |
| 109:12 150:13 | Tobacco 158:14 | 46:1 64:23 74:1,5 | Tuesday 99:5 | 45:20 51:17 68:2 |
| 151:5 154:16,19 | today 48:23 56:6 | 75:17,24 76:22 | turn 2:5 3:6 6:25 | 68:4,5,14 71:17 |
| 157:3 165:3 | 143:23 147:3 | 77:3,8,10,17 | 8:21 17:23 64:9 | 71:20,21 72:4 |
| 168:25 | told 5:23 13:22 | 78:12,24 79:10,17 | 66:15 73:21 82:25 | 76:5 78:13,20 |
| thinks 109:18 | 110:3,10 | 79:23,23,25 80:3 | 85:24 88:19 | 80:9,22 87:6,15 |
| 132:24 | tomorrow 133:3 | | 121:18 140:9 | 87:17 98:6 99:12 |
| | | 80:6 81:6,8,10,12 | | 99:21 113:21 |
| third 7:8 11:20 | 143:24 169:5 | 81:20 82:17 87:15 | 144:6 148:21 | 115:22,22,25 |
| 15:14 98:2 114:12 | tonight 70:3,10,24 | 113:22 116:3 | 165:18 | 117:2 119:14 |
| 114:20,24 120:9 | top 8:21 60:16 | 119:18 146:6 | turnout 95:18 | 121:1 128:6 |
| Thirdly 46:10 | 69:23 77:13 96:17 | treaty 2:7 7:19,25 | turns 91:22 | 121.1 120.0 |
| | I | I | I | 1 |

| | | | | Page 199 |
|-------------------------|------------------------|---|--------------------------|-------------------------|
| 124.12 120.1 | J J. 4- JJ 42. 17 | | V | 4- 5-5 (24-20 |
| 134:13 139:1 | undoubtedly 43:17 | unmake 56:22 | Vernon 95:2,8 | vote 5:5,6 24:20 |
| 140:7 145:9 155:8 | 45:17 53:21 65:13 | unnecessary 50:12 | versa 118:15 | 30:7 43:8,12 59:5 |
| 159:21 164:2,6,8 | 90:9 | unpack 161:10 | veto 149:9 | 60:17 70:8,11 |
| 165:13 | unenforceable | unreality 4:15 | vice 118:15 | 74:18 88:22 99:14 |
| UK's 9:24 12:2 | 120:24 | unsatisfactory | victim 140:17 | 103:2 |
| 33:18 64:3 69:16 | unfair 22:13 | 109:20 | victims' 140:18 | voted 70:9 104:25 |
| 73:11 79:22 82:17 | unfortunately 95:6 | unsustainable | Vienna 76:8 | 109:19 |
| 98:11,24 99:10 | 115:17 | 20:21 | view 14:23,23,24 | voting 100:4,6 |
| ultimate 135:5 | Union 8:16 11:22 | unthinkable 143:3 | 24:19,21 27:14 | |
| 137:24 138:1 | 15:10,16 17:9,13 | 143:8 | 42:21 50:10 56:10 | W |
| 139:9,10 | 18:24 19:24 51:1 | untouched 39:6,8 | 61:25 66:22 70:8 | Wales 99:19 135:15 |
| ultimately 107:18 | 73:6 83:7 87:19 | unusual 66:12 | 87:5 96:19,23 | 137:1 145:23 |
| 149:11,19 154:15 | 87:22 88:3,7,8 | unwritten 131:10 | 107:8 131:14 | wand 104:1,2 |
| 154:15 | 94:1,22 98:20,25 | upset 119:22 120:4 | 145:17 151:10 | want 2:3 5:3 22:12 |
| unable 21:9 | 121:4 124:25 | use 10:11 22:25 | 157:18 | 48:23 52:25 54:17 |
| unanimous 104:15 | 144:8,16,19 | 27:22 42:5 47:4 | viewed 94:7 | 68:23 86:1,12 |
| unanimously 105:1 | 145:11 147:12 | 47:17 63:12,24 | views 43:9 150:6 | 92:23 103:4,7 |
| uncodified 95:13 | 148:7 149:10,25 | 64:5,5 65:4 82:13 | VIII 1:11 26:9 | 108:8 110:25 |
| unconstitutional | 150:15 151:14 | 92:12,15 118:9 | 58:12 | 113:12 114:17,20 |
| 133:14 134:8 | 161:5,17 168:14 | 119:1 147:8 151:1 | violate 52:24 | 129:9 |
| underlies 159:13 | unionist 142:16 | 152:7 160:12 | virtue 22:9 133:21 | wanted 62:2,4 |
| | | | | 68:25 110:9 |
| underline 90:19 | unique 138:4,11 | 162:15 164:10 | 139:10 140:8 | 111:19 |
| underlines 88:6 | uniquely 112:23 | useful 134:11 | 146:3 149:15 | wants 48:6 49:16 |
| underlying 135:22 | united 12:8 28:17 | uses 41:10 | vital 44:17 106:23 | 105:6 |
| 136:16 | 36:13 46:1 52:7 | usual 118:10 | vitally 107:10 | |
| understand 13:7 | 63:25 66:13 74:22 | usually 118:11 | voice 30:14 33:16 | warrant 89:23 |
| 15:19,25 22:2,4 | 88:7 94:21 97:18 | | 33:18 99:16 150:9 | wasn't 155:19 |
| 33:2 40:16 43:3,9 | 130:24 133:14 | $\frac{\mathbf{V}}{2 2 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 1 2 1 1 2 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1$ | 158:4 | way 5:8 6:2,4 10:11 |
| 83:13,19 96:19 | 135:7,7 136:22 | v 2:22 60:12 65:6 | void 59:24 | 20:6 21:19 30:2 |
| 102:8 103:18 | 137:20 138:9,16 | 85:2 108:20 | volume 3:6,7 8:15 | 32:18 37:2 38:13 |
| 104:24 105:17 | 138:16,21 139:1 | 109:24 | 9:10 10:14,15 | 38:16 39:1,19 |
| 106:9 107:7 | 139:19 144:12,21 | validity 62:19 | 17:24 23:11,19 | 40:7,9,13,14 46:7 |
| 148:12 | 145:8,15,16 147:4 | 162:7 | 47:23 49:3,17 | 50:13 64:18,18 |
| understandably | 147:6 148:2,4,5 | validly 113:16 | 50:2,6 52:18,19 | 91:22 97:11 102:3 |
| 43:7 | 149:10,21 150:5 | value 134:24 | 68:19 73:20,23 | 105:19 106:20 |
| understanding 7:5 | 150:16,18,19 | values 45:3 | 83:23 86:19 88:20 | 107:16 108:3,6 |
| 18:5 20:7 21:25 | 152:9 154:7,16,18 | variation 116:12 | 94:14 95:4 96:13 | 110:17 111:4 |
| 74:5 83:22 134:25 | 155:10,11 161:4 | variations 25:1 | 96:14 97:15 98:17 | 114:25 115:8,19 |
| 160:14 | 165:24 166:1,12 | variety 95:1 | 111:20 112:16,17 | 118:10 132:5 |
| understands | 166:19 168:12 | various 23:3 46:17 | 121:21 134:19 | 134:7 141:11 |
| 106:10 | unknown 42:25 | 52:11 84:21 134:2 | 137:10,11 140:10 | 146:8,18 150:23 |
| understood 19:6 | 61:23 | 136:9 | 157:10,11 140.10 | 155:23 157:11 |
| 35:10 82:22 90:3 | unlawful 72:7 91:6 | vary 29:7 | 161:23 | 161:2 163:21 |
| | | vary 25.7 vast 12:6 | | 165:22 167:18 |
| 90:7 101:5,16 | 134:8 | vein 61:3 85:8 | voluntary 136:22 | ways 24:6 73:3 |
| undo 12:11 55:20 | unlawfully 54:9 | ven 01.5 05.0 | 138:7,20 | mayo 47.0 13.3 |
| | I | 1 | I | |

www.DTIGlobal.com

| 111:7 117:7 152:11 155:2 wedge 122:18 Wednesday 1:1 | 144:15,19,22 145:5 149:14,25 | wrote 56:3 87:4 | 10.30 1:2 | 143 170:7 |
|--|---------------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------------|---------------------------|
| 152:11 155:2 wedge 122:18 Wednesday 1:1 | , , , | | | |
| wedge 122:18 Wednesday 1:1 | 1.0.0 1.9.1.,=0 | | 10352 83:25 | 15 17:10 23:11,11 |
| Wednesday 1:1 | 150:15,17 151:13 | X | 10362 83:24 84:1 | 23:19 78:8 95:4 |
| ě. | 151:19 152:6 | | 10369 158:11 | 112:11 |
| week 13:15 115:17 | 159:23 |   | 10379 152:18,20 | 157 56:9 60:5 |
| | withdrawing 13:5 | year 23:24 | 153:10 | 16 141:9 |
| | withdraws 80:22 | years 15:15 61:22 | 104 116:18 | 1601 94:18 |
| | Wolffe 150:8 157:3 | 64:17 70:5,5,6 | 106 55:7 | 1612 153:5 |
| | wonder 134:17 | 76:21 82:23 | 107 98:16 | 1619 158:15 |
| western 71:1 | 156:2 | years' 9:25 103:12 | 11 6:25 76:17 | 166 23:11,11,19 |
| | wondered 72:25 | yesterday 2:19 | 124:10 125:6 | 167 23:17 78:8 |
| | word 32:16 45:11 | 14:25 17:12 83:8 | 126:12,19 128:11 | 168 95:4 |
| 139:7 163:7 | 56:15 61:21 62:22 | 92:10 122:1 | 111 94:15 | 1688 55:1 |
| whatsoever 6:6 | 83:11 151:2 152:7 | 126:25 144:22 | 112 170:5 | 1689 145:22 146:13 |
| 21:15 25:2 37:13 | 160:17 162:13,19 | 150:13,13 | 117 8:19,19 | 17 68:19 71:13 |
| 37:18 39:11,16 | 162:22 163:22 | Youssef 66:11 | 1179 64:12 | 72:22 86:19,25 |
| 44:24 | 167:8 | 92:22 93:15,20 | 118 8:21 84:1,3 | 96:13,14 124:13 |
| whichever 101:19 | wording 101:16,18 | Z | 11800 2:5 | 125:4 |
| white 23:8,12,16 | 101:21,22 156:3 | | 11801 2:12 | 17.3 10:5 |
| | words 19:23 29:9 | Zuma 41:15 44:9 | 119 78:11 79:4 84:1 | 1707 147:6 |
| wholly 95:23 96:24 | 57:7 69:12 88:25 | 0 | 84:3 | 17th 54:23 145:25 |
| wide 24:2 149:23 | 117:4 118:6 150:2 | 07212 98:19 | 12 49:4 94:14 | 146:19 147:2 |
| wider 111:1 | 162:16 | 07212 90.19 | 161:23 | 18 7:6 71:17 72:23 |
| Wilson 19:3,10 v | work 15:17 55:24 | 1 | 120 84:1,3 | 83:7 84:14 97:15 |
| 30:2 36:23 83:12 | 89:20 100:20 | 17:14 8:15,20,24 | 121 159:14,16 | 98:17 147:9 |
| 83:18 84:7,8,19 | 108:9 127:7,22 | 10:22 11:7 13:15 | 122 131:16 | 1849 83:5 |
| 121:25 138:22 | 128:4 | 19:16,17 23:6 | 123 131:16 | 1885 56:1 |
| 153:2,6 162:19 v | working 166:14 | 55:6,17 88:20 | 12353 65:11,17 | 19 9:10 96:12 |
| - | worry 12:23 | 94:17,19 112:17 | 12394 10:6 | 1915 56:2 |
| | writers 63:6 | 121:21 123:22 | 124 161:22 | 1924 79:7 |
| winding 69:24 v | writing 73:17 | 124:20 125:6 | 12419 1:17 | 193 68:20 69:22 |
| 0 | written 1:16 2:2 | 133:22 134:19 | 12420 2:2 | 195 96:14,15 |
| 138:14,18 | 7:12 10:2,4,5 | 136:20 137:6,6,10 | 12438 7:13 | 1970s 6:20,21 |
| wished 39:21 | 63:19 86:2 116:16 | 137:11,16,17 | 12470 85:25 | 1971 67:25 68:13 |
| wishes 21:10 62:21 | 119:10 120:23 | 138:22 139:11 | 12585 145:4 | 1972 1:7,15 4:16 |
| 96:2 97:3 143:1 | 121:17 131:3,15 | 140:8,10 141:7,19 | 128 88:20 | 6:22 7:11 8:2,9,23 |
| withdraw 46:1 | 131:16 132:14 | 143:3,12 170:3 | 13 10:14,15 111:20 | 9:8,9,14,15,19 |
| 87:19,22 88:6 | 134:13 139:20,21 | 1(2) 7:10,18 8:12 | 141:5 | 14:6 18:19,21,25 |
| 89:9 133:15 | 141:12 143:22 | 9:9,14 18:18 | 130 10:15,15 | 19:21 20:24 22:10 |
| 149:10 161:4,16 | 153:5 | 19:21 | 131 23:7 | 22:24 23:2 25:15 |
| - | wrong 3:15 16:18 | 1(3) 18:25 | 13130 10:18 | 25:17,25 26:4,7 |
| withdrawal 51:16 | 16:18 22:22 40:2 | 1.01 93:5 | 133 170:6 | 27:5,10 28:5,13 |
| 51:17,20 64:6 | 40:2 63:15 67:11 | 10 15:2 16:24 | 136 111:20 | 28:17 29:4,7,11 |
| 79:14 80:18 | 91:14,22 120:2 | 10.15 168:25 169:5 | 14 17:24 76:7 | 29:20 31:23 32:4 |
| 112:23 144:8,11 | 142:6 145:3 | 169:8 | 121:21 140:10 | 35:7,12,25 36:4 |
| , | | | | |

DTI (+44)207 4041400 www.DTIGlobal.com

| Page 2 | 201 |
|--------|-----|
|--------|-----|

| F | | | | Fage 201 |
|---|---|-------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|---|
| 37:22 39:5 45:12 | 2(2) 1:15 126:15 | 2016 1:1 15:2 | 141:25 142:18 | 4379 151:24 |
| 46:11 52:4 53:24 | 2(2) 1.15 120.15 2(3) 68:9 | 152:16 153:16 | 3(1) 2:1,8 | 440 18:8,10 |
| 57:12 65:25 66:8 | 2(3) 08.9 2(4) 1:19 36:8 | 152.10 155.10 | 3(iii) 124:1 | 440 18.8,10 4434 88:20 |
| | | | | |
| 66:16 67:19 68:9 | 2.00 93:3,7 | 2017 99:1,11 | 30 61:22 83:23 | 444 17:10 |
| 70:15 71:11,13,16 | 20 11:23 19:19 | 202 98:18 | 112:10 152:18 | 4481 10:15,16 11:1 |
| 71:25 72:8 73:14 | 131:15 | 2020 127:22 | 300 64:17 | 45 112:7 |
| 79:24 80:3,5 81:3 | 2001 3:7 4:4 | 20253 126:18 | 302 7:1 | 46 83:4 121:17 |
| 81:17 82:4,12,16 | 2002 3:23 9:2 10:3 | 20342 140:10 | 305 7:1 | 4611 111:21 |
| 83:11 85:22 86:15 | 53:24 59:7 65:25 | 20343 128:20 | 307 49:6 | 4612 111:22 |
| 87:13,16 88:17 | 88:18,22 89:13,20 | | 31 23:23 | 49 150:21 |
| 93:24 103:6 | 89:22,24 | 20354 121:21,22 | 32 24:5 25:4 | 496 92:23 93:16 |
| 105:21 107:1 | 20021 137:12 | 123:19 | 3286 141:6 | 4989 56:9 |
| 147:17 | 2003 10:16,18 | 20373 121:5 | 33 24:16 | 4990 56:9 |
| 1975 94:12,13,14 | 13:11 | 20374 141:19 | 331 59:16 | 4A 10:25 |
| 94:23,24,25 95:21 | 20044 118:16 | 21 24:16 49:17 | 34 93:17 | |
| 101:20 | 137:15 | 22 47:23 71:11 83:1 | 35 144:14,25 145:1 | 5 |
| 1978 8:9 25:20 | 20048 115:10 | 131:15 | 351 73:20 | 5 23:6 56:9 99:8 |
| 46:22 | 20068 115:10 | 221 9:11 | 36 92:23 | 121:15 125:6,22 |
| 198 86:19,25 | 2008 8:17 45:16,22 | 228 16:24 | 367 49:6,6 | 126:2,5,19 127:6 |
| 1985 142:12 | 46:13,16 86:5,18 | 23716 114:3,5 | 38 85:25 122:7 | 128:19 130:8 |
| 1991 73:17 | 88:12 | 24 47:24 73:1 | | 151:23 158:14 |
| 1992 19:25 | 2009 95:8 | 117:11 | 4 | 5.3 124:5 |
| 1992 19:23 1993 18:19 19:16 | 200 97:15,16 | 24(1)(b) 115:9 | 4 5:15 8:25 10:17 | 5.4 124:5 |
| 19:18 20:19 | 2010 23:5,9 25:16 | 241 64:13 | 10:18 11:1,16 | 50 13:17 14:13 34:6 |
| 1994 22:5 | 51:15 97:14,17,19 | 25161 116:6 | 19:24 64:12 | 35:2 40:21 45:17 |
| 1994 22.5 1997 99:19 | 20105 126:7 | 257 49:18 | 118:13,16,17 | 45:17 46:6,10,18 |
| 1997 99:19 1998 99:19 113:19 | 20105 126:13 | 26 19:20 | 152:17 153:7 | 46:20 53:21 54:1 |
| 123:13 127:13 | 20107 126:13 | 26 19:20 260 64:12 | 4(1) 11:4 | 54:6 65:12 79:15 |
| | | 276 47:23 | 4(1) 11:4 4(2) 11:11 | 80:25 86:8,11,13 |
| 128:23 | 2011 7:7 25:22 27:4 | | 4(2)(a) 118:25 | 88:11 89:11,22,24 |
| 1999 44:10 126:17 | 46:19 83:7 97:17 | 2782 50:6 | 4(3) 118:25 | 90:10 103:8,9 |
| 127:17 128:3 | 100:3,7 101:19,25 | 28 68:13 73:20 | 4.00 169:7 | 113:17 114:12 |
| 2 | 2012 158:8 | 98:23 | 40 15:15 | 129:6 130:22 |
| | 2015 3:14 4:16 28:6 | 28(8) 42:17 155:20 | | |
| 2 3:7 6:25 7:14 8:21 | 28:9,11 29:22,24 | 160:7 161:19 | 403 83:24 | 143:14 154:8 |
| 10:23 11:8 16:24 | 31:23 34:13 35:17 | | 407 152:18,20 | 157:9 160:22 |
| 17:10,24 19:24 | 36:16,18,23 37:8 | 2809 50:7 | 41 158:14 | 165:24 |
| 23:4 24:24 25:2,9 | 39:3,5,7,8,11,18 | 29(2)(d) 151:20 | 4150 55:7,8 | 50(2) 48:18 |
| 49:3 55:17 73:9 | 40:8 41:3,4,7,9,18 | 2991 3:7 | 4152 55:7,9 145:24 | 50(3) 46:21 51:18 |
| 74:15 75:8 126:5 | 41:23 42:9 43:4 | | 4213 94:15 | 51:20 |
| 128:11 129:22 | 44:19 45:12 58:18 | 3 | 424 17:25 | 500 64:11 |
| 138:6,13 139:14 | 94:5,9,17,22 | 3 3:2 8:15,20 19:24 | 43 64:10 150:21 | 5005 60:7 |
| 2(1) 18:21,24 21:4 | 98:19,23 99:6 | 24:12,13 64:10 | 434 19:15 | 5010 60:16 |
| 22:10 46:11 85:21 | 101:1,21 108:6,17 | 74:20 75:16 83:1 | 4359 161:23 | 5024 62:7 |
| 86:6 93:24 94:2 | 108:21 111:11 | 83:4 98:2,19 | 4360 151:21 | 5026 63:1 |
| 151:18 | 20154 129:24 | 129:22 137:11 | 4368 151:22 | 51 121:17 |
| | | | | |
| | | | | |

| | | | 1 450 202 |
|----------------------------|--|---------------------|-----------|
| 5189 23:14,19 | 6358 145:23 | 9689 73:24 | |
| 52(c)(5) 126:6 | 6463 9:11 | 9690 74:12 | |
| 5207 23:20,22 | 65's 115:15 | 9691 75:7 | |
| 24:16 | 66 83:2 | 9693 75:16 | |
| 5213 23:17 78:9 | 67 73:23 92:24 | 9694 75:23 | |
| 5282 78:11 | | 9695 76:17 | |
| | 68 50:3,6,9 693 93:18 | | |
| 53 170:4 | 093 93:18 | 9696 77:13 | |
| 53(5) 126:13 | 7 | 98(1) 117:12 | |
| 5308 95:5 | 71:13:219:25 | | |
| 5325 95:10,10 | | | |
| 55(5) 126:13 | 94:17 95:9 156:5 | | |
| 553 17:16 | 165:11 167:2,4,7 | | |
| 56 1:17 | 7(2)(a) 151:23 | | |
| 562 19:14 22:1,6 | 7183 49:18 | | |
| 567 20:15 21:2,23 | 7244 64:13 | | |
| 22:3,8 | 73 135:21 | | |
| 568 18:8,9,10 21:25 | 74 135:11,19 136:2 | | |
| 22:1 | 742 159:16 | | |
| 57 1:17 116:6 | 746 83:2 | | |
| 57(2) 151:21 | 75 3:6,7 | | |
| 573 17:16 | 76 152:16 153:7 | | |
| 578 17:17 | 77 135:10 | | |
| 5787 68:20 69:3 | 7778 47:23 | | |
| 58 2:2 | | | |
| 5846 69:21,21,23 | 8 | | |
| 5849 70:15 | 8 3:6,7 50:2,6 97:19 | | |
| 5904 96:14 | 111:21 156:9 | | |
| 5905 96:17 | 158:12 165:10 | | |
| 5917 87:1 | 166:8 167:5,8,23 | | |
| 5922 87:3 | 80 114:1 | | |
| | 881 93:22,23 | | |
| 5943 87:24 | 8834 156:25 157:2 | | |
| 5974 87:8 | 8845 157:1,2 | | |
| 5977 86:25 87:8 | | | |
| 6 | 9 | | |
| 6 21:13 83:3 87:3 | 9 99:6 109:15 124:5 | | |
| | 125:6 153:8,10 | | |
| 88:12 117:11 | 162:10 163:4 | | |
| 6(2)(d) 115:9 | 92 116:18 | | |
| 6265 97:16,16 | 93.7 2:4,6 | | |
| 6275 97:24,25 | 9322 61:20 | | |
| 6279 98:18 100:11 | 9343 59:17,19,21 | | |
| 6281 98:22 99:3 | 94 2:11 | | |
| 62A 65:10,16 90:6 | 95 87:24,25 | | |
| 6303 99:7 | , | | |
| 6311 100:16 | 9688 73:21,24 | | |
| | | | |
| | | | |